REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS ON FIVE-CENT FARE FOR CHILDREN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 17, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of June 26, 1939, concerning the removing of the restrictions prohibiting the privilege of a five-cent fare to children between the ages of five and fourteen years during the hours of 7.30 to 9 a. m. and 4.30 to 6 p. m., and to afford the use of the five-cent fare to these children at any hour of the day during the summer months.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
July 12, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—The request made to the Board of Trustees by the City Council with regard to modifying the five-cent fare for children was considered at the meeting of the Board today.
This privilege was voluntarily granted by the trustees and has been continued each year since 1922, the idea being that during the off-peak hours it might create additional use of the system by children under fourteen, in the hot summer months when it did not increase operating expenses. In view of the fact that the rush hours are the most expensive operating hours of the day, the trustees do not believe they are justified under present deficit conditions in going further than they have in the interest of these children.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

Placed on file.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council on June 26, 1939, an order was passed requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to install shower bath facilities in the various Boston school yards now being used as playgrounds as a W. P. A. project.
The School Committee finds that the Superintendent of Construction already has installed showers in approximately sixty of the school yard playgrounds, and Mr. Mahar reports that he is prepared to proceed with installation in the remaining playgrounds which are operating in the school yards, as opportunity offers, in so far as the funds of his department may permit.

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of July 14 with inclosure, order of the City Council that the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reopen the tennis courts on Healy Playground, Ward 19, Roslindale.
These tennis courts were closed down for the reason that complaints had been received from the neighboring property owners that vandalism was rampant, that their yards were being destroyed. We could not maintain the tennis courts on the playground after the man had left for the night and therefore, for the best interests of the entire neighborhood, it was thought advisable to shut them down for a temporary period in an effort to control the vandalism.

RANCID BUTTER DISTRIBUTED AT COMMODITY STATIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 21, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Health Commissioner relative to your order of June 26, 1939, concerning the conferring with the local officials of the Federal Surplus Commodities Division relative to complaints concerning the rancid condition of butter now being distributed at various commodity stations in Boston.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, July 20, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Replying to communication from your office, referring to request of City Council that the Health Commissioner confer with Federal Surplus Commodities Division relative to complaints concerning the rancid condition of butter now being distributed at various commodity stations in Boston. I respectfully submit for your consideration the following report.

Sample of butter was taken and submitted for analysis. The result of the analysis disclosed that the butter fat content to be slightly higher than the legal standard for butter. This butter has evidently been in cold storage for some time and has a slightly off-odor, characteristic of old butter. This condition of rancidity, complained of by the recipients, is most likely due to improper or lack of refrigeration during the warm weather.

Mr. John C. Stalker, Director of Commodity Distribution, submitted the following information.

"With reference to your request concerning the distribution of butter in the City of Boston this office advises as follows:

"Three carloads of butter, averaging 20,000 pounds per car, are ordered by this department from Washington for delivery to the Quincy Market Cold Storage the first Monday of each week. This amount of butter is sufficient to take care of the weekly needs of certified recipients based on the following monthly schedule:

1 person in family, 2 unit pounds; 2 persons in family, 4 unit pounds; 3 and 4 persons in family, 6 unit pounds; 5 and 6 persons in family, 8 unit pounds; 7 and 8 persons in family, 10 unit pounds; 9 and 10 persons in family, 12 unit pounds; 11 and 12 persons in family, 14 unit pounds.

Regulations require that each recipient is to receive his or her butter at a weekly rate of distribution in accordance with the above schedule. For example, a family of 3 or 4 persons will receive two pounds the first week, 1 pound the second week, 2 pounds the third week and 1 pound the fourth week, making a total of 6 pounds per month, or every four weeks.

Each distribution center supervisor is contacted the day before delivery is made, requesting the number of pounds that he will need each day. This amount is telephoned to our supervisor of deliveries, who calls at the Quincy Market Cold Storage the following morning and makes deliveries to each distribution center of the number of pounds they have requested. Only in the case of holidays is it possible that this butter will remain in storage longer than one week.

As explained above, only a week's supply of butter is ordered at a time. This butter is kept at zero degree temperature while in storage, and if a distribution center is left with a few cases of butter at the close of the day's business, the supervisor has permission to contact the ice company which has been contracted to supply ice to his center when needed.

In case any distribution center has butter left over at the close of the week, he contacts this office and arrangements are made to truck this butter to the cold storage plant. The butter which we have received has averaged between 91 and 92 score."

In view of the above, a much better plan would be to make deliveries in small amounts to the recipients more frequently than at present. This plan would prevent the butter from becoming rancid in cases where the recipient did not have the proper refrigeration.

Respectfully yours,
H. F. R. WATTS, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—I have a memorandum from your office dated July 6, with inclosure, order from the City Council, concerning certain improvements at North End Park.

Please be informed there is a project at the present time for many of these improvements. There is no room for regulation tennis court, and the sand on the beach is cleaned daily. The Government refuses to have anything to do with the pier—we have had to repair it with our own men. The department considers it very inadvisable to install a diving board.

For your information, I also desire to state that 249 locks were placed on the lockers in the men's building and in one night twenty-nine of them were destroyed. It seems outrageous that a few can destroy the pleasures of many.

When the project is accepted by the Federal Government, the work will be started as soon as the help is available.

CLEANING OF ALL STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 17, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 26, 1939, concerning the putting of a crew of men on to immediately clean all the streets of the city, in view of numerous complaints and due to the fact that in several sections the Paving Department forces are used in cleaning streets and cannot be spared for this work during the summer season when their services are utilized on street and sidewalk repairs and construction.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, July 10, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have a copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on June 26:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to put on a crew of men to immediately clean all the streets of the city, in view of numerous complaints and due to the fact that in several sections the Paving Department forces are used in cleaning streets and cannot be spared for this work during the summer season when their services are utilized on street and sidewalk repairs and construction."

I am quite cognizant of the untidy conditions of the streets in various sections of the city, and am taking steps to remedy them.

While it is pointed out in the order that those employees in the Paving Service who are ordinarily engaged in street cleaning work are being used during the summer months, to a greater extent than usual, on street and sidewalk repair work, it is a fact, nevertheless, that during the summer months all employees in the labor service of the Paving Division are engaged in street cleaning work on Saturdays, where needed, throughout the entire city; whereas, the only districts where the Paving Service is responsible for cleaning the streets are Brighton, Alston, Jamaica Plain, Roslindale and Hyde Park. Under this plan, I look for a marked improvement in the conditions of the streets within a short time.

The department has already sent requisitions to the Supply Department for the purchase of two (2) new and one (1) used mechanical street sweeping machines. The addition of these sweepers should allow us to cope with the street cleaning situation more adequately than at any time within the last several years and should obviate the necessity of adding to our present street cleaning personnel.

The present budgetary allowances will not permit the employing of additional workers and the present financial condition of the city precludes the appropriating of additional funds for the purpose as requested in the order.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS IN ROSLINDALE SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 20, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of May 15, 1939, concerning the making of a study of traffic conditions in Roslindale square and to submit to the City Council a report containing his recommendations for relieving congestion at this point.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, July 14, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated May 15, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a study of traffic conditions in Roslindale square and to submit to the City Council a report containing his recommendations for relieving congestion at this point."

Observations and investigations show that there is some congestion in Corinth and South streets on Friday evenings and Saturdays due to automobile operators driving around seeking parking spaces at the curbs in both streets.

Street cars use both Corinth and South streets and also contribute to the congestion in Roslindale square area. A moving picture house located in South street also delays the movement of traffic as patrons stop in double-line getting out of their autos.

Every business area in the suburban districts of Boston has a similar problem. Persons shopping want to stop at the shop they intend to trade in and rather than park a few hundred feet away will cruise around slowly until they find a curb parking space open.

Available curb space is limited around Roslindale square, but there is an opportunity to obtain off-street parking facilities along the railroad right-of-way, where several hundred cars could be parked.

Congestion could be relieved and through traffic speeded up by prohibiting parking in one side of Corinth street and South street.

Other sections of Boston are coping with the parking problem by providing off-street parking areas for their patrons. South Boston has an area off of Athens street. Brighton has lots off of Brighton avenue and off Washington street. Dorchester has lots at Uphams Corner; Gallivan Boulevard and Mattapan square. West Roxbury has one on Centre street.

Waltham, Quincy, Malden, and other cities have off-street parking lots maintained by individual stores or through cooperative arrangements.

I respectfully recommend that the merchants in the Roslindale square area consider the advisability of procuring from the railroad the right to park on their property and that they then request the police to strictly enforce a one-hour parking restriction for those vehicles parking at the curb.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS, ROSLINDALE SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 20, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the City Planning Board Chairman concerning your order of May 15, 1939, concerning (1) the estimated cost of extending Belgrade avenue through List place to Washington street; (2) the estimated cost of constructing an underpass at Roslindale Station, under the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, where a footpath is now located; and (3) the advisability of extending Cummins Highway through the park at Roslindale square to connect with South street.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
City Planning Board, June 30, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Under date of May 23 your Honor referred to this office, for consideration and report, the following City Council order:

"Ordered, That the City Planning Board be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council at an early date with reference to the following:

"1. The estimated cost of extending Belgrade avenue through List place to Washington street.

"2. The estimated cost of constructing an underpass at Roslindale Station, under the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, where a footpath is now located.

"3. The advisability of extending Cummins Highway through the park at Roslindale square to connect with South street."

On June 3 I personally made a field investigation and studied the separate suggestions contained in the City Council order.

Corinth street, which is the principal business section of Roslindale, carries a great deal of motor vehicle traffic and trucks from Belgrade avenue to Washington street and Cummins Highway, which causes an appreciable amount of delay on Corinth street. The existing traffic light at Corinth and Washington streets has recently been re-timed which should materially help to alleviate this condition.

South street, between Washington street and Belgrade avenue, a secondary business section of Roslindale, carries traffic from Cummins Highway and Washington street to Belgrade avenue, causing some traffic delay on that part of South street.

The problem, therefore, resolves itself into the removal of through traffic on Corinth and South streets to the end that business can be conducted more conveniently.

The extension of Belgrade avenue through List place to Washington street is estimated to cost $100,000 and would serve to remove only a small amount of traffic moving between Belgrade avenue and the Forest Hills section of Washington street. This would not offer any alternate route to traffic from Cummins Highway and the volume of the traffic accommodated is not sufficient to economically justify the expenditure of so much money.

The construction of an underpass at Roslindale Station, where a footpath is now located, is not considered feasible because it would not connect with arteries which would in any way remove traffic from the two congested streets. The grades at this location create a serious difficulty not only in respect to the streets themselves, but also in respect to the entrances to buildings abutting on the streets.

The Board also does not consider useful the extension of Cummins Highway through the Memorial Park at Roslindale square to South street for the reason that one new intersection would be created. The intersection of South and Poplar streets would be made appreciably worse and some traffic would be removed from only a small part of South street, together with the fact that such an extension would ruin the Memorial Park now established.

The construction of an alternate street of not less than 60 feet south of and parallel to Corinth street, extending from Belgrade avenue across Washington street and connecting with Florence street, will relieve a large amount of traffic from both South and Corinth streets, by offering an alternate, direct route from Belgrade avenue to Cummins Highway which would completely by-pass both business streets, leaving them free for business activities. Such a street will, we believe, cost very little more than the extension of Belgrade avenue through List place to Washington street and will accomplish a great deal more in the relief of traffic congestion.

At a meeting of the Board held on June 8 it was unanimously voted that the construction of such an alternate street be recommended to your Honor in lieu of the suggestions included in the Council order and that such an improvement will more adequately relieve traffic congestion in the vicinity of Roslindale square.

A map showing the suggestions contained in the Council order and the alternate street recommended by the Board, together with the existing zoning, is appended hereto.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM STANLEY PARKER, Chairman.

SALE OF BOAT "GEORGE A. HIBBARD."

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 21, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I forward herewith order for sale of the Institutions Department boat "George A. Hibbard" for an upset price of $1,000.

The inclosed communication from the Institutions Commissioner discloses that this boat has been in continuous service for twenty-nine years; is in need of repairs which would cost $10,000; and is not needed for daily service at the present time. It is not contemplated to replace this boat, but to hire, on a daily basis, from time to time, a boat to meet the needs of the island. To hire is estimated not to exceed $1,000 per year.

In view of the foregoing facts as outlined by the Institutions Commissioner I recommend the passage of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Institutions Department, June 26, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At the present time the boat "George A. Hibbard," which is the property of the Institutions Department, is at the Lockwood Basin in East Boston. This boat was formerly used as a "spare" between Long Island and Boston. It has been in continuous service for the past twenty-nine years, and time has taken its toll in the working parts of the boiler and machinery, together with much steam rot in the way of the boilers, and as there are two other boats on this schedule running to the island, during overhaul periods and annual United States inspection, namely, "Michael J. Perkins" and "Stephen O'Meara," it would be cheaper to engage a boat by the day.

I do not feel that the cost of putting it back in service would warrant the expenditure. The probable cost would be $10,000 for necessary repairs and replacements. The boat hire would not exceed $1,000 for the entire year. I therefore recommend that the boat be sold at public auction with an upset price of $1,000.

I respectfully request your approval to conduct this sale accordingly.

Respectfully yours,

HUGH J. CAMPBELL, Commissioner.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of the Institutions Department be, and hereby is, authorized to sell at a duly advertised public auction, the boat "George A. Hibbard," at an upset price of $1,000.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 23 OF CHAPTER 40.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 21, 1939.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith copy of letter from John A. Breen chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, and form of ordinance amending section 23 of chapter 40 of the General Laws, relating to restrictions on park frontages on Dorchester way and Strandway.

As Mr. Breen states in his letter, this amendment has the approval of the chairman of the Park Commission, and has been approved as to form by the Corporation Council.

I recommend prompt consideration and passage by you of said ordinance.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Boston Housing Authority, July 21, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—The architects for the proposed South Boston project (Mass. 2-2) have advised this Authority that in order to develop the project most advantageously, it is advisable that the corners of two buildings come within twenty feet of Columbia road. When the proposed plan was presented to Mr. William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, he wrote as follows:

"As your housing development is bound to improve this section of the city and consequently the waterfront parkway, I am only too glad to assist in every way to have this project carried out, but in order to do this, the ordinance should be amended so as to eliminate the set-back clause on this portion of Columbia road between Preble street and Vale street—in fact, I would not object to it going as far as I street, as it may tend to further stimulate better housing along this portion of the parkway."

I transmit herewith a form of ordinance amending section 23 of chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, to which Mr. Long referred, and which the Corporation Council has approved as to form.

In order to expedite the work of this project, I recommend prompt adoption of said ordinance.

Respectfully,

JOHN A. BREEN, Chairman.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section twenty-three of chapter forty of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by inserting in the third line thereof, after the word "Strandway", the following: "excepting from Preble street to I street."

REPAIR OF CENTRAL LIBRARY BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 17, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the 1939 budget appropriations passed by your Honorable Body for the Library Department, no funds were provided for repairing the tile roof of the Central Library building, due to the fact that efforts were being made to reconstruct the entire roof through a W. P. A. or a P. W. A. project, thus saving this annual recurring cost of repairs. Up to the present time it has been impossible to secure the approval of the Federal Government for a W. P. A. project, and new P. W. A. projects are not being accepted by the Federal Government because funds have not been appropriated. The President of the Library Trustees advises me that repairs for the current fiscal year will necessitate the expenditure of approximately $10,000, and that this work is absolutely necessary for the safety of the building and its contents.

I submit herewith an order transferring the sum of $10,000 from the Contingent Fund to the B. Contractual Services, group in the budget of the Library Department, and respectfully recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1933, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Contingent Fund, $10,000, to the appropriation for Library Department, B. Contractual Services, $10,000.

Referred to Executive Committee.

Park Department, July 13, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $32,000 which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Park Commissioners as follows:

January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $32,000

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1939 a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1939, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $32,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

TWO MILLION TAX TITLE LOAN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 24, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—At the present time the total of tax titles in the possession of the city exceeds by over two and one half million dollars ($2,500,000) the total of outstanding loans secured from the Commonwealth by the pledging of tax titles. In accordance with the established financial policy of the city, I desire to use the major portion of this excess to support further borrowings from the Commonwealth, the proceeds of said borrowings to be applied to the payment of outstanding revenue anticipation notes. I submit herewith an order authorizing the City Treasurer to secure a loan of two million dollars ($2,000,000) from the Commonwealth and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully submitted,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 49 of the Acts of 1933 as most recently amended by chapter 288 of the Acts of 1939 the City Treasurer be authorized to obtain the approval of the Emergency Finance Board to the issuance of two million dollars ($2,000,000), in notes, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city, said notes, bonds or certificates to be sold at their face value to the Commonwealth and the proceeds be, and hereby are, appropriated for the purpose of meeting outstanding revenue loans.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRANSFER FOR ZONING BOARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 17, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Board of Zoning Adjustment requesting an appropriation of $1,500 for the operating expenses of this Board for the year 1939.

In compliance with this request, I submit the attached order providing for the appropriation of the required amount from the Contingent Fund, and recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Zoning Adjustment,
January 10, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Board of Zoning Adjustment, constituted under section 20, chapter 488, of the Acts of 1924, voted at its meeting January 4, 1939, to respectfully request an appropriation of $1,500 from the Contingent Fund to cover operating expenses for the year 1939. In the fifteen years of its existence the Board has had appropriations totalling $22,000 and there is at the present time a balance of $219.83. The money has been expended for verbatim records of public hearings, blueprints, postage, automobile hire for inspection trips, personal services, including engineering, drafting, secretarial and clerical work and miscellaneous expenses.

The Zoning Law requires that public hearings be held upon all applications for changes, after public advertisement and notification to all owners of property affected. The law further requires the reporting of the hearings and the filing of a detailed record of all proceedings of the Board in the office of the Building Commissioner, which necessitates verbatim stenographic service. Each case brought before the Board requires investigation of conditions on the ground, and where changes are authorized the preparation of maps therefor, which under the law are filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

While a fee of $25 is deposited with each petition presented to the Board, this amount is required to be deposited with the City Collector and bears no relation to the expense incurred in the publication of notices and other work made mandatory by the Zoning Act. These constitute an expense much greater than the fee received.

It is the Board's opinion that the sum requested, namely, $1,500, will be reasonably adequate to carry on its work for the ensuing year.

Respectfully yours,
FREDERIC H. FAY, Chairman,
Board of Zoning Adjustment.

Ordered, That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Zoning Adjustment, for the operating expenses of this Board for the year 1939, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

O'Halloran (referred June 12) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the City Hospital—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of sixty dollars ($60) be allowed and paid to Joseph T. O'Halloran in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator

ADDITIONAL FUNDS FOR W. P. A. ACTIVITIES.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Whereas, Twenty-five thousand W. P. A. workers have lost employment in Massachusetts during the past several months; fifteen thousand additional W. P. A. workers will be dropped before August 31; and all other W. P. A. workers who have had eighteen months' continuous employment must take a furlough for at least thirty days; and all future W. P. A. projects will require a twenty-five per cent contribution by the city; and

Whereas, Relief expenditures by the city will, consequently, show a marked upward rise from present high levels through this latest adjustment of W. P. A. activities; and

Whereas, No additional means of meeting such charges are at hand, in fact, the present income of the city reduced alarmingly since 1930 is not sufficient to meet present current needs; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, is of the opinion that new and substantial sources of revenue must be forthcoming in order that the relief burden of the city may be met without further hardships on real estate owners in the city; and the City Council, therefore, favors the adoption of measures by the Massachusetts Legislature which will provide sufficient income so that all relief expenses of the Commonwealth may be met from the proceeds of such additional sources of revenue, thus preserving the financial integrity of our cities and towns, and preventing further and higher tax assessments on the taxpayers of our city.

Referred to the Special Committee on Building Code.

CLEANING EXTERIOR BOSTON CENTRAL LIBRARY BY W. P. A. PROJECT.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Director of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to sponsor a W. P. A. project whereby the exterior of the Boston Central Library in Copley square will be thoroughly cleaned.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the Boston Public Central Library is perhaps one of the finest pieces of architecture in Boston and is located in one of the most conspicuous spots, one of Boston's prettiest public squares. It is rated as the third largest and finest public library in America. Every year thousands of people from all parts of the world visit this great structure. It was opened to the public in 1895 and during the past forty-four years has accumulated a dirty soot-laden appearance which tends to hide the beauty of the building. It seems to me if the director of the Central Library would sponsor a project for a thorough cleaning of this building the result would tremendously beautify Copley square and give this important building the appearance that it most rightly deserves.

TRANSFER OF COMMODITY STATION AT HAMPDEN AND EUSTIS STREETS TO GEORGE STREET SCHOOL.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Executive Director of the Public Welfare Department, the Boston School Committee and Mr. John J. Stalker of the Surplus Commodities Division of W. P. A., relative to the transfer of the Commodities Station now located at the corner of Hampden and Eustis streets, Roxbury, to the George Street School, George street, Roxbury.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, for some time now we have had in our district a building which has been used for the distribution of commodities and supplies. It is a building which is only one story high and is in very poor condition. Notwithstanding that fact and notwithstanding the fact I have on many occasions tried to have the location of that building transferred, no action has been taken at all. Now the people who are required to come to that particular distribution center come from Wards 8, 9 and 12. They are compelled to line up on the busiest highway in the City of Boston. They are crowded into line there and sometimes that line is one hundred yards long. Those people stand in line from 9 to 12 o'clock in the daytime and if at 12 o'clock in the day they have not yet been taken care of, believe it or not, Mr. President, the attendants at that station go to lunch and close up from twelve to one o'clock. I don't know what the interest of any one is in that building because just around the corner, not over seventy-five yards we have a school which has been abandoned for educational purposes and that school even in its present condition with windows boarded up is one hundred times better for the purposes for which they are using that particular building on Hampden and Eustis streets. There has been some talk of transferring this station to the fire station on Dudley street and I want to be recorded now, Mr. President, as against that proposition, because that is just carrying on what is going on there today and I earnestly hope that this situation will be straightened out and the people will have a better and more proper place to go to get their commodities.

NUMBER OF WELFARE EMPLOYEES.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Executive Director of the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council forthwith, whether or not his present force of workers is sufficient to handle the additional applicants for welfare assistance caused by the reduction in W. P. A. forces.

PAYMENT OF TAXES ON PROPERTY ON WHICH CITY HOLDS LIEN BEFORE SUBSEQUENT TAXES.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the City Collector to allow persons owning property upon which the city holds a lien for taxes, to make payments to clear up the tax lien rather than to compel them to pay first all taxes assessed subsequent to the lien.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, at the present time the City Collector has in vogue a system whereby people who own property upon which the city holds a tax lien are compelled to pay all taxes subsequent to the date of that tax bill and all current taxes before they are allowed to pay any of the taxes upon which the city holds a lien. This is very unfair to those people who are in that situation. It is unfair because it does not give them an opportunity to clear up that tax lien. It is also unfair because the city is charging upon those balances interest and costs and then again many people who convey property and buy property are deceived in many instances because they are under the impression, when a person pays a later tax, that the prior taxes have been paid. I have in mind recently a conveyance of property where a tax bill for 1938 was shown to the prospective purchaser as paid. He assumed that since 1938 taxes were paid that all prior taxes were also paid. Title was passed and, lo and behold, he found there was a tax lien for $1,500 for taxes prior to that date. There is no reason for it. A person owning property has a right in my opinion according to the law,—although I have not thoroughly looked into the law,—to pay the taxes first due, and I do not see any reason why the City Collector should take upon himself to compel persons to pay later taxes rather than the prior taxes. As a matter of law, a person paying a bill in ordinary general business has a right to designate which bill he is paying, and I do not see why the situation should be changed in municipal affairs.

OPENING TO VEHICULAR TRAFFIC TUNNEL AT BROADWAY AND DORCHESTER AVENUE.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of opening to vehicular traffic the tunnel at Broadway and Dorchester avenue, which was formerly used by the Boston Elevated Railway for the passage of street cars, but has long been abandoned.

RESOLUTION ON LOTTERY.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on Rules, submitted report as follows:

Report on resolution (referred June 26) of Coun. Kelly relative to state lottery—that same ought not to pass.

Report accepted.

Question then came on the passage of the resolve for a plebiscite, in order that the people might determine if the citizens of Massachusetts prefer a state supervised lottery as a substitute for the "soak-the-poor" taxes.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, speaking on the resolution. Of course, I realized when I introduced this resolution back on June 26, about a month ago, your honorable President referred it to the Executive Committee and after about a half or three quarters of an hour discussion in the Executive Committee, the Executive Committee voted that it ought to pass. Of course, I realized when it was brought out on the floor of the Council one member of the City Council happened to be in the good graces of the Governor, holding a government job, and I do not blame him there. He asked for a point of order that it be referred to the Committee on Rules, which, naturally, is the graveyard. I realize in this resolution it is a resolution giving the people of the Commonwealth a chance on a plebiscite to say whether they are in favor of a state-wide lottery or in favor of these so-called taxes. I realize also that our main street of Boston, Washington street, was built as a result of a lottery. Harvard College was first built as a result of a lottery and last, but not least, this great Cradle of Liberty, Faneuil Hall, was built as a result of a lottery. I realize that his Honor the Mayor, with his big relief item, namely, this big welfare item, is interested in additional revenue and I realize also, as you can see by the headlines of every Boston newspaper today, that these big lotteries are not on the level and that is why I introduced this resolution that the people of Massachusetts may voice by their plebiscite whether they are in favor of a state-wide lottery instead of these so-called other taxes.

The resolution was declared adopted.

Coun. SHATTUCK doubted the vote and asked for a roll call.

The resolution was adopted, yeas 11, nays 6: Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, Sullivan, Taylor—11.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Fitzgerald, Irwin, Murray, Shattuck, Wilson—6.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like unanimous consent to make a statement.

President MURRAY—Councillor TAYLOR asks unanimous consent to make a statement. Is there any objection? There being no objection Councillor Taylor made the following statement.

Coun. TAYLOR—As I understand it, the last resolution was asking for a plebiscite and I was mighty surprised to see members of the Council who got up on the floor on the housing situation and demanded, time after time, that the people ought to be given a right to vote on the ballot, and they shrieked that to the heavens,—to give the people a right to vote,—give them a right to show their sentiment in the matter, and these very individuals in the Council who spoke so vehemently and forcefully and loudly that the people be given an opportunity to speak on the plebiscite on the housing situation, are the very same ones who are refusing the people any voice whatsoever.

Coun. WILSON—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection.

Coun. WILSON—As one of those who voted against this resolution, I frankly admit I cannot quite follow all of the remarks of the gentleman from Ward 12, although I assume they would apply to me as one of those who voted against the adoption of the resolution which also included preamble clauses. I was not present at the meeting of the City Council when this matter was passed in the Executive and then brought out on the floor and referred to the Rules Committee, so I don't know what happened on that day, but as I read the resolution it makes reference to certain "soak-the-poor" taxes without identifying them. It makes certain references which, in my opinion, have no proper place in the body of the resolution and it was for that reason, before the vote was called on this particular order, that I took the trouble to go up and read it, because I frankly admit that if it was a straight order placing the Council in favor of a plebiscite for the people to determine their ideas on lottery I most certainly would have voted in favor of giving the people that opportunity to vote on that or any other subject; but the resolution as drawn, in my opinion, was an improper resolution and for that reason I voted against it and offer no apologies and am still consistent in my stand that the people should be given the right to have a plebiscite on any question in which they are interested, but not an order or resolution drawn to the wording of this particular resolution, and with the preamble clauses that this one contains.

Coun. TAYLOR—Would the councilor yield to a question?

Coun. WILSON—Yes.

Coun. TAYLOR—Do I understand you are in favor of these "soak-the-poor" taxes or these taxes which the Governor has already suggested?

Coun. WILSON—I will be glad to answer the question.

President MURRAY—The Chair will state the resolution has been adopted, and this discussion is out of order.

REMOVAL OF ATLANTIC AVENUE STRUCTURE.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement, asking a question.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, on July 10, two weeks ago, the City Council passed the following order under suspension of the rules:

"Ordered, That the Committee on Legislative Matters of the Boston City Council be, and said committee hereby is, instructed to urge the Joint Rules Committee of the General Court to substitute for House Bill 116 of 1939 the bill indorsed by the City Council on June 12, 1939, with reference to removal of the Atlantic avenue structures, and that said committee press enactment of said substituted bill before all committees, and the Senate and House of Representatives of the General Court."

Naturally, I am familiar with the fact that the Committee on Legislative Affairs of the Council is composed of Councilors Norton, Shattuck, Fitzgerald and Irwin, with Norton, who has been out of town, as chairman, which I suppose moves it down to Councilor Shattuck if available, or Councilor Fitzgerald or myself. I certainly seriously urge, Mr. President, action by the Legislative Committee under whatever available chairman you may have, in accordance with the vote of the City Council on the 10th of July, asking for some definite action on the part of the Legislature this year before the General Court adjourns. We have had a great deal of discussion about the demolition of the Atlantic avenue structure. The Council backed an order which I introduced as long ago as the 8d of October, 1938, and there has been some opinion given by the Corporation Counsel of Boston to the effect either that the General Court has not the authority to pass such legislation or, rather, that if they do pass it the City of Boston might be held or would be held liable for damages. The contrary opinion is held, apparently, by the legal lights of the Boston Finance Commission and this past week I read in the newspapers of the opinion from the office of the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts agreeing with the stand which we have taken that the Legislature can pass an act which will favor the early demolition of the Atlantic avenue structure and in view of the fact that the structure was abandoned last autumn that the City of Boston would not and need not be held liable for damages. Now the Legislature will be going home or on their vacation within a week or two. Presumably they won't even meet next year. Personally, I believe the matter of this junk pile on Atlantic avenue is a fairly important item. It is not an item that should be allowed to gather dust on the shelf for a year or two years and as I stated when we originally passed this order on July 10, I believe that with all the matters that we do interest ourselves in, this matter of the Atlantic avenue elevated structure is an important one. Therefore, I would ask whether we have any advice as to possible action of the Legislative Committee this week, in accordance with the Council order of July 10, to press this matter before the General Court, and if Councilor Norton is absent, whether Councilor Shattuck would call a meeting of the committee for that purpose.

President MURRAY—Is any one present who desires to speak for the Legislative Committee?

Coun. WILSON—I assume the chairman is Councilor Norton and I assume in his absence Mr. Shattuck would move to that office, after which Mr. Fitzgerald, but I do not believe that in the absence of Councilor Norton, who deserves his vacation, we should hold up this matter. We all need a vacation now and then. May I ask Councilor Shattuck if he could call a meeting of the committee this week?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, a meeting of the Legislative Committee to consider the action on this bill?

Coun. WILSON—By our vote on July 10, the Legislative Committee were directed to take action on the bill, but our chairman is temporarily absent and I suppose somebody should call a meeting at an early date.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I don't know whether I have authority to call a meeting. Furthermore, I do not subscribe to the statement that is what the Attorney-General said and while discussing it it is a good time to clear up the question of what the Attorney-General did say. My impression was, from what I read in the paper, that he did not commit himself on the question of damages. He left open the question of whether if we undertake to destroy the elevated structure, whether we wouldn't be subject to damages. I don't think that question was settled.

Coun. WILSON—Well, the only thing I was interested in this afternoon was the order passed on July 10 which directs the committee, of which I am a member, to do certain things, namely, to press with the Legislature the substitution of a bill. The chairman of the committee is not present. I would be glad to have the Chair designate a chairman for the committee or direct the next ranking man to act as chairman, but I do not think we ought to be too technical on the subject. It is an important subject and I think the committee should get busy before the Legislature goes home.

President MURRAY—The Chair will request the Clerk of Committees to call a meeting of the Committee on Legislation.

Coun. WILSON—I hear the Clerk of Committees is away, so could you get somebody else? Perhaps the Assistant Clerk of Committees.

President MURRAY—The matter will be taken care of.

TURNING ON OF SHOWER BATHS IN FIELD HOUSES AT PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately arrange to turn on the shower baths in all field houses at playgrounds throughout the city where such showers are not now in use.

Coun. CAREY—It has been called to my attention that the shower baths in the field house at the Parker Hill Playground are not in use this summer. Now, the summer season is fast coming to a close and I don't see any purpose in having showers in the field houses if they are not kept in use, so the young boys and girls may have the benefit of them, and I hope this matter will be given the attention of the Park Commissioner that the showers be turned on in all field houses and all playgrounds without further delay.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RUBBISH CLEANED FROM VACANT LOTS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner and Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of all vacant lots throughout the city, whether owned by the city or privately, which lots are being used for the dumping of rubbish, and to contact the owners of these lots and request that such rubbish be cleaned up and that the lots be kept clean in the future.

Coun. CAREY—It has been brought to my attention by residents in my district, and I dare say this practise is one that is carried out throughout the entire city, of the people using vacant lots of land to dump all sorts of rubbish and junk on. That practise not only hurts the value of the real estate but is a nuisance and menace to the abutting houses in the district. I think the matter can be remedied by the cooperation of the Health Commissioner. It will certainly help the City of Boston at all times of the year, but especially in the summer months, to see these lots kept in some sort of respectable appearance and I hope action will be taken as requested in that order.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RENTING OF YOUNG'S HOTEL IN LIEU OF TAXES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit a complete report as to the reason why the City of Boston has agreed with the owner of the Young's Hotel to accept, in lieu of taxes, the privilege of renting the property to the city, and why it would not be better to foreclose for nonpayment of taxes.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I brought that issue up before on this floor, but as yet no one has explained to my satisfaction why the City of Boston should be renting property at Young's Hotel when it has the right under the law to foreclose and take the property. Now, Mr. President, we have had a lot of talk on this floor in the past and we probably will have in the future about "soak-the-poor" on account of taxes. We all know the reason why we have to pay taxes is because of governmental expenses, because of mismanagement of government. Everything the city buys and the city erects costs money, and the only way they can get that money is through taxes, and the same thing applies, Mr. President, to State expenditures and to Federal expenditures. Every suit that is bought, every poor man that pays $15 or $20 for a suit pays anywhere from $3 to $5 hidden taxes. Every housing project that goes up supposed to benefit the poor is soaking the poor in the form of hidden taxes. There is only one way, Mr. President, to evade taxes, and that is by economy in government, and the only way to have economy in government is by proper management and I contend, inasmuch as the City of Boston is paying in the vicinity of $30,000 to $40,000 for outside rental, that we should foreclose the Young's Hotel and house the Finance Commission and other governmental agencies in that building and save that rental and I would like to know, Mr. President, as I have said in the past, why the City of Boston should not foreclose on that property and use that building to house agencies that we have to pay rent for.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCLUSION OF BASKET BALL IN HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS CURRICULUM.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to consider the advisability of including basketball in the sports curriculum of the Boston high schools during the coming year.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, I am not going to bore the members of the Council with any lengthy talk on basket ball because on two previous occasions I introduced the same order, but the School Committee in their wisdom saw fit to turn it down. The second request for considering basket ball was met with just a mere continuance of the first answer. I asked the School Committee at that time to take a poll of the students in the schools to see if it was popular. The sports we have for high school students should be the ones that are most desirable. I made a personal call on the member of the School Committee from South Boston and was surprised at the lack of knowledge he had regarding basket ball and the facilities available in the schools controlled by the Board of which he is a member. I spoke to Mr. White and although he was a former athlete of Boston College I was surprised at the lack of knowledge he had regarding the expense it would entail and how cheap it could be run. I personally think that those men who are members of the School Board, if they have the interest of the children at heart, if they desire to see sports in high schools that the children desire, will make an extensive study and a poll of the students to find out what they want, and not merely pass it aside with a few remarks. I am of the belief that if Mr. White and the doctor from South Boston are really sincere in the talk I had with them, they will give this matter a great deal of attention. I also am introducing this order for the third time because at a meeting held before a Council committee relative to the playgrounds for the West End, I asked School Committeeman Lee what he knew about the activities of the children and what they desired, and I was surprised that Mr. Lee at that time said in all truthfulness that he didn't attend the meeting whereby the School Committee turned down the request of this Council and that he personally would like an opportunity to vote on it, as he was in favor of it. He said that publicly before an audience of 300, so I am again introducing this order so Mr. Lee may have his opportunity to vote for it and if Mr. White and the doctor from South Boston again turn it down, to show to the people, and I think the doctor is a candidate for election in a few months,—to show the ignorance they have relative to the desires of the pupils in high schools.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

President MURRAY—The Chair would advise the Body that there are matters referred to the Executive Committee which require fifteen votes and would ask the members to stay after the recess.

On motion of Coun. IRWIN, the Council voted at 3.25 to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President MURRAY at 4.45 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Chairman WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred July 24) for procuring portrait of Coun. Mildred G. Harris—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

2. Report on petition (referred May 1) that Frances E. Dolan be paid an annuity on account of the death of her husband Charles F. Dolan, late member of the Fire Department—recommending passage of the following order:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1933, an annuity of one thousand dollars be allowed and paid to Frances E. Dolan, widow of Charles F. Dolan, a member of the Fire Department, who died on August 27, 1931, on account of injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to continue so long as she remains unmarried; the payments to date from August 27, 1931, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on message from Mayor and orders (referred this day) for transfers within the Assessing Department, Board of Appeal,

Fire Department and Printing Department—that several orders ought to pass.

Report accepted; said orders passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

4. Report on message from Mayor and order (referred this day) for loan of two million dollars against tax titles—that order ought to pass.

Report accepted. Question came on the first reading of the order, yeas 19, nays 0, and the order received its first reading.

5. Report on the message and order (referred this day) for the transfer of $32,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund to the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence January 12, 1887,—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

6. Report on resolution (referred this day) by Coun. Langan concerning new sources of revenue—that same be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Report accepted and the resolution was declared referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. WILSON—Because I understand there is another order going in, I ask for a roll call.

President MURRAY—The Chair understands there is no further order to be introduced.

The resolution stood referred to Committee on Rules.

AMOUNT SPENT ON REPAIRS, CENTRAL LIBRARY, 1928-38.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to advise the City Council at once the amount actually expended during each of the ten years 1928 to 1938, inclusive, for repairs on the roof of the Central Library building in Copley square.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHOWER BATH IN COPLEY SCHOOL, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Boston School Committee to place in operation the shower baths at the Copley School in Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF PROPERTIES EXEMPT FROM ONE THIRD OF TAXES.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to have an immediate investigation of all properties exempt from one third of their assessed taxes under chapter 59, section 5, clauses 3 and 4, and if such investigation warrants that legislation be introduced so that only the proper parties will hereafter gain exemption under the above act.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, my reason for introducing this order is I understand under chapter 59, section 5, clauses 3 and 4, the only ones who are entitled to one third taxes are organizations such as library organizations, charitable, benevolent, scientific and temperance organizations. Now I understand, Mr. President, that there is a certain building up in Ashburton place that was recently assessed in the year 1938 for a half a million dollars and under this clause they are entitled to $165,000 exemption, and they recently had a decision from the Appellate Tax Board cutting their assessment from half a million to $315,000, allowing to be exempt $105,000. It is in this same hall where the Communists and Socialists of the City of Boston hold their meetings, and I was wondering if they come under this exemption. That is why I am asking the Mayor to order this investigation of all properties so we might get at the right parties.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

STATEMENT ON EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS BUS TERMINAL.

Coun. TAYLOR—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement, Mr. President.

President MURRAY—If there is no objection.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I read in the newspapers recently of a case of the Department of Public Utilities with reference to granting permit to the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company, for them to operate buses from Fall River through the heavy traffic streets such as Blue Hill avenue, Seaver street and Columbus avenue. Once again the legislators on Beacon Hill from the small towns have demonstrated they are going to take away home rule from Boston and give to the people of this city what they think is best for them and not what the people who represent them think is best for them. It only indicates, Mr. President, what large corporations can do up there on Beacon Hill by their powerful lobbying methods and they will force down the throats of the people of this city something that they do not want. The City Council will not assume any responsibility for the deaths and injuries that occur to the people, including the children from Ward 17, the district of the councilor who is so anxious to see this bus line go through, and they are bound to occur to the people of our district. The people of Boston elect their representatives because they feel that they are able to act for them and now in one special instance the Legislature, together with his Excellency the Governor, and together with the Department of Public Utilities, have seen fit to force down the throats of the people of Boston something that they do not want.

ABATING FIVE-CENT CHARGE TO BOSTON SWIMMING POOLS.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to consider the advisability of abating the five-cent entrance charge to the tank at Curtis Hall and other city-owned swimming pools in order that children who find it impossible to enjoy the benefits of the beach will have an opportunity to have a chance to swim during the summer months.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF BUSES USING STREETS FOR STATIONS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following: Ordered, That a special committee of five members be appointed for the purpose of investigating whether or not buses have the right to use the streets of Boston for station purposes without a change in ordinance.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I find in the city of New York that these bus companies haven't any right to use the streets as they are using all our streets in our city. They should be compelled, in my opinion, to provide a station for that purpose. The railroads of this country are suffering badly. They have been taxed to the limit and we find these bus companies are coming to Park square, which is going to make a hazard to use the public streets of our city without paying any tax or fee. Now, the City Council went on record some time ago with a fee schedule that was exorbitant enough to drive people out of business, and yet we allow these companies to come in here and use our streets without paying any fee whatsoever or any tax whatsoever and pass all kinds of taxes that are severe, and allow these gigantic corporations who are vastly becoming a great menace to use our streets without any charge whatsoever. In Fall River, which is the home of the Eastern Massachusetts, they have a beautiful station built there and they should be compelled to do the same thing in Park square, and I am asking that a committee of the Council be appointed to investigate this matter.

The order was declared referred to Committee on Rules.

Coun. GALVIN—On that order before it goes to the Committee on Rules, I claim that it should be sent to the Ordinances Committee. Only within the last week or ten days from the newspapers we see where a local railroad that is running from Boston to Winthrop is having to close up its business and the Eastern Massachusetts Railway uses all the highways and byways without any expense whatsoever to their company and I believe the maintenance cost should be put on the various bus companies and an ordinance set up to that effect. I believe it should be sent to the Committee on Ordinances.

President MURRAY—The Chair has referred the matter to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. ROSENBERG—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement, Mr. President.

President MURRAY—The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. ROSENBERG—I feel that the order introduced by Councilor Fitzgerald undoubtedly will be referred to the proper committee by the chairman and I am fully in accord with the remarks of the councilor from Ward 3 to the effect that these bus companies are utilizing the streets of the City of Boston, frankly, I believe, to the detriment of the residents of the City of Boston,—the Legislature granting them the power and the Public Utilities granting them powers to use our streets without paying any taxes or service charge, without paying its franchise rights and endangering the lives of the citizens of Boston and they should be brought to some realization and to some responsibility in coming into the city. I was, perhaps, one of those who waged a battle on the floor of this Council and was glad to have the cooperation of a majority of this Body, which supported me on a petition being passed by the City Council, because I believe the members here know the conditions existing in Boston, know what is best for us and what will be for the convenience for the purpose of transportation and safety for the residents of Boston. As I have stated, we continuously see the signs posted "Park where the Elevated begins" in order that additional revenue might come to the Elevated and people may go into downtown Boston with speed and without being delayed by the traffic congestion that confronts them. Blue Hill avenue and other sections are already overtaxed with traffic, and I hope as a result of the reference of this measure there will be some realization brought to the Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the various transportation companies that Boston is entitled to a proper compensation for their right to come into the city.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, that was an order asking that the President appoint a special committee. As to whether or not it should be referred to the Rules, or whether or not this Body should vote on whether a special committee should be appointed, there is a doubt in my mind.

President MURRAY—The Chair referred the matter according to the rules to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. LANGAN—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President MURRAY—The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. LANGAN—At the last meeting of the Council I introduced an order addressed to his Honor the Mayor requesting the Park Commissioner to open the tennis courts. About four years ago an initial expenditure of $5,000 was made for tennis courts and in about six months, upon complaint of three or four individuals who live on property adjoining the tennis courts, the Park Commissioner saw fit to close them and today in response to my order the Park Commissioner has refused to reopen those tennis courts. I want to inform the constituents of my ward who are involved that I shall do everything in my power to see that this initial investment of $5,000 shall not be dissipated because of the individual objections of a few people.

Negroes, 20,574 (10,223 males and 10,351 females) or 2.63 per cent of population; sex ratio, 98.8 to 100. The Negro population has increased 4,224 since 1920 and 4,993 since 1915. NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added to Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No. 33

CALLS FOR FAITH IN INSTITUTIONS OF REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT AS SAFEGUARD FOR DEMOCRACY—ACTING MAYOR GEORGE A. MURRAY, SUBSTITUTING FOR MAYOR TOBIN, ADDRESSES DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION, AT OPENING SESSION IN TAUNTON—DECRIES DEMAGOGUES OF EUROPE WHO MAKE SCORN OF DEMOCRACY, THEN BECOME DICTATORS AND THUS THE ARCH-RACKETEERS OF THE WORLD—WARNS THAT ALL LOYAL AMERICANS WILL KNOW HOW TO KEEP ALL SUCH OUT OF OUR COUNTRY.

The following is the address of Hon. George A. Murray, Acting Mayor, at the twenty-first annual convention, American Legion, Department of Massachusetts, at Taunton High School Auditorium, on Thursday, August 17:

Commander Maguire, Governor Saltonstall, Mayor Poole, Officers, Members and Guests of the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion.

You have called me here today on an occasion which I find pleasant and significant in more ways than one. Your great assembly stirs my deepest sense of respect, and at the same time it fills me with highest hope.

As the American Legion opens its twenty-first annual convention in Massachusetts, it may be truly said, may it not, that you are doubly entered upon years of manhood — as individuals long since, and now as an organization.

Since you have had to live and serve and wait twenty-one years before you could celebrate this important birthday anniversary of the Legion's corporate life, I find myself wishing, this morning, that you might have been patient, and waited just a few hours longer. Then you could have had with you, a guest whom I know you would have been most glad to welcome — the elected Mayor of Boston, Honorable Maurice J. Tobin.

Mayor Tobin, as perhaps you know, is at this very moment steaming back toward America from a very hurried, but indeed a hallowed, trip to Ireland. He embarked on that round voyage for just one controlling purpose — and that was, to take his aged mother for a glimpse of the beautiful land where she was born, which she had not seen since her girlhood, and may not see again.

The ship carrying the Mayor and his party on their home-bound journey is expected to dock in New York at six o'clock tonight.

Good Wishes of Mayor.

So you see, it is only by the narrowest margin that the honor of briefly addressing you falls to me. In expressing to you now the heartiest of good wishes on behalf of Mayor Tobin, the City Council and indeed of all the officials and people of Boston, I wish to assure you also that Mayor Tobin is most deeply regretful and disappointed that he cannot be here to address you in person, as he had hoped and expected.

I like to believe that you know Mayor Tobin's feelings on this score quite as well as I know them myself. A chief executive of the City of Boston who traveled all the way to Los Angeles in September of 1938, in order to invite the American Legion to bring its great national convention to Boston in 1940 — and who has busied himself month in and month out ever since to press and support this invitation in every way possible, both by a visit to your Executive Committee at Indianapolis and by urgent efforts to prepare the finest possible reception and entertainment in Boston for the coming convention — that kind of mayor is an evident and fully attested friend and champion of the American Legion and of all its good works. Mayor Tobin's record on this score needs no further words of mine.

I shall speak again before I close of the convention's prospects and high promise in 1940. But my mind is called back at this moment once more to the dual significance of the assembly convened here today, marking still another achievement of full twenty-one years — first by America's veterans as individuals, and now in the fellowship of this great organization.

I cannot resist at least a moment's glance backward to the days of 1917 and 1918, when the World War was raging. Many among you accepted a man's burden and an American patriot's whole duty, when you were still in youth's earliest prime. Even before attaining the legal obligations of manhood, thousands of American boys swiftly offered the greatest gift that men can ever make — the offer and gift of their lives for the nation, its welfare and happiness, its institutions and ideals.

When the World War had run its awful course, swiftly the men who had rallied to their country's call as individuals, were drawn together into the common bonds of this most impressive organization.

ADDRESS OF ACTING MAYOR MURRAY.

LEGION BEGUN.

Indeed, even before the end of the war, there was eager talk of forming such a body as the American Legion among soldiers and sailors of the United States Army and Navy in action "over there," on transports bound for France, in camps waiting to march, at naval bases waiting to sail. The movement to form a permanent organization sprang up naturally and with spontaneous vigor among great masses of men united in a common cause amid common dangers. The idea was discussed in dugouts and in trenches, and as the Armistice approached, it had become real if still formless in the minds of thousands.

With the swiftness almost of radio transmission, that idea traveled back and forth over the Atlantic. And immediately it took root and bore fruit here in Massachusetts. That fact is well proved by the serial number of the convention met here today—the twenty-first in the twenty-one years from 1918 to 1939.

Down here in Bristol County I feel, indeed, as though I were almost on the site of the American Legion's Cradle in Massachusetts, the exact spot of its birth. Among the nearly three hundred posts of the Legion in this state, everyone knows that the Post at New Bedford bears the honorable distinction of being Post No. 1 in the Legion's roster for the Commonwealth.

And as to the good city of Taunton, I feel that I am in the presence of a direct descendant of the founding mother of the whole town. Everyone in Taunton knows all about her, but for the benefit of outsiders, I state the record. The history books say that she was one Mistress Elizabeth Poole, and they describe her as "a wise and anciently religious maid."

Surely, with such ancestry in mind, as we pay our respects to his Honor Mayor Poole of the City of Taunton today, we do so with great awe.

But I hope that Mayor Poole will be sure to come to Boston, with all his wisdom whether ancient or modern, to attend the great National Convention of the American Legion which we all hope and believe will be held in Boston in 1940. That is going to be a splendid occasion, and we can make it the marker and the launching-ways of a splendid year for the whole United States, if we will.

EARLY TURMOIL.

I wonder how many of you recall that he ten years from 1830 to 1840, in the United States just a century ago, were a decade of great turmoil, including the most extreme financial troubles and all manner of social ills and conflicts among the people. The treasury of the United States seemed just about bankrupt, even the national currency was in much disorder and hard to procure. Many men predicted that the end of all good times had come.

Yet suddenly in the year 1840 it began to be realized that these croakers were wrong. Even the most pessimistic citizens could not fail to recognize that conditions in that year were growing very much better. And the following years of the decade grew more and more prosperous, culminating in the gold rush to California in 1849.

I do not know that the year 1940 will lead on to the discovery of other mines of gold, but I am confident that the resources of wealth and worth already known to exist in the United States are the greatest in any single civilized country on earth. The material means are sufficient to our need.

It is the stores of the spirit, the springs of a strong national morale, upon which we must draw or perish.

My friends of the American Legion, let me say to you one thing. We can never make a good democracy out of bad democrats. I am not speaking of any political party. I speak of the faith in the institutions of representative government, free speech and free assembly which are the treasures of democracy and which every man, if he is a good democrat, will praise, defend and support even with his life.

The countries of Europe are full today of demagogues who makes scorn of democracy. They say it is a system cumbersome and outworn. They cry out "deliver us from the politicians!" And then what do they do? The speakers themselves grab all power, they become super-politicians who have managed to place themselves beyond all control or check of the people whatsoever. The dictators are the arch-racketeers of the human universe.

The American Legion, I am sure, wants none of them in the United States, and, please God, all of us loyal Americans, joining our hands firmly together, will know how to keep them out.

Mr. Lee: I would like to debate the matter of these certification orders.

It might be pointed out that at the last meeting it was stated, I think by Mr. Sullivan, and, I believe, accepted by other members, that the discontinuance of the freshman class at Teachers College, eliminating, as it did, the revenue from tuition, actually added $300 to the tax rate. Ordinarily, to add $300 to the tax rate requires four votes, the law having some wording, in substance, that appropriations against the tax rate must be passed by four members of the Committee, and likewise to pass over the Mayor's veto. Yet there were only two votes for eliminating the salary of a teacher for the freshman class at Teachers College.

Chairman: There were four, it not five. Did you oppose the second budget?

Mr. Lee: No, except for a few items which I opposed before.

Chairman: Then we had five votes for that appropriation order which you say is $300 higher.

Mr. Lee: We have four votes for an appropriation which struck out $1100 from an item on Teachers College. We did not have four votes on the $300. That now comes up on the motion to certify the amount to be assessed against the tax rate. Here we find a loss of revenue with the result that we have an appropriation order calling for $300 more than otherwise.

Dr. Foley: We are asked now to certify the amount to be raised by taxation, and only to certify the amount to be raised. That is the question before this Committee, the certification of the appropriations that we have already passed upon.

All this controversy as to the items in the budget is irrelevant to the question before this Committee, which is the certifying of the amount to be raised by taxation. Everything else is entirely out of order.

Chairman: I agree with you.

Mr. Lee: I understand that we are not passing on the budget, which was passed at the last meeting, but we are passing on the amount against the tax rate, which takes into consideration the revenues which we are losing or gaining and which shows we must have $300 more revenue because of the loss of tuitions from Teachers College.

Chairman: That certification takes three votes. Will you read the orders, Miss Cronin?

(The certification orders were read by the Secretary.)

Mr. Lee: What were orders 3 and 4?

Secretary: $76,753 land and buildings, and of that amount $6,673.17 represents balances.

Dr. Foley: I ask for the question.

Mr. Lee: Can we take them order by order? I will vote yes on the order certifying what the budget is.

Mr. White: For the Board of Assessors you are obliged to certify the full amount. For the purposes of your own public record, if you are trying to verify what you feel in your mind is right and object to what is not right, you may do so. This action is for the purpose of certifying to the Assessors the whole amount that is to be raised. We are required to certify the whole amount to the Assessors or not certify the whole thing. You cannot certify it piecemeal.

Mr. Lee: At the last meeting I believe there was a grave legal question whether we could take action as we did, which in effect raised the assessment in the tax rate $300, by the amount of the minimum voting strength there was.

I would like to reserve my vote in the negative for all of this.

Mr. White: That is a legal question.

Mr. Lee: I do not want to certify a budget which I think may not have been properly passed or passed without proper authority.

Dr. Foley: We are confirming now what we have already voted.

Mr. Lee: We voted on the budget. We did not consider revenue. I kept asking the Secretary whether we could consider revenue.

I would like to reserve my vote as no.

Question came on the passage of the four orders notifying the Board of Assessors of appropriations made by the School Committee for the current financial year and certifying the amount to be raised by taxation for school purposes, totaling $15,355,940.37.

The four orders passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Foley, Smith and White—3.

NAYS—Mr. Lee—1.

ABSENT—Mr. Sullivan—1.

REVISION OF COURSES IN ECONOMICS

Mr. Lee: On the matter of the proposed new courses in economics which have been studied by two committees, one from the intermediate schools and one from the high schools, and also in the matter of the courses in politics or civics, the intermediate school committee is making good progress.

The work of the high school committee, suggesting a new high school course in economics, soon will be reported to the Superintendent. I believe they have in mind courses only for the senior year rather than for the freshman, junior and sophomore classes. On that basis we would have new courses in economics for the intermediate schools and then skip the first three years of high school and come out with a final course in the senior year.

It seems to me a question whether we should not ask that that course be shaped to cover the entire four years of high school, the first three years as well as the last year.

Furthermore, these courses will not do much good, even if they are approved by the School Committee, unless time is given to fit them into the schedules of the classes.

Our college entrance examinations make it impossible for those taking the college course—even if they do not go to college—unless some adjustment be made in the curriculum, if we are going to teach anything along the lines of economics, politics or civics.

The Board of Superintendents has not had time to report on the political matter, which I asked the School Committee to submit to them.

I suggest that we authorize the Superintendent to consider those three years. I guess he has them in mind anyway. That is, that he consider the high school economics course as being shaped to run for the whole four years of high school, and that we authorize him to ask some of the teachers in high school, perhaps some of those receiving the highest compensation, to come back a month before school opens and see how they can work out their curriculum and their schedules in the different high schools, so that if this Committee does approve new courses in economics or civics it will be not just a gesture but these courses will be fitted into the work.

Dr. Foley: I suggest that this matter be turned over to the Superintendent or the Board of Superintendents for their consideration.

Superintendent: I am working on this now. Am I to ask certain teachers to give up their vacations to work on courses of study?

A course of study requires substantially two years of work before it can be completed. It also requires that the pupils in the four-year courses in high school know in advance what the course of study is.

I think you will not accomplish much by asking me to call back teachers who have volunteered their services during the greater part of the school year, to work on this curriculum and give up a month of their vacation to further this course of study.

Mr. Lee: I was not speaking about the committee itself. I was speaking about the class room teacher. We would have to adjust the instruction to the curriculum if these courses should be approved by the School Committee. It is idle to have a new course written unless there is provision in the curriculum.

Superintendent: If the School Committee authorizes the courses as part of the regular curriculum, it is for the Board of Superintendents, or for me, to see that time is provided in the schedule. I do not think I should anticipate that before the course of study has even been presented to the School Committee. And I do not know that the School Committee will accept it. Why should I go to the work of trying to make provision for the courses in the program before acceptance by the School Committee?

Mr. Lee: I can see that, but if the acceptance should come before school opens, we have on the teaching force only two men who have majored in economics.

Superintendent: You do not know them all. We have some fine teachers of economics in the high schools. There are many teachers who have not majored in economics in college, who studied the subject after they had reached a certain stage in their teaching, which made it more profitable for them than if they had majored in college.

Mr. Lee: Does this Committee want to keep the door open for a change in curriculum by going into this whole question of whether we shall have a college preparatory course at the dictation of the colleges, which precludes the boy taking the college course from doing work in an economics course, or even taking typewriting or many of the commercial subjects, with the result that when he gets through school and is not going to college he finds his education has been sidetracked by the colleges, which have a rather poor understanding of the modern problem of educating a high school boy.

I would like to ask the Board of Superintendents to consider at least a modification of the college course in the high schools. I am trying to keep the door open so that if those courses are approved we will have something to meet the economic and political situations which these children are going to face. And the children cannot wait two years for the courses to be done in every detail, as by that time they will be through school.

You can consider whether your course in economics will be accepted without working out, brick by brick, the entire structure of a new course.

I would like to leave the door open for the Board of Superintendents to look into the question of how far we shall bind our school system to the college course in prejudice to some of these new steps that may be taken.

I understand that only a minority take the college preparatory course.

Superintendent: A relatively small group elect the college course. You would not bar them from the right of getting into college?

Mr. Lee: I do not think that the colleges are in the lead any longer in the matter of modern education. I think we ought to ask them to take some leadership, or the school system should approach the colleges, lay our problems before them and say, "How about it?" I would like to leave the door open by giving authority to the Board of Superintendents so that if some of these courses are approved we will not be so rigid in our curriculum that they cannot be given to the pupils.

Superintendent: You mean that you would make these courses in economics compulsory for every child in high school?

Mr. Lee: I would make them compulsory, but the Committee may not do that.

Chairman: How can the Board of Superintendents go ahead without knowing what the School Committee is going to do?

Mr. Lee: I am simply trying to keep the door open so that if the School Committee does act we will not find it too late to mobilize the machinery of the schools.

Mr. White: You want the Board of Superintendents to give the School Committee its report on new economics courses as soon as possible so that we may approve them?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Mr. White: If we approve them as soon as they can get them to us, we expedite the clearing up of difficulties that there may be in getting the courses started in the school system.

Chairman: That report will not be ready until when?

Superintendent: The great body of it is outlined but it has not been reduced to course of study form.

Mr. White: I would go on record with Mr. Lee in requesting the Board of Superintendents to expedite the submission of the course of study in economics.

Superintendent: I am perfectly willing.

Mr. Lee: On the matter of these political and civics courses, you might as well include them.

Mr. White: For their consideration.

Mr. Lee: Throw them in for their consideration, yes.

The Committee adjourned.

Secretary.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payment must not exceed 6 per cent.

The following was received:

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of July 31, with inclosure, order from the city councilor, that the Park Department submit a project for the repair of benches.

A project of this type has been submitted again and again and has been turned down, with the statement that this is maintenance, and W. P. A. workers cannot be allowed to do same.

We have now a project somewhere in the various offices of the W. P. A. to erect new benches in various parts of the city.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS AT FRANKLIN PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 4, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Department Chairman relative to your order of July 24, 1939, concerning the erection of drinking fountains at the playgrounds on Franklin Park; particularly near the ball field.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 2, 1939.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of July 31, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department erect drinking fountains at the Playstead in Franklin Park.

At the present time we have drinking fountains on all sides of this Playstead, also drinking fountains in the main building just under the arch. I do not think it is advisable to put drinking fountains among the baseball diamonds, and anybody using the field can obtain water on all sides. Water is also available at the tennis and golf courses.

I will, however, have an inspection made of our drinking fountains and see if it is possible to make up a project to install additional ones.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Health Commissioner relative to your order of July 24, 1939, concerning the making of a survey of all vacant lots throughout the city, whether owned by the city or privately, which lots are being used for the dumping of rubbish, and to contact the owners of these lots and request that such rubbish be cleaned up and that the lots be kept clean in the future.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, August 2, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—With respect to your communication of July 31 transmitting to this department City Council order of July 24:

"Concerning the making of a survey of all vacant lots throughout the city, whether owned by the city or privately, which lots are being used for the dumping of rubbish, and to contact the owners of these lots and request that

Please be informed, a building of this kind containing convenience station, gymnasium, locker building, etc., would cost approximately $200,000.

The income of the Parkman Fund averages about $215,000 a year, said income, for a number of years, has been used for maintenance of the department and is being used this year for that purpose.

Unless the financial conditions show a vast improvement, I cannot see my way clear to recommend this amount of money to be expended from the Parkman Fund for this purpose.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works resurface with smooth paving, Rosemary street, Ward 11, under the W. P. USE OF LAND ON DORCHESTER AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of July 10, 1939, concerning the reconsidering of the reported plan for use of Dorchester avenue property, in the vicinity of St. Gregory's Church, as a sand and gravel dump or for a city yard.

Respectfully,

GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, August 1, 1939.
William T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have received a copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on July 10, 1939:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider reported plan for use of Dorchester avenue property, in the vicinity of St. Gregory's Church, as a sand and gravel dump or for a city yard."

It was never the intention of the department to use the area of land referred to in this order as a sand and gravel dump. It was proposed, however, in the spring of the current year, to utilize the abandoned barn and an area of land in the rear of the property, adjacent to Dorchester Park, as an office and yard for the use of the district paving forces. I was never thoroughly convinced as to the desirability of establishing a paving yard at that location, due to the character of the neighborhood, which is principally residential, and the fact that this property could be used to far better advantage than that proposed.

It is not the intention of the department to utilize the area for any purpose.

Respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN WARD 13.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 26, 1939, concerning the installation of electric street lights at the following locations in Ward 13: Sargent street, corner of Hartford street, Sargent street, corner of Howard avenue, middle of Sargent street.

Respectfully,

GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, July 24, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works install electric street lights at the following locations in Ward 13:

such rubbish be cleaned up and that the lots be kept clean in the future."

The Health Department is consistently working along the lines suggested in this order. However, there are several things that should be understood with regard to these conditions. It would be necessary to station an inspector or a police officer on each vacant lot in the city to guarantee that no illegal dumping of refuse would be done.

Owners of vacant lots are naturally averse to paying out money for cleaning up rubbish from land on which they are paying taxes and it often requires time and argument by the employees of the Health Department to get such lots cleaned.

Many of the owners are nonresidents and it is sometimes difficult to reach the responsible parties and get action.

With regard to the city-owned lots, we notify the Superintendent of Public Buildings in every case and cannot assume responsibility for the condition of property under his control.

We will continue to do everything in our power to comply with the request contained in this order.

Respectfully,

H. F. R. WATTS, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

WELFARE CASES IN HOUSING AREAS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Welfare Executive Director relative to your order of July 10, 1939, concerning the number of welfare cases added to the rolls since May 20, 1939, from among the families resident as of said date in the four new subsidized housing areas in Boston; and also the number of families moved out of said housing areas with the assistance of the Welfare Department, and the expense of same.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of Public Welfare, July 25, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication of July 14, 1939, with inclosed order of the City Council, dated July 10, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council:

"1. As to the number of welfare cases added to the rolls since May 20, 1939, from among the families resident as of said date in the four new subsidized housing areas in Boston; and also

"2. The number of families moved out of said housing areas with the assistance of the Welfare Department, and the expense of same."

May I report that in the four new housing areas in Boston in the period from May 20, 1939, through July 20, 1939, there have been thirty-two reapplications for assistance and four new applications.

From our records we find that a total of 168 individuals in families have been moved during that period from these areas at a cost of $905. This expense of moving has been more than offset by the saving to the city on account of the fact that no rental allowance was rendered to the recipients for the greater part of the period in which the recipients resided within the housing areas following receipt of eviction notices. The Housing Authority waived rental for welfare recipients for these periods in each of the housing sites.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

FIRE LOSSES IN TEN YEARS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 3, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Fire Commissioner concerning your order of May 8, 1939, relative to a comparative list of fire losses in the City of Boston during the past ten years, together with any changes in fire insurance rates during that period.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, July 24, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—As a final report concerning the City Council order of May 8, 1939, requesting that I furnish the City Council with a comparative list of fire losses in the City of Boston during the past ten years together with any change in the fire insurance rates during that period, I wish to submit the following information.

The comparative list of fire losses was furnished in a previous communication.

Information concerning changes in fire insurance rates during the same period has been extremely difficult to obtain. A letter addressed to the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has remained unanswered up to the present time. However, as a result of a personal investigation I have been able to obtain the following information.

Since January 1, 1929, the following classes of property have been granted reductions in rates:

Unsprinklered garages of second-class construction.

Unsprinklered public storage warehouses of second-class construction.

Risks in Hyde Park rated by short schedule. Fireproof sprinklered theater buildings and contents.

Fire resistive hotel buildings and their contents.

Fire resistive office buildings.

Completely sprinklered department stores and their contents.

Churches of second-class construction.

Churches of third-class construction.

Brewery.

Coal yard.

Fire resistive club buildings.

Wool warehouses and their contents.

Wool in stipulated warehouses.

Fire resistive hotels (second reduction).

Fireproof theaters and motion picture houses.

Frame buildings occupied principally for dwellings and in part for office and mercantile purposes, and their contents.

Fireproof single dwellings.

Fireproof schools and fireproof institutions of the general class which includes monasteries, charitable homes, convents and seminaries, etc.

Community garages.

Public institutions of second and third-class construction.

Hospitals.

Dwellings and apartments wholly occupied for dwelling purposes and dwellings in apartment houses occupied principally for dwellings and in part for offices.

Fire resistive office buildings and fire resistive buildings occupied for offices and mercantile purposes (second reduction).

A comparison of the rate sheets of May 24, 1933, and the revised sheets for December 31, 1937, showing the minimum rates for dwelling houses indicate that there has been a reduction range from a minimum of 5 per cent to a maximum of 27 per cent. For example, certain two-family homes have had an 8 per cent reduction on their building insurance and a 7 per cent reduction on their furniture insurance. Apartment houses with five to eight apartments have had a reduction of 17 per cent on the buildings and 16 per cent on furniture contents. Apartment buildings with twenty-five to thirty-two apartments have had a reduction of 25 per cent on the buildings and 24 per cent on the household furniture contents.

It must be realized, of course, that the Boston Board during this period has re-rated risks with lower rates due to improvements in construction, interior protection or exposure, and these reductions applied regardless of the class of property involved whenever conditions in connection with a particular risk justified such treatment.

In addition there are approximately twenty-five thousand specifically rated buildings in the City of Boston and it is therefore obvious that it would be impossible to arrive at a percentage of reduction that has applied over the past few years to these various specifically rated risks.

I submit the above information in the hope that it will be found sufficiently complete to meet with the purpose of the order.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

SHOWERS IN FIELD HOUSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 4, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Department Chairman relative to your order of July 24, 1939, concerning the turning on of the shower baths in all field houses in playgrounds throughout the city where such showers are not now in use.

Respectfully,

GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 2, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of July 31, with inclosure order from the City Council that the Park Department turn on the shower baths in all field houses.

Please be informed that shower baths that are available are never turned off in Park Department field houses.

I want to say, however, that the showers are supposed to be used by the athletes and not by the general neighborhood, as we have not enough of them. Nobody is refused a shower and they are kept in repair as far as is possible, with our depleted forces.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO FEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 7, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—From time to time, question has been raised as to the legality of certain charges assessed by the city government for various services performed in various departments. In order that this ambiguity be eliminated the Legislature of this year provided in chapter 173 that all such charges be valid provided action under this chapter is taken by the City Council and the Mayor. I therefore forward herewith an ordinance which, if passed by your Honorable Body, will provide legal basis for all fees and charges at present assessed by the city government, and respectfully request prompt consideration thereof.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY, Acting Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning Fees for Licenses and Permits.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

That, under authority of chapter 173 of the Acts of 1939, all fees for licenses and permits, and fees for service rendered or work performed not part of the general services furnished the citizens of the city as a whole, whether such fees or charges have been instituted or established by action of the City Council or heads of departments or boards, be, and hereby are, confirmed and established.

JITNEY LICENSE GRANTED.

A copy of the order of the State Department of Public Utilities granting a bus license to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company from Milton line to Park square, under authority of chapter 113, Acts of 1939, was received and placed on file.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I would like to make a statement with reference to the issuance of the bus line permit. I believe that is merely formal notification? Coun. MURRAY—Yes.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, and members of the Council, at the last meeting of the Board of Public Utilities held last week I appeared before the board at its meeting on the matter of convenience of granting the bus line. While present at the hearing I brought to the attention of the members of the Board of Public Utilities the fact that on two or three occasions the members of the Boston City Council had rejected a petition that had been presented. I stressed the number of accidents happening on the boulevard and called to their attention, also, the fact that when Mr. Dana, of the Boston Elevated, appeared before a jitney committee, an investigating board of the Boston City Council, when the question was presented to him whether he thought it would be safe to operate buses on Blue Hill avenue, he emphatically said the buses, in his opinion, would be a hazard and danger on that particular narrow thoroughfare. The chairman of the Board was sitting, and when I put the question to him as to whether or not he was acquainted with Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, admitted that he was. He also stated at the time that in his opinion Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street ought to be widened in order that the traffic conditions on both Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street might get along with speed and with safety. That was the statement of the chairman of the commission. Only last week he practically admitted that Blue Hill avenue was no thoroughfare for the allowance of the opening up of a road for the commercial bus line route, and we feel by opening up the bus line routes along Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street you are making an opening wedge whereby other bus lines from all over the state will be filing applications to come into the city, using the highways of Boston without bringing any revenue into the city. There was a statement presented at the hearing that the Mattapan merchants were in favor of the bus line, but when it was offered the Mattapan merchants were under the impression buses coming from Taunton and Fall River were going to stop in Mattapan square and they thought additional revenue was coming in, but when they found the buses were only going to use it as a speedway, they were opposed to such a bus line route. I have been opposed to the granting of this bus line permit not because I want to keep the residents of those cities and towns outside of Boston but because I want the buses to come in on avenues which are not a hazard to the residents of Boston. As has been stated on previous occasions, I do not take any responsibility for the lives that may be lost, or people injured or maimed on the highways on which they come, and I daresay there cannot be safe operations on such a dangerous hazardous avenue as Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street without there being accidents occur and the increased traffic from these buses is bound to bring about an accident hazard which we have attempted to keep out. The citizens of the other cities and towns never would have permitted bus lines to run through their cities and towns on such thoroughfares as we have, which are detrimental to the lives and safety of the people of Boston. At the hearing held by the Board of Public Utilities, approximately forty-nine persons appeared in favor of that bus line petition and there were not more than three residents of Boston present. So it evidently appears that home rule seems to be cast out of the window. The Legislature passes a bill taking the power away from the Council, the Board of Public Utilities disregarding the will of the citizens of Boston, and I daresay that a proper move would be started on foot if the citizens of the Commonwealth, instead of having the members of the Board of Public Utilities, who are nothing but puppets of the power trusts and utility companies appointed by the Governor, have those members elected where they would have some responsibility to the citizens of Boston and the Commonwealth.

TWO-MILLION TAX LOAN.

The Chair called up, under unfinished business, No. 8 on the calendar, viz:

3. Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 49 of the Acts of 1933, as most recently amended by chapter 288 of the Acts of 1939, the City Treasurer be authorized to obtain the approval of the Emergency Finance Board to the issuance of $2,000,000 in notes, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city, said notes, bonds or certificates to be sold at their face value to the Commonwealth and the proceeds be, and hereby are, appropriated for the purpose of meeting outstanding revenue loans.

On July 24, 1939, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

The order was read a second time and again passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

ROPING OFF STREETS FOR VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS PARADE.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following: Ordered, That the City Messenger be directed to have the streets roped off at such places as may be necessary for the parade of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on August 29, 1939; the expense to be charged to the appropriation for Flags, Ropes and Stakes. Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO ERNEST E. FEWKES.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following: Ordered, That chapter 386 of the Acts of 1939, entitled "An Act authorizing the City of Boston to pay an annuity to Ernest E. Fewkes of Newton," be and hereby is, accepted.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 386 of the Acts of 1939 an annuity of six hundred and fifty dollars be allowed and paid to Ernest E. Fewkes, a former employee of the Boston City Hospital, who is now permanently disabled by reason of sickness contracted by him in the performance of X-ray work at said hospital; said annuity to be charged to the appropriate item in the budget of the Hospital Department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN ORDER RECALLED FROM COMMITTEE.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, on June 12, a recommendation of the Mayor for a loan of $1,000,000, under chapter 235 of the Acts of 1938, for the funding of overlay deficits, was submitted to the Council and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Under section two of the Revised Charter this loan unless sooner rejected or withdrawn will become effective on August 11 without affirmative action by the Council.

I am informed that for various reasons there has not been a meeting of the Committee on Finance, and in the absence of Councilor Shattuck, chairman of the committee, who is on his vacation, and for the purpose of avoiding the complications which might arise if the loan is allowed to take this course, I now move that the order be recalled from the committee and rejected, without prejudice.

If this action is taken I shall reintroduce the order and the committee can consider it at their convenience.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, may I ask what the reasons are that the committee of the Council on a million-dollar loan order has not acted for two months?

President MURRAY—The Chair has no information on that point. The question now comes on recalling order from the Finance Committee.

Coun. WILSON—I move the matter be sent to the Executive Committee as our committees do not seem to be functioning any too actively.

President MURRAY—The Chair will state that the order has first to be recalled from the Committee on Finance.

Question came on order being recalled from the Committee on Finance. Order was recalled from Finance Committee.

Question then came on the rejection of the order.

Coun. WILSON—I now move that the order be sent to the Executive Committee.

The motion was carried and the order referred to Executive Committee.

BREAKAGE ON HORSE AND DOG RACING.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council request his Excellency the Governor to order the chairman of the Racing Commission, Charles Connors, to comply with the law pertaining to "breakage" as recently interpreted by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the time has come to determine whether or not the people of this Commonwealth or the powerful interests who control the dog and horse racing in Massachusetts shall dictate the policies pertaining to dog and horse racing.

Past events have clearly indicated that these powerful interests not only have a monopoly in that business but dictate the rules under which they shall be governed. The profits of this business are so enormous that they have created the most powerful lobbying force in the State House.

They have been able to prevent all competition. You can recall recently when another horse track was contemplated being built by reputable Boston business men, the powerful influence of the officials of Suffolk Downs convinced the Racing Commission that they should not exist. Suffolk Downs won out again. The people lost. They didn't get the revenue to assist the Old Age Pension Fund—Suffolk Downs is getting all the horse racing business.

When another dog track was contemplated in Hyde Park, the powerful influence of those in control of the Revere Dog Track began to exert itself. Of course they were able to arouse an organized minority opposition. When the Mayor ordered a plebiscite to determine public opinion of the district, although only a few months prior to the plebiscite the people of the district voted 3 and 4 to 1 in favor of dog racing, the plebiscite showed a reversal of opinion, the "No's" winning by about sixty votes. What a campaign was conducted against it! 75 to 100 taxicabs were hired to take people to the polls to vote against it. Who hired these cabs? Who spent all the money to defeat it? Why, your own good judgment will tell you. That with the exception of those good people who don't want dog racing because it is against their principles, and those people only take a passive interest against it. That the powerful interests in the Revere track want all the dog racing money. They don't want to share it with other tracks. Nobody is being fooled.

What magic is there in horse and dog racing? Why do they receive special dispensation in the holy halls of the Legislature? Money is needed. Taxes have to be assessed to reduce the burdens of the cities and towns. Our Welfare rolls are heavy. When the suggestion was made to increase taxes on the dog tracks, did you ever see such a display of devotion by the Republican-controlled Legislature for the dog track interests? Oh, they wouldn't hesitate to cut down the income tax exemption from $2,000 to $1,400 on the poor individual struggling for an existence. That is all right with them. Soak the poor. They have no compunctions in doing that, but to compel the wealthy and powerful interests behind the dog tracks to pay one extra cent to relieve the honest and overburdened taxpayer would be sacrilegious. Members of the Council, it pays to be powerful.

But the last pay-off is the best of all. The John Q. Public, our best sucker, can't even get the nickels and dimes. There is a term in the racing law called "breakage," but this probably means the breaks for the horse and dog interests and not the public. They are so greedy for these nickels and dimes, which total up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, that they are aided in keeping these nickels and dimes by the chairman of the Racing Commission, despite the ruling of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

What magic again is there in horse and dog racing? A man by the name of Feeney sued Suffolk Downs, claiming they kept 10 cents too much on a ticket. The Supreme Court said that Feeney was right, that the track was wrong. Millions of others suffered the same way, but they didn't bring suit. The highest judicial tribunal in our state said the tracks were wrong. Why, Mr. Connors, chairman of the Racing Commission, did you instruct the dog and horse track interests to pay the same as before the court ruling. Are you greater than our Supreme Court? Oh, yes! You give as your excuse that you want an opinion of the Attorney-General. Who do you think you are kidding? You know that the Attorney-General's, the Governor's or anyone else's opinion cannot overrule the opinion of the Supreme Court. Are you just seeking delay—so that these nickels and dimes can still pour into the coffers of the powerful race track interests? You are not fooling anyone. The magic spell of these track interests is altogether too powerful. Mr. Connors, are you paid to protect the interests of the public or those who control the tracks? You ought to resign from office as all your actions in the past have clearly indicated that you have not the public's interest at heart. If you don't resign, the Governor ought to remove you. When so many good department heads were removed under the false heading of economy, to be replaced by men who are paid more money, real and sincere public service as distinguished from Republican economy can be shown by removal of the chairman of the Racing Commission who can be replaced by a man who will show an interest in the public and will not be dominated by powerful outside interests.

After this Supreme Court ruling, you mark my words and see if my prediction don't come true. The same powerful interests will see that legislation is passed that will change the law to help the dog and horse tracks to receive all the breakage to nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court.

I am not opposed to horse and dog racing for those that can afford this luxury, but I am opposed to a creation of a gigantic octopus which can control everything pertaining to legislation and rules concerning horse and dog racing.

Mr. Connors, either accept the ruling of the Supreme Court or resign from the public service.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, naturally I was very much interested in the remarks of the gentleman, coupled with his eloquence, although I notice he referred to the Republican-controlled Legislature as apparently the ones who are most susceptible to the undoubted influence of the Wonderland track interests. It lay in my mind, however, that the vote in the Senate to make the tax less than 7 per cent was divided by a vote of 18 to 19 and twelve of the 18 were Democratic members of the Senate.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

NAMING OF ARTHUR P. WHITE SQUARE.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the square at the junction of Columbia road, Geneva avenue and Brinsley street be named the "Arthur P. White Square," in commemoration of Arthur P. White a World War Veteran who distinguished himself in the service of the United States during the World War.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECONDITIONING TENNIS COURTS AT FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to recondition the tennis courts at Franklin Field and the Norfolk Street Playground, Ward 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG—The tennis courts at Franklin Field number approximately thirty-five. They are perhaps located on the most beautiful playground in greater Boston. Out of the thirty-five tennis courts now on that playground only seven of them can be used for playing tennis. The rest of the courts are in a condition that they are not suitable for use as tennis courts. Grass has been growing on the playing surface. Many times dust storms occur and I believe with the beautiful layout of the courts, where thousands of dollars has been spent in development of them that proper attention and care should be given to these tennis courts and it should be ordered to put them in first-class condition. No doubt a similar condition exists at the Norfolk Playground and with the summer season now at hand, now is the time we need the use of the courts and not during the winter months.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASE IN STATE TAKE ON DOG TRACK.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Resolved, That in view of the dire need of the Commonwealth to reduce the state deficit and to relieve the tax assessment burdens on the cities and towns, the Boston City Council in meeting assembled hereby favor the enactment of legislation to increase the state take on dog racing to 7 per cent.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, many times problems come up on the matter of raising increased revenue in order not to interfere or hurt the pockets of the average citizen in our Commonwealth, and surely when a proposal is brought forth to increase the take of the dog tracks from 3½ to 7 per cent there should not be anyone in any legislative body in this Commonwealth that ought to oppose a measure of that nature. The money is coming out of the public who are spending it, who are gambling conscious and who are throwing their money away at a game I call public sucker game No. 1, whether the terms are used in relation to the citizens of this Commonwealth or any Commonwealth in this country, and I feel not only could we take 7 per cent but even if we took 10 per cent it would not hurt the dog track interests or it wouldn't move away, as they have threatened to do, and I feel that if this Body went on record to favor state enactment of legislation to increase the dog track take from 3½ to 7 per cent, that would be doing an act that would in no way interfere with the average working man as the sales tax would and thereby showing we are interested in bringing in revenue to the Commonwealth which I believe would double the deposits of the cities and towns and reduce our assessment.

Referred to Executive Committee.

REMOVAL OF ATLANTIC AVENUE ELEVATED STRUCTURE.

Coun. WILSON offered the following: Ordered, That the City Clerk be directed to at once file with the appropriate committee or committees of the General Court a certified copy of order passed by the City Council on July 10, 1939, concerning House Bill 116 of 1939, together with copy of proposed form of bill indorsed by the City Council on June 12, 1939, with reference to removal of the Atlantic Avenue Elevated structure.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, perhaps being somewhat persistent and possibly too persistent, if you remember, I brought this matter up at our meeting on July 24 pointing out the chairman of the Legislative Committee had been temporarily absent from the city and urging that some other member of the committee in order of precedence call such a meeting. I do not assume the minority can do anything alone and despite assurances two weeks ago nothing has been done. In view of the fact that the Massachusetts Legislature probably sometime this year will prorogue or adjourn and since this is another Council committee that apparently does not function too accurately, I urge the adoption of this order in order that the question of the demolition of this Atlantic avenue structure, which I still consider of paramount importance to the taxpayers of the city, in order that the sentiment of the Council already expressed by its vote may be conveyed to the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

For the purpose of going into Executive Session the Chair called a recess at 3:10 p. m. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President MURRAY at 5:30 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Chairman WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message from the Mayor and order (referred July 24) re transfer of $1,500 for Zoning Board—that same ought to pass. Report accepted.

2. Report on message of the Mayor and orders (referred this day) for transfers within the Fire Department and Municipal Court, West Roxbury—that both orders ought to pass.

Report accepted.

Question came on passage of the several orders and the clerk started to call the roll. Coun. WILSON—That last one was not passed, Mr. President. Mr. Lang failed to show up today or at least didn't wait and that was not passed.

President MURRAY—I am informed that was in the amount of $15 for the West Roxbury Court.

Coun. WILSON—I don't know, except that the requested transfers were not passed because Mr. Lang was not available. As to the amount I am sure I don't know.

President MURRAY—The roll call is void up to this point and the question is now on the passage of the transfer for the Zoning Board.

The order was passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. FITZGERALD it was voted that when the Council adjourns it be to meet again on Monday, August 28, 1939, at 2 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS, CONTINUED.

The question then came on the report on message from the Mayor and orders (referred this day) for transfers within the Fire Department, $2,000 for Contractual Services to Materials, and $15, Municipal Court, West Roxbury District, Contractual Services to Equipment—that both orders ought to pass.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I regret to say that is an error and that matter was laid on the table due to the fact that when Mr. Lang was sent for, the Budget Commissioner, it was around 3:30, which was too late for him to wait and the matter was laid on the table.

On motion of Coun. WILSON the orders were laid on the table.

3. On the message of the Mayor and order (referred July 24) exempting portion of the Strandway from the ordinance concerning park frontages—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted.

Question came on the passage of the ordinance.

Coun. WILSON—The order reported by the Executive Committee is or ought to read as amended "Striking out the word I street and substituting Old Harbor street." I will be glad to make the motion in view of what the Executive Committee voted.

The amendment was adopted and the ordinance as amended was passed.

4. Report on the message of the Mayor and ordinance (referred this day) taking action under chapter 173 of the Acts of 1939 concerning certain charges assessed by the city—that ordinance ought to pass.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

5. Report on order (referred this day) concerning annuity to Ernest E. Fewkes—that same ought to pass.

Further order (referred this day) accepting chapter 386 of the Acts of 1939—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said orders passed.

6. Report on the order introduced by Coun. WILSON (referred this day) directing the City Clerk to file with the proper committee of the General Court a certified copy of the order passed by the Council on July 10, concerning the removal of the Atlantic avenue structure—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

7. Report on resolution introduced by Coun. ROSENBERG (referred this day), concerning an increase in the state tax on dog racing to 7 per cent—that resolution be adopted.

Report accepted; said resolution adopted.

8. Report on petition of Angela Murnane (referred April 3, 1939)—recommending passage of the following:

SIDEWALK IN FRONT OF 32 CHESTNUT AVENUE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an artificial stone sidewalk in front of 32 Chestnut avenue, Ward 10, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AUTHORITY FOR PLACING CERTAIN POSITIONS UNDER CIVIL SERVICE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council under what authority positions as attendant, ward maid, waitress, etc., were placed under Civil Service as of August 1, 1939.

Coun. CAREY—It has come to my attention that a ruling has been made by the Acting Director of Civil Service and the Commission itself that effective August 1, 1939, all positions paying $300 a year or more such as ward maids, attendants, waitresses, come under the Civil Service list. That practice was never indulged in before and I don't know what authority the acting director of the commission has for making this ruling. I think it would be well for the members of this body to have the information at hand.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PLACING DAISY FIELD IN JAMAICAWAY IN SUITABLE CONDITION FOR BASEBALL.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place the so-called "Daisy Field" on the Jamaicaaway, Ward 10, in suitable condition to be used for baseball purposes by persons sixteen years of age and over, in view of the fact that there is no other playground available in the district where young men may play ball without the danger of breaking windows in adjacent properties.

Coun. CAREY—There is in my district a so-called "Daisy Field" on the Jamaicaaway, a field that if properly laid out would provide an ideal location for the young men of sixteen years and over to play baseball. I have in my district and each member of this body has a similar situation existing where our playgrounds have not been made suitable for old or young men to participate in the great American game of baseball. In my district there are four playgrounds and not on anyone of those playgrounds can young men sixteen years and over play that game without being interfered with by policemen. One of the worst contacts that the young man has with the policeman is that of being chased away from a public park for playing the great American game of baseball. I feel no doubt the explanation is that in laying out these playgrounds suitable and sizable places were not found. Within the last week I have had protest from abutters on three out of four playgrounds complaining about broken windows in their homes and in their properties. The City of Boston will yearly spend millions of dollars in subsidizing Elevated deficits and what have you, yet every time we go to the Park Commissioner he gives us the same excuse that he hasn't sufficient money to properly provide suitable baseball grounds for the older fellows. Soft ball is a great game but everybody cannot play it and everybody doesn't want to play it. Some provision has got to be made to take care of the older fellows, to keep them out of trouble, and I hope that the order I have introduced here will be acted upon speedily by the Mayor, or possibly by the Acting Mayor, and with the results that have been requested here will be obtained.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF SIDEWALK ON HAVERFORD STREET.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate with officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company in an effort to compel them to live up to the terms of their contract for lighting the streets of Ward 13 where there have been many out-rages during recent months.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for repairing hull, etc., of ferryboat "Ralph J. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex, on and after Friday, August 25, 1939. Each proposal should be enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Ferryboat 'Ralph J. Palumbo,'" and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Thursday, August 31, 1939, with a certified check for three hundred (300) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. There will be a charge of two (2) dollars for each set of specifications taken out. The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required prior to the award of said contract. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

MAYOR TOBIN WELCOMES CONVENTION OF MARINE CORPS LEAGUE WITH BREAKFAST AT COPLEY-PLAZA HOTEL — PRAISES UNITY OF PURPOSE WHICH MAKES ORGANIZATION FIRM IN SUPPORT OF CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRACY AND MAINTENANCE OF FREE INSTITUTIONS — BIDS DELEGATES AND FRIENDS ENJOY THEMSELVES AND TAKE BACK TO THEIR HOMES WARMEST MEMORIES OF BOSTON'S HOSPITALITY.

The following is the address of welcome of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin delivered before the Marine Corps League's National Convention at the Hotel Copley-Plaza on Wednesday, August 23:

Chairman Cohen, Commandant O'Leary, Officers, Members and Guests of the Marine Corps League of the United States.

Welcome, thrice welcome you are to the City of Boston! As Mayor, I speak not for myself alone, but for all the people of Boston when I say that we are proud that you came, happy to have you here, and most eager to do all we can for your success and enjoyment while you are with us.

I hope that the radio, as I speak, will indeed carry far these words of greeting. Boston wishes everyone in the United States to know how cordial, how full of gratitude and good will this city is, toward the soldier-sailors of the Marine Corps League.

You men of the Marine Corps express, in a remarkable way, the unity of the American nation. The Gulf of Mexico knows the bugle-call of the Marines. On the Great Lakes — over the fresh waters lying landlocked in the Middle West — you fly Old Glory as briskly as ever. Nay, even the Plains States, in their broad expanse, make but a platform to the Marines on the high seas.

Happy Date.

And now, by a happy turn of the calendar, you open your 17th annual convention in Boston on August 23 — a day in American history especially well suited to the occasion which we now celebrate. I refer to the birthday of one of the most admirable of this nation's heroes — Lieutenant Oliver Hazard Perry, U. S. N.

You know that Perry's triumph in the battle of Lake Erie drove the British naval power off the Great Lakes forever. It changed the whole course of the War of 1812, for it established young United States in firm possession of the Northwest Territory, and it laid the basis for that century of peaceful and prosperous relations with our neighbor, the Dominion of Canada, which we all hope may continue through hundreds of years yet to come.

In Perry's victory at Put-in-Bay, men of the United States Marine Corps played an important part. You remember the dispatch sent to General Harrison by the hero of Lake Erie — "We have met the enemy and they are ours — two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop." It was a glorious message, but it could not be sent until a price had been paid to that most exacting of all toll-rate operators, the war god. Of the United States Marines, a lieutenant, a corporal and two privates perished on the "Laurence"; and after Perry transferred his flag to the "Niagara" six privates of the Marines, and a lieutenant, a sergeant and a corporal, gave up their lives.

But the true glory of the victory on Lake Erie does not belong to any one branch of the service. And it cannot be correctly appraised in terms of regional interests or partisan politics.

Perry's Contribution.

No, the value of Perry's victory on Lake Erie can be seen only by looking steadfastly, over a long run of time, to the great contribution it made to the welfare of the American nation as a whole.

In 1812, I feel bound to recall to you, hundreds of the more wealthy and conservative people of Boston wanted none of that conflict with Great Britain. Indeed, they were bitterly opposed, first to Jefferson's and then to Madison's policies. They refused to give one cent to the war loans, and they managed to prevent their State governments from sending the militia to help the Federal troops.

But before you condemn those reactionaries too harshly you have to remember that the War of 1812 laid the sea-borne commerce of the northern Atlantic ports in ruins. Here in Boston a $20,000,000 import and export trade fell to $5,000,000 in a single year. Unemployment spread as a plague, and many women and children could not find bread.

And yet, despite all hardships, the plain people, here as along the Great Lakes, stood firm to the nation's cause. They would not yield to financial pleas for desertion.

The average man in the East might know little of the troubles of the pioneers in Ohio and Illinois. He might not feel himself much concerned by the fight then being waged against the British forces, and their Indian allies, on the Middle and Northwestern frontiers.

But one thing the plain people of Boston and Massachusetts did know! They knew the fight their own fathers had made to win independence, and to establish the blessings of democratic freedom in this new land. That sacred cause of human liberty, that guaranty of democracy promised by the Federal Constitution, the plain people were resolved to support, whether banks and merchants failed or they themselves went hungry.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

MAYOR TOBIN ACCLAIMS WORK OF POSTAL SERVICE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF DEPARTMENT UNDER POSTMASTER-GENERAL FARLEY — ADDRESSES GATHERING OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF POSTAL SUPERVISORS AT OPENING OF CONVENTION — WELCOMES DELEGATES TO BOSTON AND HOPES FOR HAPPY TIME VISITING HISTORIC SHRINES DURING MOMENTS OF RESPIRE FROM CONVENTION LABORS.

The following is the address delivered by Mayor Tobin before the National Association of Postal Supervisors:

Mr. Chairman; Governor Saltonstall; Postmaster Tague; President Fitzpatrick; the Vice President for the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Fields; Members, Delegates and Distinguished Guests of the National Association of Postal Supervisors.

I find it an occasion of the most fortunate pleasure, as also of honor, to give welcome, on behalf of the city and people of Boston, to the postal supervisors of the United States.

No doubt my good friend Postmaster Tague, who is also here to greet you this morning, cordially shares my appreciation of the importance of the duties which the members of this great organization fulfil. Postmasters may come and postmasters may go. But you are the men, as I understand it, who actually operate the post offices of America — the beloved homeland of 130,000,000 people who enjoy a mail service which, on the record as a whole, is the promptest, the most extensive and the most efficient postal service possessed by any people on earth.

For this handsome achievement very liberal credit is due, of course, to the President and to Congress, and most especially to that genial man of genius, the Postmaster-General, Hon. James A. Farley. But, of necessity, it is the permanent officials of the service — the country's 10,000 postal supervisors — who take the constant burden, and so should have the constant credit, of maintaining the efficiency of the United States mails year in and year out, through thick and through thin, whether the administration be Republican — as it was in ancient times — or Democratic as at this moment.

FIRST POSTMASTER.

Assisted by the chairman of these opening exercises, the good President John McMahon of your Boston branch, and other national and local officials who so ably prepared the ground for this convention, I have scanned copies of your program and of your well-edited official organ, "The Postal Supervisor." In this literature, I have been glad to note, much interest is expressed in the historical scenes and national shrines which this old town of Boston offers its visitors.

You know that we have, in Faneuil Hall, the treasured Cradle of Liberty. We are immensely proud of it, and we are glad that Boston can also be truly called the Cradle of the American Postal Service. Here, as you may recall, in the year 1639, very soon after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, arrangements were made for the first post office ever established in the North American colonies.

The General Court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony ordered that the house of one Richard Fairbanks in Boston be "the place appointed for all letters which are brought from beyond the seas." According to the regulations, Fairbanks was allowed one penny for every letter entrusted to his care. But he was held responsible for "all miscarriages through his own neglect in this kind, provided that no man be compelled to bring his letters there except he please."

Probably you learned in school what a significant landmark the house of Richard Fairbanks thus became in the postal history of the United States. But I wonder if you carry freshly in mind the explanation how it came to pass that the town of Boston so early made this arrangement. Indeed, I doubt very much if many Bostonians today know the answer.

ELDER BREWSTER.

Thousands of people here know that Elder William Brewster was one of the leaders of the Pilgrims both during their years in Holland and on their famous voyage in the "Mayflower" to the New World. But, in his old home in England, the good Elder was best known as Postmaster Brewster. He served as postmaster at Scrooby, a fairly important point on the Great North road, over which the mails traveled from London. There, indeed, Brewster's father was postmaster before him, and his grandfather was the postmaster before that.

Moreover, the boy William helped his widowed mother attend to her duties when she was acting as postmistress. He attended Cambridge University for a time. Then, on returning to Scrooby, he did his postal work so efficiently that a high official of the King's government took notice and called young Brewster to London to serve in his office.

Naturally, Elder Brewster came to know all there was to know about operation of the post and post roads of old England. And so, of course, he was of great usefulness in helping to pay out the pioneer postal service here in New England.

A century later there was to be born here in Boston a man of far greater talent still. I refer to a man of such commanding ability in administration, learning and statesmanship that his name at this moment is still quick upon your tongue as it has been ever since the days of your boyhood — the first Postmaster-General of the American colonies — Benjamin Franklin.

It was a proud day for Boston when Franklin was born here, but I suppose we cannot claim that Boston taught him all he knew. He learned a thing or two in Philadelphia, and he instructed the kings and princes of Europe in many a lesson.

IMPROVED SERVICES.

Wherever Franklin's brilliant mind saw a chance to improve the postal service or any other branch of the government, he took steps to accomplish that progress at once. Today, 149 years after his death, it is gratifying to see that his spirit is still maintained by the postal supervisors of the United States. I note that in the business sessions of this convention you will be considering many matters designed to better the postal service, to increase the revenue, eliminate red tape.

This constant and unconquerable search for progress gives splendid proof of your merit as public servants. And, surely, the actual figures of postal receipts bear out my words of praise in a tangible manner beyond all dispute.

On June 30, 1938, the total postal revenues for the nation reached the highest figures ever known up to that time. But then, on June 30, 1939, they climbed $17,000,000 higher still. The grand total reported by Postmaster-General Farley was $745,098,350, a new high for all history.

Since everyone knows that the postal revenues reflect the movement of general business, the whole nation has reason, not only to acclaim this achievement, but also to take from it new hope and faith for the advancing prosperity of this land we love so well.

I know that the postal supervisors will do their part and do it well. But do not work all the time while you are here. We want you to be happy here as our guests, to enjoy a sail down the harbor, to go swimming in the cool salt water of the Atlantic.

We are grateful that you have come, and we are eager to earn the right to be gratefully remembered by you when you return to your homes and to your posts of watchful duty throughout the forty-eight states.

MAYOR TOBIN WELCOMES RAILWAY POSTAL CLERKS OF NEW ENGLAND.

At the opening of the Biennial Convention of Railway Postal Clerks of New England on July 19, at the Parker House, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

In bringing to you tonight the heartiest of greetings from the City of Boston, I am conscious, of course, that when it comes to talking of, to or about the Boston Postal District, the Mayor of Boston is far from being monarch of all he surveys. This district, I believe I am right in believing, is the largest and most complicated single postal district in the world. Not only in area, but also in the extraordinary number of separate municipalities which it includes, this great metropolitan union for efficient postal service to nearly 2,000,000 people is indeed an impressive entity.

There are many skilled men and devoted leaders of the postal service of the United States here at this dinner tonight who know far more about the complexities of the Boston Postal District than I do. As for the welcome members and guests of this much-valued biennial convention who are visiting us now from other parts of New England, I can only hope that while you are here you do not get tangled up in the district's complexities or twisted up in any of the red tape or twine of departmental affairs.

I know that it is the larger considerations of the good of the postal service which engage your thought at this time together with earnest attention to problems of your common welfare as employees of the railway mail service of the United States. It is a branch of the Post Office Department which all citizens highly respect, if they know anything about it at all. The speed, the sureness of dispatch achieved through the highly skilled efforts and faithful work of American railway postal clerks maintains the high level of national achievement, equaling or bettering the record of any other country of the world.

Boston is naturally happy to welcome postal workers. Although the exact figures are not available, Secretary King informs me that the postal revenue of the nation and the City of Boston is rising. It is a well known economic fact that as postal revenue goes so goes the nation. Under such circumstances, I welcome you as the happy harbingers of good times. And to insure good times, I hope Boston may soon have the great pleasure of welcoming your national convention as it does now the New England division. I am sure that you will find the old Hub of the Universe a good host.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 38.

I. GEORGE F. LEARY.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on August 16, 1939, of Ladderman George F. Leary of the Fire Prevention Division. Ladderman Leary was appointed to the department on December 8, 1905.

The funeral was held from his late residence, 20 St. Brendan road, Dorchester, at 8.15 a. m., Saturday, August 19, 1939, followed by services at St. Brendan's Church, Gallivan Boulevard, at 9 a. m.

The Chief of Department detailed the Military Drill Company to act as a funeral escort and members of the Fire Prevention Division were excused from duty in order to attend the services.

II. RETIREMENTS.

The following retirement which will take effect at the close of business Thursday, August 31, 1939, is hereby announced:

Foreman of Auto Mechanics Arthur J. Gorham of the Maintenance Division.

The following retirement which will take effect at 8 a. m. Friday, September 1, 1939, is hereby announced:

Hoseman John V. Beard of Engine Company 51.

Foreman of Auto Mechanics Gorham was appointed to the department on April 9, 1917, and Hoseman Beard was appointed to the department on April 13, 1923. Both these men leave the department with the best wishes of their associates.

III. ELECTION—BOSTON FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND.

The election of trustees of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund will be held on Monday, September 11, 1939. Ballots will be distributed throughout the department today, and company commanders will see that all ballots are forwarded to District Headquarters in sufficient time to be delivered at Department Headquarters not later than 1 p. m., September 11, 1939, and no ballots will be accepted for counting after that time.

IV. BOSTON AUTOMATIC ASSIGNMENT.

The following signal number is to be added to the running cards of the Boston Automatic Fire Alarm Company in this department:

Signal 287, Building 47 Farnsworth street. Apparatus to respond, Engine 38, Ladder 18, District Chief 6. Nearest box is 7112.

V. A. D. T. Company.

The following A. D. T. signals have been discontinued:

VI. COMMENDATION.

At 4.26 p. m., August 3, 1939, the department responded to a still alarm followed by Box 7433 for a fire at 3 Jay street, South Boston. Upon arrival of the apparatus at the fire, Lieutenant Gunn of Ladder Company 19 was informed that a man was sleeping in a bed on the top floor. Ladderman Michael J. Foley of Ladder Company 19 gained entrance to the building and crawled on his hands and knees through thick smoke, gas and heat to a front bedroom where he found an unconscious man in bed. It was necessary for Ladderman Foley to pass through the kitchen (the room where the fire originated) and two other rooms before he reached the victim. Although affected by inhalation of smoke Ladderman Foley dragged the unconscious man through rooms heavily charged with smoke and illuminating gas to the hallway where other members of Engine Company 2 and Ladder Company 19 assisted in removing the man to the street.

Because of the great personal risk to which Ladderman Foley exposed himself in performing this rescue, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly and the case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

By order of Fire Commissioner
WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

RICH REWARD.

And so the plain people of New England cheered "Old Ironsides," the good ship Constitution, on to victory over the "Guerriere." They rejoiced greatly that Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry himself was a New Englander—born in Rhode Island—an American commander as loyal to the Stars and Stripes in the West as in the East, on inland seas as on the boundless ocean.

The capital at Washington was for a time laid waste, and the trade of the seaports laid low. But true it was then, as now, "He that loseth his life shall find it." Against every defeat and depression the War of 1812 came at last to success. Full victory was won by the indomitable spirit of the soldier-sailors who fought with Commodore Perry, and by all those truly loyal American civilians who were determined to stand firm until they too could shout with Perry, "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

Rich was the reward that so came to the country thus faithful! Immediately the tide of commerce flowed back to the seaports. And there began that great expansion of overland trade with the West, which soon brought delight even to the most timorous capitalist and doubting merchant.

Now, in 1939, the Marine Corps League comes to its national convention here, in union complete as in 1812, but far more extensive—from the Pacific and the Atlantic shore, the Great Lakes and the Gulf, from mountain, valley and plain. All, all are joined and merged in the support of constitutional democracy; in the maintenance of free institutions no matter how the dictators of Europe may rage, or malcontents in our midst make dark mutterings, and cry out for false gods or no god.

As our forefathers stood in '76, in 1812 and in the Civil War, so thousands of this Marine Corps League stood in the World War; and so you stand now!

In your presence most gladly, as Mayor of Boston, do I give you welcome. In all the deliberations of your convention I wish you the highest success—Happy Days while you are here, and Happy Memories of Boston, I trust, when you return to your homes throughout this noble land.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

No. 35

MAYOR TOBIN PRAISES THE CONSTANT SERVICE DONE BY THE UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS IN THE PROTECTION OF PERSONS AND PROPERTY, IN PEACE-TIME NO LESS THAN IN WAR—DELIVERS ADDRESS AT LEAGUE'S 17TH ANNUAL CONVENTION BANQUET IN HOTEL COPLEY-PLAZA—EXPRESSES HOPE CONVENTION WILL SOON RETURN TO BOSTON AGAIN, WHERE AN ARDENT AND WARM WELCOME WILL ALWAYS BE EXTENDED.

In his address before the assembly of the Marine Corps League during the National Convention banquet at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Mayor Tobin spoke, in part, as follows:

Among the regular duties of the Marines, as set forth in the Corps Manual, are standing orders:

"To guard Naval property and shore establishments within the continental limits of the United States and its possessions;

"To educate officers and men of the national services in cheerful and active performance of duty at all times, both in peace and in war; and

"To protect American lives and interests in disturbed areas where operations on shore are involved."

Not only in troubles abroad, as every American knows, but also on many occasions of disaster and civil emergency here at home, men of the Marines have rendered great services of aid and protection. Marines stationed at Charlestown gave invaluable aid, for example, at the time when a huge conflagration swept Boston in 1872, destroying the whole downtown section, and the people of the city will ever be grateful for the help which the Marine Corps then supplied. Lives were saved by their faithful work; and much property, both private and public, was defended from looting and robbery.

It is the principle of respect for the rights of others which the Marine Corps takes for its guiding light at all times, in season and out of season, in regular duties night and day, as well as on special occasions.

Respect for Others' Rights.

I was brought up to respect the rights and property of others and I must admit that I'm grateful both as a citizen and as a public official for anything which helps to keep the practice alive throughout the nation today. Common fairness toward one's fellowmen is the invaluable cement of democratic society.

The principle goes farther, and extends to include the basic duties of elected officials—the chief executives of Nation, State and City—who are responsible for conserving the public buildings and property committed into their care, and who must be the trustees of public funds, watchful to see that the hard-earned money of the taxpayers does not go to waste, be extravagantly used, or in any wise frittered away. Viewed in that light, the principles and duties of the Marine Corps are very similar, and provide a shining inspiration to steady performance of the duties which rest upon me as Mayor of this City of Boston.

I am eager to say a few words at this time of the excellent standing of the regular company of Marines now serving at the Navy Yard in Charlestown. The Barracks Detachment and Expeditionary Unit, numbering about 150 men, under the command of Col. Harry Pierce, who sits at your head table tonight, is maintained at a level of the highest efficiency, instantly ready for action whenever called. I am proud also to be told that the Second Reserve Battalion, comprised of men enlisted in the Reserve from Metropolitan Boston, is one of the crack units of the Marine Corps Reserve which has come into existence in recent years with such excellent results the country over. Lieut.-Col. Emmett Skinner is the regular Corps instructor of the Second Reserve Battalion, with Captain Crowley commanding the four companies of the Reserve at Boston, about 265 men in all.

It is no wonder that such eager and widespread interest has been expressed by young men of Metropolitan Boston in the training and general advantages supplied by the Marines. I have in mind the remarkable words in the present Marine Corps Manual, where it is pointed out that a great gain was accomplished during the World War in improving the relations between officers and men. A condition of truest comradeship was then achieved, and the Manual says that this condition "is too valuable to be lost. It should be fostered and kept alive."

And then the Manual goes on to make this very impressive statement: "Relations between officers and men of the Marine Corps should in no sense be that of superior and inferior, nor that of master and servant, but rather that of a teacher and scholar. In fact, it should partake of the nature of the relationship between father and son, to the extent that officers, and especially commanding officers, are responsible for the physical, mental and moral welfare as well as the discipline and military training of the young men who are serving the nation in the Marine Corps."

I doubt if that statement can find its equal in the military handbooks of any other nation.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by NATHAN HASKEL DOLB.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 39.

I. CHARITY FIELD DAY AND ENTERTAINMENT.

His Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, has requested the members of the Boston Fire Department to give their customary generous support to the Field Day and Entertainment for the benefit of special welfare fund for the city to be held at National League Field on Monday, September 11, 1939. Everyone who purchases tickets is assured of the knowledge that he is contributing to the assistance of the less fortunate and helping to provide funds for the Public Welfare Department. Among the features of this day of sport will be a ball game between the Fire and Police Departments. Such a game should be of particular interest to all employees of this department. There will also be an exhibition of ladder drill and rescue work by the Fire Department. An unusually attractive entertainment program, augmented by special features contributed by leaders of various departments of the sport world, will be presented during the afternoon.

Tickets have been popularly priced at $1.00. His Honor, Mayor Tobin, has given his hearty indorsement and support to this affair and judging from our past record the members of this department will not be found wanting in response to this appeal. In order that members of the department may give their assistance to this cause, tickets have been placed in the hands of every district chief and division head today and he will interview every member of his command as to his wishes in purchasing tickets. All returns must be made to Miss Mary C. Kelley at the office of the Fire Commissioner on or before Tuesday, September 5, 1939. Delivery of money at Headquarters may be made on any week day, except Saturday, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 11 a. m.

Members purchasing tickets will fill out the stub attached to the ticket and give it to the district chief or division head who will see that all stubs are returned to the Fire Commissioner's office not later than Tuesday, September 5, 1939. Thus, purchasers will participate in the drawing to be held on September 11. A great many valuable prizes have already been donated for the drawing.

It is hoped that the members of the department will support this most worthy endeavor and members are urged to show an enthusiastic interest in this project. Additional tickets can be obtained at Department Headquarters.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 377.

Capt. Thomas F. Connolly of Division 4 having arrived at the age of sixty-five and two-twelfths years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-nine years, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Captain Connolly be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of two thousand twelve and fifty one-hundredths (2,012.50) dollars per annum (payable monthly); said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; effective at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, August 23, 1939.

Captain Connolly was appointed a reserveman in this department August 30, 1900, and advanced to the grade of patrolman March 16, 1901. His subsequent promotions were as follows: Sergeant, July 12, 1922; lieutenant, September 16, 1927; captain, December 12, 1934.

Captain Connolly's service within this department in the various grades in which he has served has marked him as an able, energetic and conscientious police officer.

In 1903, Captain Connolly, then a young patrolman, was awarded a Department Medal of Honor by the then Board of Police for courageous conduct and prompt action on an occasion while in the performance of his duty.

His service as a superior officer while attached to the Superintendent's Office, in charge of Headquarters at night; his constructive efforts with other members of the department, serving as a Board, in meeting problems relating to installation of radio at our police broadcasting station (later to become the Bureau of Operations); his work while in charge of the line-up of Headquarters during his incumbency as captain and Supervisor of Cases; and his efforts as commanding officer at Division 19, Mattapan district, and later at Division 4, South End district, draw attention to his busy career as a public servant and to the credit brought to himself and the department.

The Police Commissioner regrets very much the retirement of Captain Connolly, an official of this department of unquestioned honor and integrity.

The commissioner, in behalf of himself, the Superintendent of Police and members of the department, extends to the captain good wishes of all, that he may find a measure of contentment and rest in his coming retirement, with unabated good health, for many years to come.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday, August 24, 1939.

Special meeting of the City Council in Faneuil Hall at 1 p. m., Coun. FITZGERALD, senior member present, in the chair. Absent, Coun. Kerrigan, Langan, Murray, Shattuck and Taylor.

LOAN ORDER FOR $1,500,000.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 22, 1939.
To the Members of the City Council.

Gentlemen,—You are respectfully requested to assemble in a special meeting at Faneuil Hall on Thursday, August 24, 1939, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking action on a loan order for the sum of $1,500,000 herewith submitted.

Chapter 464 of the Acts of 1939 authorizes cities to meet by loan the difference, amounting to about $2,100,000, between the estimate of state taxes used in the tax rate of 1938 and the actual state tax assessed.

With the valuable assistance of the City Council it is estimated that reductions have been made in the city's part of the tax rate for this year of an amount equivalent to $1.30 in the rate.

Unless the city takes advantage of the opportunity to borrow a substantial portion of the $2,100,000 it will have to be raised in this year's taxes, the savings so carefully made in the city appropriations will be offset, and it will not be possible to make any substantial reduction in this year's rate.

As the proposed loan order requires fifteen affirmative votes at each of two readings, I earnestly request that every member of the Council attend this meeting if at all possible, and give the order its first reading at this special meeting and its second reading on August 28.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 464 of the Acts of 1939 the sum of one million, five hundred thousand dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be used for meeting, in part, the difference between the amount of that portion of the state tax assessment for 1938 levied upon the city and the amount estimated and raised for the state tax by the assessors in 1938, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness for said amount, the same to be raised outside the debt limit.

The question came on the passage of the order. Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I came a considerable distance, at a substantial personal sacrifice, to be here, realizing that the short notice and vacations might mean a small attendance, although fifteen votes are needed. Of course, after that trouble I did not come here to throw a monkey wrench into the meeting. But I do wish to make my position clear, for ordinarily I have consistently voted against borrowing money to pay current bills. Now, I would hate to see the city, to any great extent, do the very thing the Governor of the Commonwealth had the courage to avoid. It might have been politically more expedient for him personally not to have taken the action that was taken to save several of the cities and towns in this state from financial collapse. But for his action the Boston tax rate would have been up some three dollars this year, in spite of the splendid efforts of the Mayor, and we would have been powerless to stop it. On the other hand, I feel the city has done its share. The Mayor has made a real effort to pare departmental expenses. The chairman of our Committee on Appropriations and the active members of his committee did a real job. The School Committee made its effort. Under those circumstances it may well be that a part of the deficit charged back to the city should be handled as the Mayor suggests. I think it fair, after the efforts the Mayor has made, that he should make it plainly evident to the taxpayers of Boston in their tax bills that this year real cuts have actually been made in expenses. It is on that basis that I shall vote for this loan order.

The roll was called and the order given its first reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Chase, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Lyons, McMahon, Norton, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Wilson—17.

Nays—0.
Chairman FITZGERALD—The purpose for which the meeting was called having been accomplished, the Council is now adjourned.

Adjourned at 1.40 p. m., to meet Monday, August 28, 1939, at two o'clock p. m.

INDUSTRIAL STRIFE; PEACE BOARDS.

Two large cities, Philadelphia and Toledo, have "peace boards" operating for conciliation between capital and labor in the local field, the magazine "Public Management," official organ of the International City Managers' Association, points out. Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia has just appointed such a board for New York City and Newark's Commission has just created by ordinance a Municipal Labor Relations Board.

Toledo's Peace Board has eighteen members; five named by the Central Labor Union, five by the Chamber of Commerce and eight selected at large. Representatives at large include two judges, two attorneys, a Catholic monsignor, a Jewish Rabbi, a merchant and the county relief director, all serving without pay.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for laying, jointing and riveting about 1,200 linear feet of 48-inch welded steel water pipe in Parker street and Tremont street, Roxbury. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Laying, Jointing and Riveting About 1,200 Linear Feet of 48-Inch Welded Steel Water Pipe in Parker Street and Tremont Street, Roxbury," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Tuesday, September 12, 1939, with a certified check for three hundred (300) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2) for each set of plans and specifications taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required prior to the award of said contract. CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1939.

No. 36

MAYOR TOBIN MAKES GOOD ANOTHER CAMPAIGN PLEDGE — CUTS BOSTON TAX RATE FOR 1939 TO $39.90, A SLASH OF $1.40 PER THOUSAND FROM PREVIOUS YEAR — MAKES MOVE TO RELIEVE REAL ESTATE OF BURDEN DESPITE DISCOURAGING FACTORS FACED AT BEGINNING OF YEAR AND DESPITE CUT IN ASSESSED VALUATION BY LOSS OF $35,428,200 AND BY COOPERATION OF DEPARTMENTS IN PRACTICE OF RIGID ECONOMIES — STILL HAS GIVEN CITY ADEQUATE MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, on September 1, issued the following statement:

I am happy to announce that the tax rate for the City of Boston for the year 1939 will be $39.90, a reduction of $1.40 per thousand of valuation from the tax rate of 1938.

This reduction has been accomplished despite numerous discouraging factors which, at the beginning of the year, appeared to make inevitable a substantial increase in the tax rate. By exerting every means at our disposal; by impressing State authorities and the General Court with the need for cooperation which was extended by the passage of helpful legislation; by keeping the costs of city government at the lowest possible level consistent with adequate municipal service; by insisting that every unit of the city government, whether under the control of the Mayor or not, exercise great prudence in expenditures and commitments; and by taking advantage of every opportunity to reduce the amount which must be raised by taxation, this reduction in the tax rate has been made possible.

Under present conditions, any reduction in the tax rate, no matter how small, is a difficult achievement. That it has been accomplished to the extent of $1.40 is a source of satisfaction, and certainly should be ample evidence that this administration is cognizant of the extreme necessity of lightening the tax burden on the property owners of Boston.

Our efforts to control and keep within reasonable limits the expenditures of our city will continue. It is the only course that can safely be followed for the good of the city and its inhabitants. If no untoward factors arise in the meantime, I am confident that a continuation of a policy of careful scrutiny over all city expenditures and activities, will result in a still lower tax rate for the year 1940.

Third Cut in Eleven Years.

It is interesting to note that the present reduction in the tax rate is the third reduction to be made in a period of eleven years, and the largest reduction made since 1933. It is my sincere hope that this reversal in the trend toward higher taxes will be continued. It most certainly will be my most earnest endeavor, while I continue as head of the city government, to use every means at my command to still further lighten the burden of local taxation.

The following paragraphs contain an interesting and illuminating explanation of the various factors which enter into the computation of the 1939 tax rate:

The reduction in this year's rate has been secured despite a loss of $35,428,200 in realty assessed valuations. Personal property valuations as fixed by the assessors reflect an increase of $9,826,700 over last year's figures. The total assessed valuations of the city for 1939 are $1,524,806,000, or a reduction from 1938 of $25,601,500.

The important changes in the various items entering into the computation of the rate are as follows:

FAVORABLE.

CITY MAINTENANCE COSTS (other than welfare) reduced $768,000, despite increases of $150,000 for snow removal; $25,000 for the Port Authority and $17,000 for Conventions.

SCHOOL MAINTENANCE COSTS reduced $392,000.

DEBT REQUIREMENTS REDUCED $1,825,000, made possible by lower interest rates and by use of $542,980.95 Water Department surplus built up by improved business methods after a period of four years of deficits in that department. In addition, this item of expense has benefited considerably because of a policy of no capital expenditures which has been strictly adhered to.

SUMNER TUNNEL DEFICIT reduced $66,000 partly as a result of improved collections and also because of legislation petitioned for by the city government whereby the state will contribute this year and next year $50,000 to the upkeep of this artery of traffic.

DEPARTMENTAL RECEIPTS increased $1,300,000 due to new schedule of licenses, fees and permits; improved welfare collections and reimbursement by the state of a portion of the cost of maintenance of the new Court House. It is anticipated that this latter item will more than offset the increase reflected in the current year's county maintenance costs.

MOTOR VEHICLE EXCISE receipts increased $250,000 as a result of improved collections due to legislation enacted last year.

BOSTON'S TAX RATE FOR 1939.

HIGHWAY FUND distributions totalling $3,260,000. Of this amount $1,194,000 received by the city in 1938 was held in reserve for tax relief this year, and the balance represents the amount distributed this year which again was applied in its entirety for tax rate relief by allocating it to strictly highway and related items in the budget.

STATE TAX FUNDING LOAN of $1,500,000. Under chapter 464 of the Acts of 1939 Boston could have borrowed $2,149,700, the actual excess levied by the state in 1938. Since the borrowing of this full amount would undoubtedly result in an increase in next year's rate, it was decided to absorb 30 per cent of this burden in the current year's levy.

Overlay reduced $123,000 because of lower property tax levy.

UNFAVORABLE.

PENSION SYSTEM requirements increased $70,000.

STATE TAX increased $2,400,000.

ELEVATED DEFICIT increased $773,000.

UNDERESTIMATED STATE ASSESSMENTS of 1938 increased $1,935,000 (net). This increase has been offset in large part by borrowing under chapter 464 of this year's acts.

CORPORATION AND INCOME TAX distributions reduced $1,330,000.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS reduced $25,600,000.

The relation of the foregoing items to the reduction in the rate is shown in the following table:

In dividing the tax rates into the parts chargeable against the state, county, schools and city, a process which has no legal effect but which is simply informative, it has been decided that the fair and equitable method of making the division is to take the total requirements for all these purposes, find the percentage that the gross requirements of each subdivision bears to the total, and apply that percentage to the tax rate declared.

Although the comparisons resulting from the use of this method are somewhat less favorable to the city than would be obtained by using the net requirements, it is felt that, after all, it is not the bookkeeping processes by which the state, city, school and county arrive at the final assessment figures that the public is interested in. What they should know, and what they are entitled to know, is how much each of these subdivisions of government spend on their operations and what proportion each is responsible for in a total expenditure upon which the taxes levied upon them is based.

The division of the 1939 tax rate according to this uncolored method of calculation is as follows:

State	$4 85
County	1 90
School	8 41
City	24 74
Total	$39 90

FINANCE COMMISSION ASKS MAYOR TOBIN TO OPPOSE ANY EFFORT TO PLACE BURDEN OF NEW MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE OVER CHELSEA CREEK ON CITY—CHARGES MOVE FOSTERED BY UNITED STATES ENGINEERING SERVICE MAY EVENTUALLY ADD SEVERAL MILLION DOLLARS COST TO CITY'S FINANCIAL LOAD—HEARING ON PROJECT SET FOR SEPTEMBER 15 AT LOCAL OFFICE OF THE SERVICE—POINTS OUT SOME OF POSSIBLE ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSAL AND ASKS AGGRESSIVE BATTLE IN OPPOSITION.

Upon September 1 the Finance Commission addressed the following communication to Mayor Tobin:

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Recently the local office of the United States Engineering Service, War Department, made announcement that a public hearing will be held here on September 15:

"Upon the question of requiring the City of Boston to alter the Meridian Street Bridge across Chelsea Creek between East Boston and Chelsea."

Investigation by the Finance Commission has revealed that this announcement may be considered as the initial step in a matter which might eventually cost the City of Boston several million dollars. It may mean more than the construction of a single new high-level drawbridge at Meridian street. The cost of this alone has been figured by the Public Works Department at not less than three million dollars.

The Finance Commission has been unable to determine definitely just where the agitation for this new high-level Meridian Street Bridge at Boston expense started. The Manager of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce broadcast a circular the day after the hearing was officially announced in which he stated:

"One of the Maritime Association's objectives for 1939 was to have the present Meridian Street Bridge, between East Boston and Chelsea, replaced by a modern structure. The matter was not allowed to rest, and as a result, it is gratifying to bring to your attention the attached copy of a notice of public hearing. . . ."

FEDERAL OIL FARM.

There has been gossip on the waterfront that the Navy Department is to establish a Federal oil farm on the upper shore of the creek. This kind of propaganda has preceded previous efforts to obtain permits for oil farms in this vicinity. No official confirmation of this gossip has been obtainable. The War Department Engineering Service, which has ordered the hearing, is apparently only interested in making the channel through the Chelsea Creek more easily navigable for any vessels that might have occasion to pass up the creek.

There has been a bridge from Boston to Chelsea at Meridian street for almost a century. In 1912 the city rebuilt a portion of the original bridge, and provided a new draw with a clearance of one hundred feet.

According to the announcement by the War Department Engineer, the Federal Government now requires a horizontal clearance of not less than one hundred seventy-five feet and a draw span located closer to the East Boston bank than the present draw. The official notice gives no suggestion of why such a material change is necessary.

Where the land along Chelsea Creek is occupied, it contains mostly oil farms providing local storage facilities for the major oil companies.

The Lighthouse Depot of the United States Department of Commerce is located on the Chelsea bank adjacent to the Meridian Street Bridge. Naturally, therefore, the bulk of the marine traffic in the creek has consisted of oil tankers.

The channel up the creek is tortuous, but has answered all the requirements of traffic to the oil farms.

The Meridian Street Bridge constitutes the shortest approach for Chelsea and Revere through East Boston to Boston. The main lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from these municipalities make the crossing here to enter the East Boston trolley tunnel. Persons desiring to walk from the inner end of East Boston to the Chelsea square section usually go by way of this bridge. Automobile traffic to a large extent has been attracted away from the Meridian Street Bridge by the wider highway and easier approach across the Chelsea Street Bridge, a mile easterly.

The Chelsea Street Bridge is an entirely new structure, opened within a year. The City of Boston received no help from Chelsea toward the financing of the bridge, though its day-to-day use is largely by residents of Chelsea and other municipalities in that general direction. Its cost was $700,000.

Like the situation with regard to the Meridian Street Bridge, the horizontal clearance for navigation through the Chelsea Street Bridge is one hundred feet. Within ten yards of this Chelsea Street Bridge, to the east, is a Boston & Albany Railroad trestle which has a clearance of only seventy feet.

NOTHING GAINED.

The size of vessel desiring to go up the creek, naturally, is limited by the narrowest point of clearance. It may be said, therefore, that nothing more than an easier approach to the mouth of the creek is gained by widening the clearance at the Meridian Street Bridge from one hundred to one hundred seventy-five feet unless the clearance at the Chelsea Street Bridge is also widened from one hundred to one hundred seventy-five feet; and unless the Boston & Albany Railroad trestle is likewise changed to provide a one hundred seventy-five foot clearance.

In all three cases, to provide one hundred seventy-five foot clearance will mean entirely new bridges.

There has been some suggestion that the City of Boston might save expense by elimination of the Meridian Street Bridge altogether. This, naturally, would satisfy those who only seek a wider clearance for marine navigation. Because of other considerations, however, such as the fact that it is used by the main lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from Chelsea and, if eliminated, would leave but one crossing to the north from East Boston, the Finance Commission does not recommend the elimination.

It is plain that the high level bridge, necessary to meet the War Department order or the Maritime Association's agitation, is not required for any distinctly municipal purpose.

This agitation for a better directed channel and a wider bridge clearance is exactly similar to agitations from time to time with respect to land developments which aim to straighten out and widen highways.

MOVE INSPIRED.

In this Chelsea Creek situation it appears that the owners of the present oil farms located along the creek are the inspirators of this new project. Though it undoubtedly is desirable from a city standpoint to have a new structure replace this out-worn and out-moded Meridian Street Bridge, such a bridge as has now been suggested serves particularly a special interest—either the owners of the oil farms or the Federal Government.

The Finance Commission believes, since the wider clearance is ordered by Federal authority, that the change should be made at Federal expense. Therefore, the Finance Commission recommends that the city authorities oppose the plan on any other basis with vigor.

It is rather significant that the Boston Port Authority, the official local agency which has advocated scores of port development ideas, has never mentioned the need of a wider clearance than now exists on the bridges in Chelsea Creek.

As Mayor, you have held strictly, up to the present time, to a policy of refusal to accede to proposals to add to the municipal debt. It has appeared to the Finance Commission that you have been encouraged and supported in this determination by those who claim to have in mind the best interests of the city.

The Finance Commission urges you to enlist the support of these same people in an aggressive battle against the effort to impose this unwarranted new burden on the City of Boston. It would appear that those interested in such a harbor development should have sought Federal Government appropriation for it.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
The Finance Commission.

MUNICIPAL SURVEY COMMITTEE LETTER.

Boston, September 1, 1939.

To the Head of the Department.

Telephone operations, exclusive of operators' salaries, throughout the city for the past three years represent an expenditure of approximately $500,000. During this period the commission revenue derived from public telephones showed a substantial decrease as compared with previous years.

An examination of vouchers for telephone services shows an oversight in some instances of discontinuing the service promptly on W. P. A. projects and other activities of a temporary nature. It also discloses the fact that where PBX (Private Branch Exchange) and individual line service are provided, there are instances where the quota of calls covered by the monthly rental has not been used up on the latter, although the PBX bill shows a usage of excess calls during the same period.

There are instances where prepayment (semi-public) service is furnished at a cost to the city because the revenue received from such stations is insufficient to meet the guarantee to the Telephone Company.

In the event of any service failure of twenty-four hours' duration or more, the city is entitled to credit for loss of service. In all such cases, Mr. Arthur McTague, Special Agent, who has been assigned to the City of Boston by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, should be advised at 6 Bowdoin square, Boston, Mass.

After dialing or reaching a wrong number, care should be taken to notify the operator who will make the correct connection and credit the city on account of the error.

If possible, please advise this office on or before September 15 in regard to the following:

1. Please list any telephone service of a temporary nature, telephones located in unoccupied quarters, etc., that, in your opinion, could be discontinued temporarily or permanently.

2. Please list any case where PBX (Private Branch Exchange) and individual line service is furnished where, in your opinion, one or the other could be dispensed with, curtailed or consolidated.

3. Please list the telephone number of any prepayment (semi-public) service showing a deficit in the monthly collections where a change in the service could be considered.

4. Please list any auxiliary equipment, such as wiring plans, extension or loud-ringing bells, dials, extension stations, additional listings, etc., which, in your opinion, could be discontinued without impairing the service.

5. Please list any potential locations for public telephones with or without booths which, in your opinion, would produce revenue for the city.

This communication was prepared by Daniel F. Coughlin, Telephone Consultant of the Municipal Survey Committee. Any questions or suggestions and all future requests for additions and changes in the city telephone services should be referred to this office for consideration.

LEO T. FOSTER,
Director.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

On July 17 the Mayor approved a contract with C. I. Brink, Incorporated, for furnishing signs to advertise the Summer Tunnel to the public. A communication from the Commissioner of Public Works was as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 5, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—The Public Works Department has been working on a plan, in conjunction with the Traffic Department, to advertise the Summer Tunnel in an effort to increase the number of vehicles using the tunnel, thereby reducing the annual deficit. We have concentrated on Route Number 1, which is an interstate route, and one of the most heavily traveled highways in the state. New directional signs have been placed by the Traffic Department on Route C-1, which is the city auxiliary route for Route Number 1 and extends from Brookline avenue at the Riverway, in Boston, to the traffic circle at Felton street, in Saugus. These signs, in general, carry the names of various towns on the north side of Boston, with the inscription, "Via Summer Tunnel." In addition to these signs, however, the Traffic Department is ready to install green directional arrows, located at selected and appropriate locations along Route C-1. These arrows will be approximately three feet long and outlined with reflector buttons so as to make them visible at night.

The purpose in using the green arrows is to have a distinctive directional marker for the tunnel that will, in time, become known as the official tunnel route marker. In addition to the new signs and arrows that are to be placed by the Traffic Department, we feel it is essential that commercial advertising be undertaken as, in our opinion, by properly advertising the advantages of using the tunnel, the resulting increase in patronage will more than offset the cost of such advertising.

I have had several conferences with representatives of the four largest outdoor commercial advertisers in the city relative to this matter, and have made a tour of inspection with them over Routes 1 and C-1, so as to select appropriate locations for commercial advertising signs and large-sized directional markers.

In conformity with my request, these companies have submitted proposals for advertising the tunnel, all of which are on the basis of six sign locations on the above-mentioned routes.

The following table contains a summarized outline of their proposals:

The F. H. Birch Company: 50 feet by 12 feet illuminated billboard in Westwood; 50 feet by 12 feet illuminated billboard in Saugus; four arrows, 10 feet long (reflector buttons). Total, $3,000 a year (three-year contract).

C. I. Brink, Incorporated: 40 feet by 12 feet unilluminated billboard in Saugus; 40 feet by 12 feet unilluminated billboard in Dedham; four 15 feet by 5 feet directional signs with green arrows (reflector buttons). Total, $2,200 (one-year contract). Thereafter, four directional arrows to become the property of the city and the two billboards to be rented on the basis of $50 a month per board on a yearly contract.

John Donnelly & Sons: 42 feet by 4 feet illuminated billboard in Topsfield, $75 a month; 25 feet by 4 feet illuminated billboard in Dedham, $50 a month; four 15 feet by 5 feet directional signs with green arrows (reflector buttons), outright purchase price of $800; two billboards, $1,500 a year; directional signs, $800 (purchase price); yearly rental of property on which directional signs will be located, $100. Total, $2,400 (one-year contract).

Eagle Advertising Company: 40 feet by 12 feet unilluminated billboard in Saugus, $35 a month; 15 feet by 8 feet enamel-faced illuminated sign in Saugus, $40 a month; 15 feet by 4 feet illuminated green arrow in Revere, $35 a month; 15 feet by 8 feet enamel-faced illuminated sign in Dedham, $40 a month; 15 feet by 4 feet illuminated green arrow in West Roxbury, $30 a month; 15 feet by 8 feet enamel-faced illuminated sign, West Roxbury, $40 a month. Total, $2,640 a year (three-year contract).

After analyzing the proposals, it is my opinion that it would be to the best interests of the city to accept the proposal of C. I. Brink, Incorporated. The price submitted by the Brink Company is the lowest of the four and the locations on which they propose erecting the display billboards and directional arrows are strategically placed and compare favorably with the proposed locations of the signs as designated by the other three advertisers.

The directional arrows that the Brink Company propose furnishing will become the property of the city at the expiration of the yearly contract; whereas, only one of the other three companies, namely, John Donnelly & Sons, has made a similar proposal in this respect.

The price submitted by the Donnelly Company, however, is in excess of that submitted by the Birch Company, although the Donnelly Company propose furnishing illuminated billboards, which would account for the difference in price. In my opinion, however, there is no necessity of having illuminated billboards, and the Donnelly Company are unable to furnish unilluminated billboards at the locations that they have designated in their proposal.

This is the type of contract that is difficult to advertise publicly for bids, and I do not believe that it would be practical or advantageous to do so.

I respectfully request your approval to the awarding of a one-year contract, without advertising, to C. I. Brink, Incorporated, 147 West Fourth street, South Boston, for the purchase of four directional signs, the erecting, painting and maintaining of two billboards and the rental of property in which the three directional signs and two billboards will be located, at a total cost not to exceed $2,200. We contemplate having the contract extend from July 20, 1939, to July 19, 1940.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

the Police Department. It is urged that every member manifest his interest in this worthy cause by purchasing at least one ticket. By so doing, the quota of tickets allotted will be disposed of, and members of this department will demonstrate to the Mayor, the Police Commissioner, and to the public their sincerity and spirit of cooperation in helping to realize sufficient funds to lighten the heavy burden now on the Welfare Department, and will also help to make this field day a great success.

An added attraction and incentive to the members of this department will be a baseball game between the Boston Fire and Police teams.

Tickets priced at $1.00 each are forwarded to the divisions and units listed in the schedule contained in a superintendent's order issued this date, and commanding officers shall be held responsible for the tickets sent.

Such officers as may be spared may be excused from duty on September 11, 1939, so that they may attend this field day and entertainment. Commanding officers will use due discretion in determining the number of officers who may be excused and at what time they may be excused so that the efficiency of the department will not be impaired.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

 Gentlemen,—The attached request for transfer within departmental appropriation has been examined and investigated by the Budget Commissioner. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.
 Respectfully,
 MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Weights and Measures Department:

COST OF FACILITIES AT NEW COURT HOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, August 25, 1939.
 To the City Council.
 Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the chairman of the Suffolk County Court House Commission relative to your orders of July 10, 1939, concerning the present lighting system in the new Suffolk County Court House and the cost thereof, and the cost of installing clocks in the new court house and the total cost of providing toilet facilities.

Respectfully,
 MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Suffolk County Court House Commission,
 August 17, 1939.
 Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
 Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your letters of July 14, 1939, relative to City Council orders of July 10, 1939:

We herewith submit copy of a letter received from the R. D. Kimball Company, electrical engineers on this project.

All electrical work in this building was part of the general contract awarded to the George A. Fuller Company. The cost of the electrical work, including the electric clocks, amounted to $153,450. The entire plumbing was also a part of the general contract, the cost of which amounted to $125,660.

This commission feels that the criticism offered by members of the City Council was prompted by statements made by the Sheriff of Suffolk County prior to the time of investigation by the Finance Commission.

The sheriff later appeared before the Finance Commission during their investigation of these criticisms and stated that he had no criticism to make.

Very truly yours,
 SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE COMMISSION,
 (Appointed under chapter 474, Acts of 1935.)
 by A. EMMET LOGUE,
 Chairman.

Richard D. Kimball Company, Engineers,

 Suffolk County Court House.

Desmond & Lord, Architects, One Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen,—Relative to the lighting of the new Court House, the major portion of the lighting relates to office areas and in our opinion the fixtures selected were of a type universally standard for office lighting and of a high degree of efficiency and light quality suitable for office work. There is nothing unusual in design or cost in this type fixture.

In connection with the court rooms, flush panel lighting was used to adequately harmonize with the purpose and character of the room. This is a type of built-in panel lighting that is being used a great deal for dignified or special areas in many buildings of similar or less important nature.

It is our impression that the total lighting fixture cost ran roughly around 15 per cent of the electrical work and this conforms well with current practice in lighting.

Yours very truly,
 RICHARD D. KIMBALL COMPANY,
 D. J. SHAW,
 Electrical Engineer.

USE OF TUNNEL, BROADWAY AND DORCHESTER AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, August 24, 1939.
 To the City Council.
 Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of July 24, 1939, concerning the advisability of opening to vehicular traffic the tunnel at Broadway and Dorchester avenue, which was formerly used by the Boston Elevated Railway for the passage of street cars, but has long been abandoned.

Respectfully,
 MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor

City of Boston,
 Public Works Department, August 22, 1939.
 William T. Doyle,
 Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on July 24:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of opening to vehicular traffic the tunnel at Broadway and Dorchester avenue, which was formerly used by the Boston Elevated Railway for the passage of street cars, but has long been abandoned."

Before the present tunnel can be made available for the use of vehicular traffic, it will be necessary to make extensive and costly changes to the existing structure. A study was made by the Transit Department in 1929 relative to this matter, and at that time it was estimated that it would be necessary to make a capital expenditure of $300,000 for the work involved in preparing the tunnel for the use of vehicles. It was also estimated that it would require a yearly expenditure of $60,000 for maintenance, which would pay for the cost of policing, lighting, and the operation of the fans in order to provide a fresh supply of air to the tunnel and remove the poisonous gases by means of a system similar to that now in operation at the Summer Tunnel.

The estimate of $300,000 as a capital expenditure was based, however, on the premise that it would not be necessary to make any radical changes in the existing structure. This theory, however, in my opinion, is unsound, as in the existing tunnel there are, for a length of 550 feet, two single tubes, each tube of which would allow for the construction of a roadway only 8 feet 6 inches in width, which would be sufficiently wide enough for the passage of only one line of motor vehicles. A roadway of such narrow width, hemmed in on both sides by the existing tunnel walls, would result in difficult driving conditions to all motorists, except those long experienced, or at least those who could be classified as being particularly capable and efficient operators. Aside from this point, a hazardous condition would be created in the event of a fire or an accident to a motor vehicle while in this section of the tunnel.

To make the necessary changes in the existing structure so as to allow for a roadway as wide as that in the Summer Tunnel, which, in my opinion, is most essential to do, would mean a capital expenditure far in excess of the $300,000 estimated by the Transit Department engineers as being necessary to expend in order to make the existing tunnel suitable for the passage of motor vehicles. Even if the existing tunnel were reconstructed so as to allow for a single tube sufficiently wide enough for the passage of two lines of motor vehicles, in accordance with my recommendation, it is my opinion, in view of the large capital expenditure and the amount of money required yearly for the maintenance of the tunnel, that it would be most impractical to consider converting it into a vehicular tunnel.

The Boston Elevated now pays to the City of Boston a yearly rental of $12,375 for the use of the tunnel, so that assuming that this entire amount is included in the annual deficit, of which the City of Boston pays approximately two thirds, the net loss to the city from the rental of this tunnel would be approximately $4,100, which will represent the amount contributed to the deficit by the city and towns adjacent to Boston.

In view of the circumstances, I feel that the plan for converting the existing tunnel into a vehicular tunnel should be abandoned.

Respectfully yours,
 GEORGE G. HYLAND,
 Commissioner of Public Works.

CHILD CENTER, LAMBERT AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, August 21, 1939.
 To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Building Commissioner relative to your order of July 24, 1939, concerning the promulgated plans for the erection of a child center at 14 Lambert avenue, corner Bartlett street, Ward 9.

Respectfully,
 MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
 Building Department, August 2, 1939.
 Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
 Mayor of Boston.

Subject: City Council order concerning 14 Lambert avenue, Ward 9.

Dear Sir,—Complying with your request set forth in communication to me dated July 31, 1939, with a copy of City Council order dated July 24, 1939, attached, which in part reads as follows:

"The Building Commissioner be requested to promulgate plans for erection of a child center at 14 Lambert avenue, corner of Bartlett street, Ward 9," please be informed that public announcement by this department of the issuance of building permit is confined to its being published in the City Record.

At this writing the plans for the construction of the superstructure are about to be approved, although work on the project actually has started as a special foundation permit was issued July 21, 1939.

That you may know that no delay has been encountered and that the architects and their clients are very much pleased with the consideration received in the Building Department, I quote in part from a letter directed to me by Sturgis Associates, Inc., architects:

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank you personally, and through you the members of the Building Department of the City of Boston, for the consideration shown to my client. The prompt hearing, which your department enabled us to get before the Board of Appeal on the legal technicalities connected with this building, prevented any delay in the start of the work. Signed, Alanson H. Sturgis."

P. A. forces.

Respectfully,

City of Boston,

 August 4, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
 Mayor of Boston.
 Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated July 24, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Executive Director of the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council forthwith, whether or not, his present force of workers is sufficient to handle the additional applicants for welfare assistance caused by the reduction in W. P. A. forces."

May I state that on July 21, 1939, I spoke to your Honor regarding possible necessary increase in staff due to the emergency that then seemed at hand and asked for your approval and later the approval of the Board of Overseers for such increases in staff as would be necessary to meet the service demands of those who were being terminated on W. P. A. projects either by reduction in quota or because of eighteen months' continuous service.

As I write now, our department has been waiting for final determining action by the Congress of the United States on the matter of the eighteen months' termination of W. P. A. employees.

Sincerely yours,
 WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
 Executive Director.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated July 24, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Executive Director of the Public Welfare Department, the Boston School Committee, and Mr. John J. Stalker of the Surplus Commodities Division of W. P. A., relative to the transfer of the Commodities Station now located at the corner of Hampden and Eustis streets, Roxbury, to the George Street School, George street, Roxbury."

May I report that since July 5, 1939, we have been investigating the possible use of this building as we did not like the location at the corner of Hampden and Eustis streets. It is our hope that we can obtain permission from the School Committee to allow us the use of it for a Commodity Station and I have already contacted Mr. John Stalker of the Surplus Commodity Division and also I have written to and talked personally with Miss Ellen M. Cronin, Secretary of the School Committee.

When and if it is possible to transfer our present Commodity Station at Hampden and Eustis streets to the George Street School I shall so inform you.

Sincerely yours,

RECONDITIONING TENNIS COURTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 21, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Department Chairman relative to your order of August 11, 1939, concerning the reconditioning of the tennis courts at Franklin Field and the Norfolk Street Playground, Ward 14.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 16, 1939.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of August 11, with inclosure, order from the City Council, concerning the reconditioning of the tennis courts at Franklin Field and the Norfolk street playground.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that the tennis courts all over the Park System are not what they should be, as this extended dry spell has reduced some of the surfacing on our tennis courts all over the city to a surfacing of fine powder.

As a result of a tournament conducted in Franklin Field, the surface of the various tennis courts are not in as good condition as they might be. This is due, to some extent, to the serious reduction in our forces, which were made necessary in order to reduce real estate tax throughout the city. Our experience has been that watering is not effective during the dry spells and the rolling of a dirt court does more harm than good. When a section of the country, such as New England, has a rainfall of 35-100 of an inch during the month of July, naturally, vegetation, tennis courts, ball fields, etc., are not in the proper condition.

This department is making up a project to submit to Washington to place a permanent surface on all tennis courts throughout the city, similar to asphalt, etc., which will be possible to maintain, and I do not anticipate that, with the financial conditions of the city as they are, that clay tennis courts can be maintained.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

REIMBURSEMENT FOR IMPROPER FUEL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of July 10, 1939, concerning the reimbursement to the City of Boston for fireproof and improper fuel received by the city from the Babcock Coal Company.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, August 5, 1939.

Hon. George A. Murray,

Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have before me Council order of July 10, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take such legal steps as may be necessary to reimburse the City of Boston for fireproof and improper fuel received by the city from the Babcock Coal Company for welfare recipients during the administration of former Mayor Mansfield."

The request of the City Council is impossible to comply with. The Babcock Coal Company referred to in the order recently obtained a favorable decision from the Supreme Judicial Court, sustaining the award to the company of more than $68,000 for coal delivered to welfare recipients during the administration of former Mayor Mansfield. Although the Supreme Judicial Court spoke in its decision of recoupment for breach of warranty, it will, of course, be apparent that there can be no recovery where no damage can be shown. In this case, the city can show no damage. The coal was delivered to welfare recipients directly and the city was not forced to any expense in replacing such of the coal as it was claimed would not burn.

Furthermore, it is well established that in order to recover damages for the breach of warranty, the buyer must, as a condition precedent, notify the seller that he asserts a violation of legal rights. The notice must be more than a mere complaint. It must inform the seller that the buyer intends to enforce his rights. The notice must be given within a reasonable time after the buyer knows or ought to know of the breach of warranty, as provided in the Sales Act, General Laws, chapter 106, section 38.

In this case the auditor found,—

"... that the defendant, i. e., City of Boston, failed to give the plaintiff reasonable and proper notice of the breach of any promise of warranty within the meaning of section 38."

Thus it is quite apparent that no legal steps are available to the City of Boston at the present time to recover damages in recoupment for breach of warranty.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

IMPROVING "DAISY FIELD," WARD 10,

The following was received:

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Park Department Chairman relative to your order of August 7, 1939, concerning the placing of the so-called "Daisy Field" on the Jamaica way, Ward 10, in suitable condition to be used for baseball purposes.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 15, 1939.

William T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of August 11, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the so-called "Daisy Field" be put in suitable condition for the use of baseball, etc.

Daisy Field is now used for baseball. The present backstop is low and there is no field house. There are no funds available to increase the size of the backstop or to build a field house.

This is also close to Jamaica way and on the edge of Brookline. The area is large enough for boys sixteen years of age to play there at the present time, and they can use it if they secure a permit.

We have in the immediate vicinity the Jefferson Playground, which has two large diamonds—plenty large enough for boys or young men to play on.

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor confer with the Health Commissioner for the purpose of reconsidering the action whereby the convenience station situated at the Old Franklin School, Washington street, corner of Dover street, was closed.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I have offered this order at the request of a large number of property owners and business men in the vicinity of Dover and Washington streets where this convenience station is located. It is also a stopping place for the Elevated trains, known as the Dover Street Station, which is used daily by thousands of people. It does seem a pity in this enlightened City of Boston, which was the first to establish convenience stations of this type, that we should adopt the policy of closing our convenience stations which are so badly needed by the people in general.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.19 p. m., on motion of Coun. LYONS, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by Chairman FITZGERALD at 4.20 p. m.

LOAN ORDER OF $1,500,000.

Chairman FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 464 of the Acts of 1939 the sum of one million, five hundred thousand dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated to be used for meeting, in part, the difference between the amount of that portion of the state tax assessment for 1938 levied upon the city and the amount estimated and raised for the state tax by the assessors in 1938, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness for said amount, the same to be raised outside the debt limit.

On August 24, 1939, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

The question came on giving the order its second reading and passage. The roll was called and the order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

On motion of Coun. AGNEW, No. 3 on the calendar was taken from the table, viz.:

3. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Fire Department:

From the appropriation for B, Contractual Services, $2,000, to the appropriation for E, Materials, $2,000.

The question came on the passage of the order. The roll was called and the order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor (referred today) with order for transfer in appropriations for Weights and Measures Department, $100 from Contractual Services to Materials—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted. The question came on the passage of the order. The roll was called and the order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Abe Polder (referred today) for driveway opening at 1207 Columbus avenue—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

Report on petition of Gerald T. Cusick (referred August 7) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Fire Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of fifty-four dollars ($54) be allowed and paid to Gerald T. Cusick in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; order passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of August, 1939.

Report accepted; said order passed.

REPAVEMENT NEW HEATH STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY and ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement New Heath street, Ward 10, between Heath square and Columbus avenue, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TAX TITLE LAND FOR PLAY AREAS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor consider the advisability of having a study made relative to having the city take over for play areas, in various parts of the city, small lots upon which no taxes have been paid for years

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, about twenty-two hundred children are injured in Boston each year by automobiles, and over twenty are killed each year. At the present time we have hundreds of lots of land, small lots in each area of the City of Boston, on which taxes have not been paid for many years. I am suggesting to the Mayor the possibility of having a study made to see if it is not possible to take some of those lots and put little sand boxes and swings on them and get the children on to the playgrounds. It is known that there are great cities in America, such as Kansas City, where there has not been a child killed by an automobile in years, and those who have studied the situation claim it is the result of getting the children off the streets. The major cause of the death and injury of the children of America in the cities of this country is playing on the streets.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WHITBY STREET, WARD 1.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Whitby street, Ward 1, East Boston, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER IN APPROPRIATIONS FOR MUNICIPAL COURT, WEST ROXBURY.

On motion of Coun. LANGAN No. 4 on the calendar was taken from the table, viz.:

4. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Municipal Court, West Roxbury District:

From the appropriation for B, Contractual Services, $15, to the appropriation for C, Equipment, $15.

The question came on the passage of the order. The roll was called and the order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. HARRIS it was voted that when the Council adjourns it be to meet on Monday, September 11, 1939, at 2 p. m.

SPEED LIMIT FOR BUSES ON BLUE HILL AVENUE, ETC.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draft an ordinance to limit the speed of buses on Blue Hill avenue, Charles and Seaver streets to ten miles per hour.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I have presented this request for an ordinance in view of the fact that the conditions now existing on Blue Hill avenue, with the influx of interstate buses and intrastate buses which are now operating on the avenue, create a need for precautions being taken, particularly with these large buses as they travel along the thoroughfares, and particularly Blue Hill avenue, and I am fearful that unless some ordinance such as this is enacted the death toll on Blue Hill avenue will mount, and I believe that the members of the Council want to do everything possible to cut down the accident rate on the streets of Boston.

Coun. TAYLOR—I am glad to note that the order includes Seaver street, Roxbury, because on that particular street there have been a great number of fatal accidents. This Council has attempted, unsuccessfully, to keep these buses from these streets, but because of matters over which we have no control they succeeded finally in getting their buses through there.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS LINE, EGLESTON SQUARE AND ALLSTON.

Coun. ROSENBERG and TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a bus line starting at Eggleston square over the following routes:

Columbus avenue, Heath street, South Huntington avenue, Brookline Village, Harvard avenue to Allston Station, and return.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DRINKING WATER FACILITIES AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. ROSENBERG and TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide drinking fountain facilities for persons in the hospital waiting rooms, particularly in the Out-Patient Departments.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENTS AT WILLIAM E. CARTER PLAYGROUND.

Coun. HARRIS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to regrade and clean the William E. Carter Playground and to repair benches, install shower baths, and make whatever improvements may be necessary thereon.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FILLING POLICE VACANCIES.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Police Commissioner for the purpose of considering the advisability of filling vacancies in the Police Department caused by death, resignation, or retirement since November 1, 1938.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I have introduced this order in reference to the Boston Police Department situation in order that the quota of vacancies at the present time should be filled. Today the total number of men in the Boston Police Department is 1,907 which includes five patrolwomen. On February 21, 1930, the number of patrolmen was 2,150 which included five patrolwomen. On April 2, 1937, the number was reduced to 1,827 and after a conference between Police Commissioner McSweeney and Mayor Mansfield it was agreed that the quota would be placed at 1,977. Between April 2, 1937, and December 1, 1937, replacements were made and on the latter date the quota of 1,977 had been reached. It will be noted from the above figures that at the present time there are seventy less men in this grade. With the installation of radio in this department, it was necessary to assign a large number of patrolmen to operate cruising cars and also detail a number of patrolmen to operate the Bureau of Operations, maintain and repair radio equipment, which necessitated the removal of such men from actual patrol work. Since November 8 to the present time some forty odd men have died, resigned, or been pensioned. There is also on the Mayor's desk at the present time for his signature for retirement the names of twenty men over the age limit who should make room for the younger blood. The people of Boston are entitled to police protection. It costs the city something in the vicinity of over 100,000 dollars a year to replace broken windows in the schoolhouses alone caused by "juvenile vandalism," if men were patrolling on foot this could not happen. The destruction of private property is estimated alone in this city to total almost one quarter of a million dollars annually again which can be traced to the failure of having men patrolling routes on foot, and the most important matter which concerns all of us is this growing disrespect for law and the building up of so many young potential criminals which can be traced to the failure of foot patrolmen.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, ALLEN AND CHARLES STREETS, WARD 3.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to conduct a survey with reference to installing traffic lights at the junction of Allen and Charles street, Ward 3.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I have introduced this order repeatedly in reference to traffic lights on Charles street at the foot of Allen street, with very little success. The toll of deaths and the number of accidents is fast becoming appalling and something has got to be done. Why public officials charged with the responsibility are neglecting to perform their duty in this matter is beyond my conception of what a public official should do. More than one and one half million dollars was spent in the construction of this highway, which is becoming a public "race track." Destruction of the Charlesbank Park with the widening of Charles street, as well as the destruction of the first open-air gymnasium in the country, the destruction of the Girls' Gymnasium which has never been replaced, can be charged to those who were members of the Legislature at that time and responsible for the passage of the act as well as the then Mayor of Boston and cannot be laid at my door.

The Council has repeatedly passed this order for the lights. I have appealed to two former Mayors in person on more than one occasion but without success, and I am now making the last and final appeal to see if I can arouse those who are responsible for this condition to see if it cannot be remedied.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPRECIATION FOR COUNCIL CHAMBER WORK.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council in meeting assembled, on this, the first meeting held in the newly decorated City Council Chamber, desire to express its appreciation and gratification for the splendid work performed by the W. P. A. authorities and all individuals who participated in the work, and to the Superintendent of Public Buildings under whose able supervision the Council Chamber has been placed in its present attractive condition.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I don't want to seem to be in opposition, but many months ago we unanimously passed an order requesting some advice as to the cost of the renovation of this chamber, which has kept us out of here since a year ago last December, and I think before we send flowers or say a great many nice things we should at least find out what it has cost. I would suggest that we await a response to that order as to how much it has cost, and so forth.

Chairman FITZGERALD—If there is no objection it can be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. Chairman, this resolution has no connection with the cost. From time to time we see the criticism in the newspapers relative to the W. P. A. work and the persons who work on it, criticism such as "He can't be a W. P. A. worker if he is not lying down." Here we have an opportunity to observe the beautiful work that has been done in this chamber in the short period in which the W. P. A. workers were working in the chamber, for the past three or four months. The order includes anyone who participated in the work or had anything at all to do with it. I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the resolution.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rule.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, I want to make my position clear. It may well be that excellent work was done here, but there was an order passed by this Council inquiring of the Mayor's office how much money was spent, whether needlessly or otherwise, to renovate the top two floors of this building. This is the first time that we have met here since a year ago last December. I think that the Council makes itself ridiculous in not insisting on an answer to our inquiry as to how much has been actually spent here. Bringing in a brass band and sending flowers before we even know how much the job has cost is not any answer to our inquiry.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman, I don't see what difference it makes as to what the work has cost. The order refers only to giving thanks to those who have done such a splendid job. If the councilor from Ward 17 wants to know what the cost is he can get that information in other ways. But I think we should show some thanks to those who have done such a beautiful job on this place here.

Chairman FITZGERALD—The order has been passed.

BOSTON STREET BOOKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to progress made in the matter of new edition of Boston Street Books, in accordance with Council order of February 14, 1939.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REQUESTED OF HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority, through his Honor the Mayor, be directed to furnish the City Council with information requested in City Council orders of, (1) May 1, 1939, relating to commissions on options, and relating to disposition of $2,000 voted by the Council in February 1938, (2) June 5, 1939, concerning various items of information, (3) June 26, 1939, relating to compliance with chapter 486 of the Acts of 1938, and (4) July 24, 1939.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PARTIAL ABATEMENT ON PROPERTY TAKEN BY EMINENT DOMAIN.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to abate 1939 tax valuations on real estate of resident owners taken in eminent domain proceedings by the Boston Housing Authority, to a valuation not in excess of the appraisal made in said eminent domain proceedings.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, in explanation of that order, we are, of course, aware of the fact that in numerous instances where properties have been taken by eminent domain by the Boston Housing Authority, the figure on valuation set by the Housing Authority appraisers has been under the existing mortgage, and in numerous instances at a figure less than the assessed value set by the assessors of the City of Boston, and it seems to me, to put it mildly, most unethical that the City of Boston, through the Housing Authority, which is indirectly an instrument of the City of Boston—unethical that the City of Boston should go into a section like Charlestown, where over 50 per cent of the buildings were owned by the people who lived in them, and set a valuation under an eminent domain proceeding less than the assessed value on which those people had been paying taxes. Now the time comes for the payment of the money after the rapid fire sales talk to the owners of the property which was taken, and they go over to the Boston Housing Authority for their checks, which in some instances are $1,000 and $1,500 under the assessed value of the property, and before they get their checks an adjustment is made of the taxes and a part of the check is taken back for payment to the City of Boston on a valuation far in excess of what they are receiving for their property. So I press this motion, and I think it is a fair one, that in the case of original owners, in these buildings that have been taken by rapid fire sales talk, at figures less than the assessed value, the least that the Board of Assessors of the City of Boston can do is to abate this year's tax at least down to the figure which was set by the Housing Authority.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, I join heartily with Councilor Wilson. As he has said, a settlement or adjustment is made by the Housing Authority with these resident owners. I have had in my district case after case where, when this settlement was made, the resident owner was out of pocket some $200 or $300 or $400. The only fault I have to find with the order is that it only includes the year 1939. I know myself that, if given the opportunity, many a person in Ward 10, many a resident owner in Ward 10, would have paid those taxes before his home was taken away from him, but through the conscript method used by the Housing Authority he loses not only his home but every bit of equity he might have had in it. I think the order is an excellent one, one of the finest ever introduced into the Boston City Council, and I am sure the members of this Body will join heartily with Councilor Wilson in it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REGARDING INVESTIGATION OF CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission and the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council in response to City Council order of June 5, 1939, concerning investigation of the Boston City Hospital.

CONDUCT OF ATTORNEYS AND DOCTORS AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish to the City Council a copy of its report on the subject of the conduct of certain attorneys and doctors relating to accident cases treated at the Boston City Hospital.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, I am not going to talk at length on those two orders today because I, first of all, desire to obtain the information if it can be obtained. I have of my personal experience encountered some very suspicious happenings along the lines referred to in those orders. I do feel that the City Council of the City of Boston is entitled to know what the findings of the Boston Finance Commission were. My understanding is that they had investigators at the hospital and that they found that two or more Boston attorneys had been doing what is popularly, or unpopularly, known as ambulance chasing, with the connivance at the City Hospital either of the employees or of certain doctors, or both, and we know that the investigation was made and that a report was made to the Boston City Hospital. I think the public is entitled, the former patients at the hospital are entitled, the taxpayers are entitled, and the City Council is entitled to know what has happened to that report, and what has been done. I again reiterate the charge that there has been something wrong going on down at the City Hospital, that employees of the hospital, and even doctors at the hospital, must have been playing with certain Boston attorneys. I again reiterate the charge that the Boston Finance Commission, in its investigation, must have found out certain facts to have resulted in the report going from the Boston City Hospital to the Law Department, where I understand it now is. I don't know why, during all these months, something definite has not been done about it, because I think that those conditions have continued since the first of the current year. I am interested in finding out about a system which permits men to go into the City Hospital and see the patients, total strangers to them, who turn out to be lawyers or the representatives of lawyers, who would never be found there without connivance in the hospital, and I am interested also in a situation which makes it possible for certain persons in authority at the City Hospital, who cannot be ordinary employees, to have direct access to the hospital records and by that access give to these insurance companies at the City Hospital more complete reports than the attorneys representing the injured patients can obtain. I know that has been done; I know it is being done, and I want to know why it is being done. I am sure it is a small minority, but this small minority group of doctors or officials at the City Hospital makes it possible for that condition to continue. I think that this matter should not be allowed to die on some shelf somewhere. I think that we are entitled to know what was discovered in this investigation of the Boston City Hospital. We do not want to just satisfy our curiosity but we want to know what was discovered and we want to know what was done about it.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS LINE, EGLESTON SQUARE TO GREEN STREET STATION.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus line from Eggleston square along Washington street to Boylston street, over Lamarline street to the Green Street Station, and return.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTING OF CHELLMAN STREET, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Chellman street, Ward 20, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION, BROOKFIELD STREET, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Brookfield street, from South street to South Fairview street, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DEMOLITION WORK TO BOSTON RESIDENTS.

Coun. SULLIVAN and LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the President of the City Council be requested to appoint a special committee of five members of the Council to confer with the Housing Authority, the contractors, and the officials of the Union, relative to placing Boston men at work on the demolition of properties in preparation for the erection of Federal Housing projects.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, while I have no objection to the joint order of Councilors Sullivan and Lyons, I might say that there is another order which is to be offered along the same lines. I see here this afternoon representatives of the Union. We invited the contractor, himself or his representative, and the Chairman of the Housing Authority, in order that we might find out whether Boston work is going to be given to outsiders or not. I found very definitely in connection with the demolition of buildings in Ward 10 that there are not many Boston men at work there. We have men there from New York State, from as far away as Nebraska, from Ohio and Tennessee, and from Chelsea, Somerville and Revere, and other places in Massachusetts. On an admission of the business agent of the Building Wreckers Union, not over 50 per cent of the men at work there are residents of Boston. In other words, he admitted that they are from Chelsea, Somerville, Revere, and outside places. Are we going to continue such a practice as this? I can see in the gallery this afternoon some fifty to one hundred men from my ward and other wards in the City of Boston, who are walking the streets day after day, able-bodied men who would be glad of an opportunity to work but who are denied that opportunity. And I hope that in the conference that has been arranged for next Thursday afternoon we will have a very determined and definite decision made and an agreement reached whereby these men on the work now who do not live in the city will be discharged, and that nobody but Boston men will be given that work. God knows they need it, and need it badly. (Applause from the gallery.)

The CHAIRMAN—No demonstration from the gallery, please.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DEMOLITION WORK FOR BOSTON RESIDENTS AND AMERICAN CITIZENS.

Coun. CHASE, CAREY and WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to insist that all persons employed on Housing projects be Boston residents and American citizens.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, it is needless for me to say that this Honorable Body was shocked when it learned that non-residents of Boston and non-citizens of this nation are permitted to work on the housing projects in preference to American citizens. I think, Mr. Chairman, that it is a despicable condition. I am surprised that the Boston Housing Authority, composed of American citizens, and people who are supposed to be learned men and to know what the rights of American citizens are, should allow such a condition to exist. Why should not American citizens be given preference over some alien who has recently come to these shores? We have thousands of American citizens and Boston residents pounding the streets in search of employment, and yet we learn that aliens are permitted to be working on these projects, and non-residents of Boston are permitted to be working on these projects, and yet there are thousands of Boston residents who are looking for work. What sort of a condition is this? What is this country coming to when our city fathers, our government in general, does not see it that American citizens are given preference to aliens? We should do something about it, and I hope that this Honorable Body will pass the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF THOMAS J. NEVINS SQUARE.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to designate the space at the junction of Quincy and Bowdoin streets, Ward 15, Thomas J. Nevins square, in honor of said Nevins, late veteran of the World War.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELEVATOR SERVICE AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of restoring the elevator service in the main building between the first and third floors, on which the Settlement Office is located.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I understand from quite a number of women in my ward that the elevator service has been discontinued from the first to the third floors in the main building of the Boston City Hospital. The Settlement Division has more people going to it in a weakened condition than any other department in the Boston City Hospital. I refer to the women with small children going up there for appointment for tonsil operations. I also refer to the women in pre-natal condition, climbing two stories in the Boston City Hospital. I was at the Boston City Hospital this morning, Mr. Chairman, but I don't mind climbing a couple of flights of stairs, because naturally I need the exercise. But when you realize that these women in pre-natal condition have to climb up two stories, which is equivalent to four stories in the ordinary building, I believe you will agree that something should be done about it. I know that the Mayor of Boston would not want to see an accident in the Boston City Hospital on account of the shutting down of this elevator service, and I know that when this condition is called to the attention of his Honor the Mayor, he will instruct the trustees of the Boston City Hospital to restore this elevator service in order that we may give these poor people the elevator service to which they are entitled.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Chairman FITZGERALD—There being no further business before the Council, the Council stands adjourned.

Adjourned at 4.56 p. m., to meet on Monday, September 11, 1939, at 2 p. m.

NO. 37

CITY'S REGISTRY DEPARTMENT OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS ON WAY TO BECOMING PAYING AND SELF-SUPPORTING — REGISTRAR BURKE MAKES PREDICTION IN ANALYTICAL STATEMENT PREPARED AND PRESENTED TO MAYOR TOBIN — PREDICTION BASED ON INCREASE IN MARRIAGES OVER OTHER YEARS AND ADDITIONAL REVENUES MADE POSSIBLE BY DEPARTMENTAL CHANGES.

Registrar James A. Burke, of the Births, Deaths and Marriages Department has, in a statement prepared and submitted to Mayor Tobin, predicted that all indications point to the possibility of the department becoming paying and self-supporting. This conclusion is reached, Registrar Burke announces, as the result of figures compiled indicating the number of marriages and additional revenue that has been created by the department and should the indicated increases continue over a period of years. The revenue thus far this year has far exceeded that of any previous year in the history of the department.

Registrar Burke's statement in full is as follows:

Many questions have arisen within the last few months in regard to the sudden miraculous increase in marriages in the City of Boston. At the outset it is needless to point out that before any definite answer can be given, many elements and many factors must first be considered. Then, too, one must consider the employment opportunities; the increase in the city's population; housing facilities; transportation, and many other such correlated factors that will have a tendency to show conclusively what has caused the City of Boston to become the Marriage Mart of New England in 1939.

A True Picture.

In order to give a true picture, we must consider not only the historical background of Boston, but also its topography.

A city's need and activities are dictated by the character and number of its people, their social and cultural background, their vocational interests and by the extent to which it is a community with community interest and pride.

The City of Boston has had an interesting geographical and historical development. The whole area of the original town of Boston, settled in 1630, was about 783 acres. The City of Boston we see today, the capital city of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, has an approximate land area of about 2,800 acres, or 4.4 square miles. Boston has grown in area, not only by reclaiming land from the sea, but also by absorbing neighboring territory through annexation.

The history of Boston unfolds the history of a first free public school; of a first subway; of a first zoo, and of many other firsts too numerous to mention. As Boston led the way in the earliest days of our country, so today, Boston is one of the leading educational and business centers in the world.

The city's population has shown but a normal increase from year to year since the 1930 decennial census, while the birth rate over the same period has shown a decided decrease. The unusualness of this phenomena is a subject by itself that can easily be explained by the fact that economic conditions being what they are, with immigration closed, and movements of people from one area to another uncontrollable, we find that as a result of all these factors the birth rate would naturally decrease.

It has been truly said that the facilities that tend to lead people away from large centers of population are: Transportation, housing, and open areas.

Transportation is doubtless one of the major important factors. Automobile registration is continuously increasing. Improvements in main thoroughfares such as the Northern Artery, Gallivan Boulevard, Old Colony Parkway, American Legion Highway, Veterans of Foreign Wars Parkway and the Sumner Vehicular Tunnel, as well as the new Worcester Turnpike, have resulted in making the question of distance from the main business, shopping and social centers a matter of less importance.

Housing Changes Effect.

What does this all mean? It means precisely this, that whereas in years gone by, people who have sought to live out in open areas and yet live in close proximity to their business in Boston have found that, since Boston has had an increase in building facilities, — at least so far as the modernization of the present-day apartments are concerned, — it is cheaper for them to live in Boston and commute to the various social centers outside of Boston than if the situation were reversed.

Housing conditions are another important consideration. At one time people felt that the houses in the older sections of the city were becoming, in a general way, less desirable to live in, because of the absence of modern facilities or inconvenient room arrangement. Today, however, the situation is just reversed. Many of these houses in the older sections of the city are being constantly remodeled and altered in such a manner as makes them more desirable to live in because of their convenient room arrangement and because of their location close to the center of business.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 18.

CITY OF BOSTON,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, September 6, 1939.

To Heads of Departments.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

BOSTON REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

One more thought which is of interest, although it may not be a factor, is this particular thought in regard to the 1917 "War Babies." It may be very possible that the increase of marriages in 1939 might be the result of the high marriage and birth rates of 1917 and 1918, or, it may not. At least this is one factor over which I, as Registrar of Births, Marriages and Deaths of the City of Boston, have no control. It is, however, a good point to bring out so that the students of sociology might make deeper study in this particular increase in marriages for 1939 and thus show the resulting effects of the pre-war and post-war births.

MARRIAGES AND BUSINESS.

Marriages in Boston have always been a barometer of business conditions. It can be safely said that the correlation of marriages and business is so close that we need only to point to the 1933 marriages and those of 1939. In the accompanying table and graphic chart can readily be seen the points of discussion.

Business in 1933 was at its lowest and so were marriages. In 1939, fortunately, we have an upward trend in all divisions of business in Metropolitan Boston. Factory employment is over 14 per cent higher than last year. Retail store trade sales have increased over 2 per cent more than that of the same period of last year. Industrial activities are almost 5 per cent over those of last year. Since July, 1938, approximately 350 new dwellings have been built in Boston. The cost of these dwellings was nearly $11,250,000 and employed about 3,500 workers.

From July, 1938, to July, 1939, the City of Boston, under the leadership of its present youthful and energetic Mayor, Maurice J. Tobin, ninety-five new business and manufacturing plants have been brought into Boston, employing approximately 2,500 people.

It is interesting to point out that during the same period, the marriages in Boston have shown an increase of more than 700 marriages over that of July, 1938. These, then, are the contributing factors to the increased number of marriages in Boston as of July, 1939.

The table and accompanying chart show the marriages from July, 1930, up to and including July, 1939. The lowest number of marriages may be noted in the year 1933, when the total dropped to 3,399, and the highest peak, of course, is seen in 1939, when the total reached 4,767.

In conclusion, it is interesting to point out that as a result of the increased number of marriages, additional revenue has been created in the Registry Department, so much so that it is quite evident that if this increase continues over a period of years, we feel that the Registry

Department will place itself on a paying and self-supporting basis. We are justified in making this statement in view of the fact that the revenue this year has exceeded that of any previous year in the history of the Registry Department of the City of Boston.

BOSTON, September 12, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I was informed last evening that after I had left National League Field yesterday afternoon my name was drawn for one of the prizes in connection with your Field Day.

Had I been present at the time, I would gladly have informed you that it was my desire that this money be left in the fund to add to its financial success. I therefore wish to take this means of notifying you that I gladly contribute my winning accordingly.

I trust that the financial success of the day was all that you desired.

With kindest personal regards, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,

4. ORDERED, That for the year ending August 31, 1940, any teacher or member of the supervising staff who may be designated by the Superintendent in accordance with the regulations to fill a vacancy caused by the death, disability or absence of a principal of a school or district, or of a director, associate director, assistant director in charge of a department, or supervising nurse, for a continuous period exceeding two weeks, shall be paid at the rate of $1.00 per day of service in addition to the regular salary of his rank. A teacher or member of the supervising staff who may be similarly designated to fill the position of assistant director, head of department, co-ordinator, submaster, master's assistant, master's assistant, special classes, assistant in charge, Day School for Immigrants, or first assistant kindergarten (either one or two sessions), shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents (50c.) per day for each day of service, in addition to the regular salary of his rank.

5. ORDERED, That for the year ending August 31, 1940, any master, junior master or assistant, Latin and day high schools, who may be designated by the Superintendent in accordance with the regulations as acting head of department in charge of a single subject where there are in the proposed department not less than two thousand pupil hours, taught by at least four teachers, whole or part-time, shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents (50c.) per day for each day of service, in addition to the regular salary of his rank.

6. ORDERED, That for the year ending August 31, 1940, any assistant nutrition class attendant who may be designated by the Superintendent to serve as acting nutrition class attendant shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents (50c.) per day of service in addition to the regular salary of her rank.

7. ORDERED, That during the school year 1939-1940 the Superintendent is hereby authorized to fix the compensation of all persons giving lectures and improvement courses for teachers other than those whose compensation is fixed in the salary schedule for teachers and members of the supervising staff.

Question came on the adoption of the seven orders establishing a general salary schedule, with increments, for the year ending Aug. 31, 1940.

Mr. Lee: I would like to speak in opposition to that salary schedule. I would like to reaffirm the thought I brought out to you before, that we pay $3880 a year to certain of the High School men who have been in the service 15 years, which amounts to about $21 a day, while some of our substitute teachers who have reached their sixth and seventh year of service as teachers in the most important and precious grades receive but $5. I think that is too much of a spread for the good of the teaching force. I do not think it puts the encouragement at the right stage to interest the young men and women coming out of college to come into our school system.

To have the high salary reached so late means that they go through their years of struggle, raising a family and the problems that go with that, while receiving a comparatively low salary, and after they are out of this struggle they reach a salary somewhat too high. So that from the economic point of view, of attracting teachers, I think we should raise our lower salaries and not have such high top salaries.

I think it holds as a good policy within the teaching force and from a humanitarian standpoint, that our salary compensation should come in the earlier years of a teacher's experience.

Looking at it from the taxpayer's point of view, the average citizen of Boston is taking a 40 per cent cut in his compensation in a depression. Acting under a law put through by a 1929 School Committee, we are extending the top salaries reached by the more highly paid teachers. I think it is asking too much of the taxpayer, asking too much of the little fellow and the fellow who pays the cost of the school system, to keep on paying salaries with those two extra increments amounting to $288, when they get those increments beyond the time when the increments have ceased to apply in the other ranks. I think it is too great a burden on the City finances and it is not humanitarian from the point of view of our teaching force, and it is not educationally sound in that it defers compensation to so late a date in a person's life that we do not have the benefit of attracting the younger men coming out of schools and colleges with the salaries as they are in the lower brackets. We take them out of college facing the prospect of six or seven years at only $5 a day. I think those extremes are much too wide, and I am opposed to maintaining those increments.

I would like to urge upon the members of the School Committee to have the top limit for the High School men $3,600.

As the budget has been passed I suppose I will have to take up at a later time the question of a better status for those on the lower rungs of the ladder. So I will content myself with urging that the School Committee do not approve the salary schedule in that it allows the two extra increments for the present year.

Further, some of those High School teachers who receive over $20 a day, have coaching positions at $7 a day and also teach evening schools at $5 an evening, which asks the taxpayer to give a large amount of money in these times to one particular set of teachers.

Chairman: Excepting the opposition to these various items that Mr. Lee has noted, I declare the salary schedule and the increment schedule unanimously acceptable.

You want to vote for the increment schedule?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

The Chairman declared the seven orders passed collectively by unanimous vote, with the exception noted by Mr. Lee.

COURSES IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND ECONOMICS

Mr. Lee: I wish I could bring up again the thought of taking away some of the compulsory aspects which now apply to the languages and substitute compulsory aspects applying to courses such as economics.

Even in the High School of Commerce, boys in some courses find themselves compelled to take modern French or they find it strongly recommended to them that they take modern French, and they get no such urging or compulsion in favor of economics, by which the country holds itself together and under which we live.

This is a matter I have brought up before, and I think there is only encouragement to be seen in the work of the Board of Superintendents and the work that other groups have done in going over the question of the economics courses in order to submit them to this Committee. I would like to have some order introduced here which will urge the headmasters and others, in making up their schedule, to make room for courses in economics and, where there is latitude, urge them to encourage courses in economics and make less room for those language courses and, where there is less latitude, have the headmaster urge the children to devote their time rather to the economics courses.

Isn't there a certain latitude where courses are optional now where, under the head of guidance, headmasters could do a good deal in recommending and calling the attention of the students to the economics courses and lighten the recommendations which they now make in favor of the language courses?

Superintendent: If the School Committee eventually approves the various types of courses which are being prepared we shall have to make provision in our schedule for them.

There are certain courses in our schools where it is optional as to whether the students take modern languages or ancient languages. In certain other courses that they elect there is a compulsory feature. We have to meet, as you know, the requirements of the colleges. Those requirements are very slow in changing, although modifications have been made over a period of years. Colleges that formerly required Latin and Greek now require only Latin or may require neither Latin nor Greek and substitute modern foreign languages.

There can be advice given in the selection of courses, urging children to elect these new courses when approved or, on the other hand, the Board of Superintendents and the School Committee may make certain of those courses compulsory, as it does now in some instances.

Mr. Lee: I thought of bringing in orders to make those courses compulsory, but thought it premature, inasmuch as those courses have not all been worked out.

Where there is now a choice of subjects and there is a course in economics, I would like to send an order to our guidance department or to the headmasters urging them to point out the values of the economics courses and to less heavily stress the value of the modern language courses, if this Committee would approve such a step.

Dr. Foley: I do not like to go on record in regard to making any course compulsory without listening to some of the parents who might be interested in the course of procedure that they have in mind to outline for their offspring, their boy or their girl.

Because an individual member of the Committee believes that economics is the supreme test of our school system, does not mean that we should make it compulsory. That is rather a heavy word and I would like to hear from some of the parents.

Chairman: And also from the Board of Superintendents.

Dr. Foley: I would like to hear from all concerned, the Board of Superintendents, the parents and all those vitally interested.

Mr. Lee: If Dr. Foley finds the word "compulsory" a heavy word, will he join me in taking that word "compulsory" off the foreign languages, in those courses where a foreign language is now compulsory?

Dr. Foley: I would leave that to the Board of Superintendents, who have investigated further than I have, and I believe their judgment is sufficient.

Chairman: I do not see what we can do. You haven't a motion before the body anyway. Naturally, this should wait until we get a report from the Board of Superintendents.

Mr. Lee: I would like to move that our guidance department and our headmasters have their attention called by bulletin to the fact that economics courses are available in those schools where they are available.

I have an impression that because the language courses are more common and the machinery is set up to teach languages, more boys take languages than take one of the courses which are not so popular. That is why I move that more weight be given to the economics courses where there is a choice, when the headmaster, or teacher, or guidance department, advises a boy about his course of study.

Chairman: I wouldn't like to take any action on that now. Do I hear that motion seconded?

It is not seconded. Therefore, it is lost.

Mr. Lee: I have tried to keep up with the progress made in some of the courses in economics and politics that were considered by the Board of Superintendents and that will later come before this Committee for approval.

I believe we should do much more in the study of law. I do not mean the kind of law that an attorney gets at law school where he is trained to practice law. I have reference to practical, every-day law, what one's rights are in regard to the police, what steps one should take if he is put in jail, what one's rights are in regard to his landlord, in regard to contracts, buying and selling, and all those things that come up.

After all, we live under the English common law. Our statutes cover certain phases of our law, but a great body of the law that governs us is in the nature of court decisions that relate to the English common law. It is a vital, interesting subject, and yet we are all at sea on it. I never know law, what one's rights are in regard to what my rights are. I believe that our civics courses touch somewhat on this but do not focus specifically.

Mr. Sullivan: Isn't a committee going over the economics courses? Wouldn't it be the proper thing to suggest this to the committee that is now considering the economics courses, so that they might incorporate it?

Mr. Lee: I would like to give one illustration of what I have in mind.

In one of our South End play yards some boys were playing handball. I am quite sure they were over age and should not be playing there. The cop came round and said, "Get out of there, you dirty Arabs," and I believe they got out. One of the older citizens, who was apparently civic-minded or thought he was, went to the police captain and said that was not the best way of handling the matter. The result was that the boys were haled into court and given small fines.

That kind of contact of the boy with his government comes up every day or comes up from time to time. I think there should be a means of acquainting the kids in our schools with the hows and whys of those relationships. It makes a sorry impression now, the way we handle things. The citizen goes much too far in thinking that he has rights that he doesn't have, and he fades away at times when he has rights that he does not know about. This leaves the impression "If you stand in right you get along, and if you don't stand in right you don't get anywhere." It makes for a bureaucratic government rather than a government of free individuals who are versed in what their rights are.

I think it is a matter of making clear why the big fellow should not be on the playground that is reserved for youngsters, of whom there are large numbers. We have these regulations because some people abuse the privileges. I think it should come down to points of law to just what is the policeman's right and what is the boy's right, and what is the landlord's right. And I think it should be made concrete and interesting. Government is always interesting.

The relationships between human beings are always interesting.

I think we should have authentic, definite instruction all along the line and an acquaintance with the underlying law under which the citizen lives and governs his relation to other people.

Dr. Foley: I honestly believe that our principals and masters understand the situations that are prevalent today within the confines of their districts and are using good judgment. They have their forums in many schools that I have entered, and I have listened to various discussions that pertained to the subject matter of the day, and naturally they read up on matters that pertain to the day's subject. I feel that our principals, masters and headmasters are carrying on with good judgment and are doing a good job.

The Committee adjourned.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

The committee arranged for the observance of the annual commemoration of the observance of his birth with a monster meeting at the Boston City Club, on Wednesday evening, September 13. At this observance the chief address was delivered by Hon. Claire Gerald Fenerty of Philadelphia, who spoke in part as follows:

Too seldom is adequate recognition given to the men who at sea hurled defiance at their "cruel and unrelenting" foe. In 1781 England had in the Royal Navy no less than 100,000 men. And yet, despite this, the American sailors, under Barry and other patriotic leaders, captured over 800 vessels, 100 being war ships. Barry's prizes for one voyage alone, as testified to by the eminent historian, Martin I. J. Griffin, brought into French ports and sold, amounted to more than 562,000 English pounds, a tremendous sum in those days.

With a wisdom that history has since proven to be providential, Washington constantly demanded that America should possess a navy second to none other in the world. Time after time since have his demands been emphatically justified. Perry on Lake Erie, McDonough on Lake Champlain, won security for the new nation before Jackson had avenged the British burning of our Capitol by overwhelming Packenham behind the cotton bales of New Orleans. In the Civil War, the defeat of the "Merrimac," the destruction of the "Alabama," the "Hartford," with Farragut lashed to her mast, were as effective in preserving the Union as the mighty land battles between the Blue and the Gray.

Patriotism of Other Days.

It was the fleet, which at the end of the war between the States, threatening to ascend the Thames and bombard London, compelled England to capitulate and finally pay us an indemnity of $16,000,000 as the "Alabama Claims" for the destruction she had caused America in aiding the Confederacy in an effort to divide and destroy the American nation. It is unfortunate that in these days when England and other powers owe us so much more than this that there is lacking in Washington such a spirit of courage and patriotism as in other days was unhesitant in defending American rights wherever or by whomever assailed.

In the war with Spain, the achievements of the fleet in the seas about Cuba and of Dewey in the tropical waters of Manila Bay challenged the awe and the admiration of the world, while in the late World War, it was the American fleet which conveyed millions of American boys in safety across the seas to inspire our one-time (and we hope only one time) war associates with new courage at a time when German victory was inevitable and, as General Haig had said, the British stood "with their backs to the wall," preparing for surrender to the victorious legions of the Central Empires.

To procure naval strength, George Washington and Congress had delegated the Chief of the Navy, Commodore John Barry, to transport Lafayette to France upon a mission that eventuated with such success that the English began to despair of victory and their merchants, losing rich prizes at sea, petitioned their monarch to terminate the war upon America. Although Barry was on the seas, convoying the French treasure ship, "The Duc de Luczon," from Havana, when Congress proclaimed the cessation of hostilities, the means of communication then being so limited, the brave Commodore had the honor, after peace was declared, to fight the last battle of the Revolution, when he defeated the British frigate "La Sybille."

And, even after the Revolution, when under Washington's matchless guidance the new Republic commenced the building of the fleet, it was Barry who suggested the creation of a separate navy department and the first navy yards. It was he who designed and superintended the constructions of the ships and commanded the first vessel of the new navy, called the "United States," and launched on May 10, 1797, at the Delaware River at the foot of what is now Washington avenue, in Philadelphia, while, as the crowning glory of his life, it was John Barry who received from the hands of Washington, Naval Commission No. 1 — still to be seen at Annapolis — thus officially giving him that which his triumphs had already won for him — the title of leader and father of the American Navy.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO NATIONAL GUARD OF MASSACHUSETTS AS ONE OF BULWARKS OF MANHOOD AND LAW AND ORDER—DELIVERS ADDRESS ON BOSTON COMMON, ON OCCASION OF OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL GUARD DAY, ON SEPTEMBER 16—POINTS TO ACHIEVEMENTS OF ORGANIZATION AND ITS BENEFITS TO CITIZENS SINCE ESTABLISHMENT IN EARLY COLONIAL DAYS—URGES READINESS AND PREPAREDNESS FOR WHATEVER DUTY MAY CALL.

On the occasion of the observance of National Guard Day, on Boston Common, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

We have assembled to pay honor to the National Guard in Massachusetts, and I must say that the weather fits the occasion. The blue sky of this September day is superbly radiant and bright. Not less bright, but equally brilliant, is the record of the National Guard in this Commonwealth.

The two go well together! Roundabout us at this moment is only the beauty and peace of a lovely autumn day. Every thought of trouble seems far distant. One can scarcely imagine that a sudden need might arise, to call into this peaceful picture a force of men bearing arms—a body of troops trained and willing to do their duty and do it quick.

But let me remind you what happened almost exactly one year ago at this time. In 1938, the twentieth day of September dawned in every way as bright and fair as the conditions surrounding us now. There had been storm warnings in the telegraphic news, but there was no evident storm signal in the sky over Boston.

And then, late in the afternoon, the skies darkened swiftly. With a wild, unexpected rush, there came, as you know, the most dreadful hurricane which New England has known in modern times. With the storm-winds came the flood, along the seacoast and on the Bay State's inland waters.

GUARD IN ACTION.

Many persons were killed outright. Thousands of human beings, happy and comfortable an hour before, were cast in a twinkling into dire distress. Many were left homeless for the night and in grave danger for the morrow. In some cases, whole cities lay paralyzed—their public services disordered and broken, their lines of communication cut off from their neighbors.

If ever there was a time needing immediate response to human calls for help, that time came to Massachusetts, in September, one year ago. And the National Guard gave an immediate answer.

Instantly, at the Governor's call, the Guardsmen swept into action. By night-fall, and through the first hours of darkness, units of the National Guard were on their way to as many as twenty-five different communities, where our fellow-citizens were in the most urgent distress.

Motor trucks carrying Massachusetts National Guardsmen rumbled and pushed and drove their way over the roads—carrying cots, blankets, food and other supplies for refugees of the wind and of the flood.

Quickly in the downcast towns and cities, where local police were overwhelmed by the emergency, National Guardsmen took up their sentry posts, protecting lives, conserving property and standing watch against looters.

But it is needless for me to recall more of the story. Everyone of you knows it well. You know the great work that was done by the National Guard in the crisis and for many days and weeks after the storm had passed, and the waters receded.

Such recent events we all remember both vividly and with gratitude. I wish I could make equally vivid before your minds today the service rendered by the National Guard throughout a little more than three centuries since the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth. But every citizen of Massachusetts can be assured of one thing. He lives in a state whose military establishment has a record of honorable service second to none among all the states of the Union. Every citizen has a right to be proud of that record, whether it be told under the name of the National Guard as in recent years, or by the names State Guard and Massachusetts Militia under which earlier patriots mustered to the colors.

FIRST MILITIA.

As a matter of fact, our National Guard can trace its history as militia further than can be done in any other state. The story here begins with the first militia of Captain Miles Standish. Many regiments and companies at present in the National Guard took origin from the 17th and 18th centuries.

Notable among these are the 211th Coast Artillery, 104th Infantry, and 182d Infantry. The Coast Artillery regiment was originally formed in 1728 and ranks as the oldest militia organization in the United States. The other two regiments date back to the Hampshire County Regiment in 1663, and the North Regiment in 1636, respectively. Also their direct ancestors include the old train bands in service long before the Revolution.

The Massachusetts record of service on the field of battle includes all the wars of American History—the Indian Wars, the Revolution, the War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, Spanish-American War, Mexican Border, and the World War.

Faithful and brilliant likewise is the story of the National Guard in Massachusetts when called for active duty to meet domestic needs. In 150 years, the Guard has been summoned on 122 such occasions. These calls, you understand, did not come from causes of war, or rumors of war. The domestic appeals for help came in times of catastrophe and of civic danger. Most of them were for aid and protection required after the outbreak of great city fires, the coming of floods and in other emergencies, such as the hurricane that swept northward over Massachusetts one year ago.

And I wish to emphasize one fact especially. Of all the times when the Guard was called for domestic service in a century and a half, only on eleven occasions did the summons come on account of industrial disturbances or labor troubles.

IN WORLD WAR.

In the World War a Massachusetts National Guard regiment, the 104th Infantry, was the first to have its colors decorated with the Croix de Guerre, for valor, by the French Government. It is the only National Guard Regiment in the United States to be so honored.

Great, indeed, is the service the National Guardsmen from Massachusetts have given in war—in all the wars that the United States has ever fought. Great also has been the work of the Guardsmen to meet civil emergencies in time of domestic stress.

And one of the outstanding characteristics of service in the National Guard, as distinguished from the regular army, is the opportunity given to every man to rise through the ranks and become officers.

Indeed, the Guard draws its whole corps of officers from exactly that source. Every chance is given for progress, including arrangements for special school instruction under experienced military teachers.

And the life of the militiaman is not all comprised of hard work. Provision is made for enjoyable activities, which make for comradeship.

Many companies and some of the regiments run organized sports and competitions, basket ball, volley ball, rifle and pistol-shooting matches, football, etc. In many of the armories there are facilities for bowling, pool and billiards, etc., and many companies own their own pool tables, radios, etc. Many dances and socials are run by the various companies throughout the year.

The state organizes a rifle team every year to compete at the National Shoots; some units have week-end trips to the rifle and pistol range for practice and competitions; and many units go out on week-end hikes several times throughout the year.

There is fun and frolic, but the foundation is good, hard but interesting and instructive work; there is opportunity for advancement to the non-commissioned grades; there is something to learn; something to take and something to give—discipline, loyalty, health, comradeship, unity, and patriotism. A man should be better for a "hitch" in the National Guard of this state—better for himself, his employer, and his family. If he isn't, then there is something wrong with him and he should give himself a thorough, searching examination to see where he is falling down.

Such is the life combining normal health and happiness with calls to work-a-day duty, which is characteristic of the way America trains men even for the stern work of the military. That way of training is characteristic of the whole American way of life.

TO LIVE IN PEACE.

We wish to live in peace. We seek only our normal share in the good things of this world, and we are eager to see our fellow-men of all nations share equally in enjoyment of the good things normally provided for them, in their several countries, by the good God.

With these fair motives controlling us in America, we are surrounded by tranquil conditions, and we are determined to defend and preserve that tranquility.

But in this September, what is the news that comes here from Europe? Out of a sky that could have stayed bright, there has come the angry force of a hurricane more awful even than the worst tornado of nature. This time the hurricane is made in Europe by man himself—for the scourge of his fellow-man, though supposedly for his own profit, a profit which can only turn to bitter loss.

Here in America we cannot prevent or stop the warring conflicts of Europe and Asia, but we can and will prevent those continents from bringing their wars to the shores of the Western hemisphere!

For this work of home defence, the nation must stand ready—as ready to meet the call of need, even if it comes as unexpectedly as nature's hurricane came to Massachusetts one year ago at this time.

The National Guard answered the call in 1938, right here at home, and with equal force and speed I am sure they will answer whatever call may come in the future, whether in 1940, 1941 or 1942—whenever patriots are summoned to protect the nation's home and their own firesides.

Surely it is a worthy objective for any young man to take as his determined ambition—that he will be ready to meet such a call if and when one comes. The National Guard can greatly help him to be ready, and he can help the National Guard.

Let every able-bodied man enter into this partnership.

Upon September 9 the Mayor approved a contract with Frank J. Jacobs Company for granite block pavement in Central Wharf, from Atlantic avenue, 560 feet easterly, City Proper (P. W. A. Docket No. Mass. 1471-F, Contract 2), at an estimated cost of $4,975. The award is made to the second bidder, as Martin J. Kelly, the lowest bidder, made a serious error in computing one of the principal items in the proposal, and the work under this item could not be done at the price submitted; also he requested that his bid be not considered; in addition, the award to the Jacobs Company has been approved by the Regional Director, P. W. A. The work is to commence under this contract on a date to be specified on a written order from the Commissioner of Public Works and shall be fully completed within thirty consecutive calendar days from and including said date. The following bids were received:

Martin J. Kelly, $3,982; Frank J. Jacobs Company, $4,975; Rufo Construction Company, $5,090; Baker & Co., $5,090; A. Singarella, $5,205; C. Repucci & Sons, Incorporated, $5,328.33; S. J. WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following communications from court officials relative to the purchasing of supplies, etc.:

SUFFOLK COUNTY.

BOSTON, August 25, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I desire to purchase for the Suffolk Registry of Deeds forty-six (46) grantor indexes and eighteen (18) grantee indexes for the calendar year 1940, and respectfully request authority to dispense with advertising for bids on this work.

Thomas Groom & Co., now consolidated with J. L. Fairbanks & Co., has offered to furnish these indexes at the same price for which the contract was awarded to them last year, namely, forty-six (46) grantor indexes at $21.80 per volume, amounting to $1,002.80, and eighteen (18) grantee indexes at $20.50 per volume, amounting to $369, making a total of $1,371.80. The work of preparing and binding these indexes has been efficiently and satisfactorily performed by the Fairbanks organization for more than half a century.

I make this request to avoid unnecessary delay and to make certain of satisfactory workmanship.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM T. A. FITZGERALD,
Register.

BOSTON, September 18, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In accordance with your suggestion, I respectfully request the authority to continue the present contractual relationship between this court and Herbert E. Montgomery who transports the prisoners for us.

Recently, we were instructed that any contract in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000)—whether in an aggregate sum or whether it totals more than that sum in the course of a year—would have to be advertised for bids or the matter of advertising be waived through your Honor.

You will recall that I told you Montgomery takes these prisoners at so much per head per trip. This means that if he has to go to the Psychopathic Hospital with a prisoner he gets three dollars ($3). If he goes to the Psychopathic Hospital and the North Station he gets five dollars ($5), etc. In other words, this is a day to day proposition, although at the end of the year it totals somewhere in the vicinity of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or more and approximately fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) for the court officers' individual expenses.

Cordially and respectfully yours,

FRANKLIN W. L. MILES,
Justice.

BOSTON, September 18, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Recently there came to my attention a letter signed by the auditor reminding me of the necessity of advertising for bids on all items, the contract for which was one thousand ($1,000), or if the incidentals thereto made up one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more.

The only item except transportation that comes within that scope is supplies. That item has been running approximately twenty-six hundred dollars ($2,600). This year it will be about thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500) because of a one-thousand-dollar hangover from my predecessor's administration. This sum of money is spent for various and sundry items such as printed forms for the Probation Offices, Clerks' Offices—Civil and Criminal, stationery for all departments, and pencils, ink, etc. You will recall I suggested to you that should you prefer it, I shall be happy to direct that all supplies be purchased from the City Printing Plant, although on most occasions we find outside printers do it cheaper. For our own reference we are now requesting bids from three different concerns, including the City Printing Plant, on all forms with the purpose in mind of giving it to the one who can do it not necessarily cheapest but best—although cheapest too, if possible.

Cordially and respectfully yours,

FRANKLIN W. L. MILES,
Justice.

BOSTON, September 18, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—As you are aware, it is necessary for me to purchase supplies for the Registry of Probate and the Probate Court under the item known as D-1 in the budget. The principal expenditures from this item are for the purchase of blank forms of which we have approximately three hundred kinds. With such a variety it is very difficult, if not impossible, to anticipate the needs of the Bar, the Public and the Office in that connection and very often we find it necessary to order some items for quick delivery so that we cannot wait until our needs would amount to one thousand dollars.

We do not usually expend as much as one thousand dollars at any one time for the purchase of such blank forms and other supplies. I believe that if we were required to build up our orders to the one-thousand-dollar mark and advertise for bids such action would be likely to result (no matter how unintentionally) in over-purchasing. In the light of the foregoing, I respectfully request authority to dispense with advertising for bids for the purchase of supplies under budget item D-1.

This request is made under the provisions of chapter 156 of the Acts of 1939.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR W. SULLIVAN, Register.

Upon September 8 the Mayor approved a contract with John Deveney & Co. for furnishing trucks to the Transit Department. A communication from T. F. Sullivan of the Transit Department was as follows:

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 24, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On March 27, 1939, this department cancelled its contract with J. J. Benkert Company, for furnishing trucks for the Huntington Avenue Subway, because of failure to comply with the labor laws of the Commonwealth. The contract was taken over by its surety, the New Amsterdam Casualty Company, on the same date. This contract expires August 26, 1939.

The surety company employed John Deveney & Co. to furnish the necessary trucks at the same price as in the original contract, namely, $1.60 per hour per truck, including chauffeurs. The work of the Deveney Company has been exceptionally satisfactory. They have furnished first-class equipment and competent chauffeurs, and in every way have complied with the contract requirements.

The price per hour for five-ton trucks is the lowest ever paid by this department, and in view of the fact that the Deveney Company is thoroughly familiar with all our requirements, we respectfully recommend that a contract be awarded, without advertising, to John Deveney & Co. for furnishing five-ton trucks at $1.60 per hour, for the remainder of this work.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN, Chairman.

MALICIOUS SILENCE OF PAST.

In these days when more than ever we recognize that history, as Count de Maistre has said, has been for two hundred years a conspiracy against the truth, we are beginning to dissipate the malicious silence that has prevented the names of such heroes as Barry from receiving on our monuments and in our school books the glory that is rightfully theirs. Why is it that John Paul Jones who, after his magnificent defeat of the "Serapis," in 1779, never fought a battle for America, Jones who, while Washington and Barry were engaged in a life-and-death struggle for liberty, spent the last four years of the Revolution as an inactive social luminary at the French Court in Paris, striving to collect prize money, and who charged his shipmates (as Hamilton states in his "Life of Paul Jones") for his expenses during less than two years more than Washington did the people of the United States for his household expenses during the Revolutionary War; Jones, who fought only for his own aggrandizement and who, in 1776, stated "I am not in arms as an American"; Jones who, after the Revolution, abandoned his country and became a Russian Rear Admiral under the Czarina Catherine and served other countries until his death abroad, Jones, showy, theatrical and brave, is honored by having his name on the monument at Arlington and by a monument in the Naval Academy—while Barry, the Irishman, whose name is omitted in both places, Barry, the intimate friend of Washington, the trusted leader of the navy, the man to whom Washington delegated the most delicate and perilous of tasks, the man who fought to have Pennsylvania ratify the new Constitution; Barry, who, within ten years of his death, was proclaimed by Dennie, editor of the chief literary journal of the period, "The Port Folio," as the "Father of our Navy, and of whom Mrs. Reginald de Koven, biographer of John Paul Jones, has said that Barry had "the honor of being the first commander in the United States Navy"; Barry, who first carried the flag to victory, was the first captain of the first warship, captured the first British warship, appointed in the first entry in the first naval record book, who fought the last battle and fired the last shot—Barry, who died as head of the navy—is studiously forgotten except when those who love justice and hate iniquity rise to demand for him that honor which places him foremost among the heroes who dared to follow where Washington dared to lead.

Never was the unconquerable spirit of Commodore Barry so much needed as in these days of national unrest and international war. Across the seas great nations are again hurling at one another the engines of death and destruction. Here at home agitators who claim allegiance not to the Flag of this Republic but to foreign ideals and principles are insidiously seeking to undermine the American adherence to peace and to urge our nation once more to cast her blood and treasure into the seething cauldron of war.

NO STAMPEDE INTO WAR.

It must be remembered as George Washington has told us, that Europe has a set of interests entirely different from ours and that it is worse than folly to endanger our peace and security by involving ourselves in European trickery and caprice. As far as lies in our power we must not permit Americans to be stampeded by those interventionists who think more of foreign nations than they do of the United States. It should be our emphatic determination that, true to the memory of our heroic fathers, and our later patriots, who died in what was supposed to be a war to end war, never again shall American boys be uselessly sacrificed on foreign soil in a war that is not of our making. Let us here rededicate ourselves to the holy ideals that led Washington and Barry forward for the American Republic. Let it be our task to keep alive the traditional purposes of America, now in such danger of being obscured by those who for selfish personal or political reasons would place ambition or love of popular applause ahead of the peace and progress of their country. Let us have peace—peace with humanity, peace with ourselves. If we shall all bear in mind that the old American ideals of freedom and peace and individual opportunity are still the only principles that can lead this nation and the world back to concord, prosperity and sanity, the American people shall themselves find a new peace and happiness such as they have never yet known and the invincible spirit of John Barry shall not have lived in vain.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Marine Company has been granted an extension of the completion date of the contract awarded for repairing steam pumping engine at Calf Pasture pumping station to October 6, 1939. The date of completion specified in the contract is September 6, 1939. Because of the danger of heat distortion it was inadvisable for the contractor to proceed with the boring of the rocker-arm until all welding was completed. In addition, the new shaft is a special forging made specifically to Sewer Division specifications and took one month longer to obtain from the mill than a stock shaft. The extension of the contract will not result in any inconvenience to the public nor in any additional cost to the city.

N. Cibotti & Co. have been granted an extension of the completion date of the contract for sewerage works in Central Wharf (P. W. A. Docket No. 1471-F) to September 9, 1939. Construction of the overflow conduit will be completed before September 1, 1939, the expiration date of the first extension granted, but an additional nine-day extension is required to make minor adjustments and remove surplus material and contractor's equipment.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of roadway resurfacing in Washington street, the following rule is effective from 6 p. m. Saturday, September 16, to 12 midnight, Sunday, September 17, 1939:

Vehicles are excluded from the following streets:

Washington Street, Downtown Boston.
From Essex street to Bedford street.
Bedford Street, Downtown Boston.
From Harrison avenue to Washington street.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

REVISION OF ASSESSMENT.

The Mayor has approved the following order of the Board of Street Commissioners:

In the matter of the application for revision of assessment levied on account of the construction of sewerage works, the Board of Street Commissioners, acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken on said application,

Ordered, That the amount hereinafter specified, being the annual apportionment of said assessment for the year specified below, be, and the same is hereby, abated.

John M. and Anna A. Donlon, Ashland avenue, West Roxbury, lot 9, 1938 apportionment, assessed July 27, 1934, $21.30. (1935, 1936, 1937 apportionments abated by Board.)

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 384.

The annual ball of the Boston Police Relief Association will be held in the Boston Garden, Wednesday evening, December 6, 1939.

The proceeds of the ball, as all members of the department know, are added to the fund of the association and are used for the payment of sick and death benefits to members of the association and their families.

The proceeds of the ball, in late years, have fallen off while the payments of sick and death benefits have increased to such an extent that receipts from all sources have not been sufficient to meet the disbursements necessary to carry on the work of the association.

It is the desire of the Commissioner, the Superintendent and the Board of Directors of the association that all members of the force interest themselves and make a special effort to dispose of the tickets for the ball, and thereby make it such a success that the finances of the association will be put on a sound basis, so that the good work achieved by the association in assisting its members in time of sickness or death since it was organized in 1871 may be continued.

The tickets for the ball will be distributed to each station by the treasurer, Capt. John J. Mullen, Division 1, who will receive a receipt therefor. Captains of divisions will distribute the tickets to their officers and keep a correct list of the number of tickets given to each man. Each officer will make a daily return to his captain of the number of tickets he has sold, together with the name and the address of the purchaser, and will return the money received to his captain.

All officers will be held strictly responsible for tickets allotted to them.

Captains will collect each day all money received by officers in the sale of tickets and will forward to the superintendent by morning mail the following day all of such money. A correct list containing the ticket numbers, together with the names and addresses of purchasers of tickets shall be kept on file at the various divisions. In this way it is expected that a complete canvass of the city will be made and a substantial increase in the sale of tickets will be accomplished.

Cash received by commanding officers will be converted into a check, made payable to John J. Mullen, treasurer,

B. P. R. A., and then forwarded to the superintendent's office.

All tickets that remain unsold on December 5, 1939, will be collected by the captain of each division and returned to Captain Mullen who will furnish a receipt therefor.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 385.

Patrolman George J. Smith of Division 8 is hereby commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed on September 4, 1939, when he dived into the waters of Boston Harbor and rescued a small boy who had fallen through a hole in Fiske's Wharf.

The speedy and fearless action of Patrolman Smith saved the life of this youngster who was in imminent danger of drowning.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend Patrolman Smith for his courageous action in this emergency.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 386.

A trial board consisting of Captains Daley, O'Connell and Dunn, having heard by reference a complaint made by Thomas F. Casey, captain, Division 10, against Thomas F. Johnston, patrolman, Division 10, for alleged violation of the rules and regulations of the Police Department, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Thomas F. Johnston be suspended from duty for a period of ten days, effective as of September 15, 1939, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension he perform 420 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

"Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

MAYOR TOBIN PRAISED FOR LOWERING BOSTON'S TAX RATE.

BOSTON, September 11, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MAYOR,—I am taking this occasion to write you both as an individual and President of the Apartment House Owners Association. Too often it seems to be the inclination of our citizenry to criticize our public officials for conditions, and too seldom do we take occasion to compliment good service on their part.

I feel, however, that it should be recognized by all taxpayers of Boston that you have done a wonderful job, first, in so administering your office as to prevent an increase in the tax rate in Boston in this most precarious tax year; second, in the splendid record you have made in providing a reduction in the tax rate even though it be not so much as could be hoped for.

Accordingly, I feel that the occasion should not pass without expressions of commendation from organized interests as well as individual citizens of Boston, and on behalf of those members of the Apartment House Owners Association who are taxpayers in Boston, and on my own behalf, as owner and manager of considerable taxable property in Boston, I want to compliment your grand work and assure you that you are deserving of the gratitude of all.

With kind personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES A. MALLEY.

ALTERATION OF MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE.

The following communication was received from the Finance Commission:

September 1, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Recently the local office of the United States Engineering Service, War Department, made announcement that a public hearing will be held here on September 15:

"Upon the question of requiring the City of Boston to alter the Meridian Street Bridge across Chelsea Creek between East Boston and Chelsea."

Investigation by the Finance Commission has revealed that this announcement may be considered as the initial step in a matter which might eventually cost the City of Boston several million dollars. It may mean more than the construction of a single new high-level drawbridge at Meridian street. The cost of this alone has been figured by the Public Works Department at not less than three million dollars.

The Finance Commission has been unable to determine definitely just where the agitation for this new high-level Meridian Street Bridge at Boston expense started. The Manager of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce broadcast a circular the day after the hearing was officially announced in which he stated:

"One of the Maritime Association's Objectives for 1939 was to have the present Meridian Street Bridge, between East Boston and Chelsea, replaced by a modern structure. The matter was not allowed to rest, and as a result, it is gratifying to bring to your attention the attached copy of a notice of public hearing. . . ."

There has been gossip on the waterfront that the Navy Department is to establish a Federal oil farm on the upper shore of the creek. This kind of propaganda has preceded previous efforts to obtain permits for oil farms in this vicinity. No official confirmation of this gossip has been obtainable. The War Department Engineering Service, which has ordered the hearing, is apparently only interested in making the channel through the Chelsea Creek more easily navigable for any vessels that might have occasion to pass up the creek.

There has been a bridge from Boston to Chelsea at Meridian street for almost a century. In 1912 the city rebuilt a portion of the original bridge, and provided a new draw with a clearance of one hundred feet.

According to the announcement by the War Department Engineer, the Federal Government now requires a horizontal clearance of not less than one hundred seventy-five feet and a draw span located closer to the East Boston bank than the present draw. The official notice gives no suggestion of why such a material change is necessary.

Where the land along Chelsea Creek is occupied, it contains mostly oil farms providing local storage facilities for the major oil companies.

The Lighthouse Depot of the United States Department of Commerce is located on the Chelsea bank adjacent to the Meridian Street Bridge. Naturally, therefore, the bulk of the marine traffic in the creek has consisted of oil tankers.

The channel up the creek is tortuous, but has answered all the requirements of traffic to the oil farms.

The Meridian Street Bridge constitutes the shortest approach for Chelsea and Revere through East Boston to Boston. The main lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from these municipalities make the crossing here to enter the East Boston trolley tunnel. Persons desiring to walk from the inner end of East Boston to the Chelsea square section usually go by way of this bridge. Automobile traffic to a large extent has been attracted away from the Meridian Street Bridge by the wider highway and easier approach across the Chelsea Street Bridge, a mile easterly.

The Chelsea Street Bridge is an entirely new structure, opened within a year. The City of Boston received no help from Chelsea toward the financing of the bridge, though its day-to-day use is largely by residents of Chelsea and other municipalities in that general direction. Its cost was $700,000.

Like the situation with regard to the Meridian Street Bridge, the horizontal clearance for navigation through the Chelsea Street Bridge is one hundred feet. Within ten yards of this Chelsea Street Bridge, to the east, is a Boston & Albany Railroad trestle which has a clearance of only seventy feet.

The size of vessel desiring to go up the creek, naturally, is limited by the narrowest point of clearance. It may be said, therefore, that nothing more than an easier approach to the mouth of the creek is gained by widening the clearance at the Meridian Street Bridge from one hundred to one hundred seventy-five feet unless the clearance at the Chelsea Street Bridge is also widened from one hundred to one hundred seventy-five feet; and unless the Boston & Albany Railroad trestle is likewise changed to provide a one hundred seventy-five foot clearance.

In all three cases, to provide one hundred seventy-five foot clearance will mean entirely new bridges.

There has been some suggestion that the City of Boston might save expense by elimination of the Meridian Street Bridge altogether. This, naturally, would satisfy those who only seek a wider clearance for marine navigation. Because of other considerations, however, such as the fact that it is used by the main lines of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from Chelsea and, if eliminated, would leave but one crossing to the north from East Boston, the Finance Commission does not recommend the elimination.

It is plain that the high level bridge, necessary to meet the War Department order or the Maritime Association's agitation, is not required for any distinctly municipal purpose.

This agitation for a better directed channel and a wider bridge clearance is exactly similar to agitations from time to time with respect to land developments which aim to straighten out and widen highways.

In this Chelsea Creek situation it appears that the owners of the present oil farms located along the creek are the inspirators of this new project. Though it undoubtedly is desirable from a city standpoint to have a new structure replace this out-worn and out-moded Meridian Street Bridge, such a bridge as has now been suggested serves particularly a special interest—either the owners of the oil farms or the Federal Government.

The Finance Commission believes, since the wider clearance is ordered by federal authority, that the change should be made at federal expense. Therefore the Finance Commission recommends that the City authorities oppose the plan on any other basis with vigor.

It is rather significant that the Boston Port Authority, the official local agency which has advocated scores of port development ideas, has never mentioned the need of a wider clearance than now exists on the bridges in Chelsea Creek.

As Mayor, you have held strictly, up to the present time, to a policy of a refusal to accede to proposals to add to the municipal debt. It has appeared to the Finance Commission that you have been encouraged and supported in this determination by those who claim to have in mind the best interests of the city.

The Finance Commission urges you to enlist the support of these same people in an aggressive battle against the effort to impose this unwarranted new burden on the City of Boston. It would appear that those interested in such a harbor development should have sought Federal Government appropriation for it.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGURIE,
JOSEPH A. SCALFONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,

President MURRAY called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 2 and 3 on the calendar, viz.:

LEAVE OF ABSENCE FOR EMPLOYEES OF JEWISH FAITH ON JEWISH HOLIDAYS.

Coun. ROSENBERG and TAYLOR offered the following:

RESURFACING MT. PLEASANT AVENUE, WARD 8.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Mt. Pleasant avenue, Ward 8.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AUTHORIZATION FOR A NOTARY PUBLIC IN EACH WELFARE UNIT.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Director of the Public Welfare Department be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the authorization of one person in each welfare unit as a notary to take care of the certification of applications in connection with W. P. A. employment.

Coun. McMAHON—As I understand the situation when a W. P. A. employee is laid off under the thirty-day law, it is necessary for him then to become recertified. If he has to file a certificate of citizenship, he goes to the welfare unit. He is given the affidavit of citizenship and then he has to take that affidavit to a notary public and if he does not know of any one who is a notary public he has to go to some man who is authorized by the state to practice as a notary public and has to pay him a fee. Sometimes if he does happen to know a notary public, the notary public is located in a place where that W. P. A. employee must pay carfare to go to him. There isn't any reason that I can see for having such red tape and there isn't any reason that I can see why at least one employee of the City of Boston in each welfare unit could not be authorized by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to be a notary public. If that was done, then that affidavit of citizenship could be taken care of right away and the W. P. A. employee could be certified quicker and sooner and be able to get back on the pay roll sooner. I hope the order passes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Louis A. Allescio (referred August 28) for driveway opening at 117 Gladstone street, East Boston—that leave be granted.

2. Report on petition of Atlantic Refining Company (referred August 28) for driveway opening at 524 Warren street, Roxbury—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

SURPLUS COMMODITY STATION FOR WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a station for the distribution of surplus commodities in Ward 20.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED SET-BACK OF HOUSING PROJECTS ON PARKER STREET.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange, as proposed sometime ago, for a set-back of at least ten feet for the buildings to be constructed by the local Housing Authority along Parker street, in Ward 10, between Ward street and Tremont street.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, for many years there have been plans contemplated to widen Parker street and to make a so-called boulevard along there to Jamaica Plain. I think at the present time with the plans completed by the Housing Authority that certain space that would permit of the widening of Parker street some ten feet between Ward and Tremont streets should be considered by the Housing Authority. After these buildings have been constructed it will be too late. There will be no chance of widening Parker street and I hope this matter will be given the attention of the Housing Authority.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER OF LAND TO PARK DEPARTMENT.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the custody of the vacant lot bounded by Folsom, Hartley, Dudley streets and Howard avenue be transferred to the Park Department, the title to same having been foreclosed by the Real Estate Division of the Public Buildings Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. WILSON—I would like to submit an order orally, which I will submit in writing with reference to these housing buildings. An order was passed by the Council a couple of weeks ago to the effect that the Board of Assessors of the City of Boston in all fairness and equity should abate taxes on properties of resident owners in such districts as Charlestown where the city has been assessing them, we will say, at $3,500 and the Housing Authority by eminent domain proceedings has taken them at a figure less than that. It seems where the city is paying out a rock bottom price to the Housing Authority, and it is a technicality to say the city isn't doing it,—where the Housing Authority is paying out a rock bottom price, it seems to me the city should adjust taxes this year and deduct from that tax on a basis of the higher valuation. As I understand the message from the Mayor's office, he endeavors to point out where such abatements are desired, the individual owners must file for the abatement. Of course that is not so. As I understand the law, the owner as of January 1 this year has until the 15th of November to file a petition for abatement. If the ownership has changed during the year, as all these places have changed in ownership, the new owner has until October 1 or October 15, I am not just sure which, to ask for an abatement, and I again repeat that it seems to me a matter of ordinary equity that the Boston Housing Authority should file abatement petitions for any properties previously owned by resident owners in the Mission Hill and the Charlestown districts, for example, so a woman whose property has been assessed for $3,500 through the years and has been given only $2,500 for the little home, her deduction should be on the basis of the same valuation as was found in the sale; and so the order which I desire to offer at this time is that the Boston Housing Authority file abatement petitions for properties previously occupied by resident owners which have been taken through eminent domain proceedings.

HOUSING PROJECTS ABATEMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to file abatement petitions to reduce 1939 real estate valuation on each property taken incident to new housing projects to that valuation allowed in taking by the Housing Authority, so that any adjustment of 1939 taxes shall be on the basis of present market value determined by experts for the Housing Authority.

NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. WILSON it was voted that when the Council adjourns it be to meet again on Monday, September 18, 1939, at 2 p. m.

RESURFACE BREWER STREET, WARD 19

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Brewer street, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

The purpose of the meeting which was called having been accomplished the PRESIDENT declared the meeting adjourned.

Adjourned at 12 m., to meet on Monday, September 18, at 2 p. m.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No. 39

MAYOR TOBIN INFORMS EACH TAXPAYER JUST HOW THE BURDEN OF MUNICIPAL EXPENSES IS SHARED AND DISTRIBUTED—LETTER WITH EXPLANATORY TABLE IS INCLOSED WITH EACH TAX BILL MAILED SO THAT ALL MAY KNOW WHAT PORTION OF EXPENSES THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE CONTROLS AND WHICH HE DOES NOT, IN DETERMINING TAX RATE, WITH SUMMARY TABLES FOR COMPARISONS FROM 1930 TO PRESENT.

In order that the citizens of Boston may have some factual idea as to the tax burden they are carrying and the reasons for the distribution of this burden, Mayor Tobin has had prepared and has distributed with each tax bill sent out the following communication:

You, as a taxpayer, want to know how the tax rate for the City of Boston is determined, and how that tax rate has been distributed. The accompanying statements give you the answers as well as other important information related to the business of our City.

In dividing the tax rate for 1939 into the parts chargeable against the State, County, Schools and City, a process which has no legal effect but which is informative, it has been decided that the fair and equitable method of making the division is to take the total requirements for all these purposes, find the percentages that the gross requirements of each sub-division bears to the total, and apply that percentage to the tax rate declared, viz., $39.90. The previously published distributions of rates for 1930, 1937 and 1938 have been adjusted accordingly for comparative purposes.

Boston Tax Rates Distributed for 1930, 1937, 1938 and 1939.

	1930.	1937.	1938.	1939.
State Tax	$1 65	$2 98	$2 53	$4 85
County Tax	1 53	1 89	1 97	1 90
School Tax	8 52	9 00	9 18	8 41
City Tax	19 10	24 83	27 62	24 74
	$30 80	$38 70	$41 30	$39 90

The State of Massachusetts governmental expenditures are operated under what may be termed the "lodge system." The amount of the State tax included above means that out of every tax rate amount per $1,000 of valuation that Boston assesses, this amount is turned back to the State of Massachusetts. The State uses this amount, together with a proportionate share from every other city and town in the Commonwealth, to balance the State budget. The cities and towns are the "local lodges" and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is the parent organization which is kept in financial balance by assessment of its "deficit" on the cities and towns. The "deficit" for the year 1939 has been offset in part by the distribution of the State Highway Fund. The balance of Boston's share of the "State Tax" must be paid to the State Treasurer, even though Boston does not collect 100 per cent of its taxes.

Boston, likewise, pays all the expenses of Suffolk County, but does not receive all of the County revenue. This assessment is included in your tax bill under the "County Tax" shown above.

The "City Tax" includes all other expenditures, some of which are under the control of the Mayor and some of which are beyond the control of the Mayor as set forth in the following Exhibits.

This information is included with your tax bill this year to acquaint you with the fact that you are not only paying for the upkeep of the City government but also for State and Suffolk County governments and the Boston public school system.

The property valuation of Boston is the lowest since 1918. Despite this condition, the tax rate for 1939 is $1.40 less than that for 1938. Your share of this burden is based on a fair measure of the taxpayer's ability to pay for services rendered in the protection of life, property, health and general welfare of the citizens of Boston.

I am deeply appreciative of the fine spirit of co-operation which has characterized the efforts of all who have contributed in a common aim to reduce the tax rate in the City of Boston. Our efforts to control and keep within reasonable limits the expenditures of our City will continue. It is the only course that can be followed safely for the good of the City and its inhabitants. If no untoward factors arise in the meantime, I am hopeful that a continuation of a policy of careful scrutiny over all City expenditures and activities, will result in a still lower rate for the year 1940.

Cordially yours,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 23 the Mayor approved contracts for ready mixed concrete as indicated in the following communication:

Boston, September 20, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Attached please find summary of advertised bids on ready mixed concrete to be delivered to the Public Works Department. These bids were publicly opened and read in this department August 4, 1939.

I am in receipt of a letter, dated August 11, 1939, from George G. Hyland, Commissioner of Public Works, in which it is stated that the 1-2½-5 mix in this proposal is to be used as a base for the 1-2 mix. The commissioner points out that to award each item by low bidder would, in some districts, result in one contractor delivering the base, and another the top mixture, to the same location, with considerable attendant confusion and difficulty in arranging for the delivery of the required mixture at the desired time. The commissioner, therefore, suggested that this delay and confusion would be avoided, and the work more speedily completed, if contracts were awarded to the lowest bidder on the combined base and top mixtures for each district.

Therefore, I respectfully recommend that contracts be awarded to the lowest bidder by districts as shown on the summary. The amounts of these contracts will be as follows:

Crystal Concrete Company, $50,517.77; J. H. McNamara, Incorporated, $23,235.47; Boston Sand and Gravel Company, $3,907.75.

The proposal of the J. P. O'Connell Company has been rejected due to the failure of this company to submit a signed copy to the auditor's office before the date of closing.

Very truly yours,

JOHN A. BREEN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon dates as indicated in the accompanying letters the Mayor has approved contracts as requested for the reasons indicated:

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 18, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

Re: No. 946 and 962 — Fire Department.

DEAR MR. MAYOR, Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising to the Harry M. Condit, Jr., Company, 49 Federal street, Boston, Mass., for furnishing and delivering to the Fire Department twelve thousand eight hundred (12,800) feet of three-inch (3") No-Crete conduit and fittings.

As the Fire Department is in urgent need of this material in order to complete streets where trenches have already been opened, I have directed that informal quotations be opened for this material in order to avoid the delay attendant to public advertising. The informal quotations received were as follows:

Harry M. Condit, Jr., Company, $1,727.80; Graybar Electric Company, Incorporated, $1,767.80; Westinghouse Electric Supply Company, Wetmore Savage Division, unable to quote; Marshall Electric Company, bid sent, without response.

The total amount of this contract would be one thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven dollars and eighty cents ($1,727.80).

Respectfully yours,

JOHN A. BREEN,
Superintendent.

PROBATE COURT.

BOSTON, September 18, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—As you are aware, it is necessary for me to purchase supplies for the Registry of Probate and the Probate Court under the item known as D-1 in the budget. The principal expenditures from this item are for the purchase of blank forms, of which we have approximately three hundred kinds. With such a variety it is very difficult, if not impossible, to anticipate the needs of the bar, the public and the office in that connection and very often we find it necessary to order some items for quick delivery so that we cannot wait until our needs would amount to one thousand dollars.

We do not usually expend as much as one thousand dollars at any one time for the purchase of such blank forms and other supplies. I believe that if we were required to build up our orders to the one thousand dollar mark and advertise for bids such action would be likely to result (no matter how unintentionally) in over purchasing. In the light of the foregoing, I respectfully request authority to dispense with advertising for bids for the purchase of supplies under budget item D-1.

This request is made under the provisions of chapter 156 of the Acts of 1939.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR W. SULLIVAN,
Register.

The table shows the status of revenue bond acts and other enabling acts in the different states, the dates when the acts became effective, and whether or not cities have taken advantage of the opportunity offered for financing bonds by service charges. ORDINANCE CHANGE — REMOVAL OF SNOW.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith a proposed change in chapter 44, section 39, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925.

The attached communication from the Commissioner of Public Works indicates that the reason for this amendment is to prevent the indiscriminate placing of snow in city streets by owners of private properties, which is a cause of greater expense to the city and multiplies traffic impediments after a snowfall.

The proposed amendment will prohibit the placing of snow in city streets by private owners in the downtown section of the city, and I respectfully recommend passage of this proposed amendment by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston.
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Nine.
An Ordinance.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section forty-five of chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by striking out in the last three lines of said section the following words — place any ice or snow in a street, outside of the sidewalk, unless the same is made even at the time of placing — and substitute therefor the following words — "remove any ice or snow from privately owned property and place it in the street in that territory bounded by the Roxbury Canal, South Bay, Fort Point Channel, Boston Harbor; Charles River to Massachusetts Avenue by and including Massachusetts Avenue to the Roxbury Canal."

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 18, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Over a period of years this department has experienced difficulty in preventing owners and operators of gasoline stations and parking areas from removing snow from their property and disposing of it in the roadway area adjacent to their particular premises.

Very often the operators do not shovel the snow from their properties onto the public street until after the snow has been removed by this department. In such cases, in order to remove hazardous conditions caused by the piling of this snow outside of these locations after the rest of the street has been cleaned, we find it necessary to have men or equipment return to that location and remove the snow at the city's expense. Even if the operators of these stations dispose of their snow in the street before the normal volume of snow in the street has been removed, you can readily see that the City of Boston is put to the expense of removing and hauling the snow that was placed in the street by the operators of these gas stations and parking areas.

In order to correct these conditions and require the operators of these gas stations and parking areas in the intown district to remove the snow from their private property at their expense, I recommend that section 44 of chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 be amended by striking out the following words: "place any ice or snow in a street, outside of the sidewalk, unless the same is made even at the time of placing," and substituting therefor, "remove any ice or snow from privately owned property and place it in the street in that territory bounded by the Roxbury Canal, South Bay, Fort Point Channel, Boston Harbor; Charles River to Massachusetts Avenue by and including Massachusetts Avenue to the Roxbury Canal."

The clauses that I propose removing from this section are unnecessary, as they evidently were included in the City Ordinances in those days when no plowing of the streets was done and when the usual means of transportation was the horse and sleigh.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Referred to Committee on Ordinances.

SALE OF CITY-OWNED HORSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for the sale of not exceeding twenty-five horses, now the property of the Public Works Department.

The attached communication from the Commissioner of Public Works sets out the lack of necessity for maintaining the full complement of horses because of the more general use of motor vehicles in removal of ashes and garbage.

I concur with the proposal of the Commissioner of Public Works and respectfully recommend passage of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to sell at public or private sale to the highest bidder, and at such times as he may deem appropriate, one or more horses, not exceeding twenty-five in number, now the property of the Public Works Department

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 18, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—During the last several months on occasions when I have visited the barns used by the Sanitary Division of this department for the housing of horses, I have invariably found from ten to twenty horses standing in the stalls because of there being no necessity of working them on that particular day.

This factor, in addition to my opinion that the time has come when horses should not be used for street cleaning or ash and garbage removal work, except in those narrow alleys where it is impossible to operate a motor vehicle, is the reason why I feel that we should start gradually to dispose of the ninety-four horses now used by the Sanitary Division for the purposes of ash and garbage removal and street cleaning work. While it is not my intention to dispose of these horses all at one time, I feel that I may be able to enter into negotiations, within the next six months or year, with persons who might desire to buy one or more horses. The total sale price of some particular deal might possibly be in excess of $500, and because of this, I feel it would be best to receive the approval of the City Council for the disposition of these horses.

I respectfully request that an order be introduced in the Council, authorizing the disposition, by sale or otherwise, of twenty-five horses, by the Commissioner of Public Works, at his discretion, in whatever manner he deems advisable, to the best interests of the city.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRANSFERS TO H. RELIEF PROJECTS ITEMS IN LIBRARY DEPARTMENT BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the trustees of the Boston Public Library that the appropriation in the 1939 budget for W. P. A. projects is practically exhausted, and in order to carry on the projects now in operation, additional funds will be needed. Due to delay in the approval of new projects, there are surplus funds available in the appropriations for W. P. A. projects in the budgets of the Election and Fire Departments.

I am, therefore, forwarding herewith an order providing for the transfer of $2,000 from the H. Relief Projects item in the Fire Department budget, and $2,000 from the H. Relief Projects item in the Election Department budget, a total of $4,000, to the H. Relief Projects item in the Library Department budget, and recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Election Department, H. Relief Projects, $2,000; Fire Department, H. Relief Projects, $2,000, to the appropriation for Library Department, H. Relief Projects, $4,000.

COMMUNICATION FROM FINANCE COMMISSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, September 11, 1939.
The Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—At a meeting of the Boston City Council held on Monday, August 28, 1939, an order was adopted requesting the Finance Commission "to furnish the City Council with a copy of its report on the subject of the conduct of certain attorneys and doctors relating to accident cases treated at the Boston City Hospital."

The commission attaches a copy of the only formal report made on this subject.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT E. CUNIFF,
Secretary.

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, December 6, 1938.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston

Honorable Sir,—For the past few years the Finance Commission has made intensive study of practices and policies in vogue at the Boston City Hospital relating to its internal management. In this work the objective of the commission has been to help in placing the institution on the high plane of efficiency which its cost to the taxpayers merits and the aims of its sponsors intend.

Efficiency and economy in an institution of this size and character—where approximately 40,000 persons per year are treated—are important to successful operation. Of almost equal importance, however, is the necessity for a high moral tone to its administration. A let-down in the code of ethics of its various staffs will result in a lowering of public confidence in the service rendered by the hospital, and thereby give injury to the city.

The taxpayers have generously provided many millions within a few years for the rebuilding of the institution and for its maintenance. Therefore, they have a right to expect not only efficiency and economy, but a high moral tone as well.

At this time the commission desires to report upon a matter which relates principally to the moral tone of the institution. Primarily, it relates to a great extent to the ethics of hospital employees and staff members and to the ethics of persons in private capacity transacting business at the hospital. More specifically, this investigation relates to an abuse of the facilities provided by the hospital by a group of lawyers apparently aided and in conspiracy with hospital employees. This abuse has often been referred to as "ambulance chasing." Incidentally, it bears upon the finances of the hospital.

A misuse of the hospital facilities by employees or outsiders which those in charge of the hospital say they cannot prevent affects the moral tone of the institution. It necessarily weakens control of the institution by its appointed administrators.

The Finance Commission found that there was a general complaint among attorneys that in negotiating with patients for the opportunity to handle their legal affairs one particular group of lawyers was favored to the exclusion of all others at the City Hospital. The result was said to be that this group acquired attorney rights in an unnatural number of accident cases which had come to the hospital for treatment. In some instances it was charged that, due to unwarranted opportunities afforded and untruthful claims, the attorneys under charges attempted to take many cases away from attorneys who had already been hired by the patients, and in some instances were successful.

In the process of investigating this charge the Finance Commission found that the medical fraternity is also much perturbed by the existing conditions. Physicians complain that by the connivance of the favored group of lawyers and a particular physician on the staff of the hospital, medical cases have been taken from their custody under circumstances which suggested a breach of medical ethics. Physicians practicing privately point to the circumstances as another obstacle to their profitable practice which the gradual expansion of the City Hospital from an institution, as its charter stipulated, "for the poor of Boston" has caused.

The Finance Commission has found ample evidence in the records of the hospital and in interviews with employees that there is considerable truth in these charges. The records frequently reveal that the favored group of lawyers were able to interview patients and acquire the right to handle the accident cases which brought the patients to the hospital almost simultaneously with the beginning of medical treatment of their injuries. The commission also found testimony in the records in the cases of patients who had retained these particular attorneys that very frequently application was made to transfer the patients to the custody of a particular physician on the staff. Thereafter the patients became the clients of that particular physician to the physician's great profit. The evidence, therefore, points to "cribbing" by members of both medical and legal professions.

The hospital has set up rules and regulations intended to control the admittance of friends, relatives and others having business at the institution to the bedside of patients. It has been found by the Finance Commission that one particular group of lawyers generally ignored these rules and regulations. They customarily went about the hospital wherever their business called without impediment by any charged with the duty to enforce regulations. At times a patient lying on bed of pain, with injuries scarcely dressed, has suddenly opened his eyes to find one of these lawyers at the bedside making a proposition for the legal handling of his case.

The records and information at the hospital reveal that most attorneys handling cases of persons treated at the hospital arrive for conference or to obtain medical record of treatment usually some little time after the arrival of the patient, often a matter of weeks or months after. The favored attorneys, on the contrary, often arrive as soon as the ambulance deposits the patient in the accident ward. This gives rise to the suspicion that the ring of "tipsters" working with the "ambulance chasers" includes public employees not necessarily connected with the hospital directly.

That this situation is of no small importance to the hospital is apparent from the frequency of complaints in regard to it. It has been investigated before by other agencies, yet each time the investigation suddenly stopped without result and under circumstances which provoked suspicion of a fear to incur hostility of influential interests.

For instance: The Law Department of the City of Boston began an investigation two years ago. It had made little progress when the investigation stopped. Later a group contained within the medical staff began investigation. This aroused the ire of some medical authorities, and it was short-lived. Later members of the board of trustees indicated an interest to obtain the facts, but nothing came of it. The superintendent has stated he tried to do something, but was powerless. Insurance interests have also attempted investigation because of an apparent collateral interest of attorneys and physicians in the prosecution of claims against insurance companies.

The Finance Commission, therefore, deems it important to have the question settled now finally whether the hospital is to be run for private gain, with any and all permitted to organize and operate "a racket," or whether it is to be operated solely for the public good of the people of Boston as it was authorized by the Legislature.

As one illustration of the result of the foregoing conditions, the record of one firm of lawyers speaks volumes.

This firm has been retained to represent in settlement proceedings 117 persons brought to the hospital in the past twenty-two months. Members of the firm obtaining the 117 cases are principally those mentioned above as having the freedom of the institution. Employees gossip that any time one can steer a case to this firm there is a fee obtainable for it.

It is customary at the hospital to allow a patient who is paying his way to request treatment by a particular physician. By request of the firm of lawyers above mentioned, approved by the patient, medical care of the patient has been transferred to one particular member of the staff in twenty-eight cases. This frequent combination of lawyer and doctor has caused insurance companies to become suspicious of medical reports.

Private treatment of a patient at the hospital for private fee is a plum that often goes with membership on the staff of the hospital. In many instances it is legitimate and ethical. It becomes distinctly unethical when by connivance, by false claims, by innuendoes that a patient can obtain a more favorable medical report from one physician than from another, a case is taken out of the custody of the physician to whom it was orderly committed and transferred to another.

It is equally unethical when a lawyer through a show of some special favor at the hospital misleads patients into the belief that he alone can obtain favorable treatment or favorable report of treatment. Lawyers have informed the Finance Commission that the offending group have misrepresented themselves to prospective clients by claiming to be official attorneys for the hospital or the district in which the solicited client lived.

There has not been substantial loss financially to the city in these cases. However, in the settlement for hospital services, the offending lawyer group has again shown its imperviousness to rules and regulations at the hospital. The hospital charges a rate of $16 per week for ward patients who are residents of Boston. The rate for persons who reside outside of Boston is $27.45, and nonresidents of Boston are so billed.

When the offending group of attorneys come to settle the hospital bill they pay only the City of Boston rate regardless of where the patient resides. The amount of money lost by this, as above stated, is not large; but the fact that this practice has been allowed to become a custom indicates a lack of control of its own affairs by the hospital management.

The Finance Commission believes that the rules and regulations of the hospital are sufficient to cover such breaches of official conduct as are involved in the above mentioned proceedings. It is evident, however, that the rules are not enforced. Control of and needed correction of conditions in the hospital are well within the authority of the trustees and the superintendent.

The Finance Commission is cognizant that the complaints made by lawyers to the Finance Commission are properly also subject to inquiry of the bar associations. Complaints by physicians are properly subject to inquiry of the medical associations. The commission has no authority, under its authorizing statute, to make recommendations to those associations.

The commission has purposely pictured conditions existing at the hospital without giving the names of parties involved. The conditions can easily be remedied within the hospital administration.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVIS LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted a report on petition of Z. D'Alaia (referred July 10) for driveway opening on Eastern avenue—recommending that the permit be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN F. FITZGERALD.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, at a duly authorized meeting of the body, expresses its congratulations to ex-Mayor and Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, on the occasion of their 50th, golden wedding, anniversary.

Coun. NORTON—The Paul Revere of the Port of Boston, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, is celebrating his 50th wedding anniversary today. The Boston City Council, of which he is a former member, should unanimously congratulate him and Mrs. Fitzgerald. He is an outstanding civic leader who has given unselfishly of his time to his native city since he was a young man. When but a boy, he was left fatherless and motherless, in Boston's North End, where he lived. Instead of allowing his younger brothers and sisters to be separated, he fathered the flock and kept them together and has been their guide and protector ever since. His illustrious daughter, Mrs. Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, wife of the American Ambassador to London, the mother of nine beautiful children, was born at No. 2 Garden Court street in the North End, and is one child of Boston that we should be proud of. Few women of the world have received the world-wide publicity that she has in the past few years and fewer still have measured up as she to the highest of traditions. Boston is proud today of John F. and Mrs. Fitzgerald and proud of their illustrious daughter, Mrs. Joseph Patrick Kennedy, who has journeyed from Europe to be with her parents on this glorious occasion.

Adopted under suspension of the rule.

COMMENDATION TO THE DIES COMMITTEE.

Coun. CHASE and WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council extend its warm commendation to the Dies Committee for its excellent work in exposing subversive un-American activities in this country which would tend to undermine the very foundation of our democratic form of government.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORTING SALES OF TAX TITLE PROPERTY IN CITY RECORD.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of reporting in the City Record all sales of tax title property made since such sales were referred to the Council for approval, and thereafter the reporting of sales of tax title property monthly in the City Record, giving in each case the date of sale, the location of the property, the amount owed to the city, including interest and costs, and the sale price.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I think it is about a year ago the orders for the sale of tax title property were referred to the City Council. Since that time the matter has been handled by a city tax title real estate man. We have had no knowledge as to what he has accomplished, how many parcels have been sold and what prices the city has been getting. The City Record is the customary method for giving notice of what is being done in the city. Whenever any purchase is made it is recorded in the City Record. The transactions in the city in general are recorded there. I think there should be included in the Record the sales of these city properties, particularly now, since there is no record anywhere of the sale except in the office of the city tax real estate representative.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the members of the Boston City Council that the members of Congress, at its coming special session, be requested to vigorously oppose any entrance by this country into any foreign entanglements or in any other controversies that might lead us into the present European war.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, practically every member of this body can well remember the anguish and heartaches suffered between the years 1914 and 1918, during which time this country was on the verge of being or actually was a participant in the World War. We all know nothing was gained in this country through its participation in that conflict. As was well said yesterday by a member of the United States Senate, it would be a fine time to have this country get into the present European strife because of the great unemployment. However, let us be all the more on our guard at this time. We all remember only too well what went on between 1914 and 1918 and what has been going on since that time, with hospitals filled with maimed men and women who, through courage and patriotism, felt it was their duty to shoulder a gun and go to the field of battle. It has been my observation to note they are constantly at strife in Europe. Let them have their troubles and take care of themselves. We are in a peace-loving country, thank God, and let us stay here and mind our own business.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

IMPROVEMENT TO STREETS IN WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include the wires on Jerome street, Ward 13, in his underground program for 1940.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalks, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, in front of numbers 10 and 12 Jerome street, and at 35 Cushing avenue, Ward 13.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Cushing avenue, Ward 13, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Upham avenue, from Cushing avenue to Hancock street, Ward 13, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

The several orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

COMPLYING WITH SANITARY REGULATIONS BY COLEMAN DISPOSAL COMPANY.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately contact the Coleman Disposal Company, which has the contract for collecting garbage in the Dorchester district, to see that they comply with the sanitary regulations with reference to having their trucks covered, as, under the present method of collection, these trucks are a menace to the health of residents in the communities through which they travel.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I just want to say a word with reference to that order. Undoubtedly, contractors who are receiving awards for the collection of garbage, ashes and other contracts that are awarded were the lowest bidder in connection with the work to be done; but in performing their work they are supposed to carry out the terms of the contract, and I believe in the City of Boston we are particularly zealous in protecting the health of the people of our community. I believe the Board of Health is doing everything possible to preserve the healthful conditions. But it seems as though the Coleman Disposal Company is unable to afford to cover their trucks with canvas covers in order that the debris and the stench from the collection of the garbage is kept from the citizens and the pieces flying all over the communities through which these trucks are traveling; and I trust the Coleman Disposal Company may be brought to the task of seeing they keep their trucks covered in order that the health of the citizens of Boston might be protected.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INSTALLATION OF TRAFFIC LIGHTS AT BLUE HILL AVENUE INTERSECTIONS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested to confer with his Honor the Mayor for the purpose of devising ways and means for the installation of traffic lights, particularly at the intersection of Blue Hill avenue and Glenway street, Blue Hill avenue and Woodrow avenue, and Harvard and Morton streets, Ward 14, in order that automobile accidents to pedestrians may be alleviated at these locations.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPT AND LAY OUT ASHMONT PARK, WARD 16.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Ashmont park, Ward 16, under the W. P. A. type of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON VAN WINKLE STREET.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a sidewalk along both sides of Van Winkle street, between Caruth and Bushnell streets, under the W. P. A. type of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF SOCIAL LAW LIBRARY WITHOUT ANNUAL FEE BY MEMBERS OF BAR.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with appropriate courthouse officials and take such steps as will provide that the facilities of the Social Law Library, housed in the Suffolk County Court House, be available to members of the Bar without the payment of an annual charge of twenty dollars.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in the several counties of Massachusetts where the Superior Court holds its sessions, there is available a law library. This morning I was in Lawrence and there is a law library there available for attorneys who practise in Lawrence, and there is a similar library so far as I know in every Superior Courthouse in the state. With one exception, those law libraries in common with the Boston Public Library, the law library in the Federal Building in Post Office square, the law library in the State House, are available for the public or lawyers at any time. With one exception, they are all as any public library should be, whether technical books or fiction are desired and are open to the public without charge. Of course, the one exception is the Social Law Library in the Suffolk County Court House, which is housed rent free in the Suffolk County Court House,— neat free, light free and everything free with reference to its operation. A charge, however, is made, I understand,—I have never made use of it myself—of $20 a year to such members of the Bar as might care to use it. That is not only unfair to the less prosperous members of the Bar in Suffolk County, but unfair to lawyers from outside of Suffolk County who, incident to the trial of cases in the courthouse in Pemberton square, may need a quick access to law books. There is no rhyme nor reason in the present set-up, or the set-up of past years, why the Social Law Library in the Suffolk County Court House should have a twenty-dollar membership fee for those lawyers who may desire to hurriedly go to this library on a question of law, and I think it is high time that that library be placed in line with the law libraries in other county courthouses in Massachusetts and this twenty-dollar charge be wiped out.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I think there is some rhyme or reason for the charge. My recollection from the budget is that the city appropriates one thousand dollars a year for the operation of the Social Law Library. Now, obviously it cost a lot more than that for the present service in the library and also for the purchase of the periodicals and law books as they come out, and the decisions of the courts as they come out, and the fees that lawyers pay for the use of the library are the moneys used to pay for those books and if they didn't get it that way, they would have to get it out of the City of Boston by a larger appropriation.

Coun. WILSON—I, of course, cannot deny the statement that it costs money to run the Suffolk County law library as it does to run the Boston Public Library, and a great deal more money than the libraries in the various courthouses throughout the Commonwealth, but I still believe there are certain things which the public should have reason to expect they should have the use of without any annual charge, and I think one of those things is the use of public libraries, whether the Boston Public Library in Copley square, or this business library down in the alley next to City Hall, or the law library up in Pemberton square. I don't know any reason why that library, just because there has a custom grown up, should be on any different basis than the law library on the fourth floor of the State House on Beacon Hill. I think that is one of the things that the public should expect to get even if it does cost the taxpayers a little more money.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I think this question is rather interesting and I would like to have the representative of the Social Law Library and also the Budget Department come here and say how much it would cost the City of Boston to operate that library and thus relieve the library of the necessity of charging a fee.

President MURRAY—If no objection, the matter will be referred to the Executive Committee and the clerk will notify the representative of the Social Law Library and the Budget Commissioner to come here at our next meeting.

INFORMATION REQUESTED FROM HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to parcels of real estate located in the four sites to be occupied by government housing projects at Charlestown, South Boston, Mission Hill and Lenox street, Roxbury, giving in the case of each parcel:

1. The name of the owner assessed as of January 1, 1938.
2. The name of the owner assessed as of January 1, 1939.
3. The address of the parcel.
4. The assessed value January 1, 1938.
5. The assessed value January 1, 1939.

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to prices paid or agreed to be paid for parcels of real estate in the four sites to be occupied by government housing projects at Charlestown, South Boston, Mission Hill, and Lenox street, Roxbury, reported to total two million dollars, giving in the case of each parcel:

1. The name of the seller.
2. The address of the parcel.
3. The price paid or agreed to be paid.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, perhaps with a narrow view point I have never yet been quite sold the idea there is anything sacred about the proceedings or the records of the Boston Housing Authority, although apparently down through the past couple of years their proceedings and their records for some reason are as mysterious and secret as the records of the Welfare Department which have always been secret down through the years for a much more obvious reason. There have been disagreeable stories concerning the takings of property in the four housing projects now about to be constructed and there have been disagreeable stories with reference to alleged favoritism shown in the purchase prices paid for parcels of real estate having the same assessed value down through the years. I realize the preparation of this particular material may take somebody a reasonably short time, or a long time to take out, but it should not take a very long while. The purpose of the two orders is, of course, quite obvious. I desire to urge that we have a right to find out, not for our own information, but for the information of the property owners in all the districts affected and for the information of the people of Boston. We have a right to ascertain from the Assessing Department first of all the address of these various locations, who was the owner on the first of January this year and what is the assessed value each year, because there have been stories there have been changes in ownership, either above board or under cover, because there have been stories there have been changes in assessed valuations which may or may not be true. The second order is directed to the Boston Housing Authority to obtain figures for purpose of comparison and that endeavors to ascertain information which I feel the Boston taxpayers are entitled to, namely, the location of the various parcels, and there are not so very many years of them, the name of the person from whom the purchase was made, and the price paid. I quite agree with the Boston Housing Authority in its statement that as a matter of policy they of course should give no information out prior to the actual taking by eminent domain. I can appreciate the reason for that, but I fail to appreciate why the Boston Housing Authority now that the takings have been made in four great sections of the city and with all the undercurrent talk there is, should not for its own sake desire to lay the cards on the table and everything being above board, to convince the public of the City of Boston that the takings in these various sections were wholly on the level and the prices paid did not mean 90 cents to Paul and 110 cents to Joseph. I think the taxpayers of Boston are entitled to the information and I for one, believe the non-disclosure of facts and figures by the Boston Housing Authority has reached the stage where it becomes a matter of public suspicion. I don't know why the Housing Authority should feel that it stands in a space removed and on a higher plane than anybody else—as though it was sacrilegious for them to disclose to us what is paid for a location, the money that was paid, what the rental was going to be, and I urge that the Mayor—and he has the authority with the Housing Authority—that he support the passage of this order and that he tell the Housing Authority, everything being as it should be, that the figures in this case be disclosed in detail.

Both orders passed under suspension of the rule.

PLEBISCITE ON EXTENSION OF FEDERAL HOUSING PROJECTS IN BOSTON.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to advise the City Council of an intention to comply with request of the Boston City Council contained in order passed on June 5, 1939, for a plebiscite for a referendum which will permit the voters of Boston at this year's city election to express approval or disapproval of further extension of Federal low-rent housing in Boston.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, as of course you are aware, I most frequently have gotten along very nicely with the present Chief Executive of Boston and I have no reason to assume I would do otherwise, because I believe he is endeavoring to do a good job. On the other hand, I do again press this order which was passed by a vote of 15 to 3 as long ago as last spring on this highly controversial subject as to whether or not there should be an extension of Federal housing, low-rent housing, tax-free housing in the great City of Boston and I may be one of those who believes that the citizens of Boston are not only of average intelligence, but undoubtedly of a little over average intelligence, and after all they are the ones most interested. They are the ones to decide so long as a city election is imminent, whether or not they are in favor or against an extension of this Federal housing in the City of Boston supplementing the five projects already authorized without any vote or approval directly on the part of the people. I understand there is to be at least one referendum on the ballot and possible more and I think, in fairness to the taxpayers of Boston, in fairness to the residents in these various sections that have been taken, in fairness to the American citizenry of Boston, we should rely on them sufficiently to permit them to speak out for themselves this coming November as to whether or not they favored an extension of public housing in Boston. I think they are entitled to be given that opportunity especially because the opportunity to be afforded them won't cost $100 more to obtain to the taxpayers of Boston. We are having ballots printed. They are very short ballots,—for School Committee and Council,—no mayoralty fight and it would not cost $100 more for the present Chief Executive of Boston and those members of the Board of Directors of Boston who will be back next year to find out from these six or seven hundred thousand people of Boston, the 340,000-odd voters, just how they feel on a subject which some of us feel will eventually mean the financial bankruptcy of the city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF INDOOR FACILITIES IN BUILDINGS WHERE FEDERAL COMMODITIES ARE DISTRIBUTED.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to contact the W. P. A. authorities and arrange for the use of the indoor facilities of all buildings where Federal commodities are distributed so that recipients may be permitted to remain indoors during inclement weather while waiting for the issue of their commodities.

Coun. LANGAN—While that order is directed generally to all commodity stations throughout the city that have facilities to house individuals who seek surplus commodities during the inclement weather, it is directed with particularity to the commodity station located in the Jamaica Plain section of Boston at Elm street where the City of Boston owns a building, a three-story building, and commodities are distributed on the first floor and there are on the second and third floor sufficient accommodations to place the people, when raining and snowing outside, while waiting to receive the commodities from the station.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION TO REDUCE OR ELIMINATE DEMAND CHARGE ON WATER BILLS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare and submit to the next session of the Legislature appropriate legislation to reduce or entirely eliminate the 35-cent demand charge on water bills.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, in the last year or so I have received so many complaints from certain people and different people of my ward where they would receive their bills during the summer months and would be down to the beach and wouldn't be back for two or three months afterwards and would go back and have their water bill with 35 cents demand imposed upon them. Their bills may run from $10 or $15. They are not kicking about their bills, but they are kicking about the technique, the 35 cents the City of Boston Water Department imposes upon them. It is an act of the Legislature, as I understand it, to have this imposed upon them, so I have instructed Corporation Counsel to draft the necessary legislation to repeal this bill and have the 35 cents wiped out, and I hope the Council will pass this order.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPT AND LAY OUT CUSHING STREET.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Cushing street, Ward 20, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS AT EAST NEWTON STREET AND HARRISON AVENUE.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at East Newton street and Harrison avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS AT HARRISON AVENUE AND DUDLEY STREET.

Coun. McMAHON and TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at Harrison avenue and Dudley street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACE GILBERT STREET.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to resurface Gilbert street, Ward 18, with smooth pavement as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REQUESTED FROM BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to promptly advise the City Council, in accordance with order passed May 1, 1939, whether a 2 per cent commission has been paid to persons obtaining signed options on parcels of real estate incident to plans for new housing projects.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT BY COUN. CAREY.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

There being no objection Coun. CAREY made the following statement:

Mr. President, earlier in the session today I introduced a resolution putting this Body on record as opposed to the entrance by this country into any foreign entanglement. In your fair judgment the resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules. I therefore would like to request that it meet and report back on that resolution on Monday next, or at our next meeting, because I know of no more important matter facing the people of the United States today than the question, whether or not we should go to war. From my personal observation we do not want to go to war. I think it might be most opportune for the committee to report back at the next meeting of this Body.

FURTHER REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of the Skating Club of Boston (referred today) for driveway opening on Telford street and Western avenue—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

Adjourned at 4 p. m., to meet on Monday, September 25, 1939, at 2 p. m.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1939.

NO. 40

MAYOR TOBIN OPPOSES PROPOSAL OF WAR DEPARTMENT ENGINEERING SERVICE TO HAVE BOSTON BUILD NEW BRIDGE AND DRAW SPAN OVER CHELSEA CREEK AT MERIDIAN STREET—REFUSES TO ALLOW $3,000,000 EXPENSE ADDED TO CITY OF BOSTON TAXES BY SUCH EXPENDITURE, THE BENEFITS OF WHICH WOULD GO TO A SMALL COTERIE OF OWNERS OF OIL FARMS AND REAL ESTATE ABUTTING ON CHELSEA CREEK.

The following is a statement from Mayor Tobin on the matter of the proposals of the United States Engineering Service, War Department, relative to a compulsion of the City of Boston to alter the Meridian Street Bridge across the Chelsea creek between East Boston and Chelsea. Hearing on the question had been called for September 15 at the office of the United States Engineer Office.

The efforts of the Public Works Department of the City of Boston, the Finance Commission, the Municipal Finance Committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Bureau of Municipal Research to block the issuance of an order by the War Department that would compel the City of Boston to spend at least $3,000,000 for a high level bridge at Meridian street, East Boston, and possibly follow this up with a similar expenditure at Chelsea street, East Boston, have my heartiest indorsement.

The City of Boston is in no position to finance such an undertaking at the present time and also in my opinion such a project is not necessary to provide a safe and convenient waterway in the Chelsea creek.

Two Points Raised.

There are two important points in connection with this matter that have not been brought to public attention. The first is that the proposed War Department order requires not only a bridge such as has been described, but the construction of a draw nearer the East Boston shore, over what is now really shoal water. The Federal Government has just spent over $600,000 in deepening the channel as it now exists and the present location of the draw naturally is over this channel.

The location of the draw nearer the East Boston shore as the order contemplates would mean that the money spent in deepening the present channel would be entirely wasted, since the deepened channel would not be usable. It would necessitate another heavy expenditure by the Government for a new channel.

The second point is that many of the oil farms along the shores of the Chelsea creek are located beyond Chelsea Street Bridge and the Boston & Albany Railroad trestle. If the improvement to be obtained by the larger clearance is to be available to any but the few oil farms situated between the Meridian Street Bridge and the Chelsea Street Bridge, it would be necessary not only for the City of Boston to tear out the present new Chelsea Street Bridge and substitute another and larger expensive bridge, but it would force the railroad company either to eliminate entirely its own connection between East Boston and the mainland or spend $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 on a new railroad bridge. There is a strong possibility, according to local representatives of the railroad, that rather than spend that large sum in a new bridge, the Boston & Albany would simply abandon its railroad facilities in East Boston.

The wastage of the $600,000-plus which the Government has already spent on the creek would be a serious thing for the Federal Government. The loss of the facilities now provided by the Boston & Albany in East Boston would be a serious handicap to East Boston.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY PARKMAN, JR., AT REQUEST OF MAYOR TOBIN, PREPARES TO FIGHT NEW RULE OF DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES INCREASE OF GAS RATES TO SMALL CONSUMERS — ISSUES STATEMENT EXPRESSING SURPRISE AT NEWS OF INCREASE, ESPECIALLY WHEN MAYOR HAS TURNED TIDE OF RISING TAXATION AND HAS BROUGHT TO THE COMPANY A SAVING BY REDUCTION OF THE TAX RATE — CALLS INCREASES INOPPORTUNE WHEN SMALL USERS ARE HAVING HARD TIME MAKING INCOME STRETCH OVER LIVING EXPENSES.

The following is the statement of Henry Parkman, Jr., Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, re decision of Public Utilities Commission granting increase in rates of Boston Consolidated Gas Company:

I regret the decision, and am disappointed by the action of the majority in substituting even higher rates for small consumers than the company asked for. We fought the case in their interest and fought it hard, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Lewis H. Weinstein is entitled to great credit for the vigor and intelligence with which he represented the consumers. It is hard to surmise what considerations motivated the majority in reaching the strange conclusion that most of the small users of gas whose bills will be increased are apartment house dwellers receiving a "substantial income." If that is so then 170,000 families in Boston have substantial income, because 90 per cent of the company's customers use less than 3,500 cubic feet of gas a month and will have increased rates as a result of the commission's decision.

Mayor Tobin's protest and objection have, however, succeeded in effecting substantial savings to the consumers as a whole. Assuming, as the decision states, that the company will receive additional revenue of $400,000 annually, this is still $755,000 a year less than the increase which the company sought when it filed its original petition in January, 1938. Because of the city's objection to the type of rate originally filed, the approved rate omits penalty provisions that would have imposed an annual charge of $125,000 upon consumers who did not pay their bills on time. Finally, because of the city's objection, consumers have already saved two million dollars in the past year and eight months.

The decision is disappointing in many respects. It follows, almost blindly, a 1936 decision which practically invited the company to ask for an increase. The commission talks of the rights of "stockholders of the company," forgetting that the only stockholder of the company is Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates which has numerous inter-company transactions with the Gas Company. The commission fails to make any findings as to the cost to the parent company of the gas which it sells to the Gas Company. The purchase price of this gas amounts to approximately one half of all of the expenditures of the Gas Company, and a decrease of one cent per thousand cubic feet would mean a difference of $120,000 a year to consumers.

While the decision concedes that the city is correct in its contention that the company has been improperly charging losses in the sale of appliances and of gas for house-heating purposes to the general residential users of gas, it fails to establish the amount of such losses so that consumers might properly be credited with these amounts. In addition, the Department of Public Utilities is granting this increase at the very moment that Mayor Tobin has turned the tide of rising taxation, and has brought about in 1939 alone a saving to the company of, roughly, $40,000 by the reduced tax rate. The company thus receives more from consumers and pays less to the city. The commission also neglects to take into account the fact that an increase in gas rates intensifies competition with other fuels and is likely to lose consumers for the company.

It is comforting that the decision of the commission is not unanimous and that the dissenting opinion of Commissioner Webber gives weight to many of the city's contentions. There is some satisfaction in the statement made by Commissioner Webber that he is not convinced ". . . that full consideration has been accorded to the position of the city either in point of law or in fact."

The increase in gas rates is particularly inopportune at a time when the great majority of small users of gas have a constant struggle to make income stretch over living expenses and when many of them are on city welfare rolls and W. P. A.

LOYALTY DAY PROCLAMATION.

ISSUED BY MAYOR MAURICE J. TOBIN, OF BOSTON.

Whereas, The moral and religious concepts of the civilized world are being threatened by ideologies inimical to progress in matters that are worthwhile; and

Whereas, Into the hands of the churches, synagogues, and houses of worship all the moral and spiritual values necessary to the preservation of civilization are and have been rightfully entrusted; and

Whereas, More than ever before there is needed a revival of a deep and sincere reverence for God, who is the Father of us all; now therefore, I, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 30th, and Sunday, October 1st, 1939, as Loyalty Days, in the City of Boston. I also urge all our citizens to unite in the observation of these loyalty days, repairing to churches and houses of worship of their customary attendance, there to meditate, dedicate and reconsecrate themselves to those deeper things of the spirit we all know to be so essential to the well-being of society by which we have come to know the everlasting truth of the Brotherhood of Man and the Fatherhood of God.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Boston to be affixed, this 28th day of September, 1939.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

ACTING MAYOR MURRAY DISCUSSES DUTIES OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF CITY OF BOSTON AND POINTS TO ACHIEVEMENT OF MAYOR TOBIN IN HIS ADMINISTRATION OF CITY'S AFFAIRS TO DATE—IN BROADCAST OVER STATION WAAB, ON SEPTEMBER 30, THE ACTING MAYOR POINTS WITH PRIDE TO ACHIEVEMENTS AND SAVINGS ACCOMPLISHED, THEN PREDICTS GREATER RESULTS FOR REMAINDER OF TERM AND A BETTER CITY FOR FUTURE AND BRIGHTER DAYS—SAYS HE IS PROUD TO BE A PART OF MAYOR TOBIN'S ADMINISTRATION.

Upon September 30 Acting Mayor George A. Murray delivered the following address over Stat WAAB:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

As Acting Mayor of Boston, during the absence of his Honor the Mayor, it is my great privilege to have this opportunity to speak to the citizens of my city—and for that privilege I extend my sincere gratitude to the officials of Station WAAB.

Our Mayor, Maurice J. Tobin, has been in Chicago for the past several days in an effort to secure the American Legion Convention for Boston for next year. In the accomplishment of this purpose our Mayor has performed a great municipal service. I believe it needless for me to explain to the citizens of Boston the importance of a great national convention in our city. Such a convention not only acquaints thousands of visitors with the attractions our city holds, but it is a vehicle which brings to us material benefits on a large scale.

It is estimated that a convention of the size of the American Legion will spend during its sojourn within our limits approximately fifteen millions of dollars, which means that hotels, shops, stores, restaurants, and almost every kind of commercial activity in our city will benefit to some degree. When we consider that the prosperity of our commercial enterprises is a barometer which gauges the prosperity and comfort of our citizens, and stability of our city government, we can well appreciate the importance of attracting here the kind of conventions which take with them pleasant remembrances of our city and which leave behind them material evidences of their stay.

MAYOR AS SALESMAN.

In the attracting of conventions our present Mayor has proved himself an able salesman. It is no easy task to prevail upon a large group of representative persons, members of some organization or society, to come to our city. Like private corporations which are constantly competing with each other for the public's favor your public corporations—cities—are competing with each other each year for this lucrative convention business. Many cities which do not have the limitations which are placed upon our own, are able to offer inducements to convention groups which are difficult to combat. However, since our present Mayor has been in office we have been able to not only compete with some of these other large cities, but able to bring to our city the kind and character of conventions which mean so much to the lifeblood of the city and its people.

I don't know whether the efforts our Mayor is making in this respect are known to the people of Boston. Certainly, he has left no stone unturned to make this the premier convention city of this country, thus bringing into our city moneys that might have gone elsewhere. It has meant that he has been forced to travel to other cities at times when he was physically and mentally in need of rest and relaxation. It has meant extolling the virtues and attractions of our city against the similar arguments to other cities. It has meant the organizing of all interested groups in Boston so that we might put on a common, cooperative front for the good of all the city. It has meant being a high-grade, high-pressure salesman in addition to the other multitude of duties which are part and parcel of this job as Mayor of Boston.

As Acting Mayor of our city, during absences of the Mayor, I know the great amount of work which a Mayor must daily face. I know the pressure that is exerted from minority groups who seek more than their rightful share of consideration. I know the number and variety of problems that originate in the various city departments and the amount of work that must be done by a Mayor to keep the wheels of the city government grinding smoothly and efficiently. If I may be permitted to say so, I believe the position of Mayor of Boston—for a man who is sincerely desirous of doing a good job—is one of the most arduous, most nerve-wracking, most time-consuming positions in all the long list of public offices. Of course, if the individual who is Mayor is inclined to take the easy way—to let things drift along—and to keep to a middle-of-the-road course—the position of Mayor is not too difficult. But a Mayor who does that in times of stress and emergency is not doing his full duty by the people of his city.

FULFILLING OBLIGATIONS.

I am happy to say that the present Mayor of Boston is fulfilling his obligations in a manner which deserves the approval and commendation of all citizens regardless of political faith and affiliations. I did not come here tonight with the purpose of eulogizing the present Mayor. I believe his actions and his accomplishments in office reflect the energy and the capacity with which he has approached his many tasks. But I certainly would not be honest with myself nor would I be honest with the people of Boston did I not—as Acting Mayor—give full meed of credit and approval to the splendid efforts of our Mayor in keeping our city sailing smoothly over a troubled sea which has capsized many other cities whose chief executives failed in their obligations.

I am proud to have been an official in an administration which has brought the city government of Boston to a point where once again it is on stable footing. I am proud that in this administration, under the present Mayor, and under the present City Council, there have been no scandalous happenings—there have been no extravagant outlays of the people's money—and there has been no suggestion of shady dealings. I am proud that I have been part of an administration which has had enough thought and consideration for the taxpayers of our city to so manage city affairs that the tax rate for 1939 is reduced by one dollar and forty cents per thousand of valuation. Not much, you might say, but certainly the very best evidence that this administration and its officials are mindful of the duties imposed upon them, and mindful of the necessity for providing some relief to the taxpayers of our city.

The greatest boon to any city—the greatest attraction it can have to bring to that city the business and commercial pursuits which provide employment and assume a share in the tax burden—is a well-conducted, efficient city administration whose main officials are known for their integrity and respected for their efforts. Boston is a great metropolitan city. We have close to eight hundred thousand residents, but we have a day-time population of close to two millions of people. We are the commercial center of the great New England area and from our city radiates the beams of good or bad government.

We are surrounded by many smaller cities and towns—offshoots of the mother city—but who contribute nothing to our cost of government. As large cities in this country go, we are the smallest in area. In other words, we are a very small big city, with all the costs of maintenance of a big city but with the avenues of receipts of a small city. Consequently, if we are to progress and to hold our own as a major city in this country, if we are to continue as the great metropolitan center of the Northeast we must adopt measures and follow a program that will insure the future solidity and stability of our city.

That means we must not blindly rush our city government into projects that are beautiful in their anticipation and perhaps of great value in their object and purpose. We must not enlarge our obligations or expand our commitments so that we choke off at the source the opportunities our city has to go forward slowly, surely, and with confidence in the future.

Under the present city administration, our city government has justified the faith of those who believed in it from the start. There have been contractions along the line. There have been economies practiced which were long overlooked. There has been instilled in the minds of the people of our city that this present city administration has no other ambition but to give honorable and acceptable service to our citizens. In short, the present city administration—if it has done nothing else—has turned the city government around and away from the dangerous roads that were leading to financial collapse back onto the roads that will lead us to financial security as a city.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is not meant to be a political speech. I have no reason to laud or praise the present Mayor of our city—other than to give open approval to a public official who has done a good job, and who will, in my opinion, continue to do a good job. I have differed with the present Mayor in the past and will most likely differ with him again in the future. But there is one thing I cannot differ with him on, and that is this, that he is trying every hour of the day to make Boston a better city than it was when he took office.

It is the great American right to criticize those who hold high public office. I receive my share of it and every man who takes an important post must expect that fair and unfair criticism will come his way. I do, however, lose patience when I hear persons, not fully informed of all the facts, direct unfair criticism towards the present administration, of which I consider myself a part. As Acting Mayor of this city during the past year, I have been close enough to see the wheels go round, and I know that those wheels would not go round smoothly and continuously unless somebody at the head was directing the operations. Our city spends eighty millions of dollars a year. We employ over sixteen thousand persons. We feed, clothe and shelter over twenty-five thousand families. We maintain hospitals, institutions, fire and police protection, and do all the other things which every large city must do. I think we have done them well. I think this city administration has done them better than many other administrations of the past. I am not pleading for your public approval, but if you think so, too, why not tell us so? We need boosters in Boston. We need to work together—all of us—for a better city of the future. Boston is on its way to greater heights—to greater accomplishments—to brighter days. The going may be hard for a few years, but we are on our way to a finer city. I am glad to have had the opportunity to contribute my little to that advance, proud that we have an able and conscientious chief executive, proud to have had this opportunity, as Acting Mayor, to publicly pay my respects to a fine Mayor of this fine old city we all love and revere.

Thank you, and good night.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 25, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the State Commissioner of Public Health in which he requests that an appropriation of seven hundred dollars be made available to meet the contribution required of the city under the provisions of chapter 54 of the Resolves of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine in connection with an investigation of the mosquito nuisance in the Charles River Valley. Ordered, That the sum of seven hundred dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated to meet the contribution of the city required under the provisions of chapter 54 of the Resolves of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine in connection with an investigation of the mosquito nuisance in the Charles River Valley, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

PRIORITY OF TAX PAYMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the City Collector relative to your order of July 31, 1939, concerning the allowance of the persons owning property upon which the city holds a lien for taxes, to make payments to clear up the tax lien rather than to compel them to pay first all taxes assessed subsequent to the lien.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Collecting Department, September 16, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mayor Tobin,—Referring to memorandum from your office dated July 31 regarding an order from the City Council as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the City Collector to allow persons owning property upon which the city holds a lien for taxes, to make payments to clear up the tax lien rather than to compel them to pay first all taxes assessed subsequent to the lien."

Because of the legal questions involved, this matter was referred to the Law Department for an opinion, and I quote in part from their reply of September 9:

"The manner in which the statutes provide for the set-up of tax title accounts and the certification of subsequent taxes to them, and the method provided in section 62 for redemption indicate a legislative intent, that for the purposes of redemption, the tax title account, in toto, is to be considered as a unit.

"If the taxes for the year for which the property was sold, with interest, charges, etc., were paid first, the lien for that year would be at an end, and the taxpayer could insist on a release, which, when put on record, would extinguish the rights of the city under the tax deed.

"If subsequent payments were not made and it became necessary to foreclose there would be no tax deed outstanding to form the basis of a foreclosure proceeding under chapter 60. Even if no release were actually given and a foreclosure proceeding was based on a tax deed of a year for which the tax had been paid, a taxpayer might argue that this deed, representing no outstanding lien, was a nullity, and, therefore, could not form the basis of a foreclosure under chapter 60.

"It is proper for the treasurer to apply installments, if he wishes, to the tax of the year for which the property was sold, providing that some small balance is left so that the lien for the year for which the property was sold is not extinguished. This would still leave a valid tax deed upon which foreclosure proceedings could be based, if that became necessary.

"As shown by the statutes quoted above, the Legislature has undertaken to deal with this whole subject, and the practice of the treasurer in the past seems to have been in accordance with the legislative intent.

"Consequently, it is my opinion that neither you nor the treasurer are required to follow the procedure suggested in the order of the City Council, and that it would be unwise for you to do so."

Respectfully yours,
MERRITT THOMPSON,
City Collector.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM FINANCE COMMISSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, September 20, 1939.
The Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am inclosing herewith copy of report which the Finance Commission addressed to the local engineering representative of the War Department with respect to Meridian Street Bridge, East Boston.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT E. CUNIFF, Secretary.

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, September 20, 1939.
Col. A. K. B. Lyman, United States Engineer,
Office, 31 St. James Avenue, Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Finance Commission has been requested by Mayor Tobin to express directly to you as the local engineering representative of the War Department the views of the commission with respect to the question of requiring the City of Boston to alter Meridian Street Bridge, East Boston.

The Finance Commission is a part of the government of Boston and is authorized by statute to investigate and report upon matters of expenditure, etc., such as this.

At the outset the commission desires to take issue with the statement made repeatedly at your recent hearing on this Meridian Street Bridge proposal, principally by the manager of the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce, and by speakers introduced by him, that the only considerations in the situation are the convenience and safety of the watercraft which make use of Chelsea Creek.

There are other considerations which are paramount to each of these. One is the ability of the people to pay for such a change as has been recommended to you. The second is the desirability of the specific proposal that has been made.

The Finance Commission is aware that the War Department has jurisdiction over navigable waters and can order such changes in the waterway as, in the opinion of the War Department, are necessary. Even the War Department, however, is an agent of the people and should, except in cases of emergency, have consideration for the interest of the people as a whole.

It has not appeared that there is any national emergency in this situation. It is wholly a matter of private interest. Therefore, before the War Department exercises a power that is intended primarily for use in national emergencies, and orders clearance of such magnitude that, in order to comply, it is necessary to eliminate entirely a bridge crossing that has been in existence for almost 100 years, or to spend upwards of $3,000,000 to provide another type of bridge, the effect of its order upon those who will have to pay for it should be very carefully inquired into.

In this particular case the Finance Commission seriously questions whether public convenience or public safety requires elimination of the bridge, or construction of a new one with 175 feet horizontal clearance.

Along the banks of the Chelsea Creek, the large oil companies have established oil farms. There are more on the Chelsea side than on the Boston side. There is no prospect of any other industries on either shore. Presumably the owners of these oil farms acquainted themselves with the difficulties of making approach to their properties by water before they established the oil farms. Though it is admitted that approach through the present draw and channel has been difficult, it is apparent from the records of the history of the creek that shipping craft conducting business in the creek has been able to navigate the passage.

The principal excuse now offered for the change is that some of the oil companies are building larger tankers and it is doubtful that these larger tankers can pass safely through the draw of the Meridian Street Bridge. It should not be expected of the City of Boston that every time an abutter on the creek wants to increase the size of his vessels, the City of Boston should build a new bridge or provide a larger clearance; or that on this limited waterway the city should build a bridge capable of passing the largest ships afloat.

In this particular situation the City of Boston has not so much at stake as has the City of Chelsea. Yet, apparently, your proposed order to provide a horizontal clearance of 175 feet is directed against the City of Boston which owns and maintains the present draw and the major portion of the remainder of the bridge. The Mayor of Chelsea has stated that his city cannot contribute to the expense and there is no way by which Chelsea can be compelled to pay until the period of grace named by you is two thirds over.

The statement was made at your recent hearing by the Secretary of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce that a particular group of land speculators are responsible for the recent agitation for a new bridge and that these speculators have an ulterior motive. The speculators named by him own a considerable amount of land in East Boston. They owe the City of Boston hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes, some of it running back for ten years or more. They have often been charged in East Boston with having throttled natural development in that section.

The Finance Commission is cognizant that the present low level bridge and draw at Meridian street needs attention. The draw foundations are not secure and, as was stated at your hearing, in the event that a passing vessel struck the draw a substantial blow, the draw might be put out of commission. This is something that might have happened any day since the present draw was built in 1912. The Public Works Department is responsible for the statement that there has been only one major accident in the draw between 1912 and 1939, during which time there has been passage of approximately 413,000 vessels and many of these ships were well over 300 feet long.

Obviously, the present draw must be put in safe condition. It does not appear to the Finance Commission that the danger of a major accident is so great that the bridge should be eliminated. Nor does it seem justifiable to compel the city to expend the large sum of money which would be necessary to erect a high level bridge with 175-foot clearance.

The chivalrous offer of the Chamber of Commerce of Chelsea and the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to do without the bridge should not be taken too seriously. Rather, should your board give heed to the opinion of the City of Boston officials that a bridge at this point is necessary. It is significant that the parent organization of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Directors, authorized a representative to place the Boston Chamber of Commerce on record against your proposed order; and that the Bureau of Municipal Research also send a representative to oppose it. The city authorities and the civic organizations which keep continually informed of municipal needs are united in this matter.

To substitute any other means of crossing for the trolley cars of the Boston Elevated Railway Company from Chelsea to East Boston would mean substantial expense and might not be agreeable to the elected officials of the City of Chelsea.

A recent traffic count was made under the auspices of the City of Boston and it was found that over 30,000 persons crossed the creek on the Meridian Street Bridge in one day. The actual count of vehicles, passengers, and pedestrians in one day on the Meridian Street Bridge and on the Chelsea Street Bridge which the Maritime Association and the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce claim can handle efficiently the whole traffic is as follows:

MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE.
	Units.	Persons.
Passenger cars.....	5,311	10,091
Trucks.....	1,613	2,581
Buses.....	4	80
Horse-drawn vehicles.....	36	43
Street cars.....	450	16,270
Pedestrians.....		1,299
Total.....	7,414	30,364

CHELSEA STREET BRIDGE.
	Units.	Persons.
Passenger cars.....	5,113	9,715
Trucks.....	1,917	3,067
Buses.....	1	20
Horse-drawn vehicles.....	12	14
Street cars.....	72	1,250
Pedestrians.....		390
Total.....	7,115	14,456

The Chelsea Street Bridge cannot possibly absorb safely and efficiently all this traffic. Such a plan would require almost the entire re-layout of the Chelsea section bordering the creek, including provisions for elevated car lines, etc.

The improvement proposed is only one of many urgent projects before Boston for consideration. To order this particular one now arbitrarily will work a hardship to Boston and to Chelsea.

The city authorities have shown evidence of full knowledge of the condition and a realization that the draw when used must be in safe condition. They should be allowed to make permanent improvement when it can be done conveniently to the finances of the city.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, September 21, 1939.
To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council.

Gentlemen,—A short time ago the City Council adopted an order requesting the Finance Commission to report to the Council what, if anything, had been accomplished by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital in regard to the recommendations made by the Finance Commission in December, 1938, pertaining to the abuse of city hospital facilities commonly described as ambulance chasing.

In reply the Finance Commission desires to submit to you the following copy of a statement presented to the Commission by the trustees of the City Hospital.

It may be stated further that the commission discussed this situation at great length with the trustees in conference and that the commission is satisfied that an endeavor is being made to put an end to the abuse complained of.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

Statement of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital.

On November 28, 1938, the senior staff of the Boston City Hospital recommended that no patient be transferred from one service to another until seen in consultation by the chief of both the service transferred from and the service transferred to. This was recommended by the staff in order to make it impossible for lawyers to select doctors to care for their accident cases. This regulation has been put into effect.

On December 1, 1938, the Boston Finance Commission called attention to the activities of certain doctors and lawyers engaged in actual solicitation of legal work at the Boston City Hospital.

On December 12, 1938, the trustees of the Boston City Hospital reported the matter to Mr. Willard B. Luther, chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Boston Bar Association and requested in this communication that the Bar Association take such action as it deemed proper. Mr. Luther was supplied with a copy of the original report submitted as the result of investigation by the Finance Commission and also memoranda on certain other cases.

On December 12, 1938, the trustees voted that no attorney or claim adjuster shall be permitted to interview any patient without written request of said patient or in case the said patient is unable to make this request, his or her nearest relative shall write the same. In visiting the patient, an executive of this hospital must accompany the claim agent or attorney.

On December 15, 1938, Mr. Willard B. Luther, chairman of the Grievance Committee, in a communication addressed to the President of the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital acknowledged receipt of the letter of December 12, 1938, with its inclosures. Mr. Luther informed the trustees that the lawyers mentioned in the report concerning the Boston City Hospital were already under investigation.

During the same interval the trustees conferred with the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, and the latter office made exhaustive investigation involving a large number of cases. The trustees have advised Mr. Parkman that he may make the results of his investigation available to the Grievance Committee if he deems it advisable to do so.

On May 12, 1939, there was enacted by the Legislature an act prohibiting employees and other persons connected with hospitals from furnishing certain information about personal injury cases to attorneys at law or their representatives and making changes in the law relative to runners, etc. Copies of this new law have been forwarded to all executive assistants, instructors in the School of Nursing; posted in conspicuous places in the hospital; visiting men and all others have been made familiar with this new law. The Department of Public Health has already furnished us with printed copies, which are being placed framed, in prominent places throughout the hospital.

Staff doctors, resident doctors and nurses have all been instructed to report at once to the administration any irregularities which were noticed. No lawyer has permission to interview any patient except upon the written permission of the patient himself. No patient is allowed to be transferred from one service to another without official consultation between the doctors in charge of the services involved. Every safeguard has been thrown around the patients. It will of course be appreciated that where patients are allowed two visitors between 2 p. m. and 3 p. m., and one visitor between 6 p. m. and 6:30 p. m., this meaning some 3,000 visitors daily, it is impossible for the hospital to identify conclusively every visitor.

It will also be realized that information concerning injured individuals who are brought to the hospital must be made available immediately to many departments. Reports of these accident cases are also telephoned at once to Police Headquarters by the police officer who is assigned to the Accident Floor for the purpose of making out official police reports for the Police Department.

The distribution of this information is necessary to the operation of the hospital and for the benefit of friends, relatives and the authorities. Every attempt is made to see that it is kept within the proper channels.

RESURFACING MT. PLEASANT AVENUE,
WARD 8.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of September 11, 1939, concerning the resurfacing with smooth paving Mt. Pleasant avenue, Ward 8.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 20, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works resurface with smooth paving Mt. Pleasant avenue, Ward 8.

This will advise you that this street is on an approved W. P. A. project and it is expected that work will start sometime during the month of October.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

WILLIAM C. KELLY SQUARE.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the square in East Boston erroneously named William J. Kelly square by an order of the City Council April 17, 1922, be named and hereafter known as William C. Kelly square, in honor of William C. Kelly, who died in France on October 25, 1918, in the service of the United States in the World War.

ENTERING AGE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to permit children who have reached the age of four years and six months on or before the first day of October, 1939, to enter the kindergarten, and those who have reached five years and six months on or before the first day of October, 1939, to enter the first grade of school.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, the Boston School Committee this year voted that children in order to be admitted to the kindergarten must reach the age of four years and six months on or before the first day of September of this year, and those to enter the first year of the grammar school must reach the age of five years and six months on or before September first of this year. I believe that this act is working a hardship on a large number of children who ordinarily could be obtaining a year's schooling and training. Prior to this year children were admitted sometimes up to November 1st when they reached the age of four years and six months and five years and six months, respectively, in the first year school. I am also informed that a large number of the classrooms at the present time are half empty and the teachers have only a handful of children in the kindergarten classes and surely one month's leeway being given so that children who have reached the age of four years and six months on or before the first of October would in no way work a hardship and would give a large number of children who today have to be taken either to private schools or kept at home an opportunity to attend these schools. In this way I believe a great deal would be done for the advancement of these children rather than have them stay around home for a year. I trust the School Committee will reconsider its act so children may enter school.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President MURRAY called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor September 18, 1939, of William F. Nyhan and John J. Foley, to be Constables, without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bonds.

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor September 18, 1939, of George R. Gorman, to be a Weigher of Coal, and Henry S. Kettendorf, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Sullivan and Irwin. Whole number of ballots 13, yeas 13, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

APPOINTMENT OF ADDITIONAL INVESTIGATORS IN WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of immediately appointing additional investigators in the Welfare Department in order that applications for W. P. A. recertification may be expedited.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, since the heavy lay-offs on W. P. A. started around the first of July, I believe each and every member of this Body has been besieged by people asking for assistance in being investigated and recertified for W. P. A. employment. The work seems to be accomplished very slowly due to the fact that sufficient help is not available in the units of the Welfare Department. However, the investigators are constantly on the spot, due to the fact that those who are desiring investigation and recertification cannot understand why it takes so long. A great many of these people are men with families and widowed mothers and others who must be put back to work without delay. I therefore would like to have the Mayor give serious consideration to this order and if possible immediately appoint several investigators so these investigations may be made without further delay.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I had intended introducing a similar order and there is in the Dorchester unit of the Public Welfare three girls who are checking the cases of those persons who come in to be recertified. They are doing everything possible to take the applications for recertification. One of my constituents in my district informed me that in view of the large number of people who have been going down to the unit, he had to return on four different occasions before his application was taken,—twenty cents car fare each time he went there,—and I feel that everything possible ought to be done to expedite the condition that is existing throughout the various units and if a similar situation like Dorchester is being experienced in other sections of the city, every possible means should be taken to relieve the situation.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. KERRIGAN, the Council voted at 2.30 to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order at 3 p. m. by President MURRAY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred this day) for appropriation of $700 in connection with an investigation of the mosquito nuisance in the Charles River Valley—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

2. Report on petition of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers Association that certain minor children appear at the Boston Garden, October 14 to 21—that permit ought to be granted.

Report accepted; said permit granted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Hersey Manufacturing Company (referred this day) for driveway opening at E and Second streets—that leave be granted.

2. Report on petition of the Fifty Associates (referred this day) for driveways opening at Elm and Friend streets—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; permits granted under usual conditions.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston, for the month of September, 1939.

Report accepted; said order passed.

INCREASED ALLOWANCE FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Director of Public Welfare to investigate and report to the Boston City Council, whether or not the budget tables now used in computing allowances for families on public welfare are reliable in view of recent increases in prices of foodstuffs occasioned by the war situation.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, I filed this order as a result of many people coming to me who are now on the welfare rolls requesting that they be allowed an increase in their welfare allowance. It stands to reason that if two persons are permitted somewhere around $6.65 a week and there is a sudden increase in the prices of food, that that particular allowance is not enough. Now, when you take into consideration that condition, plus the fact that sometime ago the people were notified that instead of getting their milk in the W. P. A. commodity station for two cents a quart, they now have to pay five cents a quart, you can realize that perhaps the money that is allowed to the welfare recipient is certainly not enough to allow them to get by and to meet all the various bills that they have to meet. I would simply like to ask through his Honor the Mayor that the Executive Director of the Public Welfare go over his table of allowances to the various families and see if there is not something he can do in the way of increasing their allowance in order to help them during these days of profiteering, excused, perhaps, because of some sort of an uncertain situation. You know and I know that every time something happens on the other side of the world big business men here take advantage of it and the only people who really suffer from it are the people here who can hardly stand any increase in the cost of foodstuffs. I certainly hope this order passes and I certainly hope the Executive Director of Public Welfare will find some way of increasing these public welfare allowances.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ERECTION OF MUNICIPAL BUILDING IN WARD 12.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of erecting a municipal building in Ward 12, either as a P. W. A. project or otherwise.

Coun. TAYLOR—I must again rise on the floor of the Council to ask his Honor the Mayor if he won't provide the ways and means for the purpose of promoting and protecting the health of the people of my district. We are the one district in the entire city that has not a municipal building. We are the one district that has practically no playgrounds and as a result the children of my district are forced to play on the streets and in doing so many have been killed and injured by the traffic that is on the street. In the event that anyone in the district, adult or children, desires to go to any municipal building for either physical or mental culture, he must travel a great distance to other districts, and we feel that our district has been neglected long enough, and although I appreciate the fact that it will cost money to do so, nevertheless the city is run not for profit, but to promote the health and welfare of the people of the city and I honestly believe that the people of my district are entitled to some of the advantages that are being offered in other sections of the city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPINION REQUESTED ON LEGALITY OF "BANK NIGHT."

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with an opinion as to the legality of conducting so-called "bank nights" in the theatres of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT TO STREETS IN WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Austin avenue, Ward 13, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Downer avenue, Ward 13, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor to accept and lay out Annapolis street, Ward 13, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

BARRING TRUCKS FROM PLEASANT STREET, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to bar trucks from the use of Pleasant street, Ward 13.

SCREENING WINDOWS OF GYMNASIUM IN ROSLINDALE SQUARE.

Coun. LANGAN and LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the screening of the inside of windows of the gymnasium of the Municipal Building in Roslindale square, to permit the use of the building for softball games.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUIREMENTS FOR EXAMINATION FOR SOCIAL WORKERS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Director of Civil Service with a view to having him reconsider the requirement calling for two years' paid experience for persons who desire to take the forthcoming examination for the position of social worker in order that any person having experience of three months or more may be permitted to take said examination.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, as I understand it, around the 25th of October an examination will be held for social workers here in Boston. Last year the Legislature passed an act giving full authority to the Civil Service Commission to write up their own examinations the best way they saw fit. It was stipulated that a requirement for this forthcoming examination would be two years' experience. In the City of Boston at the present time, for the last year, there is in the vicinity of forty or forty-nine people who are now temporarily employed by the City of Boston as social service workers. These people are forced to take the examination and on this examination coming they have only worked one year with pay experience, so that will knock them out automatically. I hope this Council sees fit to pass this order and that the Mayor will confer with the Legislative Agent, or the head of the Civil Service Commission and readjust the requirements.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHELTER AT BEACON AND ST. MARY'S STREETS.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a shelter station at Beacon and St. Mary's streets, Ward 21; said shelter for the protection of Elevated patrons during inclement weather.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STAIRWAY AT CITY SQUARE.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the City square area to determine the possibility of extending the stairway to the sidewalk level for the safety of persons using this terminal.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SAFETY ISLAND AT HENLEY, PARK AND WARREN STREETS.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the construction of a safety island at the junction of Henley, Park and Warren streets, Ward 2.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BEAUTIFYING COLUMBUS AND HUNTINGTON AVENUES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to sponsor a W. P. A. project whereby two main arteries leading into the heart of Boston, namely, Huntington avenue and Columbus avenue, will be beautified by the planting of appropriate trees.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, other large cities throughout America have adopted measures of beautifying streets by the planting of young trees and I see no great reason why Boston could not adopt similar measures. The streets referred to in the order unquestionably are two of Boston's main arteries, yet they are devoid of any beautification. All one sees on the streets are macadam highways, with concrete sidewalks and brick buildings. Obviously, trees planted along these highways, will decidedly improve the appearance of these two main arteries and I sincerely hope his Honor the Mayor of Boston will urge the Park Commissioner to do something about this matter.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 3.15 p. m., to meet on Monday, October 2, 1939, at 2 p. m.

Charlestown School Center—Elizabeth R. Teaffe, associate manager-in-charge, Sept. 7, 1939.

Dorchester School Center—Margaret M. Higgins, associate manager-in-charge, Sept. 7, 1939.

Michelangelo School Center—John A. Scanga, manager, Sept. 7, 1939.

South Boston School Center—John P. Connaughton, manager, Sept. 7, 1939.

Approved.

Boston Home and School Association—Emily M. Woodbury, special manager, Sept. 7, 1939.

Approved.

Mr. Lee: How is the work of the Home and School Association progressing?

Superintendent: We made considerable progress last year. I haven't had a report this year.

Mr. Lee: At the time of the appointment last year, I said I would like to urge Mrs. Woodbury to work in forming new associations. As I said before, I could see no reason for not having an association in every school.

Chairman: How often does she report?

Superintendent: Every month, and I see her oftener than that.

Mr. Lee: I think it should grow to be every school building. I think before Thanksgiving it should be every school district, and then I would like to have it every school building.

Superintendent: I don't think you would get satisfactory results on that proposition. I have said that before, but I may be wrong.

Mr. Sullivan: I like the idea of having the associations, but I don't think we can do too much to force them.

Superintendent: We have been increasing them, but Mr. Lee's point is every single building. If you have five schools in one district, you wouldn't want one in every school?

Mr. Lee: Except that the parent does want to meet the teacher of her children.

Mr. Sullivan: Couldn't you have sub-committees for each school in the district?

Mr. Lee: I think that could be satisfactory, just so long as it is really covered.

COMMENDATION OF SERVICES RENDERED BY CHAIRMAN SMITH

Mr. White made the following statement:

Following the conference of the School Committee held on Aug. 22, 1939, Chairman Henry J. Smith issued a statement to the press which it seems to me should be embodied in the minutes of the School Committee.

May I read that statement now. "I have decided not to be a candidate for reelection to The Boston School Committee. Many of my friends have known of this decision for some time, but recent inquiries from interested groups and individuals prompt me to make a public statement at this time.

"While I deeply appreciate the honor conferred upon me by my fellow citizens and the generous offers of support for reelection, business and family responsibilities compel me to relinquish, though with extreme reluctance, any thought of standing for reelection.

"Membership on The School Committee was not sought by me as an avenue to advancement in public office, but rather as an opportunity to contribute in some small measure toward the maintenance and improvement of the Boston school system to the end that the pupil of today may benefit by every possible advantage and every available facility for worthy citizenship in the world of tomorrow.

"A review of the past four years indicates that there is an increased public confidence in the integrity of the Boston school system. In my opinion, among the many progressive changes which have taken place are:

"1. The opening of all School Committee conferences as well as its public meetings to the press. Thus all of the deliberations and discussions of The School Committee, as well as all of its official votes and decisions, are open to public inspection and scrutiny.

"2. A reduction in the amount raised by taxation for maintenance purposes to the extent of $1,058,000 in the past four years. This reduction is equivalent to 70c on the tax dollar. This decrease in the amount raised by taxation for the maintenance of the public schools has been effected without impairing the efficiency of the instruction, without curtailing essential educational activities, without suspending annual step-rate increases, without reducing basic salaries, and without discharging permanent personnel.

"3. The establishment of a Vocational High and Opportunity School. This progressive step in education is taken without additional cost to the taxpayer, through the utilization of existing equipment and personnel."

Mr. White (continuing): I believe Mr. Smith's four years of conscientious service in a position of grave responsibility has greatly aided in maintaining the integrity of the school system, in reassuring the confidence of the press and the public, in safeguarding the interest of the taxpayers, in strengthening the morale of the teaching body, in raising educational standards, and in improving the opportunities and facilities for the instruction of the youth in our schools.

I am, therefore, asking the School Committee to accept this statement as the Committee's expression of appreciation of the valuable service rendered by Chairman Henry J. Smith throughout his four years of service which has included two years as chairman of this body.

Dr. Foley: Mr. Chairman, may I say this on the statement just read by Committeeman White; that no statement can ever measure up to the value of the service that you have rendered to this Committee; you might read page after page. In my estimation you have rendered to this Committee invaluable service.

Mr. Sullivan: I would like to second Mr. White's motion.

On roll call, Mr. White's statement was accepted by unanimous vote as the School Committee's expression of appreciation of the service rendered by Mr. Smith throughout his four years as member and chairman of the School Committee of the City of Boston.

Chairman: I deeply appreciate this public expression of confidence on the part of the Committee. I have served four very happy years on this Board with some very fine characters. I sincerely believe that this present Committee, of which I have the honor to be Chairman, is probably the finest Committee in many years to serve the public and the school children of Boston and I deem it a very great honor to have had the privilege of heading the Committee. This action has taken me so completely by surprise that I am at a loss for words. I can only thank the members of the Committee for this tribute.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Mr. Lee: I think it is a tribute to the Chairman that he does allow questions of educational policy to come up, even though they call for sharp divergences of opinion. There was a matter last year and it seems in order to come up again. You remember a little talk about certain affairs at the Roxbury Memorial High School where I took very strong exception to the statement of the Head Master against the boys that they had entered "an alliance against the government" and they were "not entitled to diplomas," those last words being his definite words. As I said at the time, it seemed to be a threat, a form of coercion, and what disturbed me more was that the basis of his remarks was that under the guidance of one of their own teachers they had met in a school center of one of the Boston schools and discussed perhaps the most important bill or measure then before Congress, namely, the modification or not of our Neutrality Act and the lifting of the embargo on the shipment of munitions to Spain. I cannot imagine any American boy doing anything better than having a debate under a teacher of his school on a subject as important on which sentiment was divided.

I presented those views to the Committee. I hoped the Committee at that time would take action to ask the Head Master to rescind that kind of threat, as it seemed to me, and to encourage rather than discourage discussions of national policy by boys in their evenings. However, the Committee backed up the Head Master. Now I find the Head Master was right. However, the boy did receive his diploma, but he has been denied entrance to college. The college has written me and said:

"Information concerning the applicant given to us in confidence has led us to withhold approval of his application," and it seems that the Head Master has not recommended this boy for any college although he is conceded to be of excellent scholastic standing and has at times been an honor student. Now--

Superintendent: Has the boy applied for admission to more than one college?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Superintendent: There are some colleges that approve the American Student Union to which you are referring, and those colleges certainly would not object to receiving that boy.

Mr. Lee: I don't think it was the fact, Mr. Superintendent, that he was mentioned as being identified with the American Student Union so much as under the blank or sentence where the Head Master is given an opportunity to sign a recommendation, the Head Master did not sign a recommendation, so the boy came before the college without a recommendation of a Head Master.

Superintendent: Do you know how that question read?

Mr. Lee: I have a copy of it. I may be able to find it in my papers.

Mr. Sullivan: May I ask a question? You said that that was a confidential report by the Head Master to some college?

Mr. Lee: All I have is the wording—

Mr. Sullivan: You have it? You infer that the Head Master did something in that report which hurt the boy's chances of admission. Now, how are you sure of that?

Mr. Lee: Because I spoke to the Head Master and he said very definitely that he didn't sign the recommendation for the boy.

Mr. Sullivan: In other words, he neither recommended him nor reported against him.

Superintendent: Pardon me. Doesn't the decision rest entirely with the college authorities?

Mr. Lee: I presume the college authorities can overlook the recommendation of the Head Master.

Superintendent: They have, and they frequently do.

Mr. Lee: They frequently do, but in this case there was no recommendation and the boy's education has been stopped. This boy is the son of a man who was a veteran of the World War, a business man in Boston, and I think it is outrageous for this Committee to stand for boys in our school system being called by a Head Master "in alliance against the government." That is a pretty stiff charge. There isn't one shred of evidence that this boy was in alliance against the government any more than you or I. He was doing what it seems to me he should do, discussing a bill before Congress and the affairs of the country.

Superintendent: Was the discussion that, or didn't they have a lecturer there? I wasn't aware it was a discussion on the part of the boys. It was a lecture.

Mr. Lee: I think in all outside lectures they follow with a question period.

Superintendent: You said the lecturer came from an outside high school. I haven't been able to get the name of it. I don't know anything about the discussion, nor do I think you do.

Dr. Foley: I do not think it lies with this Committee whether or not a boy gets into college. The boy has graduated from high school. That is as far as we go. We don't say a boy because he graduates from high school is entitled to go to college. We know nothing about that. That is not our province. He has completed our course of study in the particular high school; he has received the O. K. of the Head Master of that high school, and we more or less cannot do anything about his further education. That is entirely up to himself, and if the college authorities see fit to not admit him, that is not our province. We have nothing to do with that. The same with the College Board examinations. We like to get a great many of our students into the respective colleges, but due to the markings and the prerogatives, as you might say, of the College Board Examinations, some are not admitted, but we are not at fault in that. We are not at fault in the case of this young man because he is not admitted to college.

Chairman: As I see it, the Head Master had a very definite duty to perform in a confidential report. I don't know how you got the confidential report, Mr. Lee.

Mr. Lee: I haven't got the confidential report. All I have is a letter from the college saying that the boy was denied admission on account of information given them in confidence. I have not seen that. I have talked with the Head Master.

Mr. Sullivan: Do you know whether there might have been some other people who recommended him?

Mr. Lee: It is possible. I might ask the members of the Committee.

Mr. Sullivan: I didn't.

Dr. Foley: I wouldn't even know the boy's name.

Mr. Lee: I say those answers are not strictly honest.

Chairman: I do not think it is honest for the Head Master to recommend a boy if he doesn't think him qualified.

Mr. Lee: I do not think the Head Master has a right to withhold a recommendation of a boy who simply met under the guidance of one of his own teachers to hear a subject discussed.

Chairman: I objected very strenuously the last time this was brought up, that you should attack one of our capable Head Masters in an open meeting, without giving any warning. The last time this happened I adjourned a similar meeting and went upstairs and brought the Head Master here to defend himself, and he defended himself to the satisfaction of the majority of this Committee. If you proceed further I am going to do the same thing tonight; I am going to go upstairs and send for this Head Master and settle this thing now.

Mr. Lee: If you are ready to go so far, may I ask you this: Why then was it proper for this Head Master, without any warning, to hold up this boy before his classmates and say that he was "grieved to see that the boys are in alliance against the government?" Why was that a proper thing to do, and to say that "after three or four years here they are not entitled to a diploma?" If it is all right to accuse boys in this school of being in alliance against the government, when to my mind they were doing that which indicates they were patriots, then it certainly is all right for a member of the School Committee to say that this Head Master has gone further in that direction than—

Chairman: If you are going to make a political speech, all right, but if you wanted it fair and square and above board, after the last meeting you would have asked to have the Head Master come in as we did before. The way you have handled this affair gives me the idea you are making a stump speech for some cause or other.

Mr. Lee: If last year you also had had in the boys so that both sides were present, it might be a different story.

Superintendent: Don't you remember in that conference meeting upstairs that we had the specific statements that were made down here, and we had them read by the official stenographer, and then Mr. Masterson denied them categorically one way or the other, and there was no proof at all.

Mr. Lee: Far from denying—

Superintendent: You read that report the other day, didn't you?

Mr. Lee: I did.

Superintendent: Wasn't there a denial of each one of those proposals there?

Mr. Lee: Far from being a denial there was a repetition and a re-submission of the statements made by the Head Master at the student assembly.

Superintendent: He asked at the end that he be given an opportunity to make a general statement. I am talking about the conference upstairs. May I ask for that record now, because I think they are all there?

Mr. Lee: But you will save yourself time if you will reflect that he re-submitted the statement that he made at the senior assembly. That is the only thing I am taking exception to.

Superintendent: I am talking about the charges that were made against one of the Head Masters in open meeting, whom I am supposed to defend, and when those charges were made specifically, I asked that the stenographer go back and read the charges that were made right straight through, and he denied them categorically.

Mr. Lee: No, I don't remember that.

Chairman: The objection I have is to the means that the member of the Committee is taking to bring these things up. I don't know how the other members of the Committee feel about it.

Superintendent: I should like to have this Committee invite the Head Master so that he can be present when these charges are being made. Furthermore, I think the Head Master of the school has the responsibility of recommending or not recommending the students for college. That is a confidential relationship that not only obtains in college, but it obtains in connection with every teacher and every appointee in the school system. In other words, every candidate for admission to the Boston school system is given a questionnaire and from information then given by the candidate, inquiries are sent to ascertain whether the individual is recommended or not. Furthermore, I think in ordinary business relations of life that same thing happens. Now if a man who is charged with the responsibility, and who is the head of one of our Boston schools, is asked to state whether he recommends an individual for admission to college or not, I think he is supposed to make that recommendation, and usually the college states that that is a confidential statement. It is then the college's responsibility to decide, in the light of the student's marks and his conduct and his general attitude and the statement of the Head Master, whether to admit that pupil or not. But I do not think the Head Master should be held responsible for something that the college fails to do, nor do I think that we should interpret the reasons which prompted the Head Master from some happening that was not universally agreed upon here.

Mr. Lee: Do you think, Mr. Gould, that a Head Master should withhold a recommendation not because a student's conduct was bad, but because a student had merely listened to two sides of a question then before the country?

Mr. Gould: That is not the point which I make. I do not know at the present time on what basis Mr. Masterson failed to recommend or did recommend, I do not even know that he did not recommend this individual. I have no official statement from the President of the University with reference to that. I know Mr. Smith asked me—he sent me a letter last week with reference to some girl that was refused admission to a Southern college, and she wanted to know why she was refused admission. I received word from the Registrar today as to why she was refused admission, and transmitted that information to him. I think perhaps the Chairman has not seen it yet. I haven't any information on this case, and that is why I say that discussions of this sort, particularly as they relate to one of our Head Masters, should be made upstairs, in the presence of the press, where the individual is present and has an opportunity to defend himself.

Chairman: Right.

Mr. Lee: I don't see why you can't accord equal consideration to statements made by a Head Master in a senior assembly where a Head Master makes accusations before the whole class which I don't believe and I don't think you believe. Furthermore, I would like to ask Mr. Sullivan and Mr. White if they think it is proper for pupils to respect their teacher?

Mr. Sullivan: I do.

Mr. White: I do.

Mr. Lee: That is nothing unusual, and when a teacher who is a respected teacher in our school system sponsors group meetings at night to discuss problems of mutual interest, does it mean that that boy is committing any crime because he attends that discussion? Why, Mr. Chairman, if there is any fault, isn't it on the part of the teacher rather than on the boy? Wouldn't you want your son to be guided by his teachers? If the teacher says, "Come to the discussion group this evening," and your son goes, and he hears a subject that is open to debate discussed on both sides, do you think that is any reason why your boy should be punished?

Mr. White: May I say one thing, that there was not discussion on both sides. As I remember the thing, it was one individual who was picked out from some Spanish Medical Association who was—no-body knows who he is, or his name, and they can't locate him now; but he came from some society that was giving out propaganda for one side of the Spanish belligerents or the other.

Mr. Lee: Is that the boy's fault, Mr. White?

Mr. White: I don't know whose fault it is.

Mr. Lee: You have been coming back to the Head Master's saying that the boy shouldn't get a diploma. I say when you back up that man you are the one who sustains the entire attitude toward that boy. Don't blame the subordinate. You backed up your subordinate.

Mr. White: Will you wait a minute and let me express one thought? I haven't taken any action against this boy.

Mr. Lee: I don't know what you did when you voted last year.

Mr. White: That was an affirmative action. I didn't do anything to the boy.

Mr. Lee: You simply gave the Head Master carte blanche to deny the boy his diploma. I suppose that wasn't doing anything to the boy?

Chairman: Just a minute. Mr. White has the floor. Let him finish his statement.

Mr. White: Mr. Chairman, first of all, I did not want to get into any discussion with Mr. Lee because I have profound respect for almost everything he says, and furthermore I want to clean up this discussion of one phase of it.

Mr. Lee: I didn't mean—

Mr. White: As you know, I have never at any time sought to uphold one argument without hearing the other side, and if I remember rightly, there wasn't any discussion at that meeting. There was one man who was a speaker. If there was a mistake made in only having one speaker and no discussion, it might not have been the boy's fault, and I agree with you, but it was the teacher's fault because that teacher should have seen that both sides of that question should be discussed. That is where I think you are wrong. I have not made one statement about the merits of this particular admission to college at all. I won't until I know more about it, and certainly as far as discussions are concerned I won't because—

Chairman: It is a question in my mind, and I want to be very fair in this thing, whether or not we should send for Mr. Masterson immediately. How do you feel about it?

Dr. Foley: I feel this way: I feel that we are entirely out of order in this procedure here tonight. I feel that we are getting nowhere; we are going off on tangents; we will arrive nowhere because we haven't anything to work on, and if we are not careful, the press may feel that the Committee is doing something radically wrong. I feel that it lies within your scope of work as presiding officer of this Committee to keep it intact and that this procedure here tonight is entirely out of order. We have nothing to do with colleges. We graduate our pupils to the best of our knowledge and that ends it.

Chairman: Do you feel, Dr. Foley, that we should send for Mr. Masterson tonight?

Dr. Foley: I don't.

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, I think this, that whenever a question so serious as this arises, we ought not to discuss it until we have the Head Master present, until he has a chance to defend himself. The press is present; this is an open meeting; certain statements are being made which he cannot refute, and I feel that it is his right to be present.

Mr. Sullivan: I have listened to this discussion and I want to admit that I am not certain just what specific charges are being made against the Head Master based on the report from the college in which they say, based on confidential reports to them, they decided that a boy was not to be admitted. Now, I have not heard any connection which says that any act of Mr. Masterson caused the college to make up its mind that way nor have I heard it said that it was only his recommendation which was requested and that the action taken was based entirely on that. Now, it might be that there were requests made of ten people. Suppose nine of them did not recommend the boy. That is just making an assumption. We don't know that. I don't know whether you have such information, but until we have specific charges to try before our School Committee I don't think we should air a case from which we get nothing but sensationalism.

Dr. Foley: I think I mentioned that an hour ago. Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: All right.

Mr. Lee: Mr. Sullivan, first of all, you know what evidence is at hand. We have three things. First, we have the letter from the University, which states: "Dear Mr. Lee:

Your letter of August 24th has just reached me, and I am writing you promptly in reply.

We admit out-of-state students to the University on a selective basis, and consideration is given to factors other than scholarship in admitting these students. It is true that (the boy in question) has technically met our scholastic requirements for admission, but information concerning the applicant given to us in confidence has led us to withhold approval of his application.

I regret that this has seemed advisable in this case."

Now, later—

Mr. Sullivan: Yes, but—

Mr. Lee: May I go on?

Mr. Sullivan: May I define that as one letter from the University which has no connection with Mr. Masterson?

Mr. Lee: Inconclusive as far as Mr. Masterson. Now, too, we have Mr. Masterson threatening the boy with not getting a diploma.

Mr. Sullivan: But the boy got a diploma.

Mr. Lee: He did get his diploma.

Mr. Sullivan: Then that is out.

Mr. Lee: I don't think that is out because it showed that the Head Master had it in mind to take some form of remote punishment upon this boy.

Mr. Sullivan: Specifically, you say the thing he said he would do he didn't do.

Mr. Lee: But it was an empty and valueless diploma.

Chairman: I am going to call Mr. Masterson and adjourn this meeting upstairs.

AGE FOR ADMISSION TO KINDERGARTEN AND FIRST GRADE

Chairman: Before adjournment, I wish to make this statement to the public: The School Committee, with Mr. White and the Chairman dissenting, have changed the entering ages for the kindergarten and first grade for this year, establishing four years and six months as of the opening day of school for the kindergarten, and five years and six months on the opening day of school for admission to the first grade.

The meeting will adjourn to meet upstairs in conference with Mr. Masterson and the press present.

The Committee adjourned.

CONFERENCE WITH MR. MASTERTSON

At the close of the conference, Mr. Masterson was again given a vote of confidence by the School Committee, Mr. Lee not voting.

The Committee gave Mr. Masterson the privilege of submitting a statement in rebuttal of the charges which had been made, and Mr. Masterson asked that the following extract from the statement which he made in conference before the members of the School Committee be spread upon the records of the public meeting:

Statement of Robert B. Masterson,
Head Master,
Roxbury Memorial High School
(Boys)

Mr. Masterson: It is my candid opinion that this School Committee has absolutely no jurisdiction in this matter of college recommendations. It is my opinion also that when the School Committee has given a pupil all the education that the public schools of Boston offer, or that he wants, when the School Committee has given him a diploma, then the business of the School Committee ceases in regard to that individual.

An individual has been given in his high school course five report cards each year, for four years, and thus he has twenty reports upon which his record is written. If the college wants to take his record, it may.

It is a difficult matter to do the square and fair thing, because first we must consider the colleges. The colleges look to us to send them the proper students and for their sake we try to see to it that the higher institution gets the kind of student it wants. For the sake of the boys that are going to college in the years to come, we try to respect what the colleges ask, because they are private institutions and if we should injudiciously recommend a student, our chances of getting somebody else's son into college might be lessened.

The second situation is that we must look out for the good of the boys. If we send a boy to Harvard or try to get him into Harvard when he is not able to do the work when he gets there, it is not a good thing for him because he is going to fail; and consequently it is not good for the boys that are going to follow him in the next generation. We cannot kill off the chances of the future boys by the efforts we make in sending boys into colleges now.

The colleges do not always take our recommendations. Two years ago we recommended four boys to a certain college, boys with marks of A and B, of high personality, of fine behavior and deportment. Personally we saw nothing against the boys; we thought that they would be admitted, but the college denied them entrance.

This very year I recommended a boy who was not quite certified, but he had had an extra year at the Latin School; he had more maturity; he was more serious. I asked in a personal letter that the boy be given a chance to prove himself, but the college did not admit him.

Some five years ago there was a boy who could not be recommended, but he was taken by a Western College. The college makes the decision always. Sometimes it agrees with what I say, and sometimes it does not agree. The college simply considers my recommendation but is not committed to do anything that I suggest. Therefore, if a boy gets into college it is because the college takes him; and if the boy does not get into college, it is because the college does not take him.

Various colleges use various methods of inquiry. Sometimes they ask us as many as fifty questions about a boy, and sometimes they do not, but whatever they ask us is confidential. I put down what I think is the fact, and what I think ought to be said. I rely upon my own best judgment. Whatever statement I make is confidential, and since it is confidential, it is a privileged statement and I will not discuss any such privileged statement. Even if the statement were on this board tonight, I should refuse to discuss it. It is a privileged statement. The only thing to say is, if I make a statement about a boy and it is against the boy, and the college does not take him in, it simply means to me that the college agrees with that statement.

Chairman: You and your group at Roxbury Memorial High School are extremely conscientious.

Mr. Masterson: We do the very best we can.

Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Masterson: Because we have not only regard for the boy that is now going up to college, but for the boy who is going to go in four, or five, or ten years from now, if we make a mistake it is going to react on your son or somebody else's son. It is not fair to send boys that we know in our hearts are not going to be successful students either from the scholastic point of view or for any other reason.

The college asks every kind of question. Sometimes the college says, "No matter what his marks are or what you have said, will you answer this question: Do you think this college ought to take this boy?" And I say Yes, or I say No, according to my best judgment.

Secretary.

REPORT OF CHAIRMAN AND SUPERINTENDENT ON ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION AT SAN FRANCISCO, JULY 2 TO 6, INCLUSIVE.

The following is the report on attendance at convention of National Education Association by Chairman Henry J. Smith of School Committee and Arthur L. Gould, Superintendent of Schools:

The 77th Annual Convention of the National Education Association was held at San Francisco, California, July 2-6, 1939. The theme of the convention was "Responsibilities of Our Profession."

The opening address was made by President Reuben T. Shaw. In the course of his discussion, Doctor Shaw pleaded for equal educational opportunity for all in order that our democratic government may function properly through an educated and enlightened citizenry.

To provide equality of opportunity, he favored Federal aid in establishing and maintaining public schools. In justification of his stand, he stated that more than 4,000,000 children of high and elementary school age are not attending school, chiefly because schools were not available for them.

Continuing his discussion, he stated that crime in America costs $15,000,000,000, whereas education costs $2,500,000,000, and expressed the belief that if the public were aware of this it would not permit reduction in school expenditures and at the same time allow appropriations for the control of crime to be constantly increasing. In brief, his thought was that crime results largely from failure to provide a comprehensive plan of education for living in a democracy.

Other speakers, while referring to the current need of Federal support of education, were careful to emphasize that public education should be independent of Federal control, but that Federal aid would eliminate illiteracy, would extend high and elementary education to areas now without it, would improve facilities in neglected areas, and would provide opportunities to hundreds of thousands of children, particularly in rural areas which they now are without.

The Committee on Resolutions recommended increased Federal participation in support of public education without Federal control, and in another resolution declared that education on the local, state and national levels should be independent of all other governmental agencies.

Teacher participation in civic affairs was favored by many speakers, since teachers in all grades of schools—from the lowest to the highest—should be guardians and protectors of American ideals and traditions. This being so, teachers must be active participants in the life of the community, state and nation in order to be fully informed in all matters pertaining to civic betterment and thus be able to inspire children with unswerving loyalty to the ideals of American democracy.

An interesting and informative discussion of the origin and development of normal schools in America was given by Miss Caroline Woodruff, past president of the National Education Association and principal of the State Normal School, Castleton, Vermont.

The occasion was the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the first normal school in Lexington, Mass.

Miss Woodruff traced the history of the normal school from its humble beginning with three pupils and one teacher to the present numerous well-equipped and well-staffed normal schools and teachers colleges throughout the country. She paid especial tribute to pioneers in teacher education—Cyrus Pierce, James G. Carter, Charles C. Brooks and Horace Mann. Among other things she said, "Those early patriots who in 1775 on Lexington Common 'fired the shot heard 'round the world,' little realized that Lexington Common would be the scene sixty-four years later of, shall I say, a far greater event, a shot fired not from a cannon's mouth but from the vision of a great teacher."

Adult Education was discussed by L. R. Alderman, Director, Education Division, Works Progress Administration. Reporting the results of a recent survey, Doctor Alderman stated that two-thirds of the nation's adults have less than an elementary education and 86 per cent have less than a secondary education. He estimated that 7,000,000 adults had voluntarily entered W. P. A. classes in order to get additional training needed immediately in order to retain positions in an increasingly complex society. He further asserted that the prime task of the American people is to strengthen our democracy by making it possible for the great masses of our people to be well informed and trained to understand and solve governmental problems.

The discussion which caused widespread newspaper and magazine comment was concerned with this subject—Intelligence—Its Nature and Nurture.

Dr. George D. Stoddard, University of Iowa, Director of Iowa Child Welfare Research Station, advanced the theory that primary intelligence is acquired. He reported that he has raised the I. Q.'s of children of dull parents to that of children of college professors, by placing these children in an environment of culture and refinement.

This theory was immediately challenged by Dr. Lewis N. Terman, Stanford University, a nationally known authority on the I. Q. Professor Terman maintained that primary intelligence is hereditary and that if Professor Stoddard's theory can be substantiated it will be the greatest scientific discovery of modern times. This discussion once again raises the old question, "Is the I. Q. determined more by heredity or by environment?"

On the last day of the convention, the Chairman of the Boston School Committee, the State Commissioner of Education, and the Superintendent of Public Schools invited the National Education Association to hold its next convention in Boston. The invitation of the city of Milwaukee was accepted but chances are favorable that Boston will be honored in 1941.

HENRY J. SMITH,
Chairman, Boston School Committee.
ARTHUR L. GOULD,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1939.

NO. 41

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO LOYALTY OF CITY AND COUNTY EMPLOYEES — ADDRESSES FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION OF CENTRAL ORGANIZATION, AT SOUTH ARMORY, ON IRVINGTON STREET — PRAISES VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS FOR MANNER IN WHICH WORK IS CONDUCTED, PROVIDING CITY WITH BEST AND MOST EFFICIENT SERVICE — CONGRATULATES THEM ON BOOSTER SLOGAN, THEN CALLS ATTENTION TO HIS EFFORTS TO HELP THEM BY NOT DISCHARGING ANY WORKERS AFTER HIS ADMINISTRATION BEGAN — HOPES FOR CONTINUED LOYALTY ON PART OF ALL.

Upon the occasion of the first convention delegates to the Central Council of City and County Employees, Mayor Tobin, in addressing the gathering, spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, President Brosnahan, Officers, Delegates and Members of the Central Council of City and County Employees.

Four centuries ago a wise old author said: "Of a good beginning cometh a good end." All enterprises, all human associations, must have their "first times," and I am delighted to have an opportunity to address you on this occasion when you have met, for the first time, in convention — both for serious discussion of common interests and to share an evening's pleasure in mutual good-will.

It is a "first time" for you, and for me likewise it is a "first time" — the first occasion since I became Mayor when I have had an opportunity to address an assembly comprising representatives of so many city and county departments and services. Needless to say, I am happy to take counsel with you, on matters affecting the welfare of the City of Boston and the hundreds of thousands of taxpayers and citizens comprising the great municipal body politic whose servants we are and whose interests we are all very eager to protect and promote.

I wonder if it is realized what a close relationship exists between the city and county services and the welfare of every man, woman and child throughout Boston — how important the services are to the lives of all the people, and how constant the municipal vigilance is for the people's welfare and protection in operation this very minute.

As I look out upon the assembled representatives of sixteen or more city and county departments, I may well begin to call the roll of honor by referring to the work done for our people by the Hospital Department.

In time of sickness and in time of accident — in physical distress of every kind and degree — the faithful doctors, nurses, internes, caretakers and administrative staff, and over a thousand additional employees, are always ready to help day and night. The total number of cases treated each year rises above one hundred thousand.

The Health Department.

Closely related, of course, is the watchful, willing work of the Health Department. Apart from the clinics and the labors of the George Robert White Centers to keep people well, the Health Department's inspectors are always on the job. Like a staff of federal "G" men organized to protect the public from counterfeit currency, the food inspectors of the Boston Health Department are ever alert to protect the homes of Boston — the housewives' icebox and pantry — from any unfit or unsafe food that might otherwise enter into public or private circulation.

While most of us are asleep, the inspectors are at work, to see that only safe pure milk reaches the doorsteps of Boston's homes every morning for babies, children and adults as well. Many carloads of unfit vegetables, unsafe meat and other spoiled foodstuffs are condemned and destroyed each year, but I need not argue the case at length or belabor the issue.

In connection with public health, we should consider service of sewer and water. I have only to remind you that not long ago the United States Chamber of Commerce, after having carefully collected reports for 1938 from every large city in the nation, selected Boston as the best administered city, in the matter of health conditions. Think what this means! It means, I say again, that Boston came first for health among all communities of 500,000 people or more throughout this vast country's whole length and breadth from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific.

Boston's Public Schools and Public Library.

I speak next — only one sentence for a subject which deserves a volume — of Boston's public schools, maintained in buildings having a material plant-value which exceeds $83,000,000. It is a Saturday evening, and Boston's 138,000 public school children are at home from their desks for the week-end; but what a blessing it is that on Monday morning of next week and every week they will find ready and waiting their teachers and their studies, their free American opportunity to grow up in the sunlight of good education and school-training.

And, with the schools, the Boston Public Library system stands in partnership, a partnership of service to our citizens from childhood to old age. The circulation of books from Boston's library into the homes of our people, I am proud to be able to say, is the second largest per thousand of population in any city of the United States.

May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

WELFARE DEPARTMENT NEEDS APPROPRIATION TO SUPPLY NEEDS OF APPLICANTS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR—MAYOR TOBIN ASKS COUNCIL TO PASS ORDER PROVIDING $1,300,000 ADDITIONAL FUNDS, DUE TO UNANTICIPATED BURDEN PLACED ON DEPARTMENT BY INCREASE FROM W. P. A. LAY-OFFS—HAD HOPED TO AVOID THIS WHEN BUDGET WAS BEING PREPARED, BY REASON OF EXPECTED FEDERAL AND STATE CONTRIBUTIONS AND ANTICIPATED JUMPS IN EMPLOYMENT BY PRIVATE INDUSTRY, WHICH HAVE NOT MATURED.

On Monday, October 9, Mayor Tobin addressed the following communication to the City Council:
To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—The Overseers of Public Welfare in preparing the budget estimates of the Welfare Department for the current year requested appropriations totaling $11,942,907.34, an amount roughly $1,300,000 in excess of actual expenditures for the year 1938. Acting upon my recommendations, your Honorable Body subsequently approved appropriations totaling $10,206,084.43, or an amount roughly $480,000 below departmental expenditures of the previous year. In submitting these recommendations I voiced the wish "that an improvement in conditions of employment or additional cooperation from Federal or state governments may render it possible that no further sums will be needed for this item."

With three quarters of the current year behind us it is evident that this wish has not been fulfilled. While employment figures reflect an improvement over one year ago, the betterment has not been of sufficient magnitude to remove a substantial number from our welfare rolls. As you are well aware there has been a material reduction in the W. P. A. program. Whereas on March 15 of this year 25,687 persons were employed in Boston on W. P. A. projects today the number is in the vicinity of 16,100, or a reduction of, roughly, 9,500 persons. About one third of this number have left or been dropped since July 12. Many of these former W. P. A. workers have been forced to turn to the Welfare Department for relief because of their inability to secure outside employment. As a result, the number of general relief cases aided by the department has increased, roughly, eight per cent in the last three months and ten and one half per cent over the case load of one year ago.

Additional Funds Needed.

In view of the happenings of recent months, it is not surprising that the Welfare Department finds that additional appropriations must now be provided to cover relief disbursements during the balance of the year.

In the attached communication these additional needs are presented as follows:

General Relief.....	$850,000
Aid to Dependent Children...	310,000
Old Age Assistance.....	40,000
	$1,200,000

In addition, the department requests an additional appropriation of $70,000 for personal service. Under the new W. P. A. regulations all project workers laid off after serving eighteen months must be recertified as to need by the Welfare Department before being eligible to reassignment to any project. This work has thrown a heavy load on the personnel of the Welfare Department and has made necessary the employment of a number of workers in addition to the regular departmental staff.

I am also advised by the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner that he anticipates a deficit of $30,000 by the end of the year in the appropriation originally granted him for relief payments to worthy veterans. I feel provision should be made at this time for a supplementary appropriation to offset this deficit.

Under the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939, municipalities are authorized, provided they have included in the tax levy an amount equal to 80 per cent of the previous year's expenditures for relief purposes, to borrow for welfare and W. P. A. Boston has complied with this 80 per cent requirement by including in the current year's tax levy appropriations for relief purposes totaling $9,839,047.63. I propose, therefore, that the additional appropriations requested by the Welfare Department be secured by borrowing and I submit herewith an appropriation order for this purpose and recommend its adoption.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939 a loan in the sum of $1,300,000 outside the debt limit, be, and hereby is, authorized, and that the City Treasurer, upon request of the Mayor, be authorized to issue bonds or notes therefor, and that the said sum of $1,300,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended in accordance with the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939 for the following purpose:

PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.
A. Personal Service.....	$70,000
F. Special Items.....	$1,200,000
SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT.
F. Special Items.....	$30,000

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL.

Boston, October 2, 1939.

To the Heads of All Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—The Salvation Army's Greater Boston Annual Maintenance Appeal for 1939-1940 is now under way. His Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, whole-heartedly indorses this appeal and has appointed me to conduct the drive, for him, among City and County employees.

We urge you, and your fellow employees, to make whatever contribution you can, in accordance with your means, in order that this great charitable work may continue through the coming year.

Will you appoint a representative, or representatives as may be necessary, from your department, to solicit these funds, and make the returns as soon as possible? Collections, when completed, should be turned over to Mr. William L. Dowling in the Treasurer's Office, who will give a receipt for the amount received by him.

No specific amount is demanded, or requested, from any employee. You can contribute whatever you feel disposed to give.

Very truly yours,

JAMES J. MCCARTHY,
City Treasurer.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Strongly represented here tonight is one of the strongest and oldest of Boston's great public services. I refer to the Fire Department in its tireless battle for the protection of life and property. I wonder if you in this hall, and my welcome listeners in the radio audience, know the remarkable fact that for twenty successive years the total annual fire loss in this city, as measured in dollars, has been steadily reduced. That is the record on which we can praise—and thank—the Boston Fire Department for its successful efforts year by year, all the way from 1919 down to 1939, to reduce the destruction wrought by the hazard of fire within our city limits.

Side by side with this large corps fighting the impersonal dangers of fire, the Police Department keeps equally good pace in the fight against personal dangers and threats from crime and criminals. The officers and men of the Boston police are unquestionably among the most loyal and dependable public servants in the world, and to them must go much of the credit for the fact that Boston is one of the cleanest cities that can be found anywhere in the nation.

When I say that, I am referring, of course, to a wholesome cleanliness in Boston's daily life in matters of conduct which are of first importance though by nature they are inward and invisible. But other glorious assets of Boston's public service are plainly and most delightfully evident to the human eye. The far-flung park system of the City of Boston is among the most beautiful in the world, if it is not indeed, as many consider it, the premier park system of them all; a great landed estate held by all the people of Boston in common ownership, not for their passive enjoyment alone but also for their active use in quiet recreation and vigorous athletic sports.

Taken all in all, the list of Boston's public assets are so numerous that I cannot possibly do justice to them all as I call the roll of the city and county employees assembled here before me tonight. For the purpose of these brief remarks, I face an embarrassment of riches. There are so many different groups of municipal workers deserving attention.

I have warmly in mind the drawbridge tenders and the workers on the municipal ferries, the tunnel guards—men upon whose active arms and watchful eyes the transport of millions of people depend every morning and night, as they make their way to and from the busy downtown section and their homes in East Boston, Charlestown and the outlying suburbs that comprise our metropolis—one vast, inter-related unit in fact, even though they be many separate municipalities in legal structure.

ROLL OF HONOR.

So the roll of honor and service goes on—until I come at last to the group which every man knows should be mentioned first, and receive our earliest homage, but which I have reserved to the end because, in their modesty, they were, I think, the latest among you all to organize a professional society.

I speak of the Municipal Women's Association, the corps of skilled office workers, without whom the City of Boston might maintain offices but would do so to little avail—for the male officials, I am sure, would soon be buried or hopelessly confused in a mass of papers and unfinished routine. And when I say that, be sure not to mistake me. What I say of the indispensable value of efficient women clerks and secretaries applies not to city offices alone, but to all the offices, stores and marts of private business and industry.

Such, in quick review, are the city and county services represented here tonight—from the Hospital, Health, Police and Fire Departments fighting battles on which depend issues of life or death, to the ever-constructive though more peaceful labors of the schools, libraries, parks, offices and every other workaday service in the life of a great modern city.

And now I wish to speak to you for a few moments of some of the conditions which I faced as Mayor when I began my term twenty-one months ago, and thus assumed central responsibility for the faithful maintenance of all these great municipal undertakings in which you are the active workers day by day.

You will recall that from 1935 through 1936 and far into the year 1937, our nation happily found itself again rising upward from the depths of the fearful depression which had reached its lowest level just before President Roosevelt took office in 1933. During the up-moving years from 1935 onward, the country made important gains once more in prosperous business activity, and the City of Boston, of course, took its normal share in this advance, and gained benefits accordingly.

And then, along toward the very last days of 1937, just before I took office, the rising tide began again to slip downward.

RECESSION UNDER WAY.

The signs of what was to come were made evident to me even before my first day in the Mayor's chair. On account of the responsibility which I was soon to bear, the City Treasurer's office kept me informed of conditions, and I learned that the market for the city's tax anticipation notes had suddenly gone slack and doubtful. It was not certain, at one time, just before the beginning of 1938, whether there would be any bids offered for the next issue, and I had to take personal steps to make sure that satisfactory bidders would be forthcoming. The small warning sign so given was followed, as you know, by other negative conditions. The volume of general business began to move slowly but steadily downward.

The United States had entered into what came to be known not as a second depression but, more politely, the "recession." All of the familiar indexes of what was happening—the figures for steel production, automobile manufacture, car-loadings—all these gradually moved downward to the lowest levels which they had marked since 1933. They did not fall equally low, I am glad to say, but they went low enough. Generally, economic conditions were again scraping on bottom by the time winter came in 1938.

Considering these conditions, what was to be my course as Mayor? What was to be my attitude toward maintenance of the city services which I have just been describing? Should they be sustained at the full normal level of the people's need?

More particularly, what was to be my policy in fulfillment of the pledge that I had made before election, namely, that there would be no discharges of city employees? There were calls enough for such action and those calls were backed by financial arguments not without weight. In time of reduced general business, one may expect appeals for reduced public expenses, and it is necessary to give such request earnest consideration.

Nevertheless, I resolved to stand out against them. Not one single employee of the city was discharged. While seeking every possible economy, still I would not embrace it at the cost of faithful municipal workers, and at their price in suffering and loss.

I believe that this policy has already had a fair measure of reward in the maintenance of good morale in municipal services vital to all the people of Boston. And there is another argument equally strong.

The employees of the City of Boston have been preserved in the security of their jobs during these last two years. That much protection has been given them which they well deserved and which it was possible for me to maintain.

The justice of this policy is only now emerging in all its logical right and completeness. I need not on this happy evening discuss with you at any length the tragic conditions which have once again arisen in Europe. You know the news of the day as well as I. It is not encouraging. On the contrary, I am bound to say that within the past twenty-four hours the outlook has turned distinctly darker. The appearance now is that Europe will move on into war prolonged and yet more prolonged.

America, please God, will stay out, but we know from experience that the awful destruction now threatened in Europe cannot go on for many months without adverse effects. The mere losses of valuable goods—clothing, foodstuffs, and other necessary materials—sunk while in transit on the high seas is bound to be reflected in the cost which all of us must pay for needed commodities and the cost of living. The huge demand for goods to sustain large armies in the field is, of course, another factor contributing to turn the scales of supply and demand, so that the price-indicators will move upward.

It seems, unless there be an early and fortunate change, that we are in for a period of higher costs of living. The rise, I hope, will be gradual and no one can say just how far it will go. Almost certainly it will become quite noticeable.

Now, that is a condition with which we have had plenty of experience in the past. We know for a fact that in a time when prices are rising in general business there is a long lag before any advance comes in the wages and salaries of public employees. Faithful government workers, who have received the advantage of security and of a steady level of wages during a period of depression then face a condition by no means so favorable. Their wages remain the same in dollars but they become less in food, in clothing, in the cost of rent for shelter, and in other matters necessary for the lives and growth of city workers and their families, wives and children.

Now, surely, the justice and the right of a policy of no discharges during the past two years becomes evident, when one considers the offsetting burden which municipal employees may have to bear in the months to come. The fairness, yes, the duty of those in chief executive office, to protect the security of jobs and wages in time of falling prices, is imperative. It is incontestable. And I am happy to have followed the path which seemed to me the necessary path of fairness and justice.

ALL ONE BODY.

We are all one body. No single man, whatever his rank or title, can accomplish much or long prevail save through the loyal hardworking efforts of others.

You have worked with me in high loyalty, maintaining the city services for the welfare of all of Boston's citizens and taxpayers. And I have sought to express a like loyalty to you. Let us go on in that partnership! We will see the fight through together.

The Central Council of City and County Employees has for its slogan what it calls the Three B's. "Become Boston's Boosters!" Well, I am with you for that. Let us boost Boston, and then boost her some more. We love her and will not fail her. She will not fail us.

Ladies and gentlemen of this first annual convention, I thank you.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

OPINION OF CORPORATION COUNSEL RE PLEBISCITE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—With reference to your two related orders dated June 5 and September 18, respectively, requesting that I arrange for a plebiscite on Federal low-rent housing in Boston, I beg to report that both orders were submitted by me to the Corporation Counsel for his consideration and advice.

I inclose herewith the communication of the Corporation Counsel, in which he states that in his opinion neither the Mayor nor the City Council has the power to provide that questions other than those specified by the Legislature shall be placed on the ballot for action by the voters.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, September 21, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have sent me for my consideration the following order of the City Council passed September 18, 1939:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to advise the City Council of an intention to comply with the request of the Boston City Council contained in order passed on June 5, 1939, for a plebiscite or a referendum which will permit the voters in Boston at this year's city election to express approval or disapproval of further extension of Federal low-rent housing in Boston."

The order referred to passed on June 5, 1939, reads as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested at this year's city election to provide for a plebiscite or referendum which will permit the voters of Boston to express their approval or disapproval of either the extension of Federal low-rent housing in Boston or carrying out the proposed ten year plan which the Housing Authority has informed the Council will finally house no less than 35,000 Boston families following an expenditure of $191,000,000."

With reference to these two orders you request my opinion as to whether you have power to comply with the purpose thereof, namely, "to provide for a plebiscite or referendum" at this year's city election to ascertain the attitude of the voters of Boston upon the extension of low-rent housing projects in Boston under Federal and State enabling legislation.

It is my opinion that neither the Mayor nor the City Council has the power to provide, in the call for the election or otherwise, that questions other than those specified by the Legislature shall be placed on the ballot for action by the voters. This subject is one which appears to be controlled entirely by provisions either of the state constitution or statutes, leaving no room for independent action by any city or town.

In chapter 54 of the General Laws, which deals with elections, there are some references to questions to be submitted to the voters, as in section 42, which provides where such questions shall be printed on the ballot, and in sections 48 through 58 which provide for furnishing information to the voters, but there is no reference to the determination of what questions shall appear on the ballot. Section 63, dealing with calls for elections in cities, does not contain anything about questions to be submitted, and the only reference to such questions in section 64, dealing with notices and warrants, is as follows:

"Notices or warrants for state and city elections and for the election of town officers in towns where official ballots are used shall specify by name all the offices to be voted for, and state, in the form in which it will appear upon the ballot, any question submitted to the voters."

These sections of chapter 54 obviously do not purport to determine what questions shall be on the ballot. That is done by the constitution or other statutes. Article XLVIII of the amendments to the Constitution of Massachusetts deals with the initiative and referendum, and contains various specific provisions for the submission under that procedure of questions to the people at an election. General Laws, chapter 53, section 18, provides for the submission of amendments to the Federal constitution, and section 19 for the submission of questions of public policy in certain senatorial districts. Other questions are frequently the subject of special statutes, and it has been the common practice of the Legislature, in special statutes affecting a particular city or town, to include a provision requiring favorable action upon a referendum before the act becomes finally effective. But in every instance of which I have knowledge the statute has specified the question or questions to be submitted, and has left nothing of that kind to the choice of city officials.

In this particular case, the Legislature determined itself a state-wide policy with reference to housing and made no provision for ascertaining the popular will with reference to that general policy either throughout the Commonwealth or in any particular city or town. It did, however, provide that cities and towns must first determine the need for the provision of low-rent housing, in cities by vote of the City Council and in towns by town meeting. (In so doing, it acted in conformity with the language of Chief Justice Gray in the case of Stone v. Charlestown, 114 Mass. 214, concerning the consolidation of Charlestown and West Roxbury with Boston, where he said, at page 222:

"The Legislature, having the exclusive power of determining whether such an act shall or shall not be submitted to popular vote at all, may also determine how the vote shall be taken upon any act so submitted, and, when the municipality in question is a city, whether the vote upon its acceptance shall be by the City Council, as representing the whole city, or by the inhabitants themselves, and in the latter alternative, whether their votes shall be taken in a general meeting or by wards. The power of the Legislature in this respect is not restricted by any constitutional provision.")

Once a city or town voted that the need existed, and a local authority was organized pursuant to that vote, the Legislature evidently deemed any requirements of local option to be satisfied and made no further provision for ascertaining the will of the voters beyond that so afforded. In the City of Boston, of course, the City Council, acting as representatives of the people, long since determined the need for low-rent housing and approved the creation of the Housing Authority. Once having done so, no further opportunity is provided by the enabling legislation to take further votes from time to time. The Legislature evidently intended to confer upon the local housing authorities full power to determine all questions of detail, including the scope and extent of housing projects to be embarked upon. (See General Laws, chapter 121, section 26L, as inserted by chapter 484 of the Acts of 1938.)

There are no provisions in special statutes applicable to the City of Boston which appear to leave any room for the submission of questions not specified by the Legislature. The present charter (Acts of 1909, chapter 486) contains nothing of this kind. A possible basis for doubt may be an earlier charter provision, Acts of 1854, chapter 448, section 60, as amended by Acts of 1882, chapter 204, as follows:

"General meetings of the citizens qualified to vote in city affairs may from time to time be held to consult upon the common good, to give instructions to their representatives, and to take all lawful measure to obtain a redress of any grievances according to the right secured to the people by the constitution of this Commonwealth. Such meetings shall and may be duly warned by the board of aldermen upon the requisition of twenty-five qualified voters of each ward of said city. If the board of aldermen refuses or neglects to call any such meeting, any justice of the municipal court of said city may, upon a like requisition, by a warrant under his hand in such form, and so served, executed and returned, as he shall determine, call such meeting at such time and in such manner as he may direct, and shall appoint some one to preside therein until the same shall be duly organized by the choice of clerk and chairman."

This has never been expressly repealed, even though a new charter is now in effect. It is a question whether it has been repealed by implication, but I do not think that needs to be decided. This provision is of the type which was placed in the charter of almost every city in the Commonwealth upon its transition from the town meeting form of government. The policy of the Legislature in thus attempting to provide specifically for the constitutional right of assembly is explained in detail in an opinion by Chief Justice Rugg in Wheelock v. Lowell, 196 Mass. 220, at pages 225 and 228. The opinion quotes from Article 19 of the Declaration of Rights in the Constitution of Massachusetts, which states that, "The people have a right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble to consult upon the common good; give instructions to their representatives, and to request of the legislative body, by the way of addresses, petitions, or remonstrances, redress of the wrongs done them, and of the grievances they suffer. It speaks of the right of the voters to have the fullest and freest discussion in regard to public men and political measures, and of the importance of "the practical instruction of the citizens in affairs of government through the instrumentality of public meetings and face to face discussions." The case itself held that it was proper for a city to spend money to provide a hall for those purposes. But all this has to do with the constitutional rights of assembly and free speech, and these would exist regardless of the submission of a question to the voters on a printed ballot. Even though the statute just quoted may still be in effect as a means of providing face to face discussion, it is my opinion that it was never intended to authorize and does not now authorize city officials to submit questions of their own choosing to the voters on printed ballots.

Another statute which may raise a question is Acts of 1890, chapter 401, section 1, which provided as follows:

"No warrant shall issue for calling meetings in the several wards of the city of Boston, or in the precincts thereof, or any of them, for elections or other purposes; but the city clerk of said city shall, seven days at least before the day fixed for any meeting, advertise in at least four daily newspapers published in said city, a notice of the time and place of such meeting, the hours for opening and closing the polls, the officers to be chosen, and the question or questions to be voted upon, any provision of the charter of said city or of any special or general law to the contrary notwithstanding."

Even if that statute were still in effect, the reference in it to "the question or questions to be voted on" would not, in my opinion, be any more than a direction as to handling a question which the Legislature had specified. But this statute seems to have been superseded by General Laws, chapter 54, sections 63 and 64, to which I have already referred, and so in any event affords no exceptions to the principle that apart from the constitution, only the Legislature, by a statute specially applicable, can determine what questions shall be placed upon a ballot.

Very truly yours,

HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

LOAN FOR PAVING SERVICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the Commissioner of Public Works that the appropriation for W. P. A. projects in the budget of the Paving Service will not be sufficient to carry on the projects now in operation. The Paving Service is employing at the present time approximately 4,300 W. P. A. employees working on some forty street projects sponsored by that service. In the year 1938, at an expenditure of $441,271.75 for Relief Projects sponsored by the Paving Service, there were 38.44 miles of highway constructed or reconstructed by the Paving Service as W. P. A. projects. The total expenditures to date for the current year have been $425,236.84, but because of the greatly increased activity it will be necessary to provide additional funds to carry on this double function of work relief and city maintenance.

Under the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939 municipalities are authorized to borrow for Federal Emergency Unemployment Relief Projects, and in accordance with this authorization I submit herewith a loan order providing for the borrowing of $150,000 for Relief Projects in the Paving Service budget of the Public Works Department, and recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939, a loan in the sum of $150,000, outside the debt limit, be, and hereby is, authorized, and that the City Treasurer, upon request of the Mayor, be authorized to issue bonds or notes therefor, and that the said sum of $150,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended in accordance with the provisions of said chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939 for the following purpose:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Paving Service.

BUS LINE, EGLESTON SQUARE-GREEN STREET STATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from Edward Dana, President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of August 28, 1939, concerning the establishment of a bus line from Egleston square, along Washington street to Boylston street, over Lamartine street to the Green Street Station, and return.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
September 22, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—The trustees have given consideration to the request of the City Council that bus service be established between Egleston and Green Street Stations via Washington, Boylston and Lamartine streets.

The suggested service would closely parallel existing service and would produce very little, if any, additional revenue. Operation of buses through Egleston Station would quite seriously interfere with existing car operation. The loop at Green street would be over unsatisfactory streets, Green street now being used one way for the Centre street bus line and is too narrow for two-way operation.

For the reasons above stated and having in mind also that operation of the suggested service would add to the deficit, the trustees do not feel that it can be justified.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

SOFTBALL GAMES, ROSLINDALE MUNICIPAL BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from William P. Long, Chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning arrangements for the screening of the inside of the windows of the gymnasium of the Municipal Building in Roslindale square, to permit of the use of the building for softball games.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, September 30, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I am acknowledging your memorandum of September 27 with inclosure, order from the City Council requesting screening of the inside of the windows of the gymnasium in the Roslindale Municipal Building, to permit the playing of softball.

I am returning the order, as any repairs to the Roslindale Municipal Building will have to be made by the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

However, I do want to say that softball can never be played successfully inside of a building. We have attempted this game in a number of gymnasiums without any success and always with great danger to the players and damage to the buildings, even after the windows had been screened.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

DISTRIBUTION OF COMMODITIES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from William G. O'Hare, Executive Director of the Overseers of the Public Welfare, relative to your order of September 18, 1939, concerning the arrangements for the use of the indoor facilities of all buildings where Federal commodities are distributed, so that recipients may be permitted to remain indoors during inclement weather while waiting for the issue of their commodities.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
September 29, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated September 18, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to contact the W. P. A. authorities and arrange for the use of the indoor facilities of all buildings where Federal commodities are distributed, so that recipients may be permitted to remain indoors during inclement weather while waiting for the issue of their commodities."

May I say that the use of buildings in various districts to distribute commodities has ever been a problem in this department since that type of distribution was started. We are doing and shall continue to do everything we can, first, by having the W. P. A. workers expedite the issuance of goods, especially in inclement weather, and, second, to adapt our situation as best we can to keep these people from public gaze.

As the members of the Council may well know, in order not to increase the burden on the city we have had to use such buildings as we could find available for this distribution. I do want the honorable members of the City Council to know that we realize fully that we should cooperate in the matter of not having people exposed to inclement weather and do everything possible to see that no complaints are received on this score.

I shall refer the matter further to Mr. John C. Stalker, Director of the Surplus Commodities Division, for instructions to go from him to his workers along the same line.

Trusting this will be satisfactory to the members of the City Council, I am,

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of September 18 with order of the City Council requesting erection of a shelter on Columbia road reservation at Upham's Corner, we receive many requests for shelters at stopping places on the system and have carefully gone into the matter, but in the opinion of the Board of Trustees the expense entailed if these requests were granted is not justified.

A study is being made for a possible location in Ward 20 for such a station. I have also reported the matter to Mr. John C. Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council on June 12, 1939, an order was passed requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to provide a proper lunch room for pupils of the Frank V. Thompson School.

The School Committee on Monday evening of this week referred the order to the Superintendent of Schools, with the suggestion that he discuss the matter with the Superintendent of Construction. The Superintendent agrees that additional lunch room facilities are desirable, provided accommodations within the building may be had and provided, further, that there are sufficient funds available for the purpose.

At the first opportunity, the Superintendent will discuss the matter with the Superintendent of Construction.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for the appropriation of $500 from the income of the Phillips Street Fund, for the purpose of erecting a tablet at Old Colony avenue, Old Harbor Village, in memory of the officers and men of the Old Ninth Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia.

I am informed that there is sufficient income available in the Phillips Street Fund for this purpose, and I am in hearty agreement with the proposal that a tablet of this character be erected in honor of the heroes of the Old Ninth Regiment.

I respectfully recommend passage of the accompanying order.

TREE PLANTING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from William P. Long, Chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning the sponsoring of a W. P. A. project, whereby two main arteries leading into the heart of Boston, namely, Huntington avenue and Columbus avenue, will be beautified by the planting of appropriate trees.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, September 30, 1939.

William T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I am acknowledging your memorandum of September 28 with inclosure, order from City Council concerning the sponsoring of a W. P. A. project for the planting of trees on Huntington and Columbus avenues.

Please be informed that the department will give every consideration to the recommendation of the City Council.

I do, however, want to say that trees in business sections of the city have never been successful, in more ways than one. If the trees are planted they have to receive a certain amount of care for the following two years, and after the trees take hold the proprietors of the stores feel that they block the view of prospective customers and also interfere with the delivery of merchandise.

Huntington avenue had been planted to Massachusetts avenue, but a number of the trees have been removed on account of the subway. Columbus avenue was also planted, at one time, to Massachusetts avenue, but a number of the trees had to be removed.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

NOTARY IN EACH WELFARE UNIT.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from William G. O'Hare, Executive Director of the Overseers of the Public Welfare, relative to your order of September 11, 1939, concerning the authorization of one person in each welfare unit as a notary, to take care of the certification of applications in connection with W. P. A. employment.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Overseers of the Public Welfare,
September 29, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated September 11, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Director of the Public Welfare Department be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the authorization of one person in each welfare unit as a notary, to take care of the certification of applications in connection with W. P. A. employment."

May I state that when the W. P. A. termination order at the end of eighteen months service came through we thought of setting up an individual notary in each one of the district units in order to work out more rapidly certification and re-certification of persons who sought W. P. A. employment. However, because a great deal of local cooperation was given by notaries in districts the intense need was not apparent for the establishing of a notary in each district.

In checking, I find that in three out of the ten districts there has been at times a little slow-up in W. P. A. certifications due to lack of proper notary service. I have, however, instructed the districts to notify me immediately in the event of such recurrence, at which time I shall dispatch a person assigned at 43 Hawkins street who has notary rights to help relieve the congestion.

I trust that this way of handling the problem in point will be satisfactory to the honorable members of the City Council.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

USE OF SCHOOLHOUSE HALLS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from Miss Ellen M. Cronin, Secretary of the School Committee of the City of Boston, relative to your order of August 7, 1939, concerning the advisability of working out a schedule so that the halls of schoolhouses and the play yards of the same shall be more open to the public.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

School Committee, September 28, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council on August 7, 1939, an order was passed requesting the Committee, through your Honor, to consider the advisability of working out a schedule so that the halls of schoolhouses and the play yards of the same shall be more open to the public.

The School Committee respectfully reports that playground supervision was supplied this summer by the School Department in more than one hundred school yards and on corners of Park Department playgrounds—to about the same extent as in previous recent years.

Because of the desire of the Committee to provide additional opportunities for play for children, some twenty school yards were made available for play by turning over the keys to the local police station with the request that such yards be kept open from approximately five o'clock until dark, under the general supervision of the police. In this the Police Department cooperated, and as far as the Committee is aware, the arrangement worked out satisfactorily and without serious criticism from occupants of property in the vicinities.

The Committee this year undertook the further experiment of providing a small hole or "tots' entrance" in the fence around a school yard, the opening being sufficiently low to discourage older or grown-up children from getting in. This low "tots' entrance" is left permanently open with no gate. From the experiment tried this year, it appears that the Committee may extend this device to other school play yards.

In addition to these facilities, the School Committee during the summer—in cooperation with the Traffic Commission—set apart approximately nineteen streets as play streets at certain hours—with traffic banned. In cases where neighborhood clubs have supplied supervision, the programs have worked out well. In other cases, the results have not been so satisfactory.

The Committee is considering keeping several of the junior high school gymnasiums open at the end of the afternoon up till approximately five-thirty. Final approval of this plan awaits the realization of adequate money in the budget.

The above items of recreational expansion do not make mention of the placing of certain high school gymnasiums at the service of the Junior Police, as was done last year and as is planned again for certain weekday nights this year.

A motion in the Committee to keep further high school gymnasiums open at night for basketball and other sports has been tabled on account of stringency in the budget and the considerable cost involved.

If your Honor has any definite suggestions to offer along these lines, the Committee will, of course, be very glad to receive them.

Respectfully yours,
ELLEN M. CHONIN, Secretary.

DECISION ON GAS RATES.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council request his Excellency Governor Leverett Saltonstall to confer with the Public Utilities Commissioners for the purpose of compelling them to rescind their recent decision to increase gas rates to the smaller consumer.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, we have all learned recently of the action of the Public Utilities Commissioners in increasing the rates to the small consumers of gas in Boston and the various cities. Although we were all horrified to learn of it, we were not altogether surprised. It is very apparent that the actions of the Public Utilities Commissioners recently have been not for the interests of the common people but for the controlling and wealthy interests of the large corporations and those that they represent. This action by the Public Utilities Commission should bring some action on your part, Mr. Governor. You are the one who is responsible and the one who has control over this particular department. You are the one that appoints it, and you are the one that discharges it. You are the one, Mr. Governor, who should confer with this Board and compel them to reconsider their decision to increase the gas rates of those people who are least able to afford it. We all know that conditions are such now that the average home breadwinner has not got sufficient to take care of the bare necessities of life, and that this added burden, together with the added burden of the increased prices on foods because of the war, is going to make life more miserable for them. Mr. Governor, during the last campaign there were statements made by your opponent that in the event that this present administration was elected it would be for the benefit of those interests adverse to the common people, and I am convinced by the action of the Public Utilities Commission during the past few months that we have to believe these claims as alleged by those who opposed you. Every action of that particular department has been for the large corporations. Only recently when members of the City Council refused to give a large corporation—the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company—a license to operate through the congested areas of Boston, although the people of those districts were strongly against it, nevertheless, this Department of Public Utilities overrode all the public sentiment regarding it and gave them this particular permit. Every action on their part has indicated that they do not give a "hoot" for the small home owner or for the man earning a small salary, but only desire to help those who need no help. You are the Governor of this Commonwealth. You can confer with this Board and make them take some action—which perhaps we will have the right to do before the Supreme Court—not for the best interests of these large and wealthy corporations who are making money, for no other city in the state has increased its rates, and there is no reason why this one should. You should do something to protect those who need your assistance, the poor and the common people of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, undoubtedly the action of the Board of Public Utilities will eventually bring about, in my opinion, the establishment of municipal power plants and programs set up, the same as have been set up in certain of the southern states of this country, taking from private industry the public utilities that now are in their hands. I think that the Public Utilities Commission of Massachusetts has acted unwisely at the present time in giving the gas company the right to increase their rates, particularly during times when the people who are going to be affected are the poor, home-loving people, the people who are trying to make an honest living, where thousands upon thousands have been thrust upon the welfare rolls. I hope that the order which has been introduced by the councilor may bring about some action on the part of the Governor in being able to do something with the Board of Public Utilities. I have at this time a resolution to offer which probably will run in conjunction with the order that has been presented, and I think that, although we are condemning the acts of the Board of Public Utilities, the members of the Boston City Council and the citizens of Boston, particularly the poor families and the home-owning people, ought to be thankful that at least one member of the Board of Public Utilities—Abraham Webber—stood out as the sole member opposing the increase in the gas rates. He has the interest, I feel, of the citizens, of the home owners, at heart. He knows what it is to increase the cost of living. I therefore at this time will offer a resolution praising the acts of Abraham Webber, a member of that commission.

The question came on the suspension of the rule and the passage of the order of Coun. Taylor.

Coun. WILSON—May I have the order read? I heard the remarks concerning the chief executive, who I was not aware was a member of the Public Utilities Commission, and it confused me a little as to what we are voting on.

The order of Coun. Taylor was read, and the order was passed, under suspension of the rule.

THANKS TO COMMISSIONER WEBBER.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby tenders to Abraham C. Webber, member of the Public Utilities Commission, its sincere and unalloyed gratitude for his courage and intelligence in voting, in single opposition, against the decree of the Public Utilities Commission authorizing an increase in the rate of gas.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GRANDSTAND, NORFOLK STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to sponsor a W. P. A. project for the erection of a grandstand.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, the playground at Norfolk street is one of the great athletic fields in the Dorchester district, and the thousands of athletes who are coming to that playground really need the facilities of a grandstand or bleachers. I hope that as the result of this order some program may be devised for a W. P. A. project for the erection of such a grandstand or bleachers on those fields.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, MCBRIDE STREET, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along McBride street, both sides, South street to Washington street, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DECISION ON GAS RATES.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to proceed immediately with every means at his command in opposition to the surprising decision of the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission, which recently authorized the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to increase its rates on poor people to an extraordinary and alarming degree.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, in introducing this order, I am sure that the members of this Council will vote in favor of it, in protest against the decision which was recently rendered by the Public Utilities Commission. I believe that every member of the Council here feels as though the people of Boston did not get the consideration that they should have gotten, because of the fact that the hearings were held at a time when nobody knew anything about them, and I believe that if the members of this Council had known about the hearings they would have been only too glad to go before the Public Utilities Commission to oppose the increase in gas rates.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 15 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Stonehurst street, Ward 15, under the present W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a street light at the corner of Fox and Percival streets, Ward 15.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Norton street, Ward 15, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Speedwell street, Ward 15, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Longfellow street, Ward 15, under the present W. P. A. plan of construction.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIRS TO STREETS BY PUBLIC UTILITIES.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to institute proceedings to collect on bonds filed by public utilities companies when they fail to make suitable repairs to Boston streets which were dug up for the installation or repair of their pipes or wires.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am motivated to introduce this order today because of a sense of real indignation at the action of the Board of Public Utilities in seeming collusion with the officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. I am in hearty accord with the orders introduced by both Councilors Rosenberg and Taylor relative to the situation that has arisen, and I feel that so far as the Board of Public Utilities is concerned, especially because of the order of Councilor Taylor, something may be done relative to that Board. I feel, however, that the people of Boston have been militated against by the public utility companies as far as the condition loan orders we are going to get, and what for.

because this is an unexpected order, certainly. We have heard that there will be an additional order for welfare of about a million dollars, and I think it was supposed, when the tax rate was fixed, that that would be met by an additional borrowing for the balance of the year. I believe that we ought to know, however, what the program is. As I said at the beginning, evidently it will not unduly delay the matter. It will enable the order, if approved by the Council, to be finally passed two weeks from today, and that is a date within which the commissioner says he can carry on and that no man will be discharged. I therefore move reference to the Finance Committee.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, I believe that I am as much interested in the economy of this city as any other individual, and I respect the opinion of the councilor from the Back Bay, but we have thoroughly discussed in executive session the reasons for this new loan order. While it may be true that the Public Works Commissioner said that he could stagger on, I am too well acquainted personally with the suffering that results through a great number of people being laid off even for a temporary period, and I for one, while I am thoroughly in accord with the principles of economy, do not feel for one instant that we should give consideration to a measure that may result in the laying off of any number of individuals on the W. P. A. The Public Works Commissioner at the conference which we just had in executive session, said he could stagger along. I am not willing to have the Public Works Commissioner stagger along if it is going to result in people being thrown out of work. In my opinion he thoroughly explained the reason why it was necessary for him to have an additional $150,000. There is no reason why, under true principles of economy, by which we should scrutinize everything that comes before us which will come out of the taxpayers—why, under that sound principle of economy, this should not be passed on by the Finance Committee and reported back here next week and if, during that time, as a result of the investigation they find that there is something that should not be passed, we can throw the whole thing out, but until such time as it is shown—contrary to what has been explained by the Public Works Commissioner and the Budget Commissioner—that this is not a proper order, I feel that it should be passed today for its first reading.

Coun. TAYLOR—While it is true, Mr. President, that there might have been laxity upon the part of certain officials or there might have been inadvertences upon their part, or other circumstances over which they had no control, in getting this order before the Council at this late day, nevertheless, I wanted to warn the members of this Council that to reject this loan order today will be dynamite. While the Public Works Commissioner has stated that they can probably stagger along, I for one, as a member of this Council, am not going to assume any responsibility for the firing of one individual from the W. P. A. I don't think that situation ever exists, the recipients can blame the members of the City Council for not acting upon this order. And I need not mention that if we are responsible for it, it will go very far towards the defeat of any one of the councilors at the next election. The Public Works Commissioner has explained to us and to my satisfaction, at least that they need money, and that in the event they do not get the money they will have to work without efficiency, and that, in my opinion, is not good economy. We thoroughly discussed it in the executive session, and there was nothing there that we could mention that would help us one way or the other to have any reason whatsoever to refrain from voting on this order today. Any amendment is only delay, and doubtless is going to cause trouble. If, as the result of our inability or unwillingness to pass this loan order, some of the W. P. A. workers are forced on to welfare, the Public Works Commissioner has explained that it costs the City of Boston $8 per month for every man working on the W. P. A. in his department, but if he is thrown off the W. P. A. and has to go on to welfare, that is going to cost the City of Boston at least $50 a month, and in my opinion that is not good economy. I believe, as Councilor Langan suggests, if there is any suspicion that this money is not being borrowed for legitimate purposes, then I say the Finance Committee has a week in which to do all their investigating, during which time they may not find anything that they seek, and then they can submit to us the results of their investigation at the next meeting and at that time, if we are convinced that there is something wrong, there is nothing which can deter us from turning down the order. I say we ought to pass the order today.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the time of the year is getting late and at best there will not be over six or seven weeks more during which streets can be opened for either new construction or for resurfacing. At that time certain cut-downs will of necessity perhaps have to be made in street program quotas. If we delay or stand in the way to any extent, whether of the program which is now in progress or in the opening of new streets, the failure would be harmful not only to each and every member of this Council, but to the city as a whole, with the long winter that is coming, when we should have our streets in the best condition possible. We have had since July 1 cut-downs made by the W. P. A. for various reasons, the quota reduction, because of funds running out on this or that project, or for eighteen months continuous service, and each and every member of this Body knows that we have been flooded by abuse from people who have been forced to be laid off because of these various reductions. We do not want to see any further reductions at this time; we cannot stand it. I do not see any sense in quibbling over $150,000. I think this order should be given its first reading today in order to avoid, as Councilor Taylor has said, an increase of, say, $50 a month on our welfare rolls for a great number of those who will be laid off. That would certainly be false economy. I think that economy calls upon us to pass this order today, and that there should be no delay so far as the first reading is concerned. If reference is to be made to the Finance Committee, that can also be done. I therefore hope that this matter can be given its first reading at this session.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I am sorry to observe that any vote of this Council, particularly on a loan order, and most especially on a loan order the proceeds of which are to be used for any current expenses, results in any run for cover or any undue nervousness on the part of members of the Council merely because there is an election next month. I hate to feel that the Council would vote on any loan order in a state of election day jitters. When this particular loan order came into the Council today, the Mayor, for whom I personally have the highest regard, made no suggestion in his message to the Council that there was any particular emergency. It came through in due course, without undue comment, and without urging upon those who are on the eve of an election that this loan order should be acted upon today. In the usual course it would, of course, be referred to what was once known as the Committee on Finance, that committee which in the old days was the committee in the Council which was supposed to go into every loan order for every purpose that came before this Body. And so I say there was no urgent request on the part of the Mayor that this was in any way an emergency. I was very much disillusioned, incident to the hearings in the Executive Committee, because I sat there and I heard the advice of the Budget Commissioner and the advice of the Public Works Commissioner, at a time when they apparently were under the impression that this particular order would require only one week, or at a time when they were apparently under the impression that under the statute this loan order did not need two readings fourteen days apart, we were given the old, old weeping story that we used to hear about in the old days under other administrations under which I have served that, "If this is not passed, hundreds, yea, thousands of men will be begging for bread on the streets of Boston." Now, there was no such intimation in the letter of the Mayor, and I couldn't believe that there exists any such emergency, even if some of the gentlemen renting equipment to the city—whether their trucks or steam shovels—did get in heat for fear that they will not get more trucks on before the season is over. And so, as I say, they told us that if the loan order was not given its reading today, men would be crying for bread tomorrow, and I was amazed at the apparent impression that any such dribble made on men over twenty-one years of age, in a legislative body in this enlightened day and age. And then it came out that this loan order could not really have a final reading until two weeks from today, and then those who were advising the Council in the Executive Committee discovered that after all, even after two weeks, men would not be crying for bread tomorrow. That to me, Mr. President, was about as disgusting an exhibition of trying to put over a vote before a nervous committee of the Council as I ever sat in on. Well, now, what are the facts? In 1938, we are informed, the city spent $441,000, with an average of 4,736 men at work, W. P. A. men, completing thirty-eight miles of street; and this year so far, as against $441,000, we have already spent $425,000, with an average of only 4,261 men at work, or about 500, or about ten per cent, less than there was a year ago, which, of course, coincides with what we have read in the newspapers, that there has been approximately a ten per cent layoff on W. P. A. help. During that time so far this year we have done thirty-four miles of streets, as against thirty-eight miles of streets during the whole of last year. In other words, with nine-tenths as many men working this year as last, with this loan order it will bring this year's W. P. A. material expense to within $53,000 of all that was spent last year with ten per cent more men at work. Now, some of my colleagues here in the Council may suggest, "Well, what would be gained by delaying this loan order," or, as I am going to suggest, a part of this loan order, for later action? And I say this, and I say it seriously, although it seems almost primary school to even state it—the only reason for delaying is the one reason that the Council is supposed to look into any loan order that comes in here. Let us have this right on the record. There has been no breakdown of this $150,000 by anybody, either by the Budget Commissioner or by the Commissioner of Public Works. How much of the money is going to be used for material, macadam, and so forth? How much of it is going to be used for trucks? How much of it is going to be used for machinery? What is the breakdown? How many new streets are going to be done? How many old streets are going to be reconstructed? Just how much of the $150,000 during the two months of the year remaining is really going to be needed? As Councilor Shattuck well pointed out, before we vote on $150,000 for this purpose, are there any more loan orders for current bills coming in before November 15, or before the close of the year? In other words, we are entitled to a breakdown of the item. I don't think that the Public Works Department needs $150,000 to finish the work, I don't believe that they need it. I don't believe either the Budget Commissioner or the Commissioner of Public Works can break down that figure until we give them a couple of days to do it. We had them before the Executive Committee on this so-called emergency matter, which even the Mayor did not know was an emergency, and they could not break down the figure or give us any information whatever about it. Then the members of the Council say, "Well, because a department head of the City of Boston comes in and says that he needs $150,000, we ought to have enough faith in him to vote it." I was amazed to hear that statement, Mr. President. I don't know why we have a City Council in the City of Boston if, just because a message comes from the Mayor's office, from some department head who has not even figures available when we ask him to come into the Executive Committee, because he writes his name on a piece of paper, this Body should pass it without having him break down his figure. I can't remember, Mr. President, any meeting of the Council in recent years when I have been so disillusioned as I was at hearing that discussion in the Executive Committee today. And so I am going to move to amend this loan order to read $75,000 instead of $150,000. And I am conservative—perhaps I can't figure clearly, but in my opinion that breakdown knocks the feet out from under this argument that if we do not pass this loan order men will be walking the streets, because that to my mind, of course, answers itself. If we give the first reading today to a $75,000 loan order which would be given a second reading two weeks from today, that will more than adequately cover 4,261 men for a period of at least a month, bearing in mind that the particular money is not for wages but is for materials, and that the money for wages comes from the Government in any event. Then after the Committee on Finance has had the Public Works Commissioner break down this $150,000, and after we have been advised whether any more loan orders are coming through for current bills this year, then the Council in its wisdom—if there is any wisdom left in this Body—can vote an additional $25,000, or an additional $50,000 or an additional $75,000 and end up at least with a clear conscience that they have looked into the figures and given the taxpayers of Boston the break that they felt should be given them when they sent us here to look after their business. So I am pressing that motion to amend this order to read $75,000. With that amendment I will vote for it today and I will vote for it two weeks from today, and there will not be a single man begging for bread today, two weeks from today or two months from today, and I don't believe that there is any reasonably honest individual in this room who can argue that that is not a fair proposition.

Coun. TAYLOR—May I ask a question?

Coun. WILSON—Yes, sir.

Chairman FITZGERALD—The councilor consents to answer.

Coun. TAYLOR—You told the members of the Council the actual figures in reference to the mileage of the streets. Did you also get the figures of how many square yards were done last year and done this year?

Coun. WILSON—I got some of the yardage, yes, Councilor Taylor, but the mileage is much more simple and easier to state.

Coun. TAYLOR—When you do streets you do them by the yard. Some of them may be small, some narrow, and some wide. Could you give us the figures of the yardage which you obtained from the Commissioner of Public Works?

Coun. WILSON—I can't give you the yardage, councilor, although I will frankly admit I learned that with nine-tenths as many men as worked last year, for some strange reason we were able to do many more miles of streets, which makes me wonder what was rotten in Denmark with the W. P. A. last year.

Coun. TAYLOR—As a matter of fact, Councilor, there was twice as much yardage done this year as there was done last year, in accordance with the Public Works Commissioner's statement—isn't that so?

Coun. WILSON—Take the Public Works Commissioner's best statement for what it is worth. He was so hazy on those figures that I discounted most of them.

Coun. TAYLOR—One more question, Councilor. Is there anything that the Finance Committee can do this week to find out whether or not this $150,000 is going to be spent for legitimate purposes that they can't do later?

Coun. WILSON—I would be glad to answer that question, and I think that I am more fair to the W. P. A. workman than you are, for this reason: The proposal now is that we give the first reading to a $150,000 loan order today, and that we then let the Finance Committee look into the question, and if they think $150,000 should be cut to a lower figure you would have thrown back your whole vote for at least as week. I propose that we pass $75,000 today and give it its second reading two weeks from today. No matter what the Finance Committee does, you assure the W. P. A. workers of Boston enough to keep them at work for a month.

Coun. TAYLOR—Then if you found out there was anything wrong in your investigation during the week you would not pass the thing, would you?

Coun. WILSON—I would vote for the $75,000, because I have sufficient assurance that the Mayor of Boston would not send through a loan order unless some money was desired, but I am of the belief that he having been absent from the city to get that splendid convention here next year, this matter probably just came to his desk, and I doubt if the Mayor of Boston knows whether the whole $150,000 is necessary.

The question came on Coun. Shattuck's motion to refer the order to the Committee on Finance.

The motion was declared carried. Coun. TAYLOR doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The roll was called, and the motion was lost, yeas 4, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Fitzgerald, Irwin, Kerrigan, Shattuck—4.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Hutchinson, Kelly, Lanagan, Lyons, McMahon, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Taylor, Wilson—13.

The question came on Coun. Wilson's motion to reduce the amount of the loan to $75,000.

Coun. KERRIGAN—Mr. President, I am going to vote for Councilor Wilson's motion to reduce this item to $75,000. Commissioner Hyland stated in the Executive Committee meeting that he did not receive enough money. He stated that the $150,000, in his opinion, was not enough to carry on the work efficiently. Now, what I am interested in is in keeping the men at work, just like every member of this Body is. If the money that is being appropriated here today is to be used for steam engines and steam shovels, and all that sort of thing, then I am against it. I would like to see efficiency on the W. P. A. but efficiency comes from the amount of hand work. The purpose of this W. P. A. is not to hire a lot of trucks, not to hire a lot of steam engines or shovels, but it is to put men to work. The conditions are just as acute today as they were a year or two years ago, yet today in the Public Works Department we have less men working on our streets. What is the reason? We do not want those equipments to be used in the streets. We can get efficiency from contractors. Now, if we are going to use the W. P. A. to get materials and to put machines to work, then we should not accept any money for the W. P. A. There won't be one man laid off the W. P. A. The Government pays those expenses, and the Government is doing the right thing. But yet in the City of Boston, with our welfare load higher than it ever was, we have less workmen on W. P. A. and I cannot understand such a situation. I heartily agree with the councilor from Dorchester that we cut this appropriation to $75,000. Your Public Works Commissioner has stated that he can go along for two weeks without any layoffs. But he stated before the Executive Committee that, in his opinion, the $150,000 was not enough. Well, if that is so, why not wait for one week to get a breakdown of these figures? We should know how much money he is going to spend for materials, for steam shovels, and that sort of thing. Of course, more streets might be fixed with the use of machinery, but that is not the purpose of the W. P. A. The purpose of the W. P. A. is to put men to work. So for that reason I hope that every member will agree on the $75,000. There is no haste. The councilor from Dorchester has always been in here pleading the poor man's cause. He doesn't want to tie up the W. P. A. any more than any one in this Body. In my opinion, if Commissioner Hyland states he has not got enough money, then we should certainly give it to him because conditions are not getting any better.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, a point of information. Can any member of the Council enlighten the Body as to what proportion of the $150,000 is for trucks, for example?

Chairman FITZGERALD—I think that is a pertinent question.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—We know as a fact, to have men work in the W. P. A. the Government requires that the city spend so much money for materials. If the Government finds the city is not spending their money or is not appropriating enough money for materials, they are not going to give us the money to pay the men on W. P. A. If we do not have the materials the men will be taken off. So that I am voting for the money for the materials so that the men will be kept at work on the W. P. A.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, there seems to be a little confusion here. The gentleman has not answered my question. He talks about having this money for materials. I wonder if he could enlighten us as to what part of the $150,000 is really for materials and what percentage of it is for trucks and steam shovels.

Coun. TAYLOR—Why don't you apply to the Public Works Commissioner?

Coun. WILSON—I did, and he would not tell us.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, I can answer his questions as well as the Public Works Commissioner. He could not tell you, and no one can. No one can tell you until the bills are paid. Now, in order to have the streets constructed we have to have trucks in the streets to take the dirt away. We have the taxpayer to contend with. We will put the people to work if the money is appropriated. Furthermore, I am speaking in behalf of my ward, and I have streets opened up in the section between resurfacing and new construction, and I am not going to see W. P. A. fellows sitting on people's lawns and doorsteps waiting for the City of Boston to appropriate money so that it will enable the City of Boston to match the Government money with materials. I want to see action. I am in favor of the $150,000 going through today, and we can find out later who is getting the trucks or who is not getting the trucks.

The roll was called, and the motion was lost, yeas 6, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Fitzgerald, Irwin, Kerrigan, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Wilson—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Sullivan, Taylor—11.

The question came on giving the loan order for $150,000 as submitted by the Mayor its first reading and passage.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I think that the suggestion by the councilor from Ward 17 is an ideal one,—in fact, on every loan order that is before the Council from now on I am going to suggest that we have itemized details come in, so far as possible, as to how much money is going for steam shovels, how much money is going for trucks, how much money is going for hand labor, and so on. I don't think it is necessary here today, at this time, however, to hold up a matter of this kind due to the reason that even though the Mayor did not state that it was an emergency, we did, upon our own request, hear from the Budget Commissioner and from the Commissioner of Public Works. Because we pass this order for $150,000 does not mean that $150,000 has got to be spent. What we have got to do here in this Body is to do everything within our power to keep the greatest number of men at work and the smallest number of people on the welfare.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this is quite a lot of money, and I raise this suggestion, that I am interested in putting the largest possible number of men at work, and that is why I wanted to see these figures sort of broken down, because the suspicion occurs to my perhaps suspicious mind that the reason we have constructed twice as much yardage this year as we did last year with about the same amount of money and ten per cent less men is because there have been a great many steam shovels and trucks and machinery used and not enough men, and the only way to put more laborers on the streets and less machinery and follow the true purposes of the W. P. A. is to force the breaking down of these figures. I think that is the answer to the question as to why we have been able to construct twice as much yardage this year as we did a year ago with 500 average less men.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I think a few of my colleagues in the Council are working under a difficulty here. They seem to say that machines have been used to displace men. As a matter of fact, there was a 14 per cent reduction on W. P. A. in Massachusetts during the past year, and on the Public Works there was less than a 9 per cent reduction. The machines quite obviously were not used to put men out of work on W. P. A. on Boston streets, rather they were used to supplement the men which the W. P. A. would give the Public Works Department, in order that we might have improved and better streets in Boston. A vote for such an order is a vote for a better Boston, and a vote to delay it is a vote to delay improvements on our Boston streets. The Boston taxpayers will consider it a rather vague gift if we tell them that we refuse to accept any gift from the W. P. A., or if we refuse to construct as many streets as possible under this low cost of construction. I think we should get along with this and pass it.

Coun. WILSON—I should like one other statement to be in the record with reference to the Boston taxpayer, about whom we are always solicitous around election day. I do not doubt that the average Boston taxpayer and the average Boston resident will be amazed to hear that on the figures of the Public Works Commissioner, one in every twelve streets in Boston in 1939 had reconstruction work done on it.

Coun. MCMAHON—I would like to ask the gentleman from Dorchester whether he knows of the almost half million dollars in 1938 spent for W. P. A. material, whether any of the money was wrongfully spent, or whether any money was spent unlawfully?

Chairman FITZGERALD—Will Councilor Wilson answer that?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that is a large order. I can state that so far as I know, of course, none of the money last year was spent unlawfully or illegally, but I do bear in mind that if we appropriate this $150,000 we will be within $53,000 of what we did spend last year lawfully, although we have had an average of 500 less men at work during the year.

The roll was called, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 15, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Wilson—15.

Nays—Coun. Shattuck, Taylor—2.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I now move that the order be referred to the Finance Committee.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I would like to move an amendment to that motion, that the committee report back at the next meeting.

The amendment was accepted by Coun. Shattuck, and the order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 49.

I. FIRE PREVENTION PARADE.

On Sunday, October 8, 1939, at 3 p. m., a parade will be held in Boston in observance of the opening of Fire Prevention Week. The starting point of the parade will be at Columbus avenue and Eliot street. All units participating will form in their respective divisions at 2.15 p. m., ready to march at 3 p. m. sharp.

In order that the representation from this department may be one of the most impressive features of the parade, arrangements have been made to have the Fire Department Band, various types of apparatus and floats depicting fire department operations in line. In addition, the Fire Commissioner desires to have the officers and men of the department support this demonstration by volunteering to march on their off-time. All uniformed officers and privates are requested to participate.

District chiefs will personally interview every member in their respective districts and ask each individual member if he will march on October 8, provided he is off duty.

The uniform for the day for all members of the department will be regulation uniform with sack coat and white gloves. Members of the department are requested to give special attention to their appearance on that day. All officers participating in the parade will wear white caps.

Members of the band who are on the day tour of duty will be excused at 12 noon, Sunday, October 8, 1939; members on the night tour of duty will be excused until 9 p. m., members on the twenty-four-hour tour of duty will be excused from 12 noon until 9 p. m.

Members of the band will bring their small band books and music lyres. They will leave their instrument cases at the quarters of Engine Company 26, Broadway, and the officer in charge of the house will detail a member to look after this equipment in the event the company is required to leave quarters in response to an alarm.

Through the courtesy of the mayors, selectmen, fire commissioners and chiefs of department, apparatus from cities and towns adjoining the City of Boston will participate in this parade. Emergency trucks and floats from public service corporations in Boston, Boy Scout and School Cadet units, and representations from various civic organizations will also be in line.

not be allowed in the house unless accompanied by adults.

The Maintenance Department will deliver to various fire stations, canvas signs to be hung over the front doors. The signs will be delivered with ropes attached so that all that will be necessary for display will be the tying of the ropes at designated places.

On each day during Fire Prevention Week, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., two pieces of apparatus from the houses bearing the above-mentioned signs will be parked on the street in front of each house, provided that such parking will not interfere with traffic and the weather is good. In any cases where parking outside will interfere with the movement of traffic, the doors are to be opened (weather permitting) and the apparatus drawn out to the thresholds. Where the apparatus is placed outside a man should be in attendance at all times and Fire Prevention Posters should be displayed.

All schools will be visited by a district chief or such officers as he may assign to assist. School fire drills are to be held and permission requested to address the pupils on the subject of fire and fire prevention, the pupils to be assembled for that purpose. A Speakers' team has been organized to assist in this work and for the organization of school fire marshals in each school building.

On Sunday, October 8, at 2.30 p. m., the entire off-platoon will assemble at Park square to participate (with certain apparatus detailed) in the Second Annual Fire Prevention Parade to take place on certain downtown streets of Boston. The parade this year will be much more elaborate and a good showing of men is desired. The route will be as follows: Down Eliot street to Stuart street, down Stuart to Washington, up Washington street to Winter, up Winter to Tremont, up Tremont to Boylston, up Boylston to Charles, up Charles to Boston Common. On the Common the drill team will conduct an exhibition at 4 p. m.

The Fire Department Band will take part in the parade and other men will be detailed to be stationed on the floats being constructed for this parade.

During Fire Prevention Week the exhibition drill will be held in the Fenway, East Boston and North End Park. The other sections of the city will be visited on a schedule to be announced later. During the time that the exhibition drill is taking place in a district, the men on the off-platoon in such district are requested to report in uniform to the location where the drill is being held and assist the police in holding back the crowds.

The Fire Prevention Bureau will make inspections during the week and distribute fire prevention literature in Charlestown, Roxbury, East Boston, West End and North End.

Special radio broadcasts and news releases will be forthcoming daily. Outdoor billboards, signs and store windows will be utilized to display fire prevention messages. One half million pieces of literature will be distributed during the week through various agencies.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1939.

NO. 42

MAYOR TOBIN CALLS ON ALL RESIDENTS OF BOSTON TO BECOME CITIZENS IF NOT NATURALIZED ALREADY AND TO BECOME REGISTERED VOTERS — IN RADIO BROADCAST HE STRESSES FACT THAT WE LIVE UNDER MOST IDEALLY DEMOCRATIC CONDITIONS OF ANY COUNTRY IN THE WORLD AND URGES ALL MEN AND WOMEN WHO SEEK AND WANT PROTECTION OF OUR FLAG AND GOVERNMENT TO JOIN RANKS OF GOOD CITIZENS BY EXERCISING RIGHTS OF THE BALLOT TO HELP KEEP COUNTRY IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS.

The following were the remarks of the Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston, over radio Station WAAB, on "Citizenship," on October 13:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

It is my pleasure tonight to speak on a subject which is of timely interest — a subject which, at this stage of world affairs, should be of great importance to thousands of residents of our city. My subject is "Citizenship," and my remarks are particularly addressed to those who have been born on foreign soil and who are not yet citizens of our country — and to those who are citizens, but who are neglectful of their rights as free men to vote and to have a voice in the conduct of their local, state and national governments.

If we consider but briefly the condition that exists in Europe today — with millions of men armed with the most powerful and destructive weapons yet devised by man — and waiting for the fateful signal that will let loose horrible messages of death, we must come to the conclusion that not only will a war in Europe be terrible in its consequences, and more devastating than any previous war in the history of the world, but we must realize, too, that such a war will endanger the very foundations of modern civilization, with our nation — America — the one great country remaining in the world as the bulwark against the ravages of hate, greed and lust for power.

Ours Best Democracy.

In no place in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, today, is there any such thing as democracy in government comparable to ours. Freedom of speech, freedom of the press and the radio, independence of thought and action, the right to worship God according to individual beliefs — and many other rights of free men which we here in America take for granted — are completely lost to millions upon millions of individuals in lands across the seas. Ours is a great heritage — a heritage that has been won by the blood and iron of men who have gone before us and who have constructed a nation on this hemisphere based upon the God-given rights of man, which it is our duty and responsibility to preserve and protect.

To preserve and to protect those rights may — in the days immediately ahead — demand more than just passive determination. Agencies will be at work spreading insidious propaganda, and contaminating influences of every kind will be exerted upon us to throw in our might and power in the titanic European struggle. The days ahead will call for a united America — a nation steadfast to the principles that have made us great — a nation that wants no blood on its hands — a nation that wants to live in peace and security — a nation where children can be born, live and die without the constant fear of war and misery and violent death.

All of us in this country, with few exceptions, are descendants of someone who left a foreign land to set up here, in this land of freedom and liberty, a new home, and to partake for themselves and their posterity the fruits of a land dedicated to the principle that all men are created equal. But to share in those fruits and benefits has meant the acceptance of the responsibilities of citizenship — has meant in the past that men and women of every racial strain under the globe have worked together, fought together, and striven together that this country might grow and prosper and be a true citadel of justice and liberty.

To be a good American it is necessary first that one be a good citizen — and to those who are residing among us who were born in some foreign land and for one reason or other — neglect or misunderstanding — have not become citizens of this country, I appeal especially tonight.

In the City of Boston alone, on January first of this year there were over 50,000 aliens who had not made the first step toward citizenship. That number has been reduced at the rate of three hundred to four hundred per week since the first of the year. I am of the belief that practically all of the aliens residing in Boston are potentially good Americans. I know that with but little persuasion and little help they will be happy to pledge allegiance to our country. For the information of those who may not be citizens, or who may have friends or relatives not citizens, may I give a brief summary of what must be done to become a citizen.

How to Become Citizens.

In the first place the United States Government, through Mr. Henry Nichols, the Assistant Director of Naturalization, tenth floor of the Federal Building, will be pleased to assist in naturalization matters. Mr. Nichols is extremely cooperative and is anxious to be of assistance. Under the State Department of Education, Room 213, the State House, there is provided access to information and assistance for the aid of those aspiring to citizenship.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

MAKES FERVENT PLEA FOR PATRIOTISM AND RELIGION THAT SHALL KEEP THE UNITED STATES A FREE AND A DEMOCRATIC COUNTRY — HON. CHARLES S. O'CONNOR, CLERK OF THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, DELIVERS COLUMBUS DAY ORATION ON BOSTON COMMON AS FEATURE OF CITY'S OBSERVANCE OF HOLIDAY — EXPRESSES HOPE THAT THE FLOWER OF AMERICAN YOUTH AND MANHOOD WILL NEVER AGAIN BE SENT TO FOREIGN SOIL TO DO BATTLE AND TO DIE EXCEPT IN PROTECTION OF OUR OWN HOMES FROM INVASION AND FOR THE PRESERVATION OF RIGHT TO RELIGIOUS FREEDOM OF BELIEF.

The following is the address of Hon. Charles S. O'Connor, Clerk, Supreme Judicial Court, delivered on Columbus Day, Thursday, October 12, on Boston Common, at the Parkman Bandstand exercises:

We gather here this morning to commemorate the discovery of America, the revelation of a New World, the triumph of the seas' most intrepid conqueror. It hardly needs the brush of the great artist or the glittering word-painting of the great writer to visualize in our day that incomparable and romantic figure that suddenly changed mystery into reality, darkness into light, and traced for mankind a new picture of the vastness and the hidden glory of God's earthly creation, that genius, under whose breastplate one of the world's most valiant hearts has throbbed, the immortal Christopher Columbus.

As we look about us today, in a world gone mad, we have both reason and obligation to gather here this morning on Boston Common, where men first whispered the sacred name of liberty, in a public manifestation of gratitude to God for the vision of Columbus and for the land Columbus gave us. Out from the Boston shore, we see the great Atlantic that brought Columbus, divinely guided, to this, our "Gem of the Ocean." Let us pray that this same ocean now keep us in safety, security and peace from the horrid nightmares of a distracted Europe.

DREAM OF COLUMBUS.

Columbus was born in Genoa, Italy, in 1446. The Genoese were enterprising and daring seamen, and it was second nature for young Columbus to take to the sea. He could handle a vessel at fourteen years of age and was a practical and thorough navigator before he was twenty, with an excellent knowledge of astronomy. As he played and worked about the wharves and ships of his native city, he recounted to whomever would listen his dreams of lands in uncharted and unknown seas, of strange places, strange peoples, and things no man had ever seen. The sun sinking in the west meant more to him than the death of another day. His imaginative mind was as restless as the waves that washed the shores of his beloved Genoa.

Always poor and without funds, all he could do was to dream of the things that a tyrannical fate withheld from his grasp. But his visions finally encompassed his waking hours and became an obsession with him, because they were founded on the possession of a living faith in things unseen, and a clearly defined belief that the world of his day was not the only spot in the scheme of Divine creation.

In 1471, at the early age of twenty-four, when the plans to which his genius had given birth were ready to burst the ceremonies of that fertile brain, we find him plodding the weary way of the beggar, vainly trying to obtain the support of the King of Portugal for his scheme to discover the Far East by sailing westward. Laughter and derision was his reward. But that restless and adventurous spirit could not sleep, nor could rebuffs or scorn weaken the determination of this intrepid super-man, and so, fourteen years later, in 1485, he reached Spain in his quest for an unknown empire.

He came to the notice of the Duke of Medina Celi, for whom he performed a service that brought him some funds and at whose home Columbus lived for two years. But the light of triumph which new-found friends caused to flame within him was early and completely extinguished as difficulties, disappointments and stones of stumbling beset him on every side.

In 1486, through the efforts of the royal treasurer of Spain and the Bishop of Plasencia, his plans were finally submitted to a commission at Salamanca and again rejected as wholly visionary. To them the proposed voyage seemed what we today would call "a trip to the moon." Added to this, King Ferdinand was just then giving the death-blow to Moorish domination in Spain after seven centuries, and there were little or no funds in the royal treasury.

HOPES BLASTED.

In 1488 his brother Bartholomew, a learned man in his own right, sought to interest the Kings of France and England in Christopher's plans, but his hopes were again blasted. He was now in desperate straits, reduced again to poverty and supported by the charity of friends. With the assistance of these friends, he determined to try again, and in 1491 with his young son, Diego, for whom he had an intense and passionate love, we find him again at the royal court of Spain. Again he tasted the bitter dregs of disappointment and wandered away with his boy.

Hungry and exhausted, he came to the Franciscan convent of La Rabida in 1492. The prior of that convent was Juan Perez, the confessor of Queen Isabella. Columbus begged the door-keeper to let his weary son rest at the convent over night. Father Perez overheard him and took him to his own cell. There he heard from the lips of Columbus his plans, aspirations and his blighted hopes.

The prior listened and saw in the eyes of this man what no one had ever seen before, this learned beggar with a heart of gold. Columbus and his son stayed for days as guests at the convent while Father Perez hurried to Granada to induce the Queen to take an interest in the undertaking of this wonderful Italian navigator. Father Perez, together with Cardinal Mendoza, pleaded with Isabella, the glorious Queen of Spain. She in turn pleaded with the King, pledging her jewels for this new Admiral of Spain, and Columbus was summoned to the royal court.

Every school boy and girl knows the rest — how he was fitted out with three vessels, the "Santa Maria," the "Pinta" and the "Nina," so pitifully small, as we visualize them today, with a total crew of 120 men, on a voyage into the unknown.

On August 3, 1492, the people of Palos, with heavy hearts, saw them depart on an expedition generally regarded as madness. Conditions were most favorable and hardly a wind ruffled the water of the ocean, but the voyage was long and weary. Dissatisfaction and discouragement at seeing nothing but the vastness of water behind and before them, where it seemed that every wave brought them nearer to doom, cropped up in the crew, but there never was a mutiny among them as some historians declare, the hearts of his men being inspired by the indomitable spirit of this master seaman.

FAITH BROUGHT REWARD.

Your children will tell you that at 10 o'clock in the darkness of the night on the eleventh of October, Columbus saw a light ahead that indicated land. It reappeared several times, and Columbus felt satisfied that faith in the providence of God and faith in himself were about to be rewarded, that land, the promised land, was near. At two in the morning, land was clearly visible and at this very hour that you gather here, at 12 noon on the morning of October 12, 1492, Columbus landed on an island among what is now known as the West Indies and called it San Salvador, or Holy Saviour. On this day and hour 447 years ago, Columbus exchanged the jewels of Isabella for the Star of Empire.

Columbus combined his unusual gifts of mind and unflinching determination with a deep and fervent religious nature, a child-like and adamant faith in the providence and guidance of God. As we look about us today, who is there among us who does not share Columbus' faith that the hand of God directed those frail little ships toward the discovery of America? What significance has Columbus today for us and for the future of America? What are we doing for the safeguarding of the land Columbus gave us, and the flag that Columbus made possible? There have been emergencies in the past history of America when men and women who loved our country banded together for a triumph of right thinking and of American ideals that were being forgotten. We Americans face such an emergency today, and we must determine to meet the issue. Into that crusade for our beloved country let every citizen enter with all the ardor of ancient knight-hood, with a purpose as spotless and as shining as the armor of Gahad.

Every citizen of America is a sovereign in his own right. He can either abdicate or enforce that right. Thomas of Aquin, perhaps the most gifted and brilliant mind ever given to the service of mankind, declared that in a democracy a public representative is the mouthpiece of the public; and that when he ceases to be such and attempts to enforce a private opinion of his own he becomes at once a tyrant and a dictator. The Congress, therefore, is but the mouthpiece of the American people. The American idea of democracy is based upon the right of every citizen to have a share in the government as the only safeguard against oppression. What are we doing as citizens of the Republic to answer the challenge of our common good? Are we satisfied to be the playthings of chance for good or evil?

THE REPUBLIC LIVES.

As Columbus prepared himself for the greatest adventure of his life, fortified himself with all the aids that religion could give, and returned thanks to God as he sank to his knees on the shore of San Salvador, so let us today not only pledge but live our allegiance to the flag, and pray the Eternal God of the Nations for the wisdom and strength to carry on for our country, our firesides and our homes; then in the years to come, under the dispensation of God, there will arise from the hallowed resting-places of our soldier dead the joyous, deathless cry, "The Republic still lives—we have not fought, we have not died, in vain."

A nation that abandons religion is but following the primrose path of ancient Rome. In the words of President Roosevelt, "Democracy cannot live without religion," and this for the simple reason that in all the history of the world the denial of God has inevitably been followed by the denial of man. So it is in a number of Europe's chancelleries.

When Washington saw his little band of patriots, discouraged, hungry and in rags and tatters, leaving the bloody imprint of their feet on the snows of Valley Forge, we saw him then, as history records, kneeling in a snowdrift, pleading to the Eternal God of the Nations for succor and aid in his distress, and his prayer answered when Louis of France opened wide his arms and his treasury to the faltering infant republic and made possible American independence—that is what intelligent and clear-minded men think of religion.

When men were going down to death in the World War, forsooth "to make the world safe for democracy," in an atmosphere of horror and a welter of slaughter, with the fate of nations hanging in the balance, we know of Marshal Foch being found behind the lines, kneeling in a dimly lighted little chapel, praying for light and guidance in the tremendous responsibility of the great chieftain—that is what intelligent and clear-minded men, encompassed by danger, think of religion.

As the clouds gather over the world, while the storm-signals are being lighted, even in our own land; while the agencies of hell itself are hurling millions of humanity into a vortex of horror, into the bloody, flaming triangles of cross-firing machine guns down there in the valley where the great guns are thundering and death is falling in showers, it is not religion that has failed. Religion is the one thing that has never been tried. In its place, we have the serpent of jealousy, class-hatred and revenge, economic avarice and greed and a crazy, unbridled nationalism that seeks to throw us back to the paganism of the Caesars. If nations and men are to return to sanity and safety, they must open their ears and hearts and minds to the voice of God, the only panacea for the trials and difficulties and dangers in which designing men seek to embroil us.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington stands not only as the symbol of a nation's gratitude, but as a reminder of the horror and havoc of war and a constant prayer to the God of us all to preserve for our beloved America the blessings of peace.

TREATY IN BITTERNESS.

Twenty-one years ago we were told, and we believed, that we were fighting to make the world safe for democracy only to have that belief shattered at Versailles, and the cry of victory frozen upon our lips. When the conferees took their places at Versailles, there was no thought in either their minds or hearts of saving democracy or securing peace for the future; their purpose was to make, unmake and remake the frontiers of the world, and when they left its tables they had inoculated the governments of the world with the poison of unrelenting bitterness and the germ of everlasting warfare.

If our soldier dead could speak to you this morning they would plead with you to fight now as soldiers of peace to make America safe for democracy. In their memory let us pledge ourselves as we stand on the sacred soil of Boston Common that never again shall the blood of American youth be shed on a foreign battlefield for a foreign and an alien cause—that never again will the youth of America be thrown into shell-hole graves on a foreign soil, and that when they die in battle, if die they must, it shall only be in the defense of America—to drive the invader from our shores.

In memory of the humble, prayerful Columbus, let us take up the watchword for "Patriotism and Religion," the twin guardians of American liberty. As we see a Europe gone mad again, and the God of Peace no longer worshipped in the hearts of madmen, let us plead to the God of our Fathers to keep forever silent from us the thunder of the guns and the wailing siren of winged death, that America may still remain the Promised Land of Columbus, the last refuge of freemen, of democracy and of liberty, the one lamp burning in the "blackout" of civilization. Let us be free forever from the eternal wars of Europe. Let that be our battle cry for peace. It will be the battle cry that will bind us more closely to the great heart of Washington and of Lincoln; it is the battle cry of freedom. Let it ring out again and again and again—I believe in God, America first, last—and victory.

With the hope that my brief message tonight might reach many who want to be citizens and yet hesitate for one reason or another, let me now give an outline of the steps necessary to take. Lack of time forbids full explanation of all the naturalization proceedings. Full information can be obtained free of charge from Mr. Nichols, tenth floor of the Federal Building, or at Room 213, the State House, or at Room 206, 25 Huntington avenue, where this information is also available.

In general, let me say, that an alien must first file an application for first papers. That will cost two dollars and fifty cents. Upon the receipt of his first papers, another charge of two dollars and fifty cents is made. Two years later, the applicant is entitled to file for his second, or final papers. Upon the payment of five dollars on examination day, he then is eligible to be sworn in as a citizen of the United States without further charge. In short, for the sum of ten dollars, spread over two years, a man or woman may obtain the priceless possession of American citizenship. No alien lawfully in this country should have the slightest difficulty in obtaining his naturalization papers. A little patience, a little effort, and a small sum of money and citizenship is available for all who seek it.

In Boston today there is a goodly number of persons who have been in this country for many years, have grown gray in this country, have reared families and perhaps have grandchildren, and yet have never become citizens of the land they love and call their own. Now to these people let me say—don't delay any longer. Whatever bonds may have held you to the land of your birth have long since been dissolved. You are Americans in every thought and every action, but still you have not taken the one step that will make you Americans officially. If there is any real or fancied impediment to your becoming citizens, go to one of the addresses I have mentioned above and you will be generously assisted. If you are uncertain as to the name of the boat which carried you to America, or your time of arrival, if it was before June of 1921, the Immigration Station at East Boston will clear up any difficulty providing you have two witnesses who can corroborate your statements.

If there are any veterans of the last World War within the sound of my voice, and who are not yet citizens, let me say to them that Senator David I. Walsh was able to have the act extended which provides that any ex-service man may become a citizen within ninety days without any payment or charge whatsoever. To have served our country during the World War is proof enough that that individual has true love for our flag and our ideals—and no former service man should neglect any longer the privilege of having full citizenship in this country which he was willing to die for if necessary.

To all married persons who may be aliens by birth, or who may have lost citizenship rights by marriage to aliens, let me say that there has been amendments to the Federal law which make rather simple the adjustments of a great majority of these cases. There are so many different situations existing because of marriage between aliens, marriage between an alien and a citizen, or other complexities because of the marriage state, that I cannot tonight attempt to explain them all. However, in passing, let me say that the amended Federal law, the Cable Act, so called, provides that if an alien has married, since 1922, an American citizen, or one naturalized as an American citizen, then that party without the wait of the two-year period may apply for second or final papers and become a citizen within ninety days.

GOOD AMERICANS.

To be a good American, the first requisite is that you become a good citizen. This great, broad land of ours was once a wilderness inhabited by the red man and the beasts of the field. Today it is the greatest nation since the dawn of civilization. We want to keep it the greatest nation—the nation that has proved to the world that an amalgamation of races, blended together in a common purpose, and under a common set of ideals and principles, can continue to grow—greater, stronger and better for all who are here or may come here in the years to come. So—before I leave this subject of naturalization—let me once again remind all who may be interested that Mr. Henry Nichols, at the Naturalization Office, Federal Building, is anxious to be of service.

The State Headquarters at the State House are anxious to be of service, and the independent agency at 25 Huntington avenue are anxious to be of service. No man or woman eligible to be a citizen should hesitate. America has taken you into her arms. It is your duty and your great privilege to respond—and to become what millions in Europe and throughout the rest of the world today would give up everything for—the priceless ownership of citizenship in the greatest free nation in the world.

Another closely related matter to that of naturalization is that of exercising the right of citizenship once obtained. In our country, every man and woman who is a citizen has a right to a voice in the government of local, state or national affairs. It is regrettable that that right is so often neglected. The kind of government we have here—the course of that government—and the service of that government—all depends on the kind and character of men whom we elect to public office.

In the secrecy of the ballot booth, you and I can declare what kind of men we want to serve, and we can—as so often arises—express our opinion on important matters that appear on the ballot by way of referendum. In Boston, this year, two questions will appear on the ballot—one on the right of a Mayor to succeed himself—and the other on the matter of bond issues. Later in this month, I will speak over the air on these two questions.

In the time which now remains to me let me say just a few words on registration of voters. In the 1938 State Election, 363,950 persons in Boston were eligible to vote. On September 30 of this year this number had dropped to 329,436 persons. There are close to one hundred thousand persons in this city, citizens all, who have been police listed, and yet are not registered voters and who will have no opportunity to vote at the coming city election, or the Presidential primary election of next spring, unless they take immediate advantage of the facilities provided for their registration. At City Hall each day it is possible to register for the coming city election. Registration booths are now open and will remain open until next Wednesday night in each of the twenty-two city wards for registration purposes. The booths open at six p. m. and close at ten p. m.

Too many good people—honorable people—who sincerely want good government neglect to vote—and worse still—neglect to register. May I tonight ask every person who is not registered to do so immediately and to intercede with others, so that our city may have the greatest percentage of registered voters of any large city. To be a citizen is a great privilege. To be a citizen and not vote is a careless abuse of that privilege. The world across the seas is on the verge of chaos. Our country is a citadel of orderly government. Our country may be the last refuge of what we recognize as modern civilization. For the love of our country—and for the good of all those who will come after us—let us do all in our power to keep America the land of freedom, justice and equality. Every alien who becomes a citizen and every citizen who votes is doing something, at least, in preserving and protecting the principles that have made this nation a nation of freedom and opportunity for all, regardless of race, creed or previous condition of servitude.

Thank you, and good night.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payment must not exceed 6 per cent.

FELLOWSHIP STUDIES IN TRAFFIC CONTROL.

Fifteen graduate fellowships, each with a stipend of $1,200-plus up to $200 for travel and field investigation have been announced by the Bureau for Street Traffic Research of Harvard University. BUDGET TABLES FOR COMPUTING ALLOWANCES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Welfare Executive Director relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning the budget tables now used in computing allowances for families on public welfare.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
October 9, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of Mr. William T. Doyle.
Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated September 25, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Director of Public Welfare to investigate and report to the Boston City Council, whether or not the budget tables now used in computing allowances for families on public welfare are reliable in view of recent increases in prices of foodstuffs occasioned by the war situation."

May I state as follows: The Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare has directed me as Secretary and Executive Director of that Board to keep in close touch with commodity prices and to inform them at any time when a sharp increase is noted that might affect buying power.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

Placed on file.

SAFETY ISLAND, WARD 2.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning the arranging for the construction of a safety island at the junction of Henley, Park and Warren streets, Ward 2.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Boston Traffic Commission,
October 6, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated September 25, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the construction of a safety island at the junction of Henley, Park and Warren streets, Ward 2."

Studies have been made during the past year of the traffic movements in City square and its approaches. At the suggestion of Councilor Calvin the Charlestown bridges were made one way and by so doing we have been able to clear up two bad intersections, namely, Keany square and City square.

In line with this change, we contemplate making Park street and Henley street one way and if this proves to be dangerous to the movement of traffic we will recommend to the Public Works Commissioner that an island be constructed at the intersection of Park street and Henley street which will serve to both channelize vehicular traffic and aid pedestrians crossing through this intersection.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

BARRING TRUCKS FROM PLEASANT STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning the barring of trucks from the use of Pleasant street, Ward 13.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Boston Traffic Commission,
October 6, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated September 25, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to bar trucks from the use of Pleasant street, Ward 13."

Heavy trucks are excluded from that portion of Pleasant street between East Cottage street and Stoughton street. Stoughton street, which is the continuation of Dudley street, is used by trucks coming from the north going toward the south, being a direct connection from Columbia road to Dorchester avenue. To prohibit heavy trucking from that portion of Pleasant street between Stoughton street and Hancock street would force additional traffic into Columbia road, or Dorchester avenue, both of which already handle a very heavy amount of traffic. I do not believe that we should exclude heavy trucking from the remainder of Pleasant street.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner
Placed on file.

SIGNAL LIGHTS, HARRISON AVENUE.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Boston Traffic Commission,
October 6, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated September 18, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at Harrison avenue and Dudley street."

There are no funds available for the installation of automatic traffic signals at the above location.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

LEGALITY OF BANK NIGHTS.

The following was received:

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of September 25, 1939, concerning the furnishing the City Council with an opinion as to the legality of conducting so-called "bank nights" in the theaters of Boston.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Under date of September 25, 1939, the City Council passed the following order:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with an opinion as to the legality of conducting so-called 'bank nights' in the theaters of Boston."

As the subject matter of the Council's request was fully covered by opinion of the Corporation Counsel dated July 17, 1936, rendered to the then Chief of the Licensing Division, in which opinion I fully concur, I inclose a copy thereof for the information of the City Council.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston,
Law Department, July 17, 1936.
Herbert L. McNary, Esq., Chief Licensing Division, Mayor's Office, Boston.

Dear Mr. McNary,—As I have previously advised you, the Supreme Judicial Court, on July 2, 1936, filed its opinion in the preceding entitled Commonwealth v. James Wall (Mass. Adv. Sheets, 1936, 1473). The defendant was the manager of a moving picture theater in Medford, who had been convicted in the Trial Court of violating section 7 of chapter 271 of the General Laws by operating at said theater a plan or scheme known as "bank night." In the course of its opinion the Court stated:

"We agree with the defendant that the essence of a lottery is a chance for a prize for a price. . . . One may give away his money by chance and if the winner pays no price, there is no lottery. 'Price' in this connection means something of value and not the formal or technical consideration which would be sufficient to support a contract. . . . On the other hand, a game does not cease to be a lottery because some, or even many, of the players are admitted to play free, so long as others continue to pay for their chances. . . . So here the test is not whether it was possible to win without paying for admission to the theatre. The test is whether that group who did pay for admission were paying in part for the chance of a prize. The jury could disregard all evidence introduced by the defendant favorable to him. They could take a realistic view of the situation. They were not obliged to believe that all the ingenious devices designed to legalize this particular game of chance were fully effective in practical operation. An important feature of the plan was the necessity that the person whose number was drawn should appear at once and claim the deposit. The time allowed for appearance was entirely within the control of the defendant. No definite time seems to have been fixed. A participant inside the theatre would have the advantage of immediate presence in a place of comfort. He could hear the number and the name read. He could identify himself at once. A participant outside the theatre must wait in discomfort in the hope that if his name should be drawn within, he would be notified and would hear the call soon enough to crowd through toward the front of the theatre within such time as might be allowed. The object of the defendant was to fill the theatre, not the lobby or the sidewalk. We think the jury could find that the unusual crowds which completely filled the theatre on 'Bank Night' paid to come in partly because they had, or reasonably believed they had, a better chance to win the prize than if they had stayed outside, that they paid their money in part for that better chance, and that the scheme in actual operation was a lottery. There was no error in denying the defendant's motion for a directed verdict.

Our conclusions of law as to 'Bank Night' are not in conflict with those reached by the Supreme Court of New Hampshire in State v. Eames, 183 Atl. Rep. (N. H.) 590. The difference between the cases is that the New Hampshire court on agreed facts held that 'free participation is a reality.' We think the jury in this case could find that it was not a full and complete reality on as favorable a basis as paid participation. . . .

There was error, however, in instructing the jury in substance that any technical and nonvaluable consideration 'whether registration of the name or anything else' would be a sufficient price. We are also of opinion that the price must come from participants in the game in part at least as payments for their chances and that the indirect advantage to the theatre of larger attendance is not in itself a price paid by participants."

It is my opinion, in view of said decision, that the lottery statute is not violated unless some one participating in the lottery pays for the chance; that the fact is not controlling that it is possible for some or many to win without paying; that the test in the case of "bank night" is whether those who pay the admission to a theater are paying in part for the chance of a prize; and that this is a question of fact for the jury, or the court if there is no jury.

Very truly yours,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Mr. William T. Doyle,

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of September 28 with order of the City Council, I am inclosing copy of letter written to Councilor Agnew under date of September 29 relative to provision of a shelter on Beacon street at St. Mary's street, which explains the situation.

Mr. James E. Agnew,
City Councilor, Boston.

Dear Councilor,—I presented to the trustees your letter of September 26 relative to provision of a shelter on Beacon street at St. Mary's street.

They have received many requests for shelters at stopping places and transfer points on the system, and have given the matter careful consideration, but in view of the expense involved, frequency of service, etc., they do not feel that shelters can be justified.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

VETO OF SIDEWALK ORDER, WARD 3.

The following was received:

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature, sidewalk construction lien order for sidewalk along Hudson street, both sides, in Ward 3,

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I return herewith sidewalk construction lien order that the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along both sides of Hudson street, Ward 3, and to be built of granolithic with granite edgestones.

Upon investigation I find that this street consists of artificial stone and brick sidewalks with edgestones and in the replacement of these sidewalks a lien order would not be necessary.

I regret to advise you that, due to the lack of funds, this department will be unable to replace same at the present time.

Respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,

LOAN FOR PUBLIC WELFARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Overseers of Public Welfare in preparing the budget estimates of the Welfare Department for the current year requested appropriations totaling $11,942,907.34, an amount roughly $1,300,000 in excess of actual expenditures for the year 1938. Acting upon my recommendations, your Honorable Body subsequently approved appropriations totaling $10,206,084.43, or an amount roughly $480,000 below departmental expenditures of the previous year. In submitting these recommendations I voiced the wish "that an improvement in conditions of employment or additional cooperation from Federal or state governments may render it possible that no further sums will be needed for this item." With three quarters of the current year behind us it is evident that this wish has not been fulfilled. While employment figures reflect an improvement over one year ago, the betterment has not been of sufficient magnitude to remove a substantial number from our welfare rolls. As you are well aware there has been a material reduction in the W. P. A. program. Whereas on March 15 of this year 25,687 persons were employed in Boston on W. P. A. projects, today the number is in the vicinity of 14,400, or a reduction of, roughly, 11,000 persons. About one third of this number have left or been dropped since July 12. Many of these former W. P. A. workers have been forced to turn to the Welfare Department for relief because of their inability to secure outside employment. As a result, the number of general relief cases aided by the department has increased, roughly, eight per cent in the last three months and ten and one half per cent over the case load of one year ago.

In view of the happenings of recent months, it is not surprising that the Welfare Department finds that additional appropriations must now be provided to cover relief disbursements d balance of the year. In the attached communication these additional needs are presented as follows:

General Relief.....	$850,000
Aid to Dependent Children.....	310,000
Old Age Assistance.....	40,000
	$1,200,000

In addition, the department requests an additional appropriation of $70,000 for Personal Service. Under the new W. P. A. regulations all project workers laid off after serving eighteen months must be recertified as to need by the Welfare Department before being eligible to reassignment to any project. This work has thrown a heavy load on the personnel of the Welfare Department and has made necessary the employment of a number of workers in addition to the regular departmental staff.

I am also advised by the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner that he anticipates a deficit of $30,000 by the end of the year in the appropriation originally granted him for relief payments to worthy veterans. I feel provision should be made at this time for a supplementary appropriation to offset this deficit.

Under the provisions of chapter 72 of the Acts of 1939, municipalities are authorized, provided they have included in the tax levy an amount equal to 80 per cent of the previous year's expenditures for relief purposes, to borrow for welfare and W. P. A. Boston has complied with this 80 per cent requirement by including in the current year's tax levy appropriations for relief purposes totaling $9,839,047.63. I propose, therefore, that the additional appropriations requested by the Welfare Department be secured by borrowing and I submit herewith an appropriation order for this purpose and recommend its adoption.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
October 6, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This department anticipates a deficit in the A item of the Central Office appropriation of $70,000 and in the F item of the Central Office appropriation of $1,200,000 for the balance of the year 1939. Attached is a report showing the details of these estimates.

It is impossible in a department such as this to know in advance the actual needs for relief and the request at this time for $1,200,000 for the F items is in accordance with the procedure this department has followed in prior years. At the time the budget for this year was submitted, the department had hoped that improved business conditions would result in reduced expenditures.

Due to the reduction in the W. P. A. quota and to the termination of W. P. A. workers because of the eighteen-month ruling, we have felt no appreciable savings.

The additional amount needed in the salary item is due to the need for more employees to certify persons for W. P. A. employment and to recertify those W. P. A. workers who had been laid off because of the eighteen-month ruling.

It should also be noted that a W. P. A. project connected with this department on which there were employed 220 workers was terminated a few months ago.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Coun. SHATTUCK, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred October 2) for loan of $150,000 for relief projects, Paving Service, Public Works Department—recommending that same ought to pass, Coun. Shattuck dissenting from the report.

The question came on accepting the majority report and giving the order its second reading and passage.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this is a report of the Committee on Finance on the loan order of $150,000 to be added to the H item in the Paving Division of the Department of Public Works. The order was under discussion at the last meeting and took its first reading at that time, and was then referred to the Committee on Finance. The Committee on Finance held a meeting last week and has now reported recommending the passage of the order. I have dissented from that report, and I wish to state the reasons for my dissent. We have already borrowed this year for relief alone $3,450,000. It seems probable that in the balance of the year we shall have to borrow for dependent aid, old age assistance, soldiers' relief, and so forth, as much as a million and a half more, which will make $4,950,000 for relief alone. We have also authorized the borrowing of a million and a half towards refunding of the deficiency in the state tax of last year. We have also borrowed an additional million under the refunding law of 1938, or authorized it. We authorized last year, and I think will probably borrow, $1,800,000 or so for the Huntington Avenue Subway. With those authorizations, not including the orders here, of $9,250,000, we are very far from a pay-as-you-go policy, even on operating expenses, because nearly half a million of that is strictly for operating expenses. I think under the circumstances we have been justified to some extent in making borrowings for operating expenses, but I think we should taper off those borrowings. I think, while relief of the real estate tax bill is important, it is also important that we should cut down our net debt so as to gradually reduce the $5, $6 or possibly $7 in the tax bill which must be paid for maturities and interest on funded debt. I think we have gone far enough, if not too far, already this year. This year the need for more money in the H item of the Paving Division must have been known at the time when the tax rate was fixed. It was fixed only two weeks ago. Apparently the department had spent nearly all of its appropriation in that item at that time. So it must have been known. I think, having been known, it should have been included in the tax levy. I think it would have been much better, rather than build up this debt, to have had, say, ten cents less reduction in the tax rate for this year. Furthermore, we don't know what the program is even for the balance of the current year, so far as borrowing is concerned, except as it may be stated in the communication just read and which I have not had the time to read. It will certainly be desirable to announce the program at the beginning of the year and stick to it outside of an emergency. I also wish to call attention to the fact that on September 30 there were balances in the H items which had been unencumbered up to September 30 amounting to $327,000 in round figures. I believe that part of those balances might be mobilized, some of them being used towards this proposed expenditure, rather than borrowing the full amount. For all these reasons, and as a protest against the mounting debt and against lack of planning of such expenditures, I shall vote against this order.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Ward 5 a question. Didn't the Budget Commissioner inform us that the city's indebtedness at the end of the year, on the 31st of December, would be appreciably less than at the end of last year?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Appreciably greater or appreciably less?

Coun. SULLIVAN—Appreciably less.

Coun. SHATTUCK—I believe it will be somewhat less. I think it should be somewhat less. But we are borrowing about as fast as we are paying the debt off.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I would move that we refer this matter to the Executive Committee and that the department heads be called in so that we may find out just what they intend to do with these balances of $327,000. I don't think we should do anything further until we find out what they intend to do with the unexpended balances.

Coun. Chase's motion to refer was lost.

The order was given its second reading and passage, yeas 18, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Carey, Chase, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Murray, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Taylor—18.

Nays—Coun. Shattuck—1.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) of Davis & O'Connor for driveway opening at 272-278 Washington street—recommending that leave be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on petition (referred July 10) of Karas & Karas Glass Company, Inc., for permit for driveway opening at 455 Dorchester avenue—recommending that leave be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President MURRAY called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor September 25, 1939, of Salvatore Maffei, to be a Constable with authority to serve civil process upon filing bond.

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor September 25, 1939, of Charles V. Hurley, John Cassidy and Edward Miller, to be Weighers of Coal.

3. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 2, 1939, of William Tepper, to be a Constable with authority to serve civil process upon filing bond.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Sullivan and Irwin. Whole number of ballots 15, yes 9, no 6, and the appointments were confirmed.

INSPECTION OF DWELLINGS BY SOCIAL AGENCIES.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor confer with the Health Commissioner in relation to non-official inspections of dwellings being made by social agencies not members of the Health Department; also to confer with the Corporation Counsel to find out if this is not a violation of the Acts of 1885, chapter 382, section 23.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, it has been brought to my attention that representatives of social agencies, not members of the Health Department, have been making non-official inspections of dwellings, starting last week. I believe this is a violation of chapter 382, section 23, of the Acts of 1885, which plainly state that nobody except a clerk or representative of the Health Department shall have authority to make such inspections. I ask, therefore, that the Mayor confer with the Health Commissioner to find out who is responsible for this sort of thing.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ORDER OF WAR DEPARTMENT RE MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby protests the issuance of an order by the War Department with respect to the relocation of the draw span in the Meridian Street Bridge over the Chelsea creek which would require the City of Boston either to eliminate said Meridian Street Bridge entirely and thereby cause a hardship to the people of East Boston and seriously cripple transportation facilities to the waterfront property of East Boston; or to erect a new bridge of a type that would cost the city upwards of $3,000,000.

Resolved, That the City Council hereby places itself on record as in favor of the alternative proposition of the Commissioner of Public Works, as presented by him to the War Department local engineers, which would save to the people the use of a channel on which $700,000 of public money has only recently been spent and make unnecessary the dredging of a new channel which would cost approximately $1,000,000 of public money.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF EAST BOSTON STREETS.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be authorized to rope off the streets of East Boston at such points as may be necessary for the Columbus Day Parade, October 12, the cost thereof to be charged to the City Council appropriation for Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO HIGH LEVEL MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council approves the action taken by his Honor the Mayor in opposition to the construction of a high level bridge at Meridian street, East Boston, and requests that his Honor the Mayor take all such further steps as may seem necessary or advisable to block this proposal.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REOPENING OF HAYMARKET RELIEF STATION.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor confer with the trustees of the Boston City Hospital in reference to the reopening of the Haymarket Relief Station.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

"TRAVELER" CAMPAIGN FOR REDUCTION OF ACCIDENTS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council approve the action of the Boston evening Traveler in their campaign to reduce accident and deaths from fire crackers on July 4.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

SUPPLY OF FUEL FOR NEEDY.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
Ordered, That the director of the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested and assisted by his Honor the Mayor to make provisions to supply welfare recipients, old age recipients and W. P. A. workers with large families with fuel for the coming winter season.
Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, during the last cold spell I received a great many complaints from the unfortunates receiving welfare aid from the City of Boston, including old age aid recipients and W. P. A. workers with large families, that they had no coal or oil to provide heat, so that many of them and their families became ill. As we all know, elderly people particularly require heat, more than the young. I have great confidence in the director of Public Welfare. I think Mr. O'Hare is one of the finest men who ever held that position. He is certainly a humane man. Nevertheless, I think something should be done to alleviate the sufferings of the old and poor people and that they should be provided at once with fuel of some sort, coal or oil, to maintain them in comfort during the cold season.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Cushing avenue, at No. 35, Ward 13, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Jerome street, at Nos. 10 and 12, Ward 13, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.
Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

EQUALIZING OF AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE RATES.

Coun. SULLIVAN, GALVIN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Whereas, The recently announced automobile insurance rates once again militates against the best interests of the people of Boston and the small car owners in the metropolitan area; and
Whereas, The method of assessing such rates is obviously unfair; be it therefore,
Resolved, That the State Tax Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare and introduce legislation for the purpose of equalizing automobile insurance rates in all communities throughout the state.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. AGNEW, the Council voted at 2.52 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 3.37 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. SHATTUCK, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:
1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred July 24) for transfer of $10,000 for repairs to Library Building—that same ought to pass.
Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON MERIDIAN STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:
City of Boston,
Finance Commission, October 9, 1939.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—Recently the Finance Commission joined with a number of other organizations and city officials in opposing before the local district engineers of the War Department the proposal either to raze the Meridian Street Bridge or to build a new bridge having a draw span with a horizontal clearance of not less than 175 feet.
The Finance Commission took the view, first, that the Meridian Street Bridge ought not to be eliminated; secondly, and there is no need for the construction of a bridge that would give 175-foot horizontal clearance.
Commissioner of Public Works Hyland appeared before the War Department engineers and made a statement which contains an alternative solution of the present difficulties at the Meridian Street Bridge. The commission believes that Mr. Hyland's suggestion should be made a public record and therefore offers it to the City Council as a part of this letter.
The city officials and all others who are interested in preventing unwarrantedly heavy capital expenditure by the city should emphasize to the War Department officials at Washington that in view of the present financial condition of the City of Boston and in view of the actual need in this situation, nothing more elaborate should be thrust upon the city than this modified Hyland plan.
Respectfully submitted,
DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
The Finance Commission.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 15, 1939.
Col. A. K. B. Lyman, District Engineer, War Department, 31 St. James Avenue, Boston, Mass.
Dear Sir,—I respectfully submit, for the consideration of the officials of the War Department, the following information, which I feel is pertinent and relative to "the question of requiring the City of Boston to alter the Meridian Street Bridge across Chelsea creek, Boston Harbor, Mass., between East Boston and Chelsea, Mass., so as to provide a draw span relocated closer to the south or left bank and affording a horizontal clearance of not less than 175 feet"; which is the subject matter to be discussed at a public hearing to be conducted by representatives of the War Department on Friday, September 15, at 2 p. m., in Room 1004, United States Post Office Building, Boston.
A drawbridge was first constructed at the site of the existing Meridian Street Bridge in 1856, and since that time it has been deemed a public necessity to maintain a bridge structure at that location, spanning Chelsea creek and connecting the city of Chelsea with the City of Boston. That the existing structure is used to a large extent at the present time is evidenced by the following information obtained by representatives of the Boston Traffic Commission as the result of a traffic survey conducted between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., on Monday, August 28, 1939, to determine the amount of traffic passing over the bridge:

	Units.	Persons.
Passenger cars.....	5,311	10,091
Trucks.....	1,613	2,581
Buses.....	4	80
Horse-drawn vehicles.....	36	43
Street cars.....	450	16,270
Pedestrians.....		1,299
Total persons.....		30,364

After perusing the above traffic counts, the necessity for maintaining a bridge at this location is obvious and the bridge unquestionably is of more benefit to the residents of the city of Chelsea, as it is reasonable to assume that the majority of persons using the bridge are residents of Chelsea going to and from the metropolis, Boston, for any one of various reasons. Even if it were determined that it was necessary to construct a new bridge, the unfairness of requiring the City of Boston to assume all the cost is apparent when it is taken into consideration that the bridge is used by the residents of Chelsea to a greater extent than by the residents of Boston.
The present drawbridge, which has a draw span of 100 feet in width, was erected in 1912, at a cost of $172,847.38, which was apportioned as follows by a Special Commission appointed under the provisions of chapter 581 of the Acts of 1911 of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

City of Boston.....	65 per cent
City of Chelsea.....	20 per cent
West End Street Railway Company, The Boston Elevated Railway Company, lessee.....	15 per cent

This same commission determined at that time that thereafter the cost of the maintenance of the bridge would be paid by the City of Boston and the city of Chelsea, respectively, in the apportionments of 65 per cent and 35 per cent.
Even at that time, it was recognized that the cost of reconstruction and maintenance should not be borne by the City of Boston alone.
There is absolutely no justification, at this time, to saddle the taxpayers of the City of Boston with a burden of from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000, which has been estimated as the cost of new approaches and a new drawbridge with a draw span of 175-foot width, to replace the existing structure. This estimate is based on the meager information that we have been able to obtain as to the proposed location of the new draw span, which, we understand, is to be located approximately 400 feet south of the present draw.
It is my opinion that you will agree that the proposal to require the City of Boston to assume the entire cost of building a new structure is unfair and unreasonable, and there is a question in the minds of the undersigned and the engineers of the Public Works Department as to the necessity and practicability of providing for a 175-foot width of draw span at Meridian street, when the Chelsea Street Bridge, which spans Chelsea creek approximately 4,500 feet east of the Meridian Street Bridge and was constructed in 1937 at a cost of approximately $680,000 by the City of Boston with the aid of a P. W. A. grant, has a width of draw of only 100 feet and the railroad trestle spanning Chelsea creek, adjacent to the Chelsea Street Bridge, has a width of draw span of only 70 feet. It would certainly be out of the question to rebuild the two last-mentioned bridges to provide for a 175-foot width of draw span.
In order to facilitate the passage of vessels through the draw of the Meridian Street Bridge, it would seem that a more practical and less expensive solution could be found than the proposal to relocate the existing drawbridge and provide for the increased width of draw span. The existing width of 100 feet is ample to provide for the passage of all vessels that use Chelsea creek. It is my opinion that changes should be made in the location of the existing channel on the westerly or downstream side of the bridge. The northerly line of the channel could be extended farther east, even if it meant the changing of the harbor lines and the taking of land on property located in Chelsea on the northerly shore at the entrance to Chelsea creek and occupied by the Metropolitan Coal Company and the Boston Dry Dock Company. The extending of the northerly line of the channel in a westerly direction would provide for a turning basin sufficiently large enough and located far enough away from the bridge to allow the largest vessels, when going upstream, to be so maneuvered that the center line of the vessel would be parallel with the sides of the draw span before the bow of the vessel entered the westerly side of the draw. The necessary dredging work and the taking of property to provide for this new location of the northerly line of the channel and turning basin would be but a fraction of the cost of a new structure and the expense that would be incurred by the War Department to dredge channel-ways to connect the existing channels with the location of the proposed new draw. In addition to those considerations, it is a fact that much of the value of the present improvements now being effected in the channel would be lost if the present draw span were relocated.
Neither the physical characteristics of the channel itself nor the number of vessels using Chelsea creek has changed to such an extent as to justify an expenditure of approximately $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 by the City of Boston, and approximately $800,000 by the Federal Government, which we have estimated as the cost to the Federal Government for the dredging of new channels; again basing the estimated cost on the information that we have been able to obtain as to the proposed location of the draw.
From February 1, 1919, to January 31, 1920, 17,812 vessels passed through the drawbridge; in 1929, 14,903 vessels; while in 1933, 15,659 vessels passed through this drawbridge. These records certainly do not indicate that the conditions have reached an impassé. The fact that 412,739 vessels have passed through the draw from August 12, 1912, to August 31, 1939, with only one accident of any consequence occurring, does not indicate that the location nor the width of the present draw span creates any hazardous condition to marine traffic.
It would not, in my opinion, be reasonable to require the expenditure by any individual corporation, municipality, or Federal agency, of the money necessary to reconstruct the present Meridian Street Bridge so as to allow for a draw span of 175-foot width. It would be most unreasonable to expect the City of Boston to assume the entire cost of such an undertaking, as the financial condition of the City of Boston at the present time precludes the making of any such expenditure, particularly in view of the fact that the City of Boston would derive no direct benefit, and the benefit to the cities of Chelsea and Revere and the owners of the oil farms and industries on the shores of Chelsea creek, 90 per cent of which are located in Revere and Chelsea, would not justify the expenditure of the amount necessary to effect the proposed change in the location of the draw span.

I respectfully request that you reject the petition for the providing of a 175-foot draw span at the Meridian Street Bridge.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Placed on file.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Cataldo Ciacco (referred September 25) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as driver of tipcart belonging to Sanitary Division, Public Works Department, December 13, 1937—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of ninety-seven dollars and fifty-six cents be allowed and paid to Cataldo Ciacco in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as driver of a tipcart belonging to the Sanitary Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on petition of Walter F. Wenzel (referred September 11) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Bridge Division, Public Works Department, October 26, 1938—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of forty dollars be allowed and paid to Walter F. Wenzel in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Bridge Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

SIDEWALK, NEPONSET AVENUE.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Neponset avenue, Ward 19 side, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of granolithic, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASING W. P. A. QUOTA.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately confer with Col. F. C. Harrington, Federal W. P. A. Administrator, and Denis W. Delaney, State W. P. A. Administrator, with a view to increasing the present W. P. A. quota in Boston.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, as every member of the Body knows, there is a very serious emergency existing in Boston today in the matter of the present W. P. A. quota for this city. Each and every member of this Body has been flooded by appeals which he has received morning, noon and night for the past few months from people who have been laid off because of their services under W. P. A. being dispensed with. On Saturday I sent the following telegram to Colonel Harrington, the Federal W. P. A. Administrator in Washington:

"I vigorously protest against the situation that has developed here which finds the W. P. A. quota assignment to Boston entirely out of proportion to the size of the city and the unemployment situation here. Boston is suffering severely because of this W. P. A. curtailment while other parts of the State are adequately provided for. Adverse conditions here are seriously affecting those who have been temporarily suspended and are awaiting reassignment. Large numbers of these workers are heads of families or single persons totally dependent upon W. P. A. for existence. I cannot urge you too strongly to give immediate attention to this situation in Boston to the end that immediate reassignment to work will at once be given to these large numbers desperately in need. I am similarly wiring Denis W. Delaney, State Administrator in Boston, asking for his immediate attention to this most important matter."

In my own particular case I have had called to my attention a serious situation of some 500 people, through appeals that have been made to me morning, noon and night, to do what I can to have them replaced on the W. P. A. lists. Certainly something should be done to increase the present W. P. A. quota in Boston, so that these men, now suffering such hardship, shall be reassigned to work. We have not here in Boston today a sufficient quota to take care of those who should be so reassigned, and I earnestly trust that the Mayor will confer with Colonel Harrington and Mr. Delaney, with a view to having something done which will relieve the present serious situation. This is a matter which demands immediate attention.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WARD 8 STREETS.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 8 under the W. P. A. plan of construction: Batchelder street, Leyland street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT, FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in the White Fund program for 1940, an allotment of money for the erection of a Health Unit at Franklin Field.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL SERVICE, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Hospital Trustees and the trustees of the George Robert White Fund for the purpose of formulating plans for the maintenance of continuous emergency hospital service at the Health Unit in Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIQUOR LICENSES NEAR CHURCHES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Whereas, Churches of all denominations are sacred places of worship, and whereas, they should be respected as such, therefore be it resolved, that the Boston City Council in meeting assembled is of the opinion that the Boston Licensing Board should not allow liquor licenses in any future cases to locate within the near vicinity of any place of worship, and be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Boston Licensing Board.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I know every member of this Body will agree with me that a certain amount of respect should be given to the feelings of people attending their various places of worship. I know of several places in my district where liquor stores are established directly across the street from a church. I feel that the Licensing Board went beyond the bounds of reason in granting such licenses, and I feel that this Honorable Body, even if it is not a matter within our strict jurisdiction, should express its opinion to the effect that the feelings of people attending various places of religious worship in this city should be seriously considered in the future granting of liquor licenses.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I think this is a matter that should be referred to the Committee on Rules. I had a case of this sort brought to my attention a few years ago, where a cafe was situated 150 or 200 feet from a church. A vigorous protest against the granting of a license was made in the name of the church, and within three or four weeks after the fight against that particular license had been successfully made, the church closed up and was torn down. There seems to be a definite intention on the part of many no-license people to cause as much embarrassment as possible to those carrying on a lawful business, and one of the ways in which this feeling is manifested is in connection with the neighborhood of churches. The people in this business have a right to live, the same as anyone else, and I don't believe this Body should pass any such vote as is here proposed, without due consideration. We have laws regulating not only the proximity of such business to our churches, but to our schools and playgrounds, and we have proper authorities whose duty it is to see that those laws are not violated. I believe this is a matter that should be referred to the Committee on Rules for consideration.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, some time ago a certain firm obtained a liquor permit directly opposite the Christian Science Church, against the protest of the church. That church is one of the most beautiful in America, and it seems to me that the Licensing Board should have paid more attention to that fact. There is pending before the Licensing Board an application for a permit for a liquor store directly opposite Trinity Church, on Clarendon street. The man seeking that permit comes from Charlestown. I say that there are too many liquor stores in my district now. I am making this appeal simply as a matter of common decency. We have in this city Catholic churches, Jewish synagogues, Protestant churches, which, in spite of the protests that they may make to this sort of thing, are today obliged to put up with it. I say that the majority of the people of Boston do not care to have their places of worship contaminated through the proximity of liquor establishments within a reasonable distance, and I know that the members of this Honorable Body will agree with me.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, just to make the record straight, although the place that he refers to is at the present time run by a man who does business in Charlestown, that man is not a resident of Charlestown. I move that the matter be referred to the Committee on Rules.

The motion to refer to the Committee on Rules was lost by a show of hands. Coun. CHASE further doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I would like to ask a question, what does "near vicinity" mean?

Coun. KERRIGAN—And I would ask unanimous consent, Mr. President, to make a statement. In voting to refer this matter to the Committee on Rules I do so because I have great faith in the present Licensing Board. Therefore, I see no reason why I should vote one way or the other upon this matter as presented by the councilor before the Committee on Rules takes it up and gives it some study and consideration. I have the greatest respect for Miss Driscoll, Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Richardson, and I know that they will give the matter proper consideration. But certainly before I cast my vote I feel that the matter should go to the Committee on Rules, and let them pass judgment.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I was not favoring or opposing the Licensing Board. I merely introduced this resolution feeling that they should not grant any more liquor licenses in the near vicinity of churches.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules, yeas 16, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Englert, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Kerrigan, Langan, Lyons, McMahon, Murray, Norton, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan—16.

Nays—Coun. Chase—1.

STUDY OF EMBARGO BILL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of appointing a committee of representative Boston citizens and waterfront experts to make a study of the present Embargo Bill before Congress and confer with our Representatives and United States Senators relative to the interests of New England in general and the Port of Boston in particular.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that the Eastern Steamship Company has been barred from one of the Canadian ports, and that when one of the vessels tried to get into the harbor of Bermuda it was not allowed to enter. These things may be necessary to keep this great nation out of war, and then again it may be possible, in some manner, to find a way to save some of our shipping. Therefore, I have introduced this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FOOD STAMP PLAN IN BOSTON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of appointing a committee to look into the advisability of having the City of Boston request the Federal Government to establish a so-called "Food Stamp Plan" in Boston for experimental purposes.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that the plan suggested in this order has been carried out in certain cities of the United States, and I feel that it might be well to consider the advisability of establishing a food stamp plan in Boston. The question of the distribution of surplus commodities is being given a great deal of attention all over the United States. Such a plan has been adopted in Rochester, New York, where they have been very successful in distributing such products to people in need. For instance, according to the report I have from that city, they have distributed 352 million dozen of eggs, a large amount of butter, and other food products, within a short time. The adoption of such a plan here will result in poor people being able to obtain some of the surplus commodities that are available at a low cost. Anything of this kind that is a good thing for the people should be studied and, if possible, carried out, at least as an experiment.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. SHATTUCK, it was voted that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on Monday, October 23, 1939, at 2 p. m.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. SHATTUCK, at 4 p. m., to meet on Monday, October 23, 1939, at 2 p. m.

REVENUE BOND ACTS.

The 1936 issue of the "Municipal Index" contains a detailed study of the revenue bond acts in the thirty-three states which have enabling acts, and reports of all forty-eight states, showing what advantage has been taken of these acts by cities to finance the construction, operation and maintenance of sewerage systems and sewage treatment plants by service charges.

The table shows the status of revenue bond acts and other enabling acts in the different states, the dates when the acts became effective, and whether or not cities have taken advantage of the opportunity offered for financing bonds by service charges. In the case of states with no enabling acts, the table shows whether cities are charging sewer rentals under some other authority.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO MEMBERS AND OFFICERS OF CROSSCUP-PISHON POST, AMERICAN LEGION, AT ANNUAL DINNER AND INSTALLATION—CALLS ATTENTION TO WIDESPREAD ACTIVITIES OF ORGANIZATION AND VALUABLE WORK ACCOMPLISHED SINCE ORGANIZATION SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO—EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF WORK THE POST HAS DONE IN PAST IN BRINGING LEGION NATIONAL CONVENTION TO BOSTON PREVIOUSLY AND IN 1940—EXTENDS HEARTIEST GOOD WISHES TO POST FOR NEXT YEAR UNDER NEW OFFICERS.

At the annual dinner and installation of the Crosscup-Pishon Post, American Legion, at Hotel Lenox, on Friday, October 20, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

Mr. Commander, Mr. Commander-Elect, Other Officers Old and New, Ladies and Distinguished Guests of the Crosscup-Pishon Post.

It strikes me as a happy coincidence that on this occasion when I have the honor to be your guest as Mayor, I am privileged to greet the most brilliantly and widely attended ceremony for the installation of officers that the Crosscup-Pishon Post has ever held.

Such a response by your members is indeed a tribute to Lindley Bond's power of enthusiastic command during the year now closing, to the warmth of the good wishes which await the Commander-elect, George Wiswall, and very decidedly to the energy and skill shown by your Committee Chairman for this evening, my friend, Joseph Gavin.

In speaking to this unit of the American Legion as it enters its seventeenth year, I know that I am addressing a Post not organized along the usual Legion lines, limiting membership to the veterans of a particular city or town.

Under the inspired leadership of the late Carroll Swan, you reached out to all parts of the Metropolitan District for veterans having a common bond in the field of public relations. Your search extended, indeed, to Massachusetts beyond Greater Boston, and across the very boundaries of the Commonwealth to some of the other states and to Washington.

Few Similar Posts.

In all of the American Legion there are few other Posts thus broadly organized anywhere in the nation. But the Crosscup-Pishon Post stands out among Posts of the American Legion, country-wide, not for any mere distinction of form.

The Crosscup-Pishon Post stands high among all units of the American Legion for a greater reason. I refer to the proof you have given of public spirit in peace as in war, of hand and soul generous in answer to the call of human need whether on the battlefield or in the homes of the widows of veterans, and in the care of children left fatherless by men who were soldiers and sailors of the United States.

Knowing something of your record in this respect, I thought I would like to know more. So I have found out a thing or two about your good works, and when I tell you the story, I think you may be a little surprised yourselves—as of course every good fellow ought to be, when it comes to remembering his own deeds of mercy.

But I am free to speak of these deeds of yours, and to express more than common appreciation upon being informed that in the past sixteen years the Crosscup-Pishon Post has made philanthropic gifts in money and needed commodities to a value of more than $200,000.

There are few Legion Posts anywhere which can quite equal that record. And the colors of the Crosscup-Pishon Post deserve to be decorated with a fourragere for one honor which stands absolutely unique. The gift of $26,000 which you made to the American Legion orphanage is the largest single gift ever made by any Legion Post in the United States.

That gives me good reason for appreciation of your service on grounds of the general public welfare, but I have also a more intimate and personal word of thanks to express to you.

Work for Convention.

I refer to the remarkably effective work done by the Crosscup-Pishon in the task of organizing and conducting the national convention of the American Legion in 1930, and to thank you for the aid which the success of that convention undoubtedly gave me in my eager and long-sustained and finally successful efforts to bring the Legion to Boston for its national convention in 1940.

Men of this Post comprised, as I say, the mainstay of the local general staff responsible for the convention here ten years ago, and as the plans were laid out and executed, with Carroll Swan in charge, "The Boston Way" became a model which national officers of the Legion have sought ever since to follow as nearly as possible.

There was one feature, as you may remember, which had never been known at any Legion convention until it happened in Boston—the local merchants and others, who subscribed to the convention expense fund, were given a rebate after the convention was over!

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,

ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

I don't know whether exactly that same surprise has ever occurred again since, or whether you will be able to make it happen again next year.

But I do know that in the Legion Convention Corporation for Boston in 1940 I am glad and proud that this Post is again well represented.

The retiring Commander, Lindley Bond, is a member of the Corporation, as is also Sidney Rabinowitz of this Post. And among the directors there is Tom Karens and John Stanbro.

That is most reassuring, I can tell you. The Crosscup-Pishon Post has a unique record for useful public service in the past. It is bound to help win a unique success for Boston in handling the Legion's national convention of 1940.

To your delightful guests of the evening I offer my compliments. To your retiring officers I extend appreciative acclaim. To your incoming Commander, vice-commanders, and other responsible officers I give heartiest good wishes, with the promise that if there be any way in which the Mayor of Boston can help along the success of your efforts, then, Mr. Commander, I am yours to command!

MAYOR'S FIELD DAY, HUGE SUCCESS, ADDS $19,566.18 TO WELFARE FUND.

The second annual field day sponsored by Mayor Tobin's Special Welfare Fund Committee added $19,566.18 to the fund used for welfare and charitable purposes which lie beyond the limits set upon city welfare agencies by law, it was announced yesterday afternoon by Mayor Tobin.

The receipts for the field day, which was held at National League Field on September 11, added to the unexpended balance from last year's fund, bring the total amount on deposit as of October 16 to $22,589.47.

The proceeds of the field day are devoted to the providing of crutches and artificial limbs for the disabled; special nursing for the seriously ill and impoverished; glasses for those who are unable to purchase them and to assisting those whose needs such municipal agencies as the welfare, hospital and soldiers' relief departments are unable to supply because of limitations imposed by law.

Several recent disbursements from the fund were $500 to the Soldiers' Relief Department to provide artificial limbs and braces; $2,000 to the Welfare Department for eye glasses and auxiliary medical equipment, and $750 added to the Randidge Fund of the Park Department to provide excursions and recreation for under-privileged children during July and August.

Mayor Tobin expressed his gratitude to the employees of the city for their generous response to the appeal made to them to purchase tickets to the field day and to the committee which was in charge of arrangements.

The total receipts of the 1939 field day were $21,194, and expenses were $1,627.82.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

RESTORATION OF SALARIES.

The Portland City Council has granted full restoration of salaries to all city employees, at an estimated cost (for the remaining six months of the year) of $162,430. This will put the city in the red at the end of the year unless additional revenue is obtained. Increases and adjustments of salaries for individuals will be considered as soon as finances permit.

FOR AIDING BOYS.

In an effort to lend a helping hand to misfit and underprivileged boys and to stem the alarming flow of young men into penal institutions and lives of crime, Big Brother Bureaus are being organized by the police departments of various cities. The International Association of Chiefs of Police urges all police jurisdictions to join the Big Brother League.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

FIVE PER CENT OF CITY BUDGET PAID FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

Nearly one million dollars, or about 5 per cent of the total cost of the general city government of Los Angeles, Cal., is spent every year for the collection and disposal of refuse, under the direction of the Bureau of Engineering of that city. The Refuse Collection Division operates six days a week, and enough men are provided to compensate for a five-day week for all the personnel employed.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.
